U.S. Begins Bomb Halt; Hanoi Agrees On Talks

Saigon, Viet Cong Invited

PARIS (UPI) — North Vietnam said today it has agreed to attend broadened peace talks next Wednesday which will include representatives of South Vietnam and the Viet Cong.

A terse, three-paragraph statement by a North Vietnamese spokesman said his delegation headed by Minister Xuan Thuy had been informed of President Johnson's decision to halt the bombing and shelling and "all other acts of war" against North Vietnam.

HANOI STATEMENT

The statement said "in order to find a peaceful settlement of the Vietnam problem, a meeting including the representatives of the Democratic Republic of (North) Vietnam, the South Vietnam National Liberation Front (Viet Cong), the United States and the Republic of (South) Vietnam will be held in Paris not earlier than Nov. 6, 1968."

Johnson in announcing the total bombing halt last night—one day after Hanoi was informed—had already set the date of broadened talks as starting next Wednesday.

TELLS DELEGATE

A North Vietnamese spokesman said U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman officially informed North Vietnamese delegation chief Xuan Thuy on Wednesday that President Johnson was ordering a bombing halt over North Vietnam, one day before it was announced in Washington.

It said Thuy took note of this and Johnson's call for four-way negotiations in Paris and conveyed it to the government of the Democratic Republic of North Vietnam. The Johnson invitation called for participation of South Vietnam and the Viet Cong.

As the North Vietnam delegate was issuing his statement, Radio Hanoi, monitored in Hong Kong, declared that the "fight against the Americans will continue until the last one is driven from our land," but maintained silence on Johnson's bomb halt agreement.

President's Decision

PRESIDENT JOHNSON
Preparing historic talk

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson stopped the bombing of North Vietnam today. He gave the Communists what they wanted in exchange for "prompt, productive, serious and intensive" peace talks with South Vietnam and the Viet Cong at the table and with the ground war scaled down in the south.

Johnson ordered the bombardment ended at 8 a.m. (EST) today and said that expanded peace talks in Paris would start next Wednesday.

RISKY MOVE

The President warned Americans in a nationwide broadcast last night, just five days before the presidential election, that the war would go on, and that the step he took was risky.

But he said the time had arrived to test North Vietnam's good faith with a total bombing halt and "to try to ascertain if an early peace is possible."

While American politicians tried to assess the impact of Johnson's move on the election, world reaction was hopeful and grateful. However, the South Vietnamese government of President Nguyen Van Thieu responded cooly, saying Johnson acted "unilaterally."

No Letup In South Fighting

SAIGON (AP) — American air, naval and artillery bombardment of all North Vietnam ended tonight on President Johnson's orders, the U. S. Command announced, but it said there would be no letup in operations in South Vietnam.

The Viet Cong also showed no sign of de-escalation in the South.

In the 12 hours before President Johnson's broadcast announcing the bombing halt, an enemy mine blew holes in a U.S. Navy LST and killed 16 American sailors and a South Vietnamese, rocket attacks killed 33 Vietnamese civilians in Saigon and Hue, and 69 North Vietnamese and 12 Americans were killed in fighting north of Saigon near the Cambodian border.

American warplanes continued raids on North Vietnam's southern panhandle today but were ordered to quit the skies north of the demilitarized zone before 9 p.m., or 5 a.m. (PST), the hour Johnson set for all attacks on North Vietnam to be halted.

Also ordered reassigned was the battleship New Jersey which has been shelling North Vietnamese installations for the past month.

The U.S. Command said operational reports on the final raids would not be available until Saturday, and it was not immediately known if any bombers

Father Says Youngsters Taken Before By Estranged Wife

Two Tamalpais Valley boys, aged 7 and 8, disappeared while walking from home to school Wednesday and were still missing today, sheriff's officers reported.

Their father, Raymond Slattery of 546 Shoreline Highway, Tamalpais Valley, told investigators the boys were taken from him once before by their mother, his estranged wife, Ina Slattery, 26.

His housekeeper told officers that the boys, David and Allen, left for school at 8:10 a.m. Wednesday. When they failed to return in the afternoon, she called Marin Terrace School and learned they had never appeared and had been marked absent by their second and third grade teachers.

Slattery said an anonymous caller told school officials yesterday that she saw two dark haired women grab two blond, crying little boys and drive off with them in a green Ford Wednesday morning.

The woman refused to give her name, saying she did not want to get involved, he said.

Los Angeles police yesterday were told by Mrs. Slattery's parents that their daughter had not seen her children since Oct. 13, according to Lt. Harvey Teague of the sheriff's office.

Slattery, a 41-year-old bartender, said neighbors Wednesday saw his boys climbing a hill to a street behind his house on their way to school. They were not seen again, after

Nixon Attempts To Play Down Bombing Cessation

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard M. Nixon is trying to play down the significance of the North Vietnam bombing halt by likening it to earlier, and temporary, bombing pauses.

Addressing a nationally televised rally in Madison Square Garden last night, the Republican presidential candidate said "I trust that this action may bring some progress" in the Paris peace talks.

But this followed a Nixon statement that, "As you are probably aware tonight, the President announced another bombing halt over Vietnam."

The reference to "another" halt obviously was calculated to suggest that, as of now, Johnson's new move was not extraordinary.

Today, Nixon flew into Texas in search of the state's 25 Electoral College votes. His first scheduled stop was to be at Fort Worth.

Speaking at the $200,000 rally two hours after Johnson announced the move on nationwide television, the Republican nominee said: "As a presidential candidate—and my vice presidential running mate joins me in this—neither he nor I will say anything that might destroy the chance to have peace. We want peace."

Nixon and his aides have been concerned for days about the possible political impact of a bombing halt and had sought in advance to defuse it as an election issue.

Drugs Found In Car; Two Youths Held

Two youths, suspected as drug suppliers to high school students, were arrested today in Novato with $3,500 to $4,000 worth of LSD in their car, police said.

That discovery, along with $750 worth of a more high-powered hallucinogen, STP, were found on the floor of a car driven by James Joseph Roberts, 18, of 284 Blackstone Drive, Marinwood, police said.

Sgt. Ronald Schanaker stopped the car for a curfew check at 2 a.m. at Arthur Drive and South Novato Boulevard after following the vehicle on an aimless route through downtown Novato, police said.

Schanaker reported both Roberts and a 16-year-old companion from Los Ranchitos were under the influence of drugs. Searching the car, Schanaker found the LSD in a package on the floor. A small quantity of marijuana also was discovered.

Police said $76 was found in Roberts' wallet and $100 in a shoe under the front seat. Roberts told police he was unemployed, while the 16-year-old described himself as a high school dropout.

Sgt. William Cann said the youths apparently were selling drugs to high school students and that the narcotics confiscated represented two weeks in sales.

Roberts and the 16-year-old were booked on suspicion of being under the influence of drugs, possession of narcotics, possession of marijuana and possession for sale of dangerous drugs.

Roberts, booked at Marin County jail for court appearance today, also was being held on suspicion of contributing to the delinquency of a minor, while the Los Ranchitos youth, taken to Juvenile Hall, also was held for curfew violation.

Girl In Coma After Gulping Drink Offer

A 15-year-old Petaluma girl was reported in a coma today at Hillcrest Hospital hours after drinking an unknown liquid offered by five unidentified teenage boys last night while trick-or-treating.

It appeared she would survive the mystery concoction, according to hospital spokesmen.

Petaluma Police Chief Larry D. Higgins said Annie Berklacich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Berklacich of 21 Eastside Circle, was Halloweening last night with two girl friends when at 9:30 p.m. on Ely Road near Gilrix Street, four or five boys in a dark, older model Chevrolet stopped them.

Asked by the boys if they wanted something to drink, the girls asked if they had any Coke. The boys produced a bottle from the floorboard and the three girls each drank. Two spit the bitter liquid out, but Miss Berklacich swallowed what was described as "a big gulp."

When they told the boys it didn't taste like Coke, the boys said "that's right" and sped off. She immediately became giggly and passed out, they said. Finding a friend with a car, the girls took her home where her parents put her to bed thinking she had taken some alcohol.

A 5 a.m. today when she was still unconscious, her parents rushed her to the hospital where tests have yet to determine what the liquid was. Hospital officials said her life signs are strong and her condition good, although she has not regained consciousness.

Chief Higgins requested anyone having knowledge of a dark Chevrolet, possibly a 1952 model, to call his department.

Humphrey Avoids All Direct Reference To Viet Question

DETROIT (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey avoided all direct reference today to the sensitive Vietnam bombing halt as he began an intensive day of campaigning in the Midwest.

"I tell you, folks—things look better this morning," the Democratic presidential candidate told several thousand persons who packed a United Steelworkers union hall in the Detroit suburb of Southgate. (See other political stories, page 7.)

Obviously encouraged by the presidential bombing halt and a new national poll that shows him drawing closer to Richard Nixon, Humphrey said, "we have a tight race on our hands, but it can burst right open now."

He warned the workers that "every vote for George Wallace is a vote for reaction, a vote for prejudice. A vote for Mr. Wallace is a vote for Mr. Nixon—and if the Republicans get in, you're in for trouble."

Almost as if President Johnson had never ordered a pause in the bombing of North Vietnam, Humphrey was trying to create the impression of campaign politics as usual.

Last night, he was asked if the president's decision would help his campaign.

"(It helps) the cause of peace," Humphrey replied. "This is going to help people. I don't think it has much to do with candidates as such."

Later, arriving in Battle Creek, Mich., for a rally, Humphrey said, "Tonight I feel more deeply serious about the nature of this campaign than ever be-

Saigon, Viet Cong Invited

PARIS (UPI) — North Vietnam said today it has agreed to attend broadened peace talks next Wednesday which will include representatives of South Vietnam and the the Viet Cong.

A terse, three-paragraph statement by a North Vietnamese spokesman said his delegation headed by Minister Xuan Thuy had been informed of President Johnson's decision to halt the bombing and shelling and "all other acts of war" against North Vietnam.

HANOI STATEMENT

The statement said "in order to find a peaceful settlement of the Vietnam problem, a meeting including the representatives of the Democratic Republic of (North) Vietnam, the South Vietnam National Liberation Front (Viet Cong), the United States and the Republic of (South) Vietnam will be held in Paris not earlier than Nov. 6, 1968."

Johnson in announcing the total bombing halt last night—one day after Hanoi was informed—had already set the date of broadened talks as starting next Wednesday.

TELLS DELEGATE

A North Vietnamese spokesman said U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman officially informed North Vietnamese delegation chief Xuan Thuy on Wednesday that President Johnson was ordering a bombing halt over North Vietnam, one day before it was announced in Washington.

It said Thuy took note of this and Johnson's call for four-way negotiations in Paris and conveyed it to the government of the Democratic Republic of North Vietnam. The Johnson invitation called for participation of South Vietnam and the Viet Cong.

As the North Vietnam delegate was issuing his statement, Radio Hanoi, monitored in Hong Kong, declared that the "fight against the Americans will continue until the last one is driven from our land," but maintained silence on Johnson's bomb halt agreement.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

More Woes In Hired-Killer Plot

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Kenneth Reich, a wealthy real estate broker charged with soliciting the murder of his ex-wife, has been jailed for contempt of court for 40 days — until his hearing in the murder plan case.

Reich

Reich was sentenced yesterday to 40 days in jail and a $500 fine on his contempt conviction last June 21 of violating probation stemming from his divorce. It means he must remain in jail until Nov. 8, the day of his preliminary hearing on a charge of soliciting the murder of Suzonne Werner.

The man who advertised he would do anything for money has not been identified by police, because they say he never intended to go through with a slaying. Police said he panicked when he received a $1,000 down payment.

Mrs. Werner

Reich was arrested Tuesday after they got a call from Mrs. Werner. She has remarried since her divorce from Reich.

In court yesterday Mrs. Werner said Reich called her home on many occasions and harrased her. She said she sought to stop his visitation rights to their two children, Cynthia, 12, and Brian, 8.

Superior Court Commissioner Everette M. Porter continued the question of visitation rights until Jan. 9. Reich agreed to the sale of the family home.

Cross The Suez

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli commandos, retaliating against recenty Egyptian attacks, crossed the Suez Canal and penetrated 125 miles into Egypt last night to bomb two Nile bridges and a power station, the Israeli army announced.

The daring raid came five days after 15 Israeli troops were kiled and 34 wounded in a battle across the canal which U.N. observers reported was started by Egypt. Israel claimed that at one point Egyptian commandos crossed the canal and engaged the Israelis, and made vain attempts to cross at two other points.

The Egyptian army claimed that an Israeli plane had carried out the Nile raid and said one civilian was killed and two wounded. Israeli sources scoffed at the Egyptian explanation, saying President Gamal Abdel-Nasser could not admit to his people that Israaeli soldiers people make a raid so deep into Egypt.

Another Cosmos

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union today launched its third unmanned Cosmos spaceship since Cosmonaut Georgy Beregovoy brought back his Soyuz 3 on Wednesday.

Brief announcements on the three launchings have given no indication of whether they are a followup of Soyuz 3 or preparation for a new space spectacular.

Begins Tour

LONDON (AP) — Wearing a light blue summer suit and matching hat, Queen Elizabeth II left a dull, rainy London by plane today for a two-week state visit to South America, the first trip there by a reigning British monarch.

The queen and her party of 40 flew to Recife, Brazil,, to join her husband, Prince Philip, who had been attending the Olympic Games in Mexico.

Silences Press

LIMA (AP) — Two newspapers, two radio stations and one magazine that had become critical of Peru's 28-day-old military government were shut down yesterday.

A government communique said Gen. Juan Velasco's regime would not permit "tendentious reports" that interfere with the objectives of the revolution.

Tempers Flare

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Toastmaster George Jessel and actress Zsa Zsa Gabor aren't talking to each other today after an argument at the National Broadcasting Co., studios Wednesday.

Jessel said Miss Gabor's remarks to him were anti-Sematic and Miss Gabor countered that Jessel made some anti-Huugarian statements, but as it ended, things were pro-Irish.

Jessel said Miss Gabor was an hour and a half late for the scheduled taping of a television show "Here Comes the Stars," which led to the argument.

He said after the argument he ordered her off the set and she locked herself in her dressing room. Later she called police for an escort out of the building.

Dialogue On U.C. Ends In Stalemate

SACRAMENTO (AP) — For nearly an hour eight University of California law students and Gov. Ronald Reagan talked in private about academic freedom, and the students said they felt the governor's office "extremely frustrated."

But one of Reagan's aides, press secretary Paul Beck, said this may have been because the governor and the students were emphasizing different things in their talk yesterday.

The students, he said, were emphasizing a section of the state constitution which says the university shall be independent of political pressure. And the governor, Beck said, was emphasizing another section saying the university is a public trust.

TWO VIEWS

"They had a point of view. The governor had a point of view," Beck said.

The students, who originally had asked that about 200 be allowed to meet with Reagan, came here from Berkeley because — as they said in a statement — "we believe that Gov. Reagan may not fully understand how a university works in our country."

On their way to the meeting, some of the students emphasized different visit goals.

Guy T. Saperstein said, "We consider Social Analysis 139X to be the focal point of the discussion."

He was referring to an experimental course on the Berkeley campus featuring Black Panther leader Eldridge Cleaver as a guest lecturer.

U.C. regents—with Reagan an ex-officio member — voted to limit Cleaver to a single lecture instead of his scheduled 10 lectures. But academic credit was removed to get around the ruling.

CENTRAL ISSUE

Les Harrison, leader of the group, said the central issue of the talk with Reagan was the governor's proposal to regents this month that the regents take over control of courses and faculty selection, now handled mostly by the Academic Senate.

"The governor talked about protecting the university," Harrison said. "It seems the protection he offers would in essence destroy academic freedom at the university."

Harrison added, "I think we're all rather depressed right now."

Accompanying the eight were more than 100 other Berkeley law students, all of them well-dressed, who broke up into smaller groups to call on other state officials.

GEORGE PAPANDREOU
To have state funeral

Ex-Premier Papandreou Dies At 80

ATHENS (AP) — George Papandreou, a storm center in Greek politics for more than half a century and a leading foe of the present dictatorship, died early yesterday at the age of 80. Despite his opposition to the military regime, it will give him a state funeral Sunday.

He had undergone emergency surgery yesterday morning for a perforated ulcer and came through satisfactorily. But later he developed a brain clot and died.

His son Andreas, the chief target of the military coup 18 months ago, is in exile in Stockholm. He is scheduled to be tried in absentia Monday on charges of plotting an unsuccessful attempt to assassinate Premier George Papadapolous.

Andreas' American wife, the former Margaret Chant of Chicago, came to Athens Wednesday with two of her children after being assured she would not be harmed. But there was no indication the junta would grant Andreas temporary amnesty to attend his father's funeral.

A lone line of persons waited outside the hospital chapel where the body will lie in state until the burial Sunday in Athens' main cemetery.

Papandreou's political battles began in 1916 when he joined the uprising that forced King Constantine I out and brought Greece into World War I on the side of the Allies.

In 1923, he became minister of the interior, first of many cabinet posts he held. He formed the Democratic Socialist party in 1936 but was exiled a year later by dictator John Metaxas. After the general's death, he returned to Greece, only to be imprisoned by the invading Nazis.

Edward Avilla is president of the Nicasio Parlor of Native Sons of the Golden West.

MAO WINS MAJOR VICTORY IN FEUD

President Liu Shao-Cri Stripped Of All Posts, Membership In Communist Party

TOKYO (AP) — The Chinese Communist Central Committee announced today it has kicked President Liu Shao-chi out of all his posts after finding him guilty of crimes that generally spell imprisonment and possibly death.

Hsinhua (New China) News Agency said Liu's final fall—after months of criticism and struggle—was voted by the 11th enlarged plenary session of the committee, meeting in Peking Oct. 13-31.

The conference—first since party chairman Mao Tse-tung moved against Liu in August, 1966 with his cultural revolution—gave Mao a renewed vote of confidence and promised to "continue to settle accounts" with Liu and his accomplices.

Attended by members and alternate members of the committee, leaders of the cultural purge group, delegates from revolutionary committees and chiefs of the army, the conference apparently was able to muster the required two-thirds vote needed to oust Liu from the party.

The report on the committee's action was strangely silent, however, on the fate of party general secretary Teng Hsiao-ping—often described as Liu's chief aide. Teng was mentioned neither by name nor by inference.

Officially singling out Liu by name for the first time since the intensified campaign against him began in 1966, a communique failed, however, to indicate whether the 70-year-old chief of state is free at the present time or under arrest.

Liu replaced Mao as president in 1959 and, the Maoists charged, embarked on a campaign of liberalization that threatened the existence of Chinese Communisum.

Mao presided over the session and made "a most important speech," followed by one by his heir apparent, Defense Minister Lin Piao, the agency added.

A conference communique, distributed by Hsinhua, denounced Liu as a "renegade, traitor and scab."

"The plenary session expressed its deepest revolutionary indignation at Liu Shao-chi's counterrevolutionary crimes and unanimously adopted a resolution to expel Liu Shao-chi from the party once and for all, to dismiss him from all posts both inside and outside the party and to continue to settle accounts with him and his accomplices for their crimes in betraying the party and the country."

It called for a "deep-going revolutionary mass criticism and repudiation" to eradicate Liu's ideas and "The handful of other party persons in authority taking the capitalist road."

The nature of the charges against Liu could lead to his imprisonment and possibly a death sentence.

In the various feuds that have flared up in the party since its armies seized the mainland from the Chinese Nationalists in 1949, no loser has been executd as far as is known.

LBJ Offered $1 Million?

NEW YORK (AP) — At least one publishing firm has offered President Johnson an advance in excess of $1 million for his memoirs, the New York Times reported today.

The offer was understood to be based on the condition that the first volume of the work deal with the major decisions in his administration, especially those concerning the Vietnam war, the Times said.

The Times also said:

The President, although he has not made a final decision, has tentatively agreed to write a volume on the highlights of his administration before working on a multivolume series of memoirs.

The profits of the project have been assigned to the Lyndon B. Johnson Public Affairs Foundation for the LBJ School of Public Affairs and the presidential library under construction at the University of Texas in Austin.

A Times survey among publishers showed they were divided over the commercial value of the President's memoirs with some believing they may not sell well.

Subway Station Funds Held Legal

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Paying for a proposed rapid transit subway station with taxes obtained by an increased valuation on land is legal, the State Court of Appeal ruled yesterday.

Involved is a Bay Area Rapid Transit District station at Davis and Market streets in San Francisco.

Money is to come from taxes assessed against the Golden Gateway redevelopment area. The extra money obtained because land values rose when construction started there is to be set aside to pay off the bonds issued to construct the station.

The justices ordered Redevelopment Agency chairman Walter F. Kaplan to sign the bonds that have been issued and City Controller Nathan B. Cooper to set up a tax fund to pay them off.

California supplies half the nation's canned tuna.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

More Woes In Hired-Killer Plot

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Kenneth Reich, a wealthy real estate broker charged with soliciting the murder of his ex-wife, has been jailed for contempt of court for 40 days — until his hearing in the murder plan case.

Reich

Reich was sentenced yesterday to 40 days in jail and a $500 fine on his contempt conviction last June 21 of violating probation stemming from his divorce. It means he must remain in jail until Nov. 8, the day of his preliminary hearing on a charge of soliciting the murder of Suzonne Werner.

The man who advertised he would do anything for money has not been identified by police, because they say he never intended to go through with a slaying. Police said he panicked when he received a $1,000 down payment.

Mrs. Werner

Reich was arrested Tuesday after they got a call from Mrs. Werner. She has remarried since her divorce from Reich.

In court yesterday Mrs. Werner said Reich called her home on many occasions and harrased her. She said she sought to stop his visitation rights to their two children, Cynthia, 12, and Brian, 8.

Superior Court Commissioner Everette M. Porter continued the question of visitation rights until Jan. 9. Reich agreed to the sale of the family home.

Cross The Suez

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli commandos, retaliating against recenty Egyptian attacks, crossed the Suez Canal and penetrated 125 miles into Egypt last night to bomb two Nile bridges and a power station, the Israeli army announced.

The daring raid came five days after 15 Israeli troops were kiled and 34 wounded in a battle across the canal which U.N. observers reported was started by Egypt. Israel claimed that at one point Egyptian commandos crossed the canal and engaged the Israelis, and made vain attempts to cross at two other points.

The Egyptian army claimed that an Israeli plane had carried out the Nile raid and said one civilian was killed and two wounded. Israeli sources scoffed at the Egyptian explanation, saying President Gamal Abdel-Nasser could not admit to his people that Israaeli soldiers people make a raid so deep into Egypt.

Another Cosmos

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union today launched its third unmanned Cosmos spaceship since Cosmonaut Georgy Beregovoy brought back his Soyuz 3 on Wednesday.

Brief announcements on the three launchings have given no indication of whether they are a followup of Soyuz 3 or preparation for a new space spectacular.

Begins Tour

LONDON (AP) — Wearing a light blue summer suit and matching hat, Queen Elizabeth II left a dull, rainy London by plane today for a two-week state visit to South America, the first trip there by a reigning British monarch.

The queen and her party of 40 flew to Recife, Brazil,, to join her husband, Prince Philip, who had been attending the Olympic Games in Mexico.

Son Will Not Return From War

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A hit song told of Jimmy Howard's young life and prayed for his return from Vietnam.

Yesterday the Defense Department reported that Army Pfc. James Van (Jimmy) Howard, 21, had been killed in action.

The song, "My Son," was written and recorded by Jimmy's mother, country music star Jan Howard. Jimmy's father is Harlan Howard, also an author of hit songs.

"My son, my son, I pray that you'll come home to me; my son, son, my son," was the closing verse of the song first written as a letter from Mrs. Howard to Jimmy.

"It seems only yesterday that the most important thing on your mind was whether you would make the baseball team, or get the new school jacket, like all the other kids had," the mother wrote and sang.

". . .And those days it seemed the house was always filled with laughter and joy. . ." recalls the song.

Onassis Sets $400 Million Athens Deal

ATHENS (AP) — Aristotle Onassis got Greek government approval today for an industrial investment totaling $400 million, the biggest single industrial deal in Greek history.

Details of the agreement initialled by the two parties were disclosed at a news conference attended by Onassis, who said the deal was "final and binding." He added that signing of the agreement will follow in a few weeks, after minor details have been worked out.

The project involves an oil refinery with an annual capacity of 7 million tons, an alumina plant with an annual output of 500,000 tons and an aluminum factory with a yearly output of 120,000 tons, producing its own power. Both the alumina and aluminum plant are in conjunction with Reynolds Aluminum Co., of the United States.

The scheme also includes smaller industrial and tourist development projects in the Athens area, including an air terminal.

A government announcement described the agreement as "unprecedented and the biggest in Greece's history."

The 62-year-old shipping magnate who controls Greece's national airline, Olympic Airways, also was given exploitation rights of the only state refinery near Athens because, the announcement said, "his terms were the best offered."

Reagan Postpones Appointing Judge

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Gov. Ronald Reagan's appointment of a fifth Marin County superior court judge, expected by today, has been put off until later this month.

A spokesman for the governor's appointments secretary, Paul R. Haerle, said "there has been a delay," but did not elaborate.

Haerle told the Independent-Journal Oct. 1 that the governor probably would make his decision by today on who is to get the $30.572-a-year judgeship.

Candidates have been screened under tight security, and even the names of the screening committee members have been kept secert by the governor's office. The committee's meeting dates and places and recommendations are also under wraps.

The committee, comprised of Marinites, was to review a list of candidates given to it by the governor, Haerle said last month.

Richmond Bridge Tickets Lower

Commuter tolls on the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge dropped 7.5 cents today, the first toll reduction since the bridge opened in 1956.

The commuter charge per crossing was cut from 37.5 cents to 30 cents by the California Toll Bridge Authority.

Commute books, with 50 tickets, dropped from $17.50 to $15.00 per book.

The regular 75-cent toll was not changed, but revenue soon may be adequate to allow some cut in the regular toll, too, according to Gordon C. Luce, secretary of the Business and Transportation Agency.

LBJ Orders Bombing Halt As Peace Try

17 after the Chief Executive sharply curbed the bombing of North Vietnam to draw the Communists into negotiations—will come Wednesday.

Then, the National Liberation Front, the political arm of the Viet Cong guerrilla army, will join Hanoi's negotiators in Paris with Saigon's representatives "free to participate," as Johnson put it. He emphasized that NLF participation did not constitute recognition—long opposed by Saigon.

Johnson said he had the full assurance of Gen. Creighton W. Abrams Jr., the American commander in Vietnam, that his act did not endanger the lives of American fighting men below the Demilitarized Zone.

He said he would have given anything—"all I possess"—to have been able to stop the bombing "months ago" but the break came only during the weekend with an indication from the Communists that they would acknowledge American conditions.

Johnson shunned the word "conditions," however, recognizing that Hanoi had long insisted upon an "unconditional" bombing cessation.

"Last Sunday evening, and throughout Monday, we began to get confirmation of the essential understanding that we had been seeking with the North Vietnamese on the critical issues between us for some time," the president said.

"I cannot tell you tonight specifically in all detail why there has been progress in Paris," he said.

Nor did he spell out Hanoi's half of the bargain, except to say:

"We have reached the stage where productive talks can begin. We have made clear to the other side that such talks cannot continue if they take military advantage of them. We cannot have productive talks in an atmosphere where the cities are being shelled and where the Demilitarized Zone is being abused."

Privately, other American officials said the United States had made it clear—before the signals of assent arrived from Hanoi—that the peace talks and the bombing halt would be in jeopardy if the Communists fired over the DMZ or sent men through it, or if they shelled South Vietnamese cities.

"We could be misled," Johnson said, "and we are prepared for such a contingency. We pray God it does not occur."

Military officials said Gen. Abrams, flown here in utmost secrecy Tuesday to meet with Johnson and ranking officials before the bombing halt was agreed upon, was given authority to strike back on his own and resume the bombing raids if North Vietnam sought to take advantage of the cessation, the 11th since the bombing of North Vietnam began on a regular basis on Feb. 7, 1965.

Johnson set no deadline for results from Paris. But recalling the prolonged Korean peace talks of 1951 through 1953, he said: "Our people will just not accept deliberate delay and prolonged procrastination again."

NOT AT SESSION

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey stayed away from the special session of the National Security Council which Johnson summoned just 90 minutes before his address—taped in advance during the afternoon—went out over the three primary television networks and many independent stations.

Humphrey said he chose to stay away because of his candidacy to succeed Johnson.

Johnson's statement came seven months to the day after his March 31 speech in which he renounced political ambition and initiated the limited bombing halt which put 80 per cent of North Vietnam off limits to American warplane raids.

Exposure Suspect, 17, Told To Appear

A 17-year-old Terra Linda boy, who rapped on a girl's window while dressed only in his socks Oct. 19, has been cited to appear before juvenile probation authorities, according to Inspector Charles Prandi of the sheriff's juvenile office.

Prandi said the girl, whose father and brother chased the youth through several back yards before losing him after she screamed, identified the boy by a photograph.

Peace Move Sways Holdout Democrat

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Gerald Hill, president of the California Democratic Council and one of the last holdouts among the state's major Democrats, today announced his support of Vice President Hubert Humphrey.

Hill, who on Tuesday said he still intended to write in Eugene McCarthy despite the Minnesota senator's endorsement of Humphrey, said President Johnson's peace moves changed his mind.

Thieu Goes Along With Bomb Policy

SAIGON (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu withdrew his formal opposition to a bombing halt of North Vietnam tonight.

Thieu, who had formally opposed the bombing halt and declined to join President Johnson in a joint announcement, issued a communique saying South Vietnam "does not oppose the cessation of bombing and will keep watching to see if North Vietnam has in reality responded to the de-escalation of the war or continues to be stubborn."

The communique did not mention anything about South Vietnamese joining in the Paris peace talks with the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front, the United States and North Vietnam.

But informants said Thieu, who has been opposed to sitting down with the liberation front, will eventually agree to do so.

The key to his thinking was reported to be contained in the statement that he would closely watch North Vietnamese actions to see if they really intended a de-escalation.

The recurrence of rocket attacks on Saigon or other major South Vietnamese cities, informants said, would make it more difficult for Thieu to accept the Johnson formula.

At the same time, Thieu elaborated on his earlier terse comment that the U.S. decision to halt the bombing as a step toward peace was "unilateral" on the part of the United States.

"The republic of Vietnam did not see any solid reasons to join the decision of the United States on this matter," the communique said.

"The Republic of Vietnam has reminded its allies of the harmful acts by which North Vietnam can profit through the cessation of the bombing, so precautionary measures have been taken and have been applied by the Republic of Vietnam and its allies."

He did not spell out what the "precautionary measures" were but presumably it meant that increased surveillance and other military steps are being taken to prevent North Vietnam from using the bombing halt to gain military advantage.

Pharmacy Picket Details Declared

Harold Barling, an organizer for Retail Clerks Union 1119 in San Rafael, said today union pickets were never barred entirely from the Mil Vallley Pharmacy at 402 Miller Avenue.

He disputed an Independent-Journal story yesterday which said a temporary restraining order in September had halted picketing entirely. Barling said pickets were forbidden only from one sidewalk at the pharmacy.

Barling said the picketing, which continues, is not to obtain union representation within the store, but against "threats and coercion" against union members presently employed there.

WAR

were lost during the final day.

The orders to halt the bombing by 9 p.m. were sent down the military chain of command an hour after Johnson broadcast his decision.

BOAT IS HIT

Four hours before the President's broadcast, explosions tore open the side of the 384-foot LST Westchester County as she swung at anchor in the My Tho River 34 miles southwest of Saigon. The blasts ripped into the landing craft's sleeping compartment, killing or wounding most of the men as they slept. Other sailors were killed at their watch stations.

In addition to the 17 known dead, 22 Americans were wounded, and seven Americans and one Vietnamese army interpreter were missing. Some of the latter were believed trapped in two compartments that were flooded.

Little more than two hours before President Johnson's broadcast, Viet Cong gunners slammed a 100-pound rocket into a small Roman Catholic Church in the Saigon dock area, killed 19 worshipers and wounded 64. The big Russian missile sent large chunks of the walls and roof into the congregation as early Mass was nearing its end.

Visiting Woman Found Dead In Sister's Home

Edna Lee Neitzel of Silverado, Orange County, was found dead last night at the home of her sister, Dorothy I. Nordbusch of 229 Marguerite Avenue, Mill Valley.

Police said Mrs. Nordbusch's two children returned home at 10:15 p.m. from trick-or-treating to find their aunt dead on the floor of the dining area.

Asst. Coroner Eugene R. Fontaine said Mrs. Neitzel had a history of heart trouble. Numerous bottles of pills, including mild tranquilizers, were found near her body, Fontaine said. An autopsy report is pending.

Mrs. Neitzel arrived in Mill Valley Saturday to visit her sister.

She is survived by her husband, Louis Neitzel of Silverado; two sons, Christopher and William Neitzel also of Silverado; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James O. Broshears of Peoria, Ill.; and a sister, Mrs. Nordbusch.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Russell and Gooch in Mill Valley.

Screening Slated For Schools Post

Five Mill Valley School District employees have been named to the committee to screen applicants for the position of director of business services.

Committee members are Barbara Foutch, senior account clerk; Gena St. Augestine, teacher; Dr. Glenn Skelton, middle school director; Colin Menzies, building and grounds superintendent; Joseph Anguilo, district music teacher, and Supt. James A. Collins.

The committee will meet at 9 a.m. tomorrow to screen 12 applicants for the vacancy created by the resignation last month of Asst. Supt. Leo B. Edson.

LeMay Hopeful For Bomb Halt

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, third party vice presidential candidate, said today the nation has no choice but to support President Johnson's bombing halt decision. But he said he is "pessimistic about the possibility of serious negotiations."

"The odds are that we will resume bombing," LeMay told a news conference. "I've seen no indication they're (North Vietnamese) ready to really talk peace. However, they've been badley mauled in the South and they may need more breathing space. I hope I'm wrong."

Ex-Sausalito Yacht Seized; LSD Charge

The psychedelic yacht of former Sausalito psychiatrist James Sutherland Watt, whose wildly-decorated masts drew fascinated tourists and yachtsmen at the Sausalito Yacht Harbor last summer, has been impounded by Canadian police after 300 ampules of LSD were seized aboard her, authorities reported yesterday.

The Royal Canadian Mounted Police seized the LSD, they said, in Victoria, British Columbia, about 10 days ago when Watt's white-hulled ketch Navita put in after being disabled in a storm.

Watt's 65-foot ketch with flower-decorated masts was a magnet for rumor and boaters' attention during its stay in Sausalito. The vessel left for Canada two months ago, according to Herbert Madden Jr. of the yacht harbor.

Police confiscated the alleged drugs, impounded the yacht and charged Watt with unlawfully importing goods into Canada. They placed no value on the drugs seized.

The Navita, now registered in Seattle, was reportedly sailing from Sidney, B. C., to Mexico when caught in the storm and blown off course.

Police did not disclose how they discovered the contraband.

question whether South Vietnam would join the talks Wednesday although Saigon was expected to send representatives later. Once the talks develop into full-fledged peace negotiations other U.S. allies with troops in Vietnam would be expected to sit in—Australia, the Philippines, South Korea, Thailand and New Zealand.

Harriman fired the opening shot of the forthcoming diplomatic war with Hanoi by saying he will demand a political solution to the Vietnam War that will let the South Vietnamese people determine their own future—presumably a plebiscite which the Communists have opposed.

In a statement to the French and foreign television networks Harriman warned that the second phase of the U.S.-North Vietnamese talks will be tough going.

"A cease-fire is a final step," he said. "As the President indicated, he expects the other side to join in a de-escalation of the war and eventually stop the fighting."

$2 Million Haul Of Marijuana

MOORESTOWN, N.J. (AP— State police reported they stopped a car hauling a small trailer on the New Jersey Turnpike today and confiscated between 800 and 900 pounds of marijuana valued at about $2 million.

Two women and a man were taken into custody.

Police said the marijuana was stored in the trailer, on the roof of the car and in the truck which had California license plates.

Session Tomorrow On The Handicapped

The second annual conference of the California Educators of the Home, Hospitalized and Physically Handicapped will be held from 9:45 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. tomorrow at Marindale School on Del Ganado Road in Terra Linda.

Humphrey told newsmen he had decided himself not to take his place at the National Security Council meeting that preceded Johnson's announcement.

"I am a candidate," he said. "I didn't feel that it was appropriate for me when other candidates cannot be there . . . I want no political implications whatsoever."

Thus, Humphrey was informed of the decision in a conference telephone call from Johnson to an Elizabeth, N.J., hotel. Republican Richard M. Nixon and third-party candidate George C. Wallace listened from their stops along the campaign trail.

they reached the street, he said.

Slattery, whose divorce suit against his wife is scheduled to come to trial later this month, was awarded legal custody of his children on the recommendation of the juvenile probation department.

He said his wife took the boys in July 1967 and traveled through Nevada, Oregon, Montana and Canada with them, before his private detective located them in Tacoma, Wash.

He told sheriff's deputies he fears she will take them to Canada or Mexico.

He described his wife as five feet, six inches tall and weighing 185 pounds. She has short blonde hair, but sometimes wears a black wig, he said.

Both boys have blond hair. David, who weighs 50 pounds, left the house wearing a yellow shirt with a blue turtleneck shirt under it. Allen wore a blue and white shirt and may have worn a blue turtleneck underneath. Allen wore moccasins, he said.

Banker Severely Injured In Fall

With two vertebra and his right heel broken in an 80-foot fall, Henry J. Weisser, Tiburon banker, was reported in serious condition but no longer in intensive care today at Children's Hospital in San Francisco.

Weisser, a vice president for business development of Crocker-Citizens Bank in San Francisco, fell while working on a fourth-story window of is home at 2090 Paradise Drive, Tiburon, last Sunday.

His secretary reported that the scaffolding on which he was standing broke, plummeting him from his perch. He grabbed a rope to attempt to stop the fall, resulting in severe rope burns to his left hand. He will be allowed no visitors at the hospital for at least a week, the bank reported.

Teen-Ager Complains Of BB Shot Episode

John Benge, 15, of 7 Haverhill Court, Novato, complained to sheriff's deputies Wednesday that a younger boy shot him on the face with a BB as he rode home from school on his bicycle that day.

Benge said he saw the boy and his gun in the bushes on Oak Knoll Drive, then felt a sting on the side of his face. He said he stopped and knocked the boy to the ground, then drove on, according to deputies.

U.C. Moderates Rally On Campus; Turnout Is Small

BERKELEY (UPI) — Another student rally was held yesterday at the University of California.

The tone of the rally was that moderate, nonviolent, legal means should be used to settle the dispute over Black Panther Eldridge Cleaver's lectures on the campus.

The gathering had a small attendance.

One of the speakers, graduate student Ed Winn, said he and other students in his group, Campus Democracy Now, "don't intend to see our university torn down by self-appointed saviors."

Another speaker, astronomy Prof. Carl Heiles told the audience, "It is very important to defend the right of the faculty to teach what it wants."

Instead of physical confrontations, he said, backers of the Cleaver course should take legal action against the board of regents, or urge the American Association of University Professors to censure the university for taking away traditional faculty rights.

Baar In Sharp Denial To Storer On Sign Charges

Louis H. (Bud) Baar, candidate for supervisor of the Fourth District, today denied charges by his opponent Thomas T. Storer that Baar supporters had torn down Storer's signs.

"That's ridiculous," said Baar. "In the past three weeks, we have had almost all of our signs destroyed or taken down. We have had some pretty strong suspicions as to who was taking them down, but we made no public accusations. We felt the campaign should be directed to issues, not to unfounded accusations.

"As an example," said Baar, "our supporters put up a number of signs last Saturday. A lot of hard work went into putting them up, and within 24 hours, 90 per cent of them were either torn up, or completely missing. We have photographs of our signs that were mutilated, sprayed, torn, and left in pieces in the street. We have even had the mutilated signs left in piles in the doorway of our headquarters.

"I invite my opponent to come over to our headquarters, and take a good look at the damage that has been done to our signs," concluded Baar.

Marin Planning Due Federal Aid

Marin's countywide planning program will get a federal grant of $63,618, the county's chief of advance planning announced today.

Albert Solnit said the state Planning Advisory Committee approved the grant, which will come from the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development.

The county-wide planning program, approved by the City-County Planning Council, would include continuing studies on population projection, housing analysis, land use forecasting and transportation demand prediction, said Solnit.

LBJ Orders Bombing Halt As Peace Try

17 after the Chief Executive sharply curbed the bombing of North Vietnam to draw the Communists into negotiations—will come Wednesday.

Then, the National Liberation Front, the political arm of the Viet Cong guerrilla army, will join Hanoi's negotiators in Paris with Saigon's representatives "free to participate," as Johnson put it. He emphasized that NLF participation did not constitute recognition—long opposed by Saigon.

Johnson said he had the full assurance of Gen. Creighton W. Abrams Jr., the American commander in Vietnam, that his act did not endanger the lives of American fighting men below the Demilitarized Zone.

He said he would have given anything—"all I possess"—to have been able to stop the bombing "months ago" but the break came only during the weekend with an indication from the Communists that they would acknowledge American conditions.

Johnson shunned the word "conditions," however, recognizing that Hanoi had long insisted upon an "unconditional" bombing cessation.

"Last Sunday evening, and throughout Monday, we began to get confirmation of the essential understanding that we had been seeking with the North Vietnamese on the critical issues between us for some time," the president said.

"I cannot tell you tonight specifically in all detail why there has been progress in Paris," he said.

Nor did he spell out Hanoi's half of the bargain, except to say:

"We have reached the stage where productive talks can begin. We have made clear to the other side that such talks cannot continue if they take military advantage of them. We cannot have productive talks in an atmosphere where the cities are being shelled and where the Demilitarized Zone is being abused."

Privately, other American officials said the United States had made it clear—before the signals of assent arrived from Hanoi—that the peace talks and the bombing halt would be in jeopardy if the Communists fired over the DMZ or sent men through it, or if they shelled South Vietnamese cities.

"We could be misled," Johnson said, "and we are prepared for such a contingency. We pray God it does not occur."

Military officials said Gen. Abrams, flown here in utmost secrecy Tuesday to meet with Johnson and ranking officials before the bombing halt was agreed upon, was given authority to strike back on his own and resume the bombing raids if North Vietnam sought to take advantage of the cessation, the 11th since the bombing of North Vietnam began on a regular basis on Feb. 7, 1965.

Johnson set no deadline for results from Paris. But recalling the prolonged Korean peace talks of 1951 through 1953, he said: "Our people will just not accept deliberate delay and prolonged procrastination again."

NOT AT SESSION

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey stayed away from the special session of the National Security Council which Johnson summoned just 90 minutes before his address—taped in advance during the afternoon—went out over the three primary television networks and many independent stations.

Humphrey said he chose to stay away because of his candidacy to succeed Johnson.

Johnson's statement came seven months to the day after his March 31 speech in which he renounced political ambition and initiated the limited bombing halt which put 80 per cent of North Vietnam off limits to American warplane raids.

Exposure Suspect, 17, Told To Appear

A 17-year-old Terra Linda boy, who rapped on a girl's window while dressed only in his socks Oct. 19, has been cited to appear before juvenile probation authorities, according to Inspector Charles Prandi of the sheriff's juvenile office.

Prandi said the girl, whose father and brother chased the youth through several back yards before losing him after she screamed, identified the boy by a photograph.

Peace Move Sways Holdout Democrat

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Gerald Hill president of the California Democratic Council and one of the last holdouts among the state's major Democrats, today announced his support of Vice President Hubert Humphrey.

Hill, who on Tuesday said he still intended to write in Eugene McCarthy despite the Minnesota senator's endorsement of Humphrey, said President Johnson's peace moves changed his mind.

Thieu Goes Along With Bomb Policy

SAIGON (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu withdrew his formal opposition to a bombing halt of North Vietnam tonight.

Thieu, who had formally opposed the bombing halt and declined to join President Johnson in a joint announcement, issued a communique saying South Vietnam "does not oppose the cessation of bombing and will keep watching to see if North Vietnam has in reality responded to the de-escalation of the war or continues to be stubborn."

The communique did not mention anything about South Vietnamese joining in the Paris peace talks with the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front, the United States and North Vietnam.

But informants said Thieu, who has been opposed to sitting down with the liberation front, will eventually agree to do so.

The key to his thinking was reported to be contained in the statement that he would closely watch North Vietnamese actions to see if they really intended a de-escalation.

The recurrence of rocket attacks on Saigon or other major South Vietnamese cities, informants said, would make it more difficult for Thieu to accept the Johnson formula.

At the same time, Thieu elaborated on his earlier terse comment that the U.S. decision to halt the bombing as a step toward peace was "unilateral" on the part of the United States.

"The republic of Vietnam did not see any solid reasons to join the decision of the United States on this matter," the communique said.

"The Republic of Vietnam has reminded its allies of the harmful acts by which North Vietnam can profit through the cessation of the bombing, so precautionary measures have been taken and have been applied by the Republic of Vietnam and its allies."

He did not spell out what the "precautionary measures" were but presumably it meant that increased surveillance and other military steps are being taken to prevent North Vietnam from using the bombing halt to gain military advantage.

Pharmacy Picket Details Declared

Harold Barling, an organizer for Retail Clerks Union 1119 in San Rafael, said today union pickets were never barred entirely from the Mil Vallley Pharmacy at 402 Miller Avenue.

He disputed an Independent-Journal story yesterday which said a temporary restraining order in September had halted picketing entirely. Barling said pickets were forbidden only from one sidewalk at the pharmacy.

Barling said the picketing, which continues, is not to obtain union representation within the store, but against "threats and coercion" against union members presently employed there.

were lost during the final day.

The orders to halt the bombing by 9 p.m. were sent down the military chain of command an hour after Johnson broadcast his decision.

BOAT IS HIT

Four hours before the President's broadcast, explosions tore open the side of the 384-foot LST Westchester County as she swung at anchor in the My Tho River 34 miles southwest of Saigon. The blasts ripped into the landing craft's sleeping compartment, killing or wounding most of the men as they slept. Other sailors were killed at their watch stations.

In addition to the 17 known dead, 22 Americans were wounded, and seven Americans and one Vietnamese army interpreter were missing. Some of the latter were believed trapped in two compartments that were flooded.

Little more than two hours before President Johnson's broadcast, Viet Cong gunners slammed a 100-pound rocket into a small Roman Catholic Church in the Saigon dock area, killed 19 worshipers and wounded 64. The big Russian missile sent large chunks of the walls and roof into the congregation as early Mass was nearing its end.

Visiting Woman Found Dead In Sister's Home

Edna Lee Neitzel of Silverado, Orange County, was found dead last night at the home of her sister, Dorothy I. Nordbusch of 229 Marguerite Avenue, Mill Valley.

Police said Mrs. Nordbusch's two children returned home at 10:15 p.m. from trick-or-treating to find their aunt dead on the floor of the dining area.

Asst. Coroner Eugene R. Fontaine said Mrs. Neitzel had a history of heart trouble. Numerous bottles of pills, including mild tranquilizers, were found near her body, Fontaine said. An autopsy report is pending.

Mrs. Neitzel arrived in Mill Valley Saturday to visit her sister.

She is survived by her husband, Louis Neitzel of Silverado; two sons, Christopher and William Neitzel also of Silverado; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James O. Broshears of Peoria, Ill.; and a sister, Mrs. Nordbusch.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Russell and Gooch in Mill Valley.

Screening Slated For Schools Post

Five Mill Valley School District employees have been named to the committee to screen applicants for the position of director of business services.

Committee members are Barbara Foutch, senior account clerk; Gena St. Augestine, teacher; Dr. Glenn Skelton, middle school director; Colin Menzies, building and grounds superintendent; Joseph Anguilo, district music teacher, and Supt. James A. Collins.

The committee will meet at 9 a.m. tomorrow to screen 12 applicants for the vacancy created by the resignation last month of Asst. Supt. Leo B. Edson.

LeMay Hopeful For Bomb Halt

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, third party vice presidential candidate, said today the nation has no choice but to support President Johnson's bombing halt decision. But he said he is "pessimistic about the possibility of serious negotiations."

"The odds are that we will resume bombing," LeMay told a news conference. "I've seen no indication they're (North Vietnamese) ready to really talk peace. However, they've been badley mauled in the South and they may need more breathing space. I hope I'm wrong."

Ex-Sausalito Yacht Seized; LSD Charge

The psychedelic yacht of former Sausalito psychiatrist James Sutherland Watt, whose wildly-decorated masts drew fascinated tourists and yachtsmen at the Sausalito Yacht Harbor last summer, has been impounded by Canadian police after 300 ampules of LSD were seized aboard her, authorities reported yesterday.

The Royal Canadian Mounted Police seized the LSD, they said, in Victoria, British Columbia, about 10 days ago when Watt's white-hulled ketch Navita put in after being disabled in a storm.

Watt's 65-foot ketch with flower-decorated masts was a magnet for rumor and boaters' attention during its stay in Sausalito. The vessel left for Canada two months ago, according to Herbert Madden Jr. of the yacht harbor.

Police confiscated the alleged drugs, impounded the yacht and charged Watt with unlawfully importing goods into Canada. They placed no value on the drugs seized.

The Navita, now registered in Seattle, was reportedly sailing from Sidney, B. C., to Mexico when caught in the storm and blown off course.

Police did not disclose how they discovered the contraband.

question whether South Vietnam would join the talks Wednesday although Saigon was expected to send representatives later. Once the talks develop into full-fledged peace negotiations other U.S. allies with troops in Vietnam would be expected to sit in—Australia, the Philippines, South Korea, Thailand and New Zealand.

Harriman fired the opening shot of the forthcoming diplomatic war with Hanoi by saying he will demand a political solution to the Vietnam War that will let the South Vietnamese people determine their own future—presumably a plebiscite which the Communists have opposed.

In a statement to the French and foreign television networks Harriman warned that the second phase of the U.S.-North Vietnamese talks will be tough going.

"A cease-fire is a final step," he said. "As the President indicated, he expects the other side to join in a de-escalation of the war and eventually stop the fighting."

$2 Million Haul Of Marijuana

MOORESTOWN, N.J. (AP— State police reported they stopped a car hauling a small trailer on the New Jersey Turnpike today and confiscated between 800 and 900 pounds of marijuana valued at about $2 million.

Two women and a man were taken into custody.

Police said the marijuana was stored in the trailer, on the roof of the car and in the truck which had California license plates.

Session Tomorrow On The Handicapped

The second annual conference of the California Educators of the Home, Hospitalized and Physically Handicapped will be held from 9:45 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. tomorrow at Marindale School on Del Ganado Road in Terra Linda.

Dr. Barbara Bateman of the University of Oregon will address the group at 10 a.m., followed in the afternoon by three section meetings.

fore, because of developments that have taken place that your President announced."

Humphrey told newsmen he had decided himself not to take his place at the National Security Council meeting that preceded Johnson's announcement.

"I am a candidate," he said. "I didn't feel that it was appropriate for me when other candidates cannot be there . . . I want no political implications whatsoever."

Thus, Humphrey was informed of the decision in a conference telephone call from Johnson to an Elizabeth, N.J., hotel. Republican Richard M. Nixon and third-party candidate George C. Wallace listened from their stops along the campaign trail.

they reached the street, he said.

Slattery, whose divorce suit against his wife is scheduled to come to trial later this month, was awarded legal custody of his children on the recommendation of the juvenile probation department.

He said his wife took the boys in July 1967 and traveled through Nevada, Oregon, Montana and Canada with them, before his private detective located them in Tacoma, Wash.

He told sheriff's deputies he fears she will take them to Canada or Mexico.

He described his wife as five feet, six inches tall and weighing 185 pounds. She has short blonde hair, but sometimes wears a black wig, he said.

Both boys have blond hair. David, who weighs 50 pounds, left the house wearing a yellow shirt with a blue turtleneck shirt under it. Allen wore a blue and white shirt and may have worn a blue turtleneck underneath. Allen wore moccasins, he said.

Banker Severely Injured In Fall

With two vertebra and his right heel broken in an 80-foot fall, Henry J. Weisser, Tiburon banker, was reported in serious condition but no longer in intensive care today at Children's Hospital in San Francisco.

Weisser, a vice president for business development of Crocker-Citizens Bank in San Francisco, fell while working on a fourth-story window of is home at 2090 Paradise Drive, Tiburon, last Sunday.

His secretary reported that the scaffolding on which he was standing broke, plummeting him from his perch. He grabbed a rope to attempt to stop the fall, resulting in severe rope burns to his left hand. He will be allowed no visitors at the hospital for at least a week, the bank reported.

Teen-Ager Complains Of BB Shot Episode

John Benge, 15, of 7 Haverhill Court, Novato, complained to sheriff's deputies Wednesday that a younger boy shot him on the face with a BB as he rode home from school on his bicycle that day.

Benge said he saw the boy and his gun in the bushes on Oak Knoll Drive, then felt a sting on the side of his face. He said he stopped and knocked the boy to the ground, then drove on, according to deputies.

U.C. Moderates Rally On Campus; Turnout Is Small

BERKELEY (UPI) — Another student rally was held yesterday at the University of California.

The tone of the rally was that moderate, nonviolent, legal means should be used to settle the dispute over Black Panther Eldridge Cleaver's lectures on the campus.

The gathering had a small attendance.

One of the speakers, graduate student Ed Winn, said he and other students in his group, Campus Democracy Now, "don't intend to see our university torn down by self-appointed saviors."

Another speaker, astronomy Prof. Carl Heiles told the audience, "It is very important to defend the right of the faculty to teach what it wants."

Instead of physical confrontations, he said, backers of the Cleaver course should take legal action against the board of regents, or urge the American Association of University Professors to censure the university for taking away traditional faculty rights.

Baar In Sharp Denial To Storer On Sign Charges

Louis H. (Bud) Baar, candidate for supervisor of the Fourth District, today denied charges by his opponent Thomas T. Storer that Baar supporters had torn down Storer's signs.

"That's ridiculous," said Baar. "In the past three weeks, we have had almost all of our signs destroyed or taken down. We have had some pretty strong suspicions as to who was taking them down, but we made no public accusations. We felt the campaign should be directed to issues, not to unfounded accusations.

"As an example," said Baar, "our supporters put up a number of signs last Saturday. A lot of hard work went into putting them up, and within 24 hours, 90 per cent of them were either torn up, or completely missing. We have photographs of our signs that were mutilated, sprayed, torn, and left in pieces in the street. We have even had the mutilated signs left in piles in the doorway of our headquarters.

"I invite my opponent to come over to our headquarters, and take a good look at the damage that has been done to our signs," concluded Baar.

Marin Planning Due Federal Aid

Marin's countywide planning program will get a federal grant of $63,618, the county's chief of advance planning announced today.

Albert Solnit said the state Planning Advisory Committee approved the grant, which will come from the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development.

The county-wide planning program, approved by the City-County Planning Council, would include continuing studies on population projection, housing analysis, land use forecasting and transportation demand prediction, said Solnit.

Petaluma Ranch Land Goes For $2 Million

The sale of three ranches totaling 2,400 acres in the Lakeville area southeast of Petaluma was announced yesterday by Land Investors Research, 484 Magnolia Avenue, Larkspur, at a Petaluma press conference.

Purchased for $2 million, the buyer is the Lake Ranch Co., made up of 20 investors from Los Angeles and Pasadena. The agricultural property was sold by Mr. and Mrs. John Cardoza and Mr. and Mrs. George Cardoza with 1,800 acres; Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Azevedo, 397 acres, and Mrs. Marie Cannon with 203 acres.

Currently agricultural land, the property will continue to be used for stock grazing on a lease arrangement with the former owners. Long range plans call for the development of housing.

Located in the flat valley of Tolay Creek, the area is two miles east of Highway 101 and two miles north of the Marin County line. Originally known as Lake Tolay, the water was drained in 1870 for cultivation.

"The topography of the ranches is ideally suited for future housing development," said Webster Otis of Ross, a partner in Land Investors Research. "The buyers are very strong believers in the future of Southern Sonoma County and the greater Petaluma area."

A Civil Rights Round Tomorrow

A "civil rights" workshop will be held from 9 a.m. to noon tomorrow in the faculty lounge at Redwood High School in Larkspur.

Sponsored by the Marin County Council for Social Studies, in cooperation with the county schools office, it will include a talk by Austin J. Thompson, executive director of the Marin County Human Rights Department.

The topics, "What should be taught about racism in secondary schools?" and "What are student and teacher rights in schools?" will be explored, officials said. The workshop is open to the public.

Transit Directors Meeting Postponed

Marin County Transit District directors will not meet Nov. 6 because of schedule conflicts, Gen. Mgr. Seymour Kashin announced today.

The meeting has been rescheduled for 9 a.m. Nov. 19 at the start of the county supervisors' meeting. The transit board consists of county supervisors and two city representatives.

Convalescent Hospital Due Study

An Orinda development company will ask permission Monday to build a 180-bed convalescent hospital in Santa Venetia at a hearing before the Marin County Zoning Administrator Thomas E. Cordill.

L B M Investment Co., headed by A. Bernard Muth of Orinda, will apply for a use permit to build the convalescent home on three acres of land on North San Pedro Road, East of Rafael Convalescent Hospital.

Orginally, the company sought both a hospital and a convalescent home on 17 acres of land in the same location, but abandoned the hospital plan because of opposition from Marin County Health Facilities Planning Committee.

The hearing is set for 11 a.m. in the planning commission chambers at the Civic Center.

In the afternoon, Cordill will hear two requests for keeping horses on residential land.

Welton C. Rotz wants to keep two horses at 469 Corona Avenue, Lagunitas and Roy Yates wants to keep a maximum of 30 horses at 420 Bayview Drive, Homestead Valley.

Petaluma Ranch Land Goes For $2 Million

The sale of three ranches totaling 2,400 acres in the Lakeville area southeast of Petaluma was announced yesterday by Land Investors Research, 484 Magnolia Avenue, Larkspur, at a Petaluma press conference.

Purchased for $2 million, the buyer is the Lake Ranch Co., made up of 20 investors from Los Angeles and Pasadena. The agricultural property was sold by Mr. and Mrs. John Cardoza and Mr. and Mrs. George Cardoza with 1,800 acres; Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Azevedo, 397 acres, and Mrs. Marie Cannon with 203 acres.

Currently agricultural land, the property will continue to be used for stock grazing on a lease arrangement with the former owners. Long range plans call for the development of housing.

Located in the flat valley of Tolay Creek, the area is two miles east of Highway 101 and two miles north of the Marin County line. Originally known as Lake Tolay, the water was drained in 1870 for cultivation.

"The topography of the ranches is ideally suited for future housing development," said Webster Otis of Ross, a partner in Land Investors Research. "The buyers are very strong believers in the future of Southern Sonoma County and the greater Petaluma area."

A Civil Rights Round Tomorrow

A "civil rights" workshop will be held from 9 a.m. to noon tomorrow in the faculty lounge at Redwood High School in Larkspur.

Sponsored by the Marin County Council for Social Studies, in cooperation with the county schools office, it will include a talk by Austin J. Thompson, executive director of the Marin County Human Rights Department.

The topics, "What should be taught about racism in secondary schools?" and "What are student and teacher rights in schools?" will be explored, officials said. The workshop is open to the public.

Transit Directors Meeting Postponed

Marin County Transit District directors will not meet Nov. 6 because of schedule conflicts, Gen. Mgr. Seymour Kashin announced today.

The meeting has been rescheduled for 9 a.m. Nov. 19 at the start of the county supervisors' meeting. The transit board consists of county supervisors and two city representatives.

BRIAN W. MATTSON
Planner wants downtown core

Planner Sets Future Goal In Novato

An in-depth study of the city's planning problems and a long range plan are the goals of Novato's new planning director, Brian W. Mattson.

He said he wants to study all current programs of the city. Then he would prepare a definite long range plan for Novato.

However, he said his planning staff is occupied mostly with the day-to-day work load. It does not have time to make the necessary long range plans, he said.

Top priority in the future planning program is the downtown study for which the city has applied for a federal grant, Mattson said.

He said he would hate to see "strip commercial development" along South Novato Boulevard because "it defeats the purpose of these streets becoming major collector streets."

Mattson said he hopes the business district will devlop into a central area and not a series of shopping centers.

"The downtown area should be the central core of the city — the cultural, business and governmental center of the city, the thing that gives life to the city," he said.

This can be accomplished by the appearance of the downtown area, by the circulation of traffic through it, adequate parking and "something to draw people to it," Mattson said.

He said the future of the present Highway 101 as a business street when the freeway bypass is completed, should be an important part of the proposed downtown study.

Other tasks Mattson sees ahead include reworking the zoning ordinance and making some changes in the sign ordinance.

He said he will have to study the problem of hillside developments, something he has not encountered in other cities where he has worked. He came to Novato from Klamath Falls, Ore., where his wife and five children remain until joining him in about two weeks.

Mattson said he has not formed any definite ideas on parks yet. He said he would wait to see what the parks and recreation commission's study of its master plan for parks produces.

Earthquake Safety Report Due Bay Unit

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — A report on engineering standards to help ensure the earthquake safety of buildings on bay fill will be considered by the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission 2 p.m. Thursday in the State Building, 455 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco.

The report, by a panel of engineers, recommends appointment of a permanent panel of experts to screen bay fill proposals against possible earthquake menace. The report also outlines engineering standards that should be used to screen fill proposals, but does not relate them to specific locations around the bay.

Detailed information about soil conditions under the bay is not available, according to the report.

The master plan for the bay, already adopted by the commission and to be submitted to the 1969 Legislature, provides for setting up such a review board. The latest report provides additional standards under which a board could operate.

Proper engineering can reduce risks of construction in fill to acceptable limits, according to the report.

Let's elect
THE FULL TEAM!

RICHARD NIXON says: "Dr. Max Rafferty is one of the men I am counting on in the United States Senate.
He will stand for the programs that will bring peace abroad . . . re-establish peace at home . . . and put this nation on a new road to progress.
I urge you to vote for Max Rafferty for United States Senator on November 5th."

PAUL HANSON JR.
Senator Kuchel's Northern California Campaign Chairman says: "Richard Nixon will need his entire team. It is for that reason that I support the candidacy of Dr. Max Rafferty for the U.S. Senate.
It is inconceivable that any supporter of Tom Kuchel's would associate himself with the far out CDC policies, the inheritance tax appraiser scandals, and the destruction of California's agriculture associated with Alan Cranston."

Lt. Gov. ROBERT FINCH says: "Californians look forward to new leadership for America with Dick Nixon.
We must also elect Max Rafferty to the U.S. Senate to support Dick Nixon in restoring respect for law at home and respect for America abroad.
Please vote for Max Rafferty, the responsible candidate for United States Senator."

Hon. HUGH BURNS
President Pro-Tempore of the California State Senate
says: "Alan Cranston's statements and activities raise such serious doubts as to Mr. Cranston's competency to serve as United States Senator that I am forced to withdraw whatever support that I, as a fellow Democrat, could have given him in his campaign."

JACK McCARTHY
State Senator
says: "While I regret Senator Kuchel's retirement, the future must now concern us. Of the candidates for the U.S. Senate I feel Dr. Max Rafferty can best serve the people of California.
I urge all Republicans to unite behind the entire ticket."

CAMPAIGN 1968

Wallace Puts Peace Above Presidency

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — George C. Wallace, says, "I'm more interested in the war being concluded now than being president." (See other political stories, page 1.)

The third-party candidates declined to speculate on what effect President Johnson's order halting the bombing of North Vietnam would have on his candidacy, saying: "I do not care how any action that would bring peace, if it does, affects my campaign."

At a news conference last night in Norfolk, after he and the other two presidential candidates were briefed by the President on the decision, Wallace said:

"I hope and pray that whatever the President, or whatever those in Paris, do is successful.

"I am more interested in the conclusion of this war honorably and the bringing of the American servicemen home than I am anything else I can think of."

Campaigning in Hagerstown, Md., earlier in the day, he had said, "It's unfortunate, probably, that it (discussion of a bombing halt) comes right on the eve of the election. I wish it could have come months ago."

But he said later that when he made that statement, "I was not briefed and had no idea I would be briefed."

A group of hecklers in the front ranks berated him with jeers and, at one point, a miniature whisky bottle sailed from the crowd toward the candidate and hit a young woman.

A number of scuffles broke out and police hauled off a paddy wagon full of hecklers. They also took into custody two Wallace supporters, but turned them loose on the fringes of the crowd.

AGNEW

NEW YORK (AP) — Republican vice presidential nominee Sprio T. Agnew, fighting a respiratory infection and a slight fever, left today on the first leg of his final campaign swing.

Agnew was to appear at a rally in St. Joseph, Mo., this afternoon.

Agnew will travel to New Mexico and Texas tomorrow and then on to Ohio and Michigan on Sunday.

KUCHEL

SACRAMENTO (AP) — An aide to Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel maintains Kuchel has not endorsed either candidate for his Senate seat.

Peter Gall denied a statement in a memorandum credited to the campaign offices of Republican Senate candidate Max Rafferty that Kuchel "supports the entire Republican ticket . . . all the candidates."

The memorandum, distributed to newsmen yesterday by aides of Alan Cranston, the Democratic Senate nominee, adds: "That must be taken to include our candidate. Max Rafferty has the united Republican support — Reagan, (Sen. George) Murphy Nixon, (Lt. Gov. Robert) Finch and Kuchel."

Gall, however, said Kuchel "has not done a thing directly or indirectly to support either candidate" in the Senate race.

"Any representation to the contrary is false," Gall added.

McCARTHY

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, stumping for antiwar senatorial candidates, says the bombing halt in North Vietnam "is what some of us have been urging since 1966."

The Minnesota senator said he regarded President Johnson's action yesterday "an opener" that he hoped would move the Paris peace talks "on to the next stage."

"If you open with the stopping of the bombing we might then proceed to raise some of the other things that are at issue in the war," he said in an interview.

"I wish this step had been taken two years ago, but I am happy that the President has taken this time to make the move."

MUSKIE

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. Edmund S. Muskie today scoffed at a suggestion that the way to the bombing halt might have been paved by North Vietnamese leader Ho Chi Minh to aid the Democratic presidential ticket.

The Democratic vice-presidential candidate said he didn't know what affect the President's order would have on the campaign and added: "I don't care."

But he said in reply to a question about Ho Chi Minh's motives: "If Ho Chi Minh were doing this for political reasons he could have arranged a cease-fire. No, he's doing this for his own reasons and to aid his own national interests."

Appearing on NBC's "Today" show, Muskie warned against overoptimism, saying the bombing halt will permit "substantive" talks to begin but noting that talks to end the Korean War had been "long and frustrating."

"Each side now has the responsibility to exercise restraint," Muskie added.

NO-SHOW CLEAVER

Yippie Leader Turns College Lecture Into Jesting Funfest

By ROSS DAVIS

JERRY RUBIN
Entertains collegians

Black Panther Eldridge Cleaver failed to make the scene for his scheduled talk yesterday at a weekly College of Marin Controversy '68 Program.

If any of the nearly 2,000 persons attending were disappointed, it wasn't apparent. The crowd seemed well-entertained, instead, by a scheduled co-speaker, Jerry Rubin.

Rubin, organizer of the Youth International Party (Yippies), turned the college gymnasium gathering into a jesting, shouting, funfest, replete with occasional four-letter words.

Rubin's performance was characteristic of his calculated anti-Establishment zaniness that created a furor at the recent House Un-American Activities Committee investigation of Rubin and the Yippies part in disturbances at the Democratic National Convention in Chicago.

The House committee has since recommended that unconventional dress and behavior before a congressional committee be punishable as contempt, and yesterday Rubin, a 30-year-old New Yorker, was indicted in absentia in Chicago on charges of solicitation to commit mob action at the convention.

Advocating the burning of money, destruction of schools, and sexual activity in the streets, Rubin alternated from a loud defense of his tear-down-the-Establishment philosophy to good-natured repartee with the students.

He took the rostrum at noon. When Cleaver failed to appear, he continued talking until 1:20 p.m. Dean of Students Irwin P. Diamond and Richard Beban series chairman, then ended the session so students could go to 2 p.m. classes.

Beban said the reason for Cleaver's non-appearance unknown. Cleaver, minister of information for the Black Panthers and controversial figure in a lecture dispute at the University of California at Berkeley, had accepted the speech invitation through his appointments secretary, said Beban.

It was not determined whether a speech by Cleaver will be scheduled later.

Rubin, garbed in beaded headband, a flower shirt, and what he called a Viet Cong flag for a cape, kept the audience laughing and often clapping with his digs at politics, the American educational system and money.

"All the political parties nominated pigs" for president, said he. "It's an old people's election." He said students should go to the Nov. 5 polls with a pencil in one hand and a match in the other.

"Which way do you want to change the country?" he said, implying a choice of vote-marking or burning the polling places.

"America is a sick country; not a wrong country, a sick country," said he, adding, "I see America like the Roman society; it's just falling apart."

Switching his topic to schools, he said grades are likee money,- and the administration buildings like banks. The students try to please the professors and no one truly learns anything.

"When it comes down to it, a professor is a cop," said Rubin. ". . . I'd rather have the Hells Angels on my side than all the professors. . . . The first thing we've got to do as outlaws . . . is bring the university system down."

Rubin, who first told newsmen his residence is "everywhere" but later gave his mailing address as Berkeley, was asked by students how he would rebuild the society after he tore it down.

"A lot of it doesn't have to be replaced," he said, adding that this includes the Pentagon and military bases. He said sex and narcotics would be an important part of everyone's education. "Everyone would teach everyone else something," he concluded.

A question-answer session also had four-letter words frequently used by students in their questions.

Rubin defined the Yippy philosophy as non-polictical. "It's emotional," he said. "Political is too narrow."

College officials said about five telephone calls from persons protesting the scheduled appearance of Cleaver were received prior to the program.

Candidate Endorses Humphrey, For Pause

NEW YORK (AP) — Paul O'Dwyer, Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate, reversed his long opposition to Hubert H. Humphrey today and endorsed him for the presidency.

O'Dwyer said he was taking the action on the basis of President Johnson's decision to halt the bombing of North Vietnam.

Switching his topic to schools, he said grades are likee money,- and the administration buildings like banks. The students try to please the professors and no one truly learns anything.

"When it comes down to it, a professor is a cop," said Rubin. ". . . I'd rather have the Hells Angels on my side than all the professors. . . . The first thing we've got to do as outlaws . . . is bring the university system down."

Rubin, who first told newsmen his residence is "everywhere" but later gave his mailing address as Berkeley, was asked by students how he would rebuild the society after he tore it down.

"A lot of it doesn't have to be replaced," he said, adding that this includes the Pentagon and military bases. He said sex and narcotics would be an important part of everyone's education. "Everyone would teach everyone else something," he concluded.

A question-answer session also had four-letter words frequently used by students in their questions.

Rubin defined the Yippy philosophy as non-polictical. "It's emotional," he said. "Political is too narrow."

College officials said about five telephone calls from persons protesting the scheduled appearance of Cleaver were received prior to the program.

Candidate Endorses Humphrey, For Pause

NEW YORK (AP) — Paul O'Dwyer, Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate, reversed his long opposition to Hubert H. Humphrey today and endorsed him for the presidency.

O'Dwyer said he was taking the action on the basis of President Johnson's decision to halt the bombing of North Vietnam.

Mailliard Flays Johnson's Veto Of His Maritime Bill

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Rep. William S. Mailliard, R-Sixth District, today accused the Johnson administration of "colossal disinterest in maritime affairs."

The object of Mailliard's ire was announcement yesterday that President Johnson will kill legislation to establish an independent federal Maritime Administration with a pocket veto. Mailliard has fought for years to separate the Maritime Administration from the Department of Commerce.

"It is simply one more example of the dead hand of the Johnson administration in the field of national maritime affairs," said Mailliard in a press statement.

Mailliard, an author of the bill, termed it "an excellent vehicle for breathing some life into an otherwise moribund Maritime Administration."

Citing "our nation's precipitous decline as a maritime power," Mailliard said the new administration taking office in January will face a "ship gap of critical proportions — highly damaging to our international trade and national defense."

California's "teacher of the year"

"With a lifetime spent in education at all levels, Max Rafferty has played a vital role in developing one of the most dynamic state school systems in the nation.

"For the last six years as the California State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Dr. Rafferty has handled the largest state educational budget in the nation with greatest efficiency and effect.

"With an annual federal budget of $11 billion, the U.S. Senate needs a man with Max Rafferty's vast knowledge of the entire field of education to benefit all our children.

"Because I know the man—his background and his proven record—I fully support the candidacy of Dr. Max Rafferty for the U.S. Senate."

ON NOVEMBER 5, ELECT THE MAN WHOSE "VAST KNOWLEDGE OF THE ENTIRE FIELD OF EDUCATION" WILL BENEFIT YOUR CHILDREN!

■ ■ ■ Nobody is better qualified than Dr. Max Rafferty to stop the waste and inefficiency in the field of federal aid-to-education which is pouring a billion-dollar flood into the 50 states!

■ ■ ■ Nobody is better qualified than Dr. Max Rafferty to prevent the elimination of our neighborhood schools and keep them under local control.

■ ■ ■ Nobody is better qualified than Dr. Max Rafferty to fight for local school systems with enough educational muscle to equip all of its students with a quality education!

To fellow supporters of

SEN. EUGENE McCARTHY
SEN. ROBERT F. KENNEDY

This is an urgent appeal –

WE CANNOT AFFORD TO "SIT ON OUR HANDS"

We cannot afford Richard Nixon, or, of all people, Spiro T. Agnew, who reflects Nixon's judgment as to intelligent appointments in government.

MODERATE INTELLIGENT LIBERALISM is at stake, attacked with anger and repression from the RIGHT and destructivism without solutions from the LEFT.

The vast majority of enlightened Democrats and Republicans who voted for McCARTHY & KENNEDY to support rational answers to today's problems, cannot now risk abandoning America to impatient, emotional and reactionary forces. If we in California "sit this one out" we will have eight years of Nixon in which to rue our inaction and capitulation.

HUBERT HUMPHREY is a man of known integrity. It is now clear that a reappraisal of our foreign policy in line with our objectives is far more likely with a Humphrey administration than with Nixon's, in the light of recent statements by both. He will enlist intelligent and searching minds for answers to the causes and solutions of racial tensions

the ills of poverty, insecurity and student unrest

SEN. EDMUND MUSKIE is focusing attention on the issues, not slogans.

Consider his judgment, and concern for disarmament, open discussion, fairness to minorities and to the young, as opposed to those of Agnew (or Heaven forbid, LeMay).

"Politics as usual is not enough for America today."

"We need new leadership. We need new ideas."

Here are the choices facing you on November 5th...

1. A candidate who would continue the policies of the Johnson-Humphrey administration—policies repudiated by a large segment of the candidate's own party.

2. A candidate who is completely untested in the international and national areas of such critical importance today.

3. Or Richard Nixon, who offers a fresh and imaginative approach to bringing unity to a divided nation. As Vice President under Dwight Eisenhower, Nixon acted decisively in times of crisis while in command of the many important jobs of government.

NIXON SPEAKS OUT ON THE MAJOR ISSUES

VIETNAM:	"Vietnam must be the last agony of the old order, because there is a question whether the old order could sustain another."
CRIME AND VIOLENCE:	"In a free and open society, where there are legal and peaceful means for change and progress, there is no cause that justifies going outside the law and no cause that justifies the resort to violence."
URBAN CRISIS:	"What we do need is imaginative enlistment of private funds, private energies, and private talents in order to develop the opportunities that lie untapped in our own underdeveloped urban heartland."
THE DRAFT:	"One of the dividends of peace after the war in Vietnam must be to abolish the draft...Then let's raise the pay of our armed forces so that we can have a highly skilled professional force."
YOUTH TODAY:	"It's true that you are inheriting a world you never made. But this was true of every generation. The great, exciting difference is that you live in a world you can change."

A NATIVE CALIFORNIAN WITH STRONG FAMILY TIES AND TRADITIONS

Nixon was raised in the Golden State and worked his way through Whittier College. In 1940, he married Patricia Ryan, a Whittier school teacher. During World War II Nixon served as a naval officer in the South Pacific. He served as a Congressman and a Senator from California before becoming Vice President in 1953. The Nixons' two daughters, Julie (second from left), and Tricia, complete a close-knit family group; Julie is engaged to 20-year-old David Eisenhower (also shown).

FIREMEN SEES, FIGHTS BLAZE WHILE OFF-DUTY

An off-duty fireman who spotted a fire in a neighbor's house in San Rafael yesterday afternoon was able to control it with a garden hose until firemen arrived, according to the fire department.

Larry E. Wall of 159 Alpine Street broke a window at the home of Alfred P. Perfetti at 169 Alpine Street when he saw smoke pouring from the house, firemen said.

Although Wall had the fire contained when the fire department arrived, about $5,000 damage had been done by the fire and smoke. Firemen thought the blaze had started in a upholstered chair, possibly from a dropped cigarette.

The fire spread through the living and dining rooms and smoke damaged other rooms.

The Perfettis were not home at the time of the fire, firemen said.

Ferocious Death Struggle In Ramon Novarro's Home

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Ramon Novarro, Latin lover of the silent screen and early talkies, fought whoever killed him with a ferocity that belied his 69 years.

A trail of blood led through overturned furniture in the actor's living room, into the den and past a huge bronze bust of his greatest role, "Ben Hur," and to the bedroom where his nude body was found early yesterday by his secretary.

The body was sprawled face up on a king-size bed. Nearby were his broken glasses. Police said his head was crushed by a heavy instrument during the prolonged struggle that raged through the actor's $150,000 home in the Hollywood Hills.

There was no sign of forced entry—the front door was locked when the body was first found—and detectives said they had no motive for the slaying. The murder weapon was not found.

The only significant clue today was a bundle of discarded clothing found on the outside chain link fence surrounding the one-story, Spanish-style house.

The clothes — blue denim trousers, a jacket, T-shirt and bloodstained shorts—did not belong to Novarro. If they belonged to the murderer, police were puzzled as to why he threw them away so close to the scene and what he wore afterwards.

The star of the original versions of "Ben Hur" and "Prisoner of Zenda" lived alone in the rambling, white-brick home. Detectives indicated Novarro may have let his killer into the home voluntarily.

Patrolman Flushes Out Bigger Game

A patrolman checking for Halloween contraband flushed bigger game last night, San Rafael police reported today.

Patrolman Walter P. Kosta reported he was checking cars at 6:45 p.m. at Fourth and Court streets for eggs and similar Halloween items when he peered into one car and found Kenneth Joseph Levy of San Francisco with a plastic bag of marijuana in his hands.

Kosta arrested Levy, 19, and the driver, Val Harland Hampton, 19, of 27 Bridge Road, Larkspur, on suspicion of possessing marijuana. Levy then turned over 10 varicolored pills which he said were LSD, Kosta reported.

Both were booked at Marin County Jail on suspicion of possessing marijuana and a dangerous drug, and were released on their own recognizance to appear this afternoon in Marin Municipal Court.

THAT'S LEGAL — Allan Kane, 5, of 357 Via La Paz, Greenbrae, rides over a gutter fill which the City of Larkspur considers legal because it will allow water drainage.

THAT'S ILLEGAL — This fill of a driveway dip in the Greenbrae section of Larkspur is considered illegal by Larkspur officials because it impedes drainage. The curb-crossers have not been a source of controversy in Larkspur.

NO DRIVEWAY WAR

Larkspur Smoothly Solves Gutter Woes

The City of Larkspur has been quietly and deliberately eliminating illegal driveway gutter fills which have raised so much controversy in other parts of Marin County.

Warren Mistron, Larkspur public works director, has estimated that the number of illegal "curb crossers" has been reduced from 500 to 200 in the past 18 months. He hoped the remainder would be eliminated in the next six months.

Mistron said a campaign was completed last week to correct 70 to 80 improper gutter crossings in the Hillview Garden subdivision alone.

Of this number, he added, only three had to be removed through abatement proceedings, meaning the city took out the fills and billed the property owner.

Mistron and City Mgr. Kent B. Bathurst said a survey of Larkspur 18 months ago disclosed that 500 driveways had been impeded eight by concrete, blacktop or wood, thus preventing adequate water drainage to catch basins. Flooding of streets resulted, they said.

To change this, the public works department sent notices last February to violators that application must be made for encroachment permits for the curb crossings. This enabled the city to inspect gutters, said Mistron, and residents were advised of what corrections were necessary to obtain a permit.

Mistron said there also was a heavy concentration of illegal curb crossers in Heather Gardens. But of about 100 crossing there, he said, only one remains defective.

He said the city council has had only nine appeals of rulings against crossers. These appeals are pending, he added.

Mistron said new letters are being sent to the remaining 200 violators, urging them again to apply for permits. He described almost all of the property owners as cooperative.

"We're trying to work with them because it is an expense to them to reconstruct, and we don't want to just go jerk them (driveway fills) out," he said.

The County of Marin attempted last month to remove gutter fills from driveways in the Oak Manor subdivision near Fairfax with jackhammers, but was blocked when housewives placed their cars on the curb crossers.

The cases wound up before the board of supervisors, which upheld the county public works department's objections to the gutter fills.

Air Pollution Exemptions Vetoed For Special Vehicles

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The state Air Resources Board has received three straight "no" answers to questions submitted to Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch on smog control and testing of exhaust emissions.

John A. Maga, executive office of the Air Resources Board had sought the attorney general's opinion on whether the board: Could make a special allowance for evaporative loss control for testing exhaust emissions; apply a factor of 0.85 in its test procedures to reflect the difference between off-road utility vehicles and passenger cars; and exclude off-road utility vehicles weighing less than 6,001 pounds from the evaporative loss standards?

The attorney general's opinion, written by Deputy Atty. Gen. Jan Stevens, states the board does "not" have the authority to make a special allowance for evaporative loss control; may "not" apply a factor to reflect differences in operation between off-road utility vehicles and passenger cars; and has "no" authority to exclude light, off-road utility vehicles from the statutory requirements of the Health and Safety Code.

A spokesman for the attorney general stated the "evaporative loss control" is gasoline fumes emitting from vehicles while not in use; the off-road utility vehicles include such things as tractors, fork lifts and tugs.

A girl's bicycle valued at $35 belonging to Nancy Carter, 11, of 94 De La Guerra Road, was stolen Tuesday night or Wednesday from the residence, San Rafael police reported today.

Portugal Sells Neighbor's Fish

LISTON (AP) — Portugal exported to European Free Trade Association (EFTA) countries 16,697 tons of canned fish worth $10.7 million in 1967.

Great Britain was the greatest buyer with 10,122 tons worth $6 million.

Although Portugal belongs to EFTA, the Common Market countries take 49 per cent of all exports of Portuguese canned fish and the partners in EFTA only 24 per cent.

West Germany is the country that buys the most canned fish from Portugal. Last year Germany bought 10,615 tons worth $7.3 million.

SUPERVISOR
TOM STORER
TAX-FREEZE SPONSOR TALKS ABOUT ECONOMY

A man for Marin

(Reprinted from the Independent-Journal, Feb. 29, 1968)

"Marin County ought to lead the way and freeze the tax rate and hold down spending. We should show them we mean business, and we would hope the state and federal governments will take cognizance of our action and follow suit," Storer declared.

"Instead of spending and then tailoring the tax rate to fit the need, we should freeze the tax rate and tailor our spending to fit the pocketbook," he added...

This is not the first time Storer has asked for reduction or freezing of the tax rate. In connection with the Hall of Justice bond issue in 1965, Storer proposed that the county promise a one-cent to five-cent reduction in the tax rate if the bond issue was passed.

The bond issue did pass and the tax rate for the 1965-66 fiscal year was $2.185, as compared with the previous year's $2.30.

The attorney general's opinion, written by Deputy Atty. Gen. Jan Stevens, states the board does "not" have the authority to make a special allowance for evaporative loss control; may "not" apply a factor to reflect differences in operation between off-road utility vehicles and passenger cars; and has "no" authority to exclude light, off-road utility vehicles from the statutory requirements of the Health and Safety Code.

A spokesman for the attorney general stated the "evaporative loss control" is gasoline fumes emitting from vehicles while not in use; the off-road utility vehicles include such things as tractors, fork lifts and tugs.

Portugal Sells Neighbor's Fish

LISTON (AP) — Portugal exported to European Free Trade Association (EFTA) countries 16,697 tons of canned fish worth $10.7 million in 1967.

Great Britain was the greatest buyer with 10,122 tons worth $6 million.

Although Portugal belongs to EFTA, the Common Market countries take 49 per cent of all exports of Portuguese canned fish and the partners in EFTA only 24 per cent.

West Germany is the country that buys the most canned fish from Portugal. Last year Germany bought 10,615 tons worth $7.3 million.

SUPERVISOR
TOM STORER
TAX-FREEZE SPONSOR TALKS ABOUT ECONOMY

(Reprinted from the Independent-Journal, Feb. 29, 1968)

"Marin County ought to lead the way and freeze the tax rate and hold down spending. We should show them we mean business, and we would hope the state and federal governments will take cognizance of our action and follow suit," Storer declared.

"Instead of spending and then tailoring the tax rate to fit the need, we should freeze the tax rate and tailor our spending to fit the pocketbook," he added...

This is not the first time Storer has asked for reduction or freezing of the tax rate. In connection with the Hall of Justice bond issue in 1965, Storer proposed that the county promise a one-cent to five-cent reduction in the tax rate if the bond issue was passed.

The bond issue did pass and the tax rate for the 1965-66 fiscal year was $2.185, as compared with the previous year's $2.30.

'War Of The Worlds' Still Sparks Calls

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — An updated version of the 1938 "War of the Worlds" broadcast, played by a Buffalo radio station late Halloween night, brought a flood of telephone calls through switchboards late yesterday and early today.

The broadcast over Station WKBW was billed as part of a Halloween night special.

Program director Jeff Kaye was quoted by a local television and radio columnist yesterday as saying, "we use Orson Welles' script for a background and then treat it as a developing news story. It plays out very real."

Welles' Mercury Theater group's show pretened to report an invasion from Mars.

News offices throughout the Northeast were called for information concerning the "attack reported" by the station. Callers asked about meteors crashing on "an island in New York" and on Grand Island.

Students at Alfred University, whose homes are in the Buffalo area, tried desperately to reach relatives to find out the "extent of damage."

Police in Buffalo said they received a few calls but did not know of any incidents of panic.

A telephone operator estimated that several thousand calls went through the Buffalo switchboards during the broadcast. Operators in the surrounding area said they had several hundred calls for the station's number or for information concerning the "attack."

The 1938 broadcast, widely believed the report of an actual invasion, caused widespread panic.

Werber, Friends Indicted By Jury

The Marin County Grand Jury yesterday voted indictments against Marin entertainment tycoon Frank N. Werber and three others arrested for alleged marijuana violations with him Oct. 14 in his plush Richardson Bay home.

Werver, former manager of the Kingston trio, and Judith Anne Sloper, 30, who lives with him at 4 DeSilva Island, were indicted for allegedly growing and possessing marijuana.

Bryce Staples Wilson, a Kentfield writer, and Frank J. Mathieson, a San Anselmo drummer, were indicted for alleged possession of marijuana for sale.

Local authorities, led to the Werber home by customs agents, found a marijuana garden, various caches of marijuana and six duffle bags of marijuana in the bayside home, Oct. 14.

They allegedly watched Wilson and Mathieson arrive at the house in a car which contained another 34 pounds of marijuana.

Authorities were led to the house by Stanley Mulligan and Charles Peter Barrett, owners of Latitude 38 in Sausalito, who — according to a federal court affidavit — told customs agents Werber contracted with them for delivery of 258 pounds of marijuana.

Werber, Miss Sloper, Wilson and Mathieson are to appear for arraignment on the local charges Monday in Marin Superior Court. Werber is to appear Thursday in U.S. District Court in San Francisco on charges of conspiracy to transport marijuana and transporting marijuana.

Barrett and Mulligan, arrested with the pot in Laredo, Tex., share the conspiracy charge with Werber.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales had originally charged Werber locally with transporting marijuana and conspiracy to transport the weed.

He said he did not ask the grand jury yesterday for such an indictment because it might have placed the promoter in double jeopardy. He faces the same charges in federal court.

The grand jury yesterday also returned a sealed indictment charging welfare fraud. Identity of the accused will be released upon arrest.

Halloween Mischief Not Serious In Marin

Marin's Halloween pranksters for the most part confined themselves last night to minor mischief such as egg throwing and setting off firecrackers as police described the holiday problems as "very light."

In Novato, however, trick-or-treaters were badly tricked themselves on Sixth Street, where candies which had been soaked in either oil or gasoline were handed out to youngsters, according to police.

Although police have had no reports of children getting sick from eating the candy, they warned parents of youngsters who visited that area last night to caramels wrapped in black and orange papers which had been opened prior to being given out.

Sgt. William Cann said that police have not yet determined at which house on Sixth Street the unadulterated candy was handed out.

The Marin County sheriff's department, which had 48 calls about Halloween mischief, made one arrest. Deputies investigating reports of egg throwing at the College of Marin said when they arrived at the college gym they found two youths throwing eggs who then began to pelt the deputies' car with rocks.

After a chase into Corte Madera Creek, the deputies arrested Patrick L. Dupree, 21, of 115 La Goma Street, Mill Valley on suspicion of being drunk and contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

The 17-year-old accompanying him was taken to Marin County Juvenile Hall on suspicion of being drunk, beyond parental control and having a switch-blade knife.

Dupree was released from jail on $660 bail and will appear in Marin Municipal Court Monday. Deputies said they will consult the district attorney's office as to whether to charge him also with the felony crime of throwing rocks as a moving vehicle.

In San Rafael, police reported there were about 20 incidents of egg throwing, firecrackers and one car sprayed with paint. Firemen in San Rafael were harrassed by several false alarms shortly after midnight.

In Southern Marin youngsters added shaving cream to eggs and firecrackers as weapons, according to Mill Valley police.

Southern Sonoma pranksters also utilized the area's main product, tossing eggs at stores, houses, and cars in Petaluma, Cotati and Rohnert Park.

Petaluma police said that a large egg throwing fight took place in Walnut Park, and although police compiled a list of 21 youngsters, no arrests were made.

Bird Refuge Proposed As Landmark

Audubon Canyon Ranch on Bolinas Lagoon, nesting reserve for wildfowl including egrets and blue herons, was proposed yesterday for inclusion in the National Registry of Natural Landmarks.

The Advisory Board on National Parks, Historic Sites, Buildings and Monuments made the recommendation to Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall.

The board also proposed that Lake Tahoe's Emerald Bay be included in the registry. They were the only two sites in the 48 contiguous states recommended for inclusion this year, according to Clerin W. Zumwalt, chief naturalist at the ranch.

Inclusion in the national registry, Zumwalt said, would be recognition that the ranch is of national significance. Management of the ranch will not be affected.

The ranch would receive a marker plaque, and will be listed on road maps and on National Park Serive lists as a landmark, which Zumwalt said would increase the number of visitors.

Police Cyclist Injured By Rock

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Motorcycle patrolmen were temporarily transferred to squad cars last night after a fellow patrolman was spilled from his two-wheeler by a rock.

The patrolman, Donald Sweeney, 35, was hit in the eye in the Ingleside district and veered into an approaching car. He was operated on at Mission Emergency Hospital and doctors said they thought they could save his sight.

Police said they transferred the other motorcycle patrols to squad cars as a precautionary measure for the one night only.

The rock thrower was not apprehended.

Werber, Friends Indicted By Jury

The Marin County Grand Jury yesterday voted indictments against Marin entertainment tycoon Frank N. Werber and three others arrested for alleged marijuana violations with him Oct. 14 in his plush Richardson Bay home.

Werver, former manager of the Kingston trio, and Judith Anne Sloper, 30, who lives with him at 4 DeSilva Island, were indicted for allegedly growing and possessing marijuana.

Bryce Staples Wilson, a Kentfield writer, and Frank J. Mathieson, a San Anselmo drummer, were indicted for alleged possession of marijuana for sale.

Local authorities, led to the Werber home by customs agents, found a marijuana garden, various caches of marijuana and six duffle bags of marijuana in the bayside home, Oct. 14.

They allegedly watched Wilson and Mathieson arrive at the house in a car which contained another 34 pounds of marijuana.

Authorities were led to the house by Stanley Mulligan and Charles Peter Barrett, owners of Latitude 38 in Sausalito, who — according to a federal court affidavit — told customs agents Werber contracted with them for delivery of 258 pounds of marijuana.

Werber, Miss Sloper, Wilson and Mathieson are to appear for arraignment on the local charges Monday in Marin Superior Court. Werber is to appear Thursday in U.S. District Court in San Francisco on charges of conspiracy to transport marijuana and transporting marijuana.

Barrett and Mulligan, arrested with the pot in Laredo, Tex., share the conspiracy charge with Werber.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales had originally charged Werber locally with transporting marijuana and conspiracy to transport the weed.

He said he did not ask the grand jury yesterday for such an indictment because it might have placed the promoter in double jeopardy. He faces the same charges in federal court.

The grand jury yesterday also returned a sealed indictment charging welfare fraud. Identity of the accused will be released upon arrest.

Halloween Mischief Not Serious In Marin

Marin's Halloween pranksters for the most part confined themselves last night to minor mischief such as egg throwing and setting off firecrackers as police described the holiday problems as "very light."

In Novato, however, trick-or-treaters were badly tricked themselves on Sixth Street, where candies which had been soaked in either oil or gasoline were handed out to youngsters, according to police.

Although police have had no reports of children getting sick from eating the candy, they warned parents of youngsters who visited that area last night to caramels wrapped in black and orange papers which had been opened prior to being given out.

Sgt. William Cann said that police have not yet determined at which house on Sixth Street the unadulterated candy was handed out.

The Marin County sheriff's department, which had 48 calls about Halloween mischief, made one arrest. Deputies investigating reports of egg throwing at the College of Marin said when they arrived at the college gym they found two youths throwing eggs who then began to pelt the deputies' car with rocks.

After a chase into Corte Madera Creek, the deputies arrested Patrick L. Dupree, 21, of 115 La Goma Street, Mill Valley on suspicion of being drunk and contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

The 17-year-old accompanying him was taken to Marin County Juvenile Hall on suspicion of being drunk, beyond parental control and having a switchblade knife.

Dupree was released from jail on $660 bail and will appear in Marin Municipal Court Monday. Deputies said they will consult the district attorney's office as to whether to charge him also with the felony crime of throwing rocks as a moving vehicle.

College Trustees Worried By Building Cost Publicity

The College of Marin's second workshop on issues last night turned out to be a sparsely attended session despite recent campus controversy over building plans.

With fewer than 20 persons on hand, including six staff members, three trustees and two reporters, attention was focused on publicity and communication.

The publicity issue was sparked by a story in the Independent-Journal Wednesday concerning students' contention that the college could cut building costs substantially by using redwood.

Trustees Donald K. Felt said he was interested in hearing students views but felt it was detrimental to "air issues in this way."

An airing in the I-J with a banner headline might give the public the wrong idea and "people might get the notion we're building an extravagant college," Felt said.

Trustee Charles W. Gray said "it should be out in the open. It's got to be public and when it's public in Marin County, it's in the I-J."

Felt emphasized that he was for "free, open communication but was concerned when it was "blown out of perspective."

Gray pointed out that the "play" given the story was a decision of the newspaper and beyond the purview of the board.

Dale A. Fleming, planning director, said student interest in building plans "is welcome, encouraged and appropriate." but the students should be accurate when quoting costs.

"All the information was not there and it was a misleading kind of comment," he said. "We cannot build for half the cost by using redwood."

All the district's information on building plans has been discussed at board meetings and is available for review by residents, Fleming said.

Trustee Harry J. Moore, who has opposed construction of a new football field, an opposition shared by the Students for Academic Freedom, called for further discussion of building priorities.

If the district is going to come up with a bond proposal, there should be a building program that will be palatable to the public, Moore said.

Moore contended "something as important" as building priorities should have a full airing for public, students and faculty.

College President Louis H. Herkenhoff said, "There has never been an attempt to not keep the people informed."

A student contended the students know how to use the news media better than the district and practiced one-upmanship by getting a headline in Wednesday's I-J.

$2,038 Photographic Theft In San Anselmo

Theft of photography equipment valued at $2,038 from the garage of Ernest B. Braun of 479 Upper Scenic Avenue was reported today by San Anselmo police.

Braun, a professional photographer, told officers the items taken included camera lights, film holders, lighting stands, lenses, filters and light meters.

Hub Chamber Takes No Stand On Proposition

The San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce board yesterday discussed but decided to take no stand on Proposition 9 on Tuesday's ballot.

The proposition, the Watson initiative, would limit property tax levies to 1 per cent of market value and use of property tax revenues to support schools and welfare would be phased out.

The board also discussed plans for Christmas decorations in San Anselmo, and studied a map of the city-owned creekside parking near the Hub. The lot will be used by the city for two-hour free parking and monthly full-time daylight parking on a rental basis.

Next board meeting will be at 12:15 p.m. Thursday at the Pepperwood restaurant, Red Hill shopping center.

Building Code Revisions Eyed

Rohnert Park City Council will consider an ordinance to update the city's 1964 building code at its regular meeting Monday at 7 p.m. in city hall.

The additions will cover the building, plumbing, electrical, heating and comfort cooling codes. City Mgr. Peter M. Callinan said the proposed additions do not make further restrictions, but recognize new materials and advanced building procedure.

If approved by council, a public hearing will be scheduled.

VOTE NO ON PROPOSITION 9

IF PROPOSITION NO. 9 WERE ADOPTED:

- Enormous property tax savings to large landowners and speculators would have to be made up by drastically increased income and sales tax on homeowners and renters.
- California's school system would be thrown into chaos.

WAR ON LUNCH PAILS

Toys Of Violence Outlawing Urged

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Assemblyman John L. Burton, D-San Francisco, has promised he would once again offer legislation to discourage the depicting of violence on lunch pails for children and renewed his campaign against "war toys."

Burton, meeting with newsmen in the state Capitol, told how his 4-year-old daughter had broken her lunch pail and it took him a "full week" to find one which did not depict violence.

He said that "parents buying simple lunch pails for their school children are now hard-pressed to find one that does not graphically depict scenes of violence or is not profusely illustrated with guns and other weapons." He displayed three pails, each of which had such scenes painted on them.

Burton said he would again introduce legislation that would require toy manufacturers to "Clearly label toys of violence as being potentially dangerous to children," much as the cigarette packages are labeled as being dangerous to health.

He admitted that little else could be done without getting into the problem of censoring.

Burton applauded the move away from war toys, particularly noting the decision by Sears, Roebuck and Co., which decided against handling war toys. He said he had notified that firm of his endorsement of their move.

Burton said, "It has never been more clear that our society is steeped in violence. With the growth of violence on our high school, junior high school, and even grade school campuses, it becomes more compelling to end the indoctrination of our children with such violence-depicting toys. We must stop the 'acceptability of violence' among our children."

THE DAY MY DAUGHTER socked it to Ft. Baker could be the title of the above photo but really is Marlene Keelen of Fairfax dancing with a willing partner at a USO Halloween dance. USO girls travel to all military bases in the Bay Area where they serve as hostesses for social events. They are not a part of the military service but are civilian volunteers. Marlene is chairman of the Marin USO Mobile Unit, a member of the Bay Area United Crusade. (Independent-Journal photos by Bob Hax).

ON THE GO WTH USO and everyone is welcome. A lively game of pool takes place at Ft. Baker Servicemen's Club Tuesday evening with the men perplexed by their partners at first but soon adjusting to "Cowgirl" Linda Young of Forest Knolls, left, and "Cavewoman" Patty Hyde of San Rafael. Waiting his turn is Spec. 4 Bill Sullivan of Goshen, Ind. and shooting is PFC Douglas Durley of Detroit, Mich. The Halloween costume dance at Ft. Baker included servicemen from the Presido, Letterman General Hospital and Ft. Cronkite along with the hosts. Patty won first prize for her costume at the Hamilton Air Force Base Halloween dance last Friday.

Marin Girls Volunteer For 'Active' Duty

By GRACE HENDERSON

"I could write a book about these USO girls. It's really something when they come way out here just to help us guys." The speaker was an enlisted man serving in the U.S. Army stationed in a remote section of the Bay Area. He was expressing his gratitude for participation in the Bay Area USO (United Service Organization) by more than 20 Marin girls, all volunteer members of the Marin USO Mobile Unit and a part of the Bay Area USO Mobile Unit headquartered in San Francisco. They were taking part in an on-base dance, one event in a continuous chain of socials supported by the USO Mobile Unit since its Bay Area inception in 1965.

A representation of the group goes somewhere seven nights a week, with few exceptions, entertaining servicemen of the Bay Area. There are parties, dances, social evenings, gourmet tours, hospital ward parties, square dances, bridge classes, dance classes, softball games, barbecues and special happenings.

There are costume events, party themes, formal and informal activities; and there are girls and military personnel. All events are under the auspices of the USO, with military hospital activity scheduled through cooperation of the American Red Cross. These include Oaknoll Hospital and Travis Air Force Base Hospital where ward parties and dances are the chief source of entertainment. The Marin Unit was organized last July with 24 girls and two senior volunteers.

IT'S A FAST MOVING WORLD, a fact that was emphasized by the appearance of Air-Vacs at a recent Travis AFB Hospital dance. The men had arrived from Vietnam that morning and attended the Red Cross USO dance in the theater of the hospital that evening. As one of the junior hostesses expressed her feelings "It was one of the best dances we have ever had at Travis."

As with young people everywhere humor prevails, as was graphically expressed by a volunteer after a dance at the Oakland Army Base.

There are restrictions which are followed carefully but somehow an inebriated soldier made his way to the bus as the USO girls were boarding for the homeward trip. He approached the steps and requested a goodnight kiss from one to which she promptly replied, "That's a No-No in the USO — and besides, I have trench mouth!"

JUNIOR VOLUNTEERS all between the ages of 18 and 25, are either college students or working so attendance depends on midterms, working hours and other duties. Just now an outside activity is the preparation of Christmas gifts for the 44th Signal Battalion serving somewhere in Vietnam.

The battalion, traditionally sponsored by Bay Area USO units, includes approximately one thousand men. To make their Christmas brighter, the girls are constructing miniature stockings to stuff with razor blades, combs, plastic cigarette containers, sewing kits, deodorant, key chains, other small items, small toys to be given Vietnam children and a few tokens such as lipstick for the girls. All items are being donated.

FOR MOST FUNCTIONS the junior and senior volunteers (mother hens) ride military busses. Anticipation runs high enroute and coming home the enthusiasm for the vent just ended and the next one coming up brings comments and evaluation. There was plenty of time for this Wednesday evening as the group and their driver waited patiently for someone to come with a key to let them pass following a Halloween dance at a Travis Nike Site. The gate is locked at 1930 hours and opened again at 0700.

One girl described her experience at another event. She hadn't had time to set her hair prior to a long trip on a bus. So on arrival at the dance she dashed to the restroom where she teased her locks into an acceptable hairdo. But soon the active dances had her tresses drooping. She tried to smooth them down without calling attention to herself but her partner noticed and inquired "Would you like me to help? "and added" I'm a professional hairdresser, you know," to the surprised girl.

To become junior volunteers Marin girls follow rules set up for all USO volunteers. They are interviewed and required to furnish three references. They attend a monthly unit meeting held at the Marin Civic Center and must also go to at least two on-base activities each month. And when it comes to entertaining servicemen the by-word is "circulate," meaning they converse with as many male guests as possible during the evening.

BAY AREA USO Mobile Units are located in Marin, San Francisco, San Mateo, Alameda and Contra Costa counties and are served by more than 100 junior volunteers giving a total of 1300 hours every month. In 1967 4,478 junior and senior volunteers donated 132,087 hours to entertaining servicemen in the area. Their main purpose is to help make the USO truly a "home away from home."

Girls in Marin County who meet the basic requirements and who would like to join are welcome. Contacts may be made through the Bay Area USO headquarters in San Francisco, the Volunteer Bureau in San Rafael or by contacting any junior or senior volunteer. Mesdames Lillian Nolan of Kentfield and Grace Henderson and Chapin Day, both of San Rafael, are local senior volunteers.

As Rudyard Kipling once wrote, "Gardens are not made by singing, 'Oh, how beautiful' and sitting in the shade." Gardens are made by digging in and working vigorously

A DECK OF CARDS, some players and plenty of kibitzers complete one corner of activity at Ft. Baker Service Club. Beverly Fox, field director of the Bay Area USO Mobile Units, helps PFC Gale Ledbetter of the Presidio, as Kathy Reho, USO Service Club director at Ft. Baker attacks the problem humorously. Spec. 4 Charles Pine of Letterman General Hospital enjoys the game as Spc. 5 Alex Wachtel of Rochester, N.Y. studies his hand. Back row and "assisting" the players are, left to right, Sharon Halestrap of Fairfax, Rosanne Davis of San Rafael and Shirley Shenone of Corte Madera.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Should Mom Give Up Smoking In Return For Diaper Service?

DEAR HELEN:

We have twins three years old, and a baby five months old. My husband says I can continue having diaper service only if I give up smoking. I won't give up smoking unless he quits his Friday night poker game.

I say if I have to give up the service, he must buy me six dozen diapers but he only wants to buy two dozen. If he only gets me two dozen, I'll need a clothes dryer to keep up, and that's more expensive than a diaper service.

I don't think he's fair, do you? — MARSHA

DEAR MARSHA:

Fair on not, you'll work less and enjoy it more if you give up smoking. And when you make the Big Sacrifice, especially for your husband, you'll find he'll do more nice things for you — even perhaps to taking you out on Friday nights or buying you a dryer for Christmas. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

My husband is 75 years old. I am 36. We have a 12-year-old daughter. Do they allow children in senior citizen housing projects? — D. L.

DEAR D.:

Two out of three in your family aren't senior citizens. Even though you were "allowed," you wouldn't be happy in a golden years complex. Your husband should bow to the majority. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

My 16-year-old daughter is pregnant. She has been going steady with an older boy for a year, and we think he is no good, but she says he has never touched her. I've had several fights with her about him.

She accuses my husband, her stepfather. She said he came home drunk one night while I was away. He swears this isn't true; and my daughter first said it happened on one date, and then another, when I proved I was home that night.

Last night she asked me to apply for an abortion because her stepfather is the father. Do you suppose she is pinning it on him so she can get out of this? — NO WAY TO TURN

It won't take long for an expert counsellor to catch your daughter up, if she's lying. Insist that she consult one. Should she refuse, you can be pretty sure your husband is innocent. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

About those restaurants where the waiters and waitresses snub mannerly teens: If we parents got into the act and boycotted them, they might get the message faster.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Should Mom Give Up Smoking In Return For Diaper Service?

DEAR HELEN:

We have twins three years old, and a baby five months old. My husband says I can continue having diaper service only if I give up smoking. I won't give up smoking unless he quits his Friday night poker game.

I say if I have to give up the service, he must buy me six dozen diapers but he only wants to buy two dozen. If he only gets me two dozen, I'll need a clothes dryer to keep up, and that's more expensive than a diaper service.

I don't think he's fair, do you? — MARSHA

DEAR MARSHA:

Fair on not, you'll work less and enjoy it more if you give up smoking. And when you make the Big Sacrifice, especially for your husband, you'll find he'll do more nice things for you — even perhaps to taking you out on Friday nights or buying you a dryer for Christmas. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

My husband is 75 years old. I am 36. We have a 12-year-old daughter. Do they allow children in senior citizen housing projects? — D. L.

DEAR D.:

Two out of three in your family aren't senior citizens. Even though you were "allowed," you wouldn't be happy in a golden years complex. Your husband should bow to the majority. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

My 16-year-old daughter is pregnant. She has been going steady with an older boy for a year, and we think he is no good, but she says he has never touched her. I've had several fights with her about him.

She accuses my husband, her stepfather. She said he came home drunk one night while I was away. He swears this isn't true; and my daughter first said it happened on one date, and then another, when I proved I was home that night.

My husband does drink a lot. I can't believe this, but I can't quite disbelieve it entirely.

The misery is unbearable, as if I side with my husband, I've lost a daughter, and if I side with my daughter, I'll have to leave him. Helen, I love them both, though I see their faults. Now, all I want to do is run away and hide.

Last night she asked me to apply for an abortion because her stepfather is the father. Do you suppose she is pinning it on him so she can get out of this? — NO WAY TO TURN

DEAR NWTT:

It won't take long for an expert counsellor to catch your daughter up, if she's lying. Insist that she consult one. Should she refuse, you can be pretty sure your husband is innocent. — H.

WHEN THE Episcopal Women of the Church of the Nativity gathered for a salad bowl luncheon contest in Marinwood, they chose the vicar, the Rev. David Barnette, as the judge for the salad entries. After tasting them all, and agreeing that each was delicious, the vicar fell to the delicate task of selecting a winner. Father Barnette judiciously chose an outstanding one in a beautiful green bowl.

It took the ladies a few minutes to realize that the vicar had tactfully chosen the one he had prepared himself!

But actually everybody won, as each received a prize of some kind, depending on the order in which the names were drawn from a bowl. And luncheon proceeds were turned over to the church for Sunday school supplies.

toward a goal. This is what Marin USO Mobile Unit members do, they "dig in" and their enthusiasm brightens the lives of American military men at Hamilton AFB, the Presidio; Ft. Baker, Ft. Cronkite and Ft. Barry; Oakland Army Base; Oaknoll Hospital: various Nike sites; and beginning tomorrow evening, also Mare Island Naval Base at Vallejo.

Members of the Marin Unit not mentioned in pictures are Lynell Banner, Sue Howland, Tobie Nabors and Danny Rylko, all of San Rafael; Denise Overhouse, Gloria Hassler, Gaye Rhoads and Jan Wahlberg, of San Anselmo; and Marianne Boyer of Fairfax.

Like the television advertisement that says "Our stewardesses know their way around the world like most girls know their way around the block," the Marin USO Mobile Unit girls know their way to and from military bases like their counterparts know their way to the local theater.

But to the girls themselves, it is seeing hospital patients given the incentive to dance when just that day they refused to walk across the floor for therapy or the opportunity to listen to a homesick man tell of his family in another state and to be with those who do not know anyone in California and appreciate having a chance to dance again.

The name cards read "On the Go With USO" and Marin County girls go with USO — wherever and whenever needed.

Christmas Shopping Begins Early

LONDON (UPI)—The Christmas gift list of Britain's Queen Elizabeth has 700 names on it. So she has already started shopping for presents.

During her fall vacation at Balmoral Castle in the Scottish Highlands, she looked through catalogues from several London stores and marked her selections for her lady-in-waiting to place orders.

The queen gets gifts for 28 godchildren, friends in scores of countries she has visited during her world tours, and members of all the other European royal families. Most of them are relatives. She shops personally for family presents in December.

Extra early Christmas preparation is so that many of the packages and cards can be posted in November, the month the queen will be away on a state visit to South America.

With her characteristic thoroughness, the queen means to make sure everything is in order before she leaves.

Her presents will be packed at Buckingham Palace with signed greeting cards. Her mail goes out unstamped with a special marking from the private post office inside the palace.

WHEN THE Episcopal Women of the Church of the Nativity gathered for a salad bowl luncheon contest in Marinwood, they chose the vicar, the Rev. David Barnette, as the judge for the salad entries. After tasting them all, and agreeing that each was delicious, the vicar fell to the delicate task of selecting a winner. Father Barnette judiciously chose an outstanding one in a beautiful green bowl.

It took the ladies a few minutes to realize that the vicar had tactfully chosen the one he had prepared himself!

But actually everybody won, as each received a prize of some kind, depending on the order in which the names were drawn from a bowl. And luncheon proceeds were turned over to the church for Sunday school supplies.

NEXT HURDLE: MONEY

Pupils' Africa Trip Gets Board Blessing

The Sausalito School District board gave its blessing yesterday to a proposed project to have five Negro pupils take a trip to Senegal during the Christmas vacation period.

The project was conceived by James T. Toliver Jr., special assistant to the principal and staff at Martin Luther King School, who spent two years (1965-67) in Senegal as a Peace Corps volunteer.

Trustee David E. Freedheim stressed that the project would be funded by contributions from individuals or foundations and there wouldn't be any cost to the district.

Funding is still being sought, reported Trustee Martha Freebairn-Smith. "It's now a question if it will get off the ground."

Toliver said the trip is designed "to help repair the educational and cultural gap existing between the youth of America and the youth of Africa."

"The aim is to develop a social studies unit on Africa for grades five through eight including a documentary film on the experience of five pupils from Marin City in Africa."

The film could serve not only the Sausalito district, but school districts throughout the U.S., Toliver said.

As proposed, five pupils, seventh and eighth graders from Martin Luther King School, would leave Dec. 16 and return Jan. 6, 1969. They would be accompanied by Toliver, two cameramen, David Schickele and Kirk Smallman, a soundman, and someone with nursing skill.

Toliver estimated the budget for the project at $34,985, with a large portion, $15,670 allocated for making a 45-minute color film.

Trustees lauded the educational value of such a trip and expressed hope it would lead to other travel projects.

They voted to serve as "financial agent," for the project, meaning they would handle the funds, receive and disburse them.

Mrs. Freebairn - Smith said for tax - deduction purposes foundations require fund handling through a non-profit group.

Trustee James E. Muldoon was absent. The board adjourned until Nov. 11 at 8 p.m. at the district office.

Novato Youth Charged Over Police Scuffle

A Novato youth, suspected of being under the influence of drugs and striking a policeman, is scheduled to appear Thursday in Marin Municipal Court.

The youth, Jack Andrew Eastman, 18, of 707 Diablo Avenue, was arrested shortly after midnight yesterday after police were sent to his home by the parents of a Sacramento girl staying there.

The girl, Darlene E. Monaco, 18, told her father she was quarreling with Eastman, according to police.

Officer Mervin C. Lesky and Sgt. Ronald C. Shanaker attempted to take Miss Monaco from the home, police said, but Eastman struck Shanaker on the arm. After a struggle, police said, Eastman was handcuffed and taken to Marin County Jail.

He was released in his own custody yesterday afternoon.

The girl was picked up by her parents.

Early American Music Talk Set

Professor Daniel Kingman of Sacramento State College will present a free public program on early American music Wednesday at 8 p.m. in Montgomery Chapel at San Francisco Theological Seminary, San Anselmo.

The program will consist of American folk hymns sung by a small vocal ensemble and soloists with background commentary.

Included will be religious ballads from the 19th Century "shape note" tradition.

Reception For Debo

Marin artist Debo will be present at a reception from 8 to 10 p.m. today and tomorrow at the Kaleidoscope Gallery, Sausalito, where an exhibition of his sketches is on display. The exhibit will continue from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. each day through Nov. 16.

Ice Capades Sets Spoof Of Old West

A wild western spoof, with an intermingling of live performers with performers on film, will be part of the 28th edition of the Ice Capades at San Francisco Civic Auditorium Nov. 19 through Nov. 24.

Wolfgang Schwarz, gold medal winner last winter at the Olympic Games at Grenoble, France, is making his professional debut in the new show.

There also will be a number entitled "Ritual of the Waters," depicting creatures of the deep, and an original musical fantasy for children, "Sugar 'n Spice."

Comedy skaters, speciality skaters and the Corps de Ballet, a precision group, round out the show.

Evening performances will be at 8 p.m. Nov. 19-21, at 8:30 p.m. on Nov. 22-23, and 6 p.m. Nov. 24. There will be matinees at 2 p.m. on Nov. 23-24.

Tickets are available at all Sears stores in the Bay Area, the Downtown Center Box Office, San Francisco, and Sherman Clay store, Oakland.

Dance At College

Rock bands named Clover, Circus, Gentle Dance and the TransAtlantic Railroad will play from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. at a dance for all Marin high school students sponsored by the College of Marin student government at the college gymnasium.

MOTION PICTURE GUIDE

The Marin Motion Picture and Television Council provides these ratings of movies currently being shown in Marin County. The Council's findings are from California and national P-TA magazines and the Film Report of the Film Estimate Board. More complete reviews be obtained by calling the San Rafael or Mill Valley libraries.

FAMILY

Inspector Clouseau — Internationally renowned detective of French Surete is assigned to Scotland Yard to trap a gang of bank robbers. Bumbling Frenchman becomes victim of every trap set for him . . . amusing.

Paper Lion" — Sports writer joins football team as a rookie so he can write an authentic story. Exceptional for football fans.

Pink Jungle — Sophisticated adventure comedy about a photographer and his model who go to South American country to film a cosmetics campaign in tropical setting. Local police suspect them as spies.

Thoroughly Modern Millie — Styles fads, foibles and naivetes of 1920 take a ribbing in this happy burlesque.

Two of Us — A tender French film gently mocks prejudice. The film is beautiful and funny, but above all else a moving experience.

With Six You Get Eggroll — Fresh, amusing comedy. Marriage of widow mother to widower combined family numbers to six . . . all the children resent the marriage.

ADULTS AND TEENS

Heart Is A Lonely Hunter — A rather sad story about a deaf-mute who in his loneliness touches the lives of many. Compassionate tale is tenderly told and played with rare perception.

How to Save a Marriage and Ruin Your Life — Sophisticated comedy. Bachelor learns that marriage of best friend is on the rocks, he tries to rescue him from his mistress . . . rest of plot is predictable.

The Party — Tasteless, inane slapstick comedy about a bumbling actor who crashes a lavish Hollywood party.

Salt and Pepper — Played as comedy spoof with emphasis on so much violence, ingenious methods of killing people and constant shooting, the plot gets completely lost.

"Shalako" — An original exciting adventure set in 1880's, developed around the practices of European aristocracy arranging hunting safari in American wild west.

BORDERLINE
(Some say Adults Only)

Cool Hand Luke — Brutal downbeat story about a non-conformist prisoner in a southern road construction prison camp. Tough unsparing drama.

Rachel, Rachel — Study of a repressed spinster trying to break out of her barren frustrating existence.

Sweet November — Young woman doomed to die soon takes a different man each month to share her apartment and bed — corny soap opera.

ADULTS ONLY

The Fox — Based on novel by D. H. Lawrence. Lesbian theme handled tastefully but scenes of passion are explicit.

Georgy Girl — British film pictures unconventional styles, manners and social values of the young mod world. Absorbing, realistic very frank film.

I Love You, Alice B. Toklus — This satire makes free love and drugs seem the life of happiness.

Twilight Concert, Art Show Sunday

Motet singers of the San Francisco Bach Choir and String Orchestra will present a twilight concert Sunday at 5 p.m. in the sanctuary of the Community Congregational Church, 145 Rock Hill Drive, Tiburon.

Under the direction of Waldemar Jacobsen the group will perform music of Vivaldi, Bach, Palestrina and Hovhaness. There will also be an exhibit of the oils and stained glass work of San Francisco artist Walter Schmidt.

Admission is free, but an offering will be taken to help pay the expenses of the musicians.

Trivett Requests Snorkel Engine

The San Rafael City Council will consider Monday Fire Chief Vance Trivett's request to purchase a fire engine equipped with an 85-foot snorkel.

Trivett estimated the cost of the vehicle at $75,000. He asked appropriation of $35,000 this fiscal year and the remainder next year. Delivery would take two years, he said.

The council, which meets at 8 p.m. in city hall, also is scheduled to adopt an ordinance revising the city building code and approved an extension of the contract to relocate sewers in connection with the Highway 101 widening project.

Baptists Set Parley On Understanding

A conference aimed at better understanding between Baptists and people of other religions will be held at the Golden Gate Baptist Seminary in Mill Valley Monday through Wednesday.

Members of the Southern Baptist Convention will discuss non-evangelical relations with Jewish, Catholic and non-Christian people. The conference will open with a dinner at 6 p.m. Monday at the student center with Dr. Robert D. Hughes, executive secretary of the Southern Baptist Convention, speaking on the Southern Baptists in the last third of the century in the West.

NEXT HURDLE: MONEY

Pupils' Africa Trip Gets Board Blessing

The Sausalito School District board gave its blessing yesterday to a proposed project to have five Negro pupils take a trip to Senegal during the Christmas vacation period.

The project was conceived by James T. Toliver Jr., special assistant to the principal and staff at Martin Luther King School, who spent two years (1965-67) in Senegal as a Peace Corps volunteer.

Trustee David E. Freedheim stressed that the project would be funded by contributions from individuals or foundations and there wouldn't be any cost to the district.

Funding is still being sought, reported Trustee Martha Freebairn-Smith. "It's now a question if it will get off the ground."

Toliver said the trip is designed "to help repair the educational and cultural gap existing between the youth of America and the youth of Africa."

"The aim is to develop a social studies unit on Africa for grades five through eight including a documentary film on the experience of five pupils from Marin City in Africa."

The film could serve not only the Sausalito district, but school districts throughout the U.S., Toliver said.

As proposed, five pupils, seventh and eighth graders from Martin Luther King School, would leave Dec. 16 and return Jan. 6, 1969. They would be accompanied by Toliver, two cameramen, David Schickele and Kirk Smallman, a soundman, and someone with nursing skill.

Toliver estimated the budget for the project at $34,985, with a large portion, $15,670 allocated for making a 45-minute color film.

Trustees lauded the educational value of such a trip and expressed hope it would lead to other travel projects.

They voted to serve as "financial agent," for the project, meaning they would handle the funds, receive and disburse them.

Mrs. Freebairn - Smith said for tax - deduction purposes foundations require fund handling through a non-profit group.

Trustee James E. Muldoon was absent. The board adjourned until Nov. 11 at 8 p.m. at the district office.

Novato Youth Charged Over Police Scuffle

A Novato youth, suspected of being under the influence of drugs and striking a policeman, is scheduled to appear Thursday in Marin Municipal Court.

The youth, Jack Andrew Eastman, 18, of 707 Diablo Avenue, was arrested shortly after midnight yesterday after police were sent to his home by the parents of a Sacramento girl staying there.

The girl, Darlene E. Monaco, 18, told her father she was quarreling with Eastman, according to police.

Officer Mervin C. Lesky and Sgt. Ronald C. Shanaker attempted to take Miss Monaco from the home, police said, but Eastman struck Shanaker on the arm. After a struggle, police said, Eastman was handcuffed and taken to Marin County Jail.

He was released in his own custody yesterday afternoon.

The girl was picked up by her parents.

Early American Music Talk Set

Professor Daniel Kingman of Sacramento State College will present a free public program on early American music Wednesday at 8 p.m. in Montgomery Chapel at San Francisco Theological Seminary, San Anselmo.

The program will consist of American folk hymns sung by a small vocal ensemble and soloists with background commentary.

Included will be religious ballads from the 19th Century "shape note" tradition.

Reception For Debo

Marin artist Debo will be present at a reception from 8 to 10 p.m. today and tomorrow at the Kaleidoscope Gallery, Sausalito, where an exhibition of his sketches is on display. The exhibit will continue from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. each day through Nov. 16.

Ice Capades Sets Spoof Of Old West

A wild western spoof, with an intermingling of live performers with performers on film, will be part of the 28th edition of the Ice Capades at San Francisco Civic Auditorium Nov. 19 through Nov. 24.

Wolfgang Schwarz, gold medal winner last winter at the Olympic Games at Grenoble, France, is making his professional debut in the new show.

There also will be a number entitled "Ritual of the Waters," depicting creatures of the deep, and an original musical fantasy for children, "Sugar 'n Spice."

Comedy skaters, speciality skaters and the Corps de Ballet, a precision group, round out the show.

Evening performances will be at 8 p.m. Nov. 19-21, at 8:30 p.m. on Nov. 22-23, and 6 p.m. Nov. 24. There will be matinees at 2 p.m. on Nov. 23-24.

Tickets are available at all Sears stores in the Bay Area, the Downtown Center Box Office, San Francisco, and Sherman Clay store, Oakland.

Dance At College

Rock bands named Clover, Circus, Gentle Dance and the TransAtlantic Railroad will play from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. at a dance for all Marin high school students sponsored by the College of Marin student government at the college gymnasium.

MOTION PICTURE GUIDE

The Marin Motion Picture and Television Council provides these ratings of movies currently being shown in Marin County. The Council's findings are from California and national P-TA magazines and the Film Report of the Film Estimate Board. More complete reviews be obtained by calling the San Rafael or Mill Valley libraries.

FAMILY

Inspector Clouseau — Internationally renowned detective of French Surete is assigned to Scotland Yard to trap a gang of bank robbers. Bumbling Frenchman becomes victim of every trap set for him . . . amusing.

Paper Lion" — Sports writer joins football team as a rookie so he can write an authentic story. Exceptional for football fans.

Pink Jungle — Sophisticated adventure comedy about a photographer and his model who go to South American country to film a cosmetics campaign in tropical setting. Local police suspect them as spies.

Thoroughly Modern Millie — Styles fads, foibles and naivetes of 1920 take a ribbing in this happy burlesque.

Two of Us — A tender French film gently mocks prejudice. The film is beautiful and funny, but above all else a moving experience.

With Six You Get Eggroll -- Fresh, amusing comedy. Marriage of widow mother to widower combined family numbers to six . . . all the children resent the marriage.

ADULTS AND TEENS

Heart Is A Lonely Hunter — A rather sad story about a deaf-mute who in his loneliness touches the lives of many. Compassionate tale is tenderly told and played with rare perception.

How to Save a Marriage and Ruin Your Life — Sophisticated comedy. Bachelor learns that marriage of best friend is on the rocks, he tries to rescue him from his mistress . . . rest of plot is predictable.

The Party — Tasteless, inane slapstick comedy about a bumbling actor who crashes a lavish Hollywood party.

Salt and Pepper — Played as comedy spoof with emphasis on so much violence, ingenious methods of killing people and constant shooting, the plot gets completely lost.

"Shalako" — An original exciting adventure set in 1880's, developed around the practices of European aristocracy arranging hunting safari in American wild west.

BORDERLINE
(Some say Adults Only)

Cool Hand Luke — Brutal downbeat story about a non-conformist prisoner in a southern road construction prison camp. Tough unsparing drama.

Rachel, Rachel — Study of a repressed spinster trying to break out of her barren frustrating existence.

Sweet November — Young woman doomed to die soon takes a different man each month to share her apartment and bed — corny soap opera.

ADULTS ONLY

The Fox — Based on novel by D. H. Lawrence. Lesbian theme handled tastefully but scenes of passion are explicit.

Georgy Girl — British film pictures unconventional styles, manners and social values of the young mod world. Absorbing, realistic very frank film.

I Love You, Alice B. Toklus — This satire makes free love and drugs seem the life of happiness.

Twilight Concert, Art Show Sunday

Motet singers of the San Francisco Bach Choir and String Orchestra will present a twilight concert Sunday at 5 p.m. in the sanctuary of the Community Congregational Church, 145 Rock Hill Drive, Tiburon.

Under the direction of Waldemar Jacobsen the group will perform music of Vivaldi, Bach, Palestrina and Hovhaness. There will also be an exhibit of the oils and stained glass work of San Francisco artist Walter Schmidt.

Admission is free, but an offering will be taken to help pay the expenses of the musicians.

Trivett Requests Snorkel Engine

The San Rafael City Council will consider Monday Fire Chief Vance Trivett's request to purchase a fire engine equipped with an 85-foot snorkel.

Trivett estimated the cost of the vehicle at $75,000. He asked appropriation of $35,000 this fiscal year and the remainder next year. Delivery would take two years, he said.

The council, which meets at 8 p.m. in city hall, also is scheduled to adopt an ordinance revising the city building code and approved an extension of the contract to relocate sewers in connection with the Highway 101 widening project.

Baptists Set Parley On Understanding

A conference aimed at better understanding between Baptists and people of other religions will be held at the Golden Gate Baptist Seminary in Mill Valley Monday through Wednesday.

Members of the Southern Baptist Convention will discuss non-evangelical relations with Jewish, Catholic and non-Christian people. The conference will open with a dinner at 6 p.m. Monday at the student center with Dr. Robert D. Hughes, executive secretary of the Southern Baptist Convention, speaking on the Southern Baptists in the last third of the century in the West.

Latitude 38 Bouncing Back After Some Management Woes

A petite, quiet and attractive brunette is facing up to the problem of making a new life for herself and five youngsters by taking over the management of Latitude 38 in Sausalito.

As might be expected, this restaurant has been in a sort of state of shock since the reported arrests of its former operators Stan Mulligan and Charlie Barrett.

But the show must go on and both former customers and new guests can be assured athat Latitude 38 is still functioning. New manager Doris Mulligan is endeavoring to restore its former popularity and has set up a new menu. Entrees range from broiled chicken, broiled swordfish and beef kabob through teriyaki, top sirloin and New York steaks at prices from $2.25 to $3. There is prime rib on Saturday nights at $3 and a $1 spaghetti feed on Monday night. All entrees come with vegetables and garlic bread.

House wine is good, also reasonable, and there is a first rate selection of well known labels. Between 5 and 7 p.m. 25-cent cocktails are served. Dinners are from 6 to 10 p.m. Tuesdays through Sundays and from 6 to 11 p.m. on Mondays.

A couple could make a reasonable evening of it (under $10) for food, drink and dancing, for there is live music seven days a week. Guitarist Cy Cimmons is featured Monday nights, the Vaughn Aubrey Trio Tuesdays through Saturdays, and from 4:30 on Sundays is Abe Battat.

This is a very interesting place, and I hope Doris makes a go of it.

TABERNA in San Rafael celebrated its first anniversary last week with gusto — but lacking one partner. Robert Czyz was languishing or chafing in Marin General Hospital as the result of an automobile accident, so he missed out on the festivities. We wish him a speedy recovery.

The anniversary party was far short of the early evening crowds that attended the Taberna grand opening a year ago, but later on any difference in tempo was academic. The dance floor can hold only so many.

Actually because it's a nice place to dance, Taberna is a somewhat late starter — on weekends anyway, when George Campanelli's Trio is playing. Many of the dancers here take their talents seriously and you'll find many skilled performers among them.

Penny Decota's dinner menu is simple but hearty, involving only about a half-dozen entrees. Prices are moderate.

As East San Rafael grows, Taberna should keep up its pace in increased popularity. I must say that Bob Czyz and his partners, Jeanne Neill and Roland Ledtke have done exceptionally well for their first year.

NEW BANQUET ROOM at the Pepperwood in San Anselmo's Red Hill Shopping Center has been completed. Manager George Loizos has already received a number of bookings and the room should be kept busy this season. It is next to the Pepperwood's cocktail lounge. One front door and two side doors give entry into two sections of the room, which can be separated for double duty by a divider. Total seating capacity is about 100, or perhaps a few more. It is all carpeted with the exception of a small section for dancing.

PIECE DE LITTLE RESISTANCE and a meal in itself is the Reuben sandwich at Gregory's in Corte Madera — corned beef and Swiss cheese on Russian bread, with sauerkraut.

DID YOU KNOW there are two Halloweens? Last night was one and today is All Souls Day, the Mexican Halloween. El Borro in Tiburon made up enough skull-type cookies to last through both occasions.

El Borro's troubador Pedro Salas still entertains with his singing and guitar playing on Saturday nights.

THERE'S ANOTHER anniversary on the calendar. Ray and Dee Brunal are celebrating their third at Oak Tree Inn, San Geronimo. Congratulations. This time of year marks the start of the winter season scheduled at the Oak Tree — which means serving dinners Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights only. Service is from 5 p.m.

There's accordion music on Friday nights with dancing and group singing.

AND DOWN in Sausalito at the Ark it's the "Weekend of the Witch," judging from some of the names for tonight's and tomorrow night's shows, from 9 p.m. to 6 a.m.: Initial Shock, Boogie, Ball, White Lightning and Devil's Kitchen. A sixth, Multiple Delights appears to be out of place in this comapny.

LARRY VANNUCCI, console entertainer at San Rafael Joe's, is featured in the November Organist, monthly publication of the Professional Organists Breakfast Club of the Bay Area.

Larry is credited with being a professional musician at the age of 16. In late 1939 and early 1940 he was performing on both piano and accordion with widely known dance bands in the Bay Area. At one time he was pianist aboard the President Cleveland. He switched to the organ a number of years ago and has earned a reputation as a fine teacher and a master of the pipe organ.

AND SPEAKING of organists who are known in Marin, Doris Gurley, a Kentfield resident, is now playing at Baron's lounge on downtown Powell Street, San Francisco. I thought I had missed seeing her around the county recently.

FRED CHERRY'S new 10-course menu for the month of November goes into effect Monday at Cafe Bon Vin in San Anselmo. This one is known as "Action de Grace" and you pronounce that as if it were French, for it stems from a sort of French Thanksgiving theme, picked up in a little Paris restaurant.

Also, the "Petite Dinner" is being restored. Starting at $4 you can choose one of the courses of the three-hour dinner as an entree and have it properly embellished as a complete dinner. A la carte service is still available and there is also a banquet menu.

The "Wine Discovery shop" is now open for business and offers some very interesting and delightful vintages for home consumption.

IF YOU ARE HEADED north on Highway 101 at Santa Rosa and are looking for savory but inexpensive place to eat, turn off at Mendocino Avenue and follow it east for a few blocks.

The place is Mills Patio. The steaks are good — something like $1.85, as I remember. Number is 2755 Mendocino Avenue and it's quite a gathering place for the local residents.

Tiburon To Receive Two Master Plans

Two master plans — one for a motel, restaurant and offices at 1651 Tiburon Boulevard, and the second for restaurants, docks and shops at 1-11 Main Street — will be reviewed by the Tiburon Planning Commission at 8 p.m. Monday in city hall.

Also scheduled are discussins of the Mar East waterfront setback policy, a comprehensive sign ordinance and the Tiburon trails plan.

San Rafael Bike Auction Slated

Thirty-six bicycles will be offered at an auction at 10 a.m. Nov. 9 at the San Rafael corporation yard, 407 Francisco Boulevard.

The annual auction of found and unclaimed bikes is being held earlier than usual so there will be time to repair them for Christmas, Virginia Congdon, city administrative assistant, said.

She said some of the bikes are in good shape, while others need parts and paint.

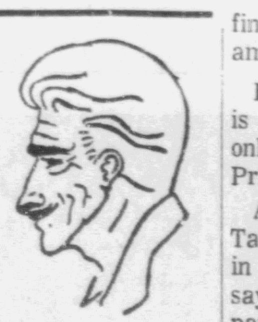
DINING OUT AND INNS



By HARRY CRAFT

Latitude 38 Bouncing Back After Some Management Woes

A petite, quiet and attractive brunette is facing up to the problem of making a new life for herself and five youngsters by taking over the management of Latitude 38 in Sausalito.

As might be expected, this restaurant has been in a sort of state of shock since the reported arrests of its former operators Stan Mulligan and Charlie Barrett.

But the show must go on and both former customers and new guests can be assured athat Latitude 38 is still functioning. New manager Doris Mulligan is endeavoring to restore its former popularity and has set up a new menu. Entrees range from broiled chicken, broiled swordfish and beef kabob through teriyaki, top sirloin and New York steaks at prices from $2.25 to $3. There is prime rib on Saturday nights at $3 and a $1 spaghetti feed on Monday night. All entrees come with vegetables and garlic bread.

House wine is good, also reasonable, and there is a first rate selection of well known labels. Between 5 and 7 p.m. 25-cent cocktails are served. Dinners are from 6 to 10 p.m. Tuesdays through Sundays and from 6 to 11 p.m. on Mondays.

A couple could make a reasonable evening of it (under $10) for food, drink and dancing, for there is live music seven days a week. Guitarist Cy Cimmons is featured Monday nights, the Vaughn Aubrey Trio Tuesdays through Saturdays, and from 4:30 on Sundays is Abe Battat.

This is a very interesting place, and I hope Doris makes a go of it.

TABERNA in San Rafael celebrated its first anniversary last week with gusto — but lacking one partner. Robert Czyz was languishing or chafing in Marin General Hospital as the result of an automobile accident, so he missed out on the festivities. We wish him a speedy recovery.

The anniversary party was far short of the early evening crowds that attended the Taberna grand opening a year ago, but later on any difference in tempo was academic. The dance floor can hold only so many.

Actually because it's a nice place to dance, Taberna is a somewhat late starter — on weekends anyway, when George Campanelli's Trio is playing. Many of the dancers here take their talents seriously and you'll find many skilled performers among them.

Penny Decota's dinner menu is simple but hearty, involving only about a half-dozen entrees. Prices are moderate.

As East San Rafael grows, Taberna should keep up its pace in increased popularity. I must say that Bob Czyz and his partners, Jeanne Neill and Roland Ledtke have done exceptionally well for their first year.

NEW BANQUET ROOM at the Pepperwood in San Anselmo's Red Hill Shopping Center has been completed. Manager George Loizos has already received a number of bookings and the room should be kept busy this season. It is next to the Pepperwood's cocktail lounge. One front door and two side doors give entry into two sections of the room, which can be separated for double duty by a divider. Total seating capacity is about 100, or perhaps a few more. It is all carpeted with the exception of a small section for dancing.

PIECE DE LITTLE RESISTANCE and a meal in itself is the Reuben sandwich at Gregory's in Corte Madera — corned beef and Swiss cheese on Russian bread, with sauerkraut.

DID YOU KNOW there are two Halloweens? Last night was one and today is All Souls Day, the Mexican Halloween. El Borro in Tiburon made up enough skull-type cookies to last through both occasions.

El Borro's troubador Pedro Salas still entertains with his singing and guitar playing on Saturday nights.

LAMPLIGHTER — Public works supervisor Louis F. Brunini yesterday put up the last of 11 gas lamps being installed on buildings on Tiburon's main street, replacing conventional incandescent curbside lights removed this fall when utility lines were placed underground. Installation of gas lines to provide fuel for the lamps will take another two weeks and a special lamplighting ceremony is scheduled for Nov. 12.

Few Write-Ins To Be Counted In Marin Vote

No write-in votes for candidates other than president and vice president will be counted in Tuesday's general election because none met the requirement that they file a request to have write-in votes for them counted, the county elections office said today.

The deadline to file the request was 5 p.m. yesterday.

Under a 1967 state law, write-ins now are counted only if such a request is filed in each county where a write-in candidate wants his votes counted. He also has to pay the regular filing fee.

The requirement for presidential and vice presidential write-ins, however, requires that slates of their electors be filed in Sacramento 60 days before the election if they want their votes counted.

Six such slates filed in California. No other write-in votes will be counted.

The six slates are: Berkeley Defense Group, Kent M. Soeters for president and James P. Powers for vice president; Californians for an Alternative in November, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthey for president, and no vice presidential candidate; Committee for Write-In Vote For, Dick Gregory for president and Mark Lane for vice president;

Communist Party of Northern California, Charlene Mitchell for president and Michael Zagarell for vice president; Prohibition National Committee, E. Harold Munn Sr. for president and Rolland E. Blomen for vice president, and the Socialist Labor Party, Henning A. Blomen for president and George S. Taylor for vice president.

Uranium Tycoon Wins Round On Bankruptcy

RENO, Nev. (AP) — An order declaring uranium millionaire Charles A. Steen bankrupt was vacated today by Bert Goldwater, federal bankruptcy referee.

Goldwater ordered reinstatement of proceedings aimed at reaching a repayment plan for Steen's $5.5 million in debts.

The order changes Steen's status from that of a bankrupt to a debtor.

Goldwater granted Steen's contention that the bankruptcy judgment was made at an Oct. 10 meeting called for another purpose.

The refereee acknowledged that he had said another session would be held for a hearing on allowance of claims against Steen and on acceptance of his proposed repayment plan.

Goldwater also ordered Steen to file a new statement of assets within 20 days. Steen listed his assets in a court document Oct. 12 as in excess of $12 million.

No date was set for a meeting to continue the property arrangement meetings.

Fire Meeting Off

The Kentfield Fire District board, scheduled to meet yesterday, did not have a quorum and instead will hold its meeting at the Kentfield fire station at 8 p.m. Monday.

Dow Plans Major Bay Solvent Plant

PITTSBURG (UPI) — Dow Chemical Co. today announced plans to build a $5 million solvents plant at its Pittsburg complex.

L.A. Doan, general manager of the firm's western division, said the new facility will begin operation in late 1969. It will be large enough to fill West Coast requirements for chlorinated solvents for the next several years, he said.

BE A LEADER . . . NOT A FOLLOWER!

Vote Yes on Prop. #9

(VOTE NO ON PROP. 1-A)

Taxpayers . . . Wake Up!

THOSE MOST ABLE pay the least or no tax. The oil and gas under the surface of this earth is owned by the people as a natural heritage. Oil companies in other oil rich states, such as Louisiana, pay the state of Louisiana money equal to 30.84% of the state's annual budget, for the taking of gas or oil, this means that the Louisiana residents have but 69.16% of the annual state budget to pay.

IN TEXAS gas and oil companies pay 16.91% of the state budget for the taking of oil and gas. In California, the third largest oil producer in the nation, the oil companies pay nothing toward the California state budget for the taking of California oil and gas. The oil companies pay only ⅓ of 1% toward the budget of the oil and gas division of California, who in turn conduct research that benefits the oil companies whose trucks use our highways, resulting in more damage and tax burdens.

THE OIL COMPANIES also enjoy the benefits of police protection and education facilities of the State of California. The oil and gas companies have very generous state and federal tax exemptions and consequently pay a minimum of federal income tax.

WHY should the oil companies of California take oil and gas without paying for it? This oil belongs to the California people and should be paid by an oil severance tax.

THE ANNUAL BUDGET of California is equal to the budget of the Nation of England. The State of California has been operating at a loss or in the red. This is contrary to good business ethics and the private business man would soon be out of business.

IN A SLAUGHTERHOUSE they have a JUDAS GOAT, this goat leads the little lambs to slaughter. Our fat politicians are the Goat and we taxpayers are the little lambs.

THE PRESENT PROPERTY TAX is an unjust antiquated tax structure. Property tax was adopted by our government in 1849 as an equitable way of collecting money from the citizens for the support of the governmental budget. In those days the citizens with higher income and wealth were the main property owners. Today, the property tax reaches only 15% of the California wealth, yet this 15% must pay 80% of all taxes collected in California. Real property taxes in Marin County have tripled in the last five years. The homeowner who pays $650.00 per year in 1968 can under the present 1849 property tax setup expect to pay $2600.00 in 1978.

THE REAL ESTATE TAX is the only tax not based on the ability to pay or the actual equity in a home.

COMMON SENSE tells us that people retiring now have not made provisions for $400 to $500 property tax rise within the next ten years. This ever-increasing tax on retired couples' homes will eat away a lifetime of savings, eventually it will cost them their homes due to the confiscatory nature of the tax. The state will then be in another business: The RENTAL BUSINESS!

WHY? ARE PROPERTY TAXES INCREASING BY LEAPS AND BOUNDS?

Property taxes have multiplied as a result of increasing tax exemptions in favor of large corporations and utilities and the continued imposition by the state legislature of state mandated programs which are thrust on local governments and the ever increasing cost of education and welfare. Our county supervisors have failed to properly screen our welfare recipients such as the twenty-one-year-old hippie type recently described in the Independent-Journal. This young man in applying to the supervisors for welfare, was described by a county work training counselor in the social service department as having an aversion to working every day to support himself, but he does believe that he can support himself by part-time work. The young man was granted thirty-eight dollars a week welfare. However, his identity was withheld in accordance with common practice to avoid embarrassment to welfare recipients.

We who have businesses and work at it, if we knew who they were, we might find them a job.

WELFARE IS FOR THE ELDERLY . . . and people in distress! There are many women who work and who must pay a baby sitter a good proportion of their wages (NOT tax deductible) in order that they may work and keep their dignity . . . but the oil companies get 27% right off the top!

THE ENTHUSIASTIC HANDING OUT of welfare funds by our state and local authorities add to the heavy tax burden carried by the little guys, who work.

REMEMBER this little guy carries 80% of the ten-billion, nine-hundred-twenty-six-million annual state and local budget, yet he represents only 15% of California wealth. This same little guy goes to work every day believing his state and county representatives are safeguarding his welfare. Only 39% of these little guys own their own homes, their average equity in their homes is 18%, yet their tax structure assumes that they have a 100% equity.

Can the little guy do anything about his property tax? YES! By voting Yes on Proposition Nine!

PROPOSITION NINE represents the first real opportunity the voter has had in changing the 1849 tax scheme whereby our overwhelming state budget for education and welfare would be shared by the other 85% of California wealth. That is, by the gas and oil companies, by severance tax, the wealthy utility companies and by amendment of state income tax laws whereby those agencies that make the most pay the most tax.

INCREASED TAXES are sometimes used as a punitive measure to discourage complainants.

I PAID THE RENTAL FEE on a building in Sausalito that served as a headquarters for those that registered a protest over 1964 and 1965 taxes.

THIS ACTION RESULTED in a savings to property owners in assessed valuation of two million four-hundred-seventy-five thousand, etc. An actual tax savings of near six hundred thousand.

THREE PEOPLE CAN KEEP A SECRET IF TWO DIE YOUNG

FOR THAT ACT OF BENEVOLENCE for paying the rent on the tax headquarters I was rewarded with an additional ten thousand dollar tax increase. In 1968 I protested the taxes on a building at 3rd and Main in Sausalito and won a reduction of three thousand two hundred fifty dollars in appraised market value; that was March of 1968. On May 31st of 1968 I was notified by county assessor Broemmel of sixty-five thousand seven hundred and fifty dollars tax hike for 1968 taxes. After Mr. Broemmel reads this I will expect another tax raise—if so, I will run for Mr. Broemmel's office as county assessor (I might do better on elections county-wise, at least I know where the money is.) He has been there long enough to have an idea where it is.

IN REFERENCE TO OUR EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM the eight million spent in San Francisco for the bussing of students and teachers that don't want to be bussed, would be better spent building trade schools. These schools would teach our young a trade and therein a means to earn a living and the capacity to contribute to our country.

SOME PEOPLE are not high school material and not college material. This is a worker's world and they must be prepared for it. What is wrong with being a plumber or cabinet maker or electrician?

WE HAVE THE GREATEST EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITIES IN THE WORLD in California. If one chooses to go on to higher education, one can. However, it is always well to know how to make a bed, to get the male and female plug plugged in correctly and fix a leaking sink, saw off the door when you get a new carpet, if you still have enough money left to buy it.

OUR GOVERNMENT did not believe county assessor Watson in Los Angeles could get enough signatures to put proposition nine on the ballot and when he was able to get enough signatures to put it on the ballot the Legislature hurriedly passed a proposition called 1-A. Whenever your government tells you that they have something that is good for you, you better leave it and run like hell. Remember, proposition nine limits property tax rates to 1% of assessed valuation.

IF PROPOSITION NINE HAD BEEN PASSED ONE YEAR AGO, 1967, the property owners would have saved sixty per cent or more on 1968 property taxes.

OUR STATE GOVERNMENT would have to look to someone other than the property owner to fulfill state budget requirements, the only ones left to provide such revenue would be the large corporations, oil and gas companies, and utilities.

THE OTHER 82 PER CENT is owned by large corporations. The home owner picks up 100 per cent of the property tax while the Great Corporations enjoy a FREE RIDE. They are the Sacred Cow mooching on your Greenbacks, not Alfalfa.

It might destroy their campaign fund sources but would sure as hell help the property taxpayers. Remember a year ago, when you had to vote "yes" to get a "no" answer. You better view all your propositions carefully, and vote YES on proposition nine.

Property taxes have multiplied as a result of increasing tax exemptions in favor of large corporations and utilities and the continued imposition by the state legislature of state mandated programs which are thrust on local governments and the ever increasing cost of education and welfare. Our county supervisors have failed to properly screen our welfare recipients such as the twenty-one-year-old hippie type recently described in the Independent-Journal. This young man in applying to the supervisors for welfare, was described by a county work training counselor in the social service department as having an aversion to working every day to support himself, but he does believe that he can support himself by part-time work. The young man was granted thirty-eight dollars a week welfare. However, his identity was withheld in accordance with common practice to avoid embarrassment to welfare recipients.

We who have businesses and work at it, if we knew who they were, we might find them a job.

WELFARE IS FOR THE ELDERLY . . . and people in distress! There are many women who work and who must pay a baby sitter a good proportion of their wages (NOT tax deductible) in order that they may work and keep their dignity . . . but the oil companies get 27% right off the top!

THE ENTHUSIASTIC HANDING OUT of welfare funds by our state and local authorities add to the heavy tax burden carried by the little guys, who work.

REMEMBER this little guy carries 80% of the ten-billion, nine-hundred-twenty-six-million annual state and local budget, yet he represents only 15% of California wealth. This same little guy goes to work every day believing his state and county representatives are safeguarding his welfare. Only 39% of these little guys own their own homes, their average equity in their homes is 18%, yet their tax structure assumes that they have a 100% equity.

Can the little guy do anything about his property tax? YES! By voting Yes on Proposition Nine!

PROPOSITION NINE represents the first real opportunity the voter has had in changing the 1849 tax scheme whereby our overwhelming state budget for education and welfare would be shared by the other 85% of California wealth. That is, by the gas and oil companies, by severance tax, the wealthy utility companies and by amendment of state income tax laws whereby those agencies that make the most pay the most tax.

INCREASED TAXES are sometimes used as a punitive measure to discourage complainants.

I PAID THE RENTAL FEE on a building in Sausalito that served as a headquarters for those that registered a protest over 1964 and 1965 taxes.

THIS ACTION RESULTED in a savings to property owners in assessed valuation of two million four-hundred-seventy-five thousand, etc. An actual tax savings of near six hundred thousand.

THREE PEOPLE CAN KEEP A SECRET IF TWO DIE YOUNG

FOR THAT ACT OF BENEVOLENCE for paying the rent on the tax headquarters I was rewarded with an additional ten thousand dollar tax increase. In 1968 I protested the taxes on a building at 3rd and Main in Sausalito and won a reduction of three thousand two hundred fifty dollars in appraised market value; that was March of 1968. On May 31st of 1968 I was notified by county assessor Broemmel of sixty-five thousand seven hundred and fifty dollars tax hike for 1968 taxes. After Mr. Broemmel reads this I will expect another tax raise—if so, I will run for Mr. Broemmel's office as county assessor (I might do better on elections county-wise, at least I know where the money is.) He has been there long enough to have an idea where it is.

IN REFERENCE TO OUR EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM the eight million spent in San Francisco for the bussing of students and teachers that don't want to be bussed, would be better spent building trade schools. These schools would teach our young a trade and therein a means to earn a living and the capacity to contribute to our country.

SOME PEOPLE are not high school material and not college material. This is a worker's world and they must be prepared for it. What is wrong with being a plumber or cabinet maker or electrician?

WE HAVE THE GREATEST EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITIES IN THE WORLD in California. If one chooses to go on to higher education, one can. However, it is always well to know how to make a bed, to get the male and female plug plugged in correctly and fix a leaking sink, saw off the door when you get a new carpet, if you still have enough money left to buy it.

OUR GOVERNMENT did not believe county assessor Watson in Los Angeles could get enough signatures to put proposition nine on the ballot and when he was able to get enough signatures to put it on the ballot the Legislature hurriedly passed a proposition called 1-A. Whenever your government tells you that they have something that is good for you, you better leave it and run like hell. Remember, proposition nine limits property tax rates to 1% of assessed valuation.

IF PROPOSITION NINE HAD BEEN PASSED ONE YEAR AGO, 1967, the property owners would have saved sixty per cent or more on 1968 property taxes.

OUR STATE GOVERNMENT would have to look to someone other than the property owner to fulfill state budget requirements, the only ones left to provide such revenue would be the large corporations, oil and gas companies, and utilities.

THE OTHER 82 PER CENT is owned by large corporations. The home owner picks up 100 per cent of the property tax while the Great Corporations enjoy a FREE RIDE. They are the Sacred Cow mooching on your Greenbacks, not Alfalfa.

It might destroy their campaign fund sources but would sure as hell help the property taxpayers. Remember a year ago, when you had to vote "yes" to get a "no" answer. You better view all your propositions carefully, and vote YES on proposition nine.

RELIC OF THE ARMADA

Treasure Seekers Finally Find 380-Year-Old Spanish Wreck

DUBLIN (AP) — The remains of the Santa Maria de la Rosa, a ship of the Spanish Armada sunk in 1588, have been found, but hopes of recovering her reputed treasure must wait until next summer.

When Lt. Cmdr. John Grattan, 33, of Britain's Royal Navy, surfaced in the middle of Blasket Sound with the cry, "We've found her!" it ended a four-month search in which 15 divers covered 3,000 acres.

TWO DOZEN SANK

The Santa Maria de la Rosa was one of 24 ships of the Armada which sank off the Irish coast in September 1588 after Philip of Spain's abortive attempt to invade Elizabethan England.

Sydney Wignall, 45-year-old Welsh businessman and chief sponsor of the search, said: "You'll get some idea of the difficulty if I say that we were like 15 Batmen flying over a town of 40,000 population peering into everybody's backyard to find a toy boat."

Blasket Sound, at the tip of the Dingle Peninsula, is pounded by Atlantic combers. Powerful currents stream between three barren, uninhabited islands. It's no place for amateur skin-drivers.

Everybody knew the Santa Maria lay in the sound. Fishermen who speak only the ancient Gaelic language knew it because their fathers told them—a legend handed down through the generations. In Spain there are documents describing exactly how the ship sank. In London are accounts of how she sank with only a single survivor of the 233 soldiers and 64 sailors on board.

SITE A MYSTERY

The exact location was a mystery until last July. The wreck lies in the form of a long heap of ballast stones pointing approximately northwest. Cannon shot of three sizes and terra cotta pottery have been hauled to the surface.

The divers are silent about any discovery of treasure. Documents in London, dated 1588, say the galleon carried 50,000 gold ducats and 50,000 silver coins. Today that would be worth around $2 million.

John P. King, Dublin lawyer who acts for the diving team says: "We have been granted a license by the Spanish government to salvage Armada wrecks. We deposited a bond of $3,000 in return for which we may retain all objects of historical interest and 80 per cent of all coin or other treasure, the Spanish government retaining the remaining 20 per cent."

The treasure hunt starts again next summer, with underwater metal detectors, diver-to-diver and diver-to-ship telephones, water jets and suction pumps. It is estimated that survey and salvage will last up to five seasons.

But dreams of treasure are not shared by everybody.

Tom P. Kilfeather, author of the book "Spanish Graveyard," says: "They are wasting their time. The Santa Maria de la Rosa was not even a galleon. She was a converted merchantman or freighter, armed with a few cannon and sent off with the Armada."

Kilfeather thinks the sole survivor of the wreck invented the treasure in an attempt to save his life. He was executed, however.

State Youth Authority Notes Shifts

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — More Negro boys and girls are being committed to the California Youth Authority today as compared with the ratio for 1959, while less Caucasian boys and girls are being committed, and youngsters from Mexican-American backgrounds are being committeed at about the same pace as 10 years ago.

This was revealed in a survey completed by the California Youth Authority for the period from June, 1959 through June 1968. The survey also shows that youngsters sent to the CYA for narcotics offenses has doubled.

During that 10 year period, the percentage of Negro boys sent to CYA institutions has increased from 21 per cent in 1959 to 29 per cent in 1968. Among the Negro girls, the increase was from 26.7 to 30.6 per cent.

Allen F. Breed, director of the CYA, said that the ethnic breakdown shows that crime and delinquency are becoming increasingly associated with the ghetto and its problems of joblessness, discrimination, despair and destructive family situations.

Comparative figures for the two periods indicate that the number of girls sent to the institutions was 387 in 1959 as compared with 562 in 1968. The male population increased during the same period from 3,140 to 4,922.

Youngsters institutionalized from Southern California increased from 55.9 per cent to 70.3 per cent in 1968. The San Francisco Bay area count decreased as did the Sacramento and San Joaquin Valley areas.

In 1959, boys committed for drug offenses made up only 6 per cent of the institution population. In 1968, it had increased to 12 per cent. The girls also doubled in that period, from 3 per cent to 6 per cent.

In 1959 some 66 per cent of the boys were in institutions on a first commitment. In 1968, only 54 per cent were in on first commitment.

Husband Status Cut

THE HAGUE (UPI)—By a vote of 92 to 22, the Dutch lower house of parliament has decided the husband will no longer be regarded as legal head of the house. From now on, husband and wife have equal legal rights in family matters.

Mill Valley Opens Rec Class Signups

Registration is now open for Chinese exercise, ballet, slimnastics, yoga, judo, preschool tumbling, tiny tots, Polynesian dance, folk guitar and family folk dancing classes to be conducted by the Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Department in November and December.

Signups will be taken between 2 and 4 p.m., Monday to Thursday and Nov. 8, and between 9 a.m. and noon tomorrow and Nov. 9 at the community recreation center, 415 Sycamore Avenue. For further information, call the reacreation department.

RELIC OF THE ARMADA

Treasure Seekers Finally Find 380-Year-Old Spanish Wreck

DUBLIN (AP) — The remains of the Santa Maria de la Rosa, a ship of the Spanish Armada sunk in 1588, have been found, but hopes of recovering her reputed treasure must wait until next summer.

When Lt. Cmdr. John Grattan, 33, of Britain's Royal Navy, surfaced in the middle of Blasket Sound with the cry, "We've found her!" it ended a four-month search in which 15 divers covered 3,000 acres.

TWO DOZEN SANK

The Santa Maria de la Rosa was one of 24 ships of the Armada which sank off the Irish coast in September 1588 after Philip of Spain's abortive attempt to invade Elizabethan England.

Sydney Wignall, 45-year-old Welsh businessman and chief sponsor of the search, said: "You'll get some idea of the difficulty if I say that we were like 15 Batmen flying over a town of 40,000 population peering into everybody's backyard to find a toy boat."

Blasket Sound, at the tip of the Dingle Peninsula, is pounded by Atlantic combers. Powerful currents stream between three barren, uninhabited islands. It's no place for amateur skin-drivers.

Everybody knew the Santa Maria lay in the sound. Fishermen who speak only the ancient Gaelic language knew it because their fathers told them—a legend handed down through the generations. In Spain there are documents describing exactly how the ship sank. In London are accounts of how she sank with only a single survivor of the 233 soldiers and 64 sailors on board.

SITE A MYSTERY

The exact location was a mystery until last July. The wreck lies in the form of a long heap of ballast stones pointing approximately northwest. Cannon shot of three sizes and terra cotta pottery have been hauled to the surface.

The divers are silent about any discovery of treasure. Documents in London, dated 1588, say the galleon carried 50,000 gold ducats and 50,000 silver coins. Today that would be worth around $2 million.

John P. King, Dublin lawyer who acts for the diving team says: "We have been granted a license by the Spanish government to salvage Armada wrecks. We deposited a bond of $3,000 in return for which we may retain all objects of historical interest and 80 per cent of all coin or other treasure, the Spanish government retaining the remaining 20 per cent."

The treasure hunt starts again next summer, with underwater metal detectors, diver-to-diver and diver-to-ship telephones, water jets and suction pumps. It is estimated that survey and salvage will last up to five seasons.

But dreams of treasure are not shared by everybody.

Tom P. Kilfeather, author of the book "Spanish Graveyard," says: "They are wasting their time. The Santa Maria de la Rosa was not even a galleon. She was a converted merchantman or freighter, armed with a few cannon and sent off with the Armada."

Kilfeather thinks the sole survivor of the wreck invented the treasure in an attempt to save his life. He was executed, however.

State Youth Authority Notes Shifts

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — More Negro boys and girls are being committed to the California Youth Authority today as compared with the ratio for 1959, while less Caucasian boys and girls are being committed, and youngsters from Mexican-American backgrounds are being committeed at about the same pace as 10 years ago.

This was revealed in a survey completed by the California Youth Authority for the period from June, 1959 through June 1968. The survey also shows that youngsters sent to the CYA for narcotics offenses has doubled.

During that 10 year period, the percentage of Negro boys sent to CYA institutions has increased from 21 per cent in 1959 to 29 per cent in 1968. Among the Negro girls, the increase was from 26.7 to 30.6 per cent.

Allen F. Breed, director of the CYA, said that the ethnic breakdown shows that crime and delinquency are becoming increasingly associated with the ghetto and its problems of joblessness, discrimination, despair and destructive family situations.

Comparative figures for the two periods indicate that the number of girls sent to the institutions was 387 in 1959 as compared with 562 in 1968. The male population increased during the same period from 3,140 to 4,922.

Youngsters institutionalized from Southern California increased from 55.9 per cent to 70.3 per cent in 1968. The San Francisco Bay area count decreased as did the Sacramento and San Joaquin Valley areas.

In 1959, boys committed for drug offenses made up only 6 per cent of the institution population. In 1968, it had increased to 12 per cent. The girls also doubled in that period, from 3 per cent to 6 per cent.

In 1959 some 66 per cent of the boys were in institutions on a first commitment. In 1968, only 54 per cent were in on first commitment.

Husband Status Cut

THE HAGUE (UPI)—By a vote of 92 to 22, the Dutch lower house of parliament has decided the husband will no longer be regarded as legal head of the house. From now on, husband and wife have equal legal rights in family matters.

Mill Valley Opens Rec Class Signups

Registration is now open for Chinese exercise, ballet, slimnastics, yoga, judo, preschool tumbling, tiny tots, Polynesian dance, folk guitar and family folk dancing classes to be conducted by the Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Department in November and December.

Signups will be taken between 2 and 4 p.m., Monday to Thursday and Nov. 8, and between 9 a.m. and noon tomorrow and Nov. 9 at the community recreation center, 415 Sycamore Avenue. For further information, call the reacreation department.

IT'S NO 'SNAKE PIT'

Mental Hospital Hurdles Resolved

By MARY LEYDECKER

It took more than 10 years of controversy, confusion and even chaos at times, but Marin County finally has its own menta hospital.

The new Community Mental Health Center, a more than $1.5 million structure adjacent to Marin General Hospital, will be dedicated this weekend and go into operation within a few days.

The opening ceremonies are slated for 1:30 p.m. Sunday in front of the center, with county and hospital officials scheduled to attend. Louis W. Niggeman of Kentfield, president of the board of trustees of the William Babcok Memorial Endowment will be the featured speaker.

A joint effort of the Marin Hospital District which runs Marin General, and the County of Marin, the plush building was also financed by state and federal funds, as well as money contributed by individuals and local groups.

About 10 years ago the voters turned down a bond issue to finance a mental facility, but the idea of a hospital to treat mentally ill within the community was not abandoned by many people.

Since Marin is now sending about 75 mentally ill people a month to state hospitals and since only a limited number of patients is cared for at Ross General Hospital's psychiatric unit and the small interim unit at Marin General, there seemed no question of need.

About 1965, plans really got under way for such a hospital, but each time one controversy was settled, another appeared on the horizon.

When the finances were finally more or less in hand, the bids came in much higher than available funds, and a special tax had to be levied in the county. There followed squabbles among psychiatrists about the plans, fights over who was to administer the center, hassling over the furniture and finally, fear of a hill slide behind the center.

With the possible exception of the hill question, these problems have all been solved or compromised, and the county and hospital are ready to begin a joint battle against mental illness.

Although there are only 28 beds in the hospital for full-time patients, and only 14 of these will be used at first, all of the other county mental health services will be provided in the building.

Downstairs, day patients will enter a center where they will confer with psychiatrists as well as participate in occupational therapy such as crafts. A beehive of offices and small meeting rooms are on this floor.

Upstairs, where the building is connected to the emergency room of Marin General by a corridor, more disturbed patients will receive full-time care in two separate units.

Each unit centers about a tients will not be encouraged to view them as people who are going to take complete spacious "living room," a kitchenette, and a dining room which more resembles one in a fraternity house than in the average hospital.

Single and private rooms for patients are furnished cheerfully with beds that look like couches — of the kind often found in motels. A few rooms are more hospital-like, with standard hospital type beds and locks on the doors for "intensive care" patients.

However, the center is a far cry from the "snakepit" of yesteryear, and nurses will not wear white uniforms, as pa- care of them.

Within a short time, Dr. Donald P. Wilson, the center's director, expects that many of the county's involuntary commitments to mental institutions will take place at the center, rather than at Napa State Hospital.

Other patients will be sent to the hospital by private psychiatrists and still others by other agencies in the county. The staggering cost of $70 per day for each full-time patient will be born by the individual to the extent he can pay it, supplemented by state and county funds or by insurance.

In addition to the full-time patients, it is expected that many persons will either visit the center in the daytime, returning home at night, or spend their nights there after working at regular jobs during the day.

Dr. Wilson explained that the daytime care is particularly suited to housewives, who can then be with their families in the evening, and the night care for men, who can continue to earn a living.

The staff at the hospital includes psychiatrists, nurses specially trained for this type of work as well as nursing assistants, some of whom are energetic young men from College of Marin.

Dr. Wilson hopes that in time volunteers will provide a day nursery for children of daytime women patients.

As soon as state and federal inspections are completed, the hospital expects to get in operation, with the first patients probably to be those transferred from the small interim unit at Marin General.

'Impatient' Official In Charge Of Center

"I'm an impatient psychiatrist," is the way Dr. Donald P. Wilson, director of the new Community Mental Health Center describes himself.

Expressing contempt for some psychological theories, Dr. Wilson said that "I expect people who come to my hospital to start getting better."

The ways Dr. Wilson plans to help his patients get well are many, but they do not include some cherished theories held by many psychiatrists. "I don't encourage people to tell me about their childhood for two years," he laughed.

Among the methods he will use are "a lot of group therapy," occupational therapy and treatment tailored to individuals.

In explanation of what he means, Dr. Wilson told about a former patient. "A very depressed and withdrawn little lady who wouldn't stand up for herself" was the psychiatrist's description.

In order to get this patient out of her doldrums, Dr. Wilson put her at a card table with literally millions of dried beans and told her to count them. The woman faithfully began to count.

She counted beans for three days, taking time out only for meals. On the fourth day, she stood up, threw the beans on the floor, knocked over the table and announced, "I'm not counting any more beans."

This was the first time the woman had ever been able to express anger and defend herself, he said, and later, the patient even learned to laugh at this "trick" that had been played on her.

A staff of "highly trained" nurses and additional psychiatrists has been hired by Dr. Wilson to run the new center. "Our nurses will be more than babysitters," he said. They will work directly with patients and report to the doctors, he explained.

Although Dr. Wilson said that tranquilizers often bring about "dramatic changes," in disturbed patients, he feels that sometimes a patient needs to be allowed to get up at night and join a bull session rather than be given a sleeping pill.

In answer to a question about whether the center will treat children, Dr. Wilson said "we will take any acute emergency."

Children very seldom become "acute emergencies," he explained, until they reach adolescence. Younger children who have psychological problems present more of a continuing pattern and are better treated as out-patients or in a facility geared toward children.

Acute emergencies also include patients whose problems stem from drugs or alcohol, Dr. Wilson said, and the center will provide treatment for these persons, too.

Last weekend Dr. Wilson said there were five emergency commitments from Marin County made to Napa State Hospital. Soon he foresees that many of these people can remain in the community and be treated at the center.

To Elect Officers

The Peacock Gap Homeowners Association will elect new officers for 1969 at its annual meeting at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the Peacock Gap Country Club clubhouse, 333 Biscayne Drive.

Ex-Councilman's Wife Improves

Lorraine Brocco, wife of former Larkspur councilman Henry Brocco, was reported improving and in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital but still unable to talk with police.

Mrs. Brocco was moved from the hospital's intensive care unit yesterday, according to hospital officials, but her physician, Dr. Walter G. Strauss, has not yet given permission for police to question her.

Mrs. Brocco was taken to the hospital in critical condition from an overdose of pills Sunday morning after Brocco was hospitalized with head wounds he said his wife inflicted with a hatchet.

Brocco, wo suffered a left ear injury, is now home.

BRAND NEW 1968 BUICK Station Wagons

We have three brand new '68 Buick station wagons left in stock. They're not demonstrators or house cars. They have never been licensed—they are brand new and we will sell these cars for factory invoice plus $50 to service them before and after delivery.

We'll show you the factory invoice on all three of these cars. No gimmicks—we just want to get rid of these last three wagons.

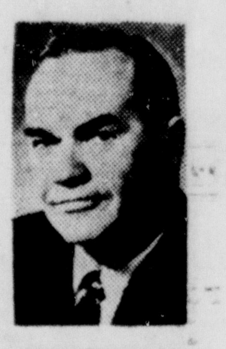
HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Surgery, Not Eye Drops, Best For Counteracting A Cataract



VAN DELLEN

An Ohioan writes: "I have early cataracts and have read that eye drops will be helpful. A friend of mine said that her doctor claims drops cannot cure cataract. I know she is wrong, but I would like your opinion."

No, she is right, in that no medication will clear solidification of the lens (cataract). Removal is the accepted treatment and it is recommended whenever practical vision is lost. The operation is needed sooner when the individual does close work or reads a lot.

AN OUTDOOR worker or laborer may be able to wait longer before the lens is removed. On the other hand, surgery should not be delayed too long after it is recommended by the ophthalmologist. An "overripe" cataract is difficult to remove.

One-fourth of all blindness is the result of cataract. Think of the normal lens as raw egg white, so clear that you can see through it. In cataract, the lens is too cloudy to see through, like cooked egg white. Early symptoms depend upon the location of the cloudiness. If the center is cloudy, the individual may be able to see through the clearer outer rim.

It is here that drops enter the picture. If the pupil is widened (dilated) with drops, more vision is possible through the transparent outer rim of the lens. Our reader may have known someone with this type of cataract who got temporary relief. On the other hand, drops are not curative despite the claims of many quacks who rely on this outside possibility.

THERE ALSO are drops that loosen the attachment of the lens, making removal much easier. These are used prior to surgery and are not to be confused with a cure.

At any rate, our reader should get reliable advice. Vision is priceless and cataracts can be removed safely.

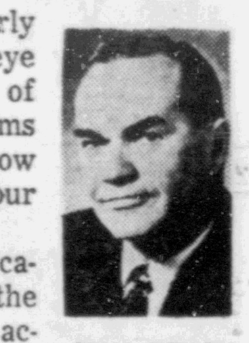
HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Surgery, Not Eye Drops, Best For Counteracting A Cataract



VAN DELLEN

An Ohioan writes: "I have early cataracts and have read that eye drops will be helpful. A friend of mine said that her doctor claims drops cannot cure cataract. I know she is wrong, but I would like your opinion."

No, she is right, in that no medication will clear solidification of the lens (cataract). Removal is the accepted treatment and it is recommended whenever practical vision is lost. The operation is needed sooner when the individual does close work or reads a lot.

AN OUTDOOR worker or laborer may be able to wait longer before the lens is removed. On the other hand, surgery should not be delayed too long after it is recommended by the ophthalmologist. An "overripe" cataract is difficult to remove.

One-fourth of all blindness is the result of cataract. Think of the normal lens as raw egg white, so clear that you can see through it. In cataract, the lens is too cloudy to see through, like cooked egg white. Early symptoms depend upon the location of the cloudiness. If the center is cloudy, the individual may be able to see through the clearer outer rim.

It is here that drops enter the picture. If the pupil is widened (dilated) with drops, more vision is possible through the transparent outer rim of the lens. Our reader may have known someone with this type of cataract who got temporary relief. On the other hand, drops are not curative despite the claims of many quacks who rely on this outside possibility.

THERE ALSO are drops that loosen the attachment of the lens, making removal much easier. These are used prior to surgery and are not to be confused with a cure.

At any rate, our reader should get reliable advice. Vision is priceless and cataracts can be removed safely.

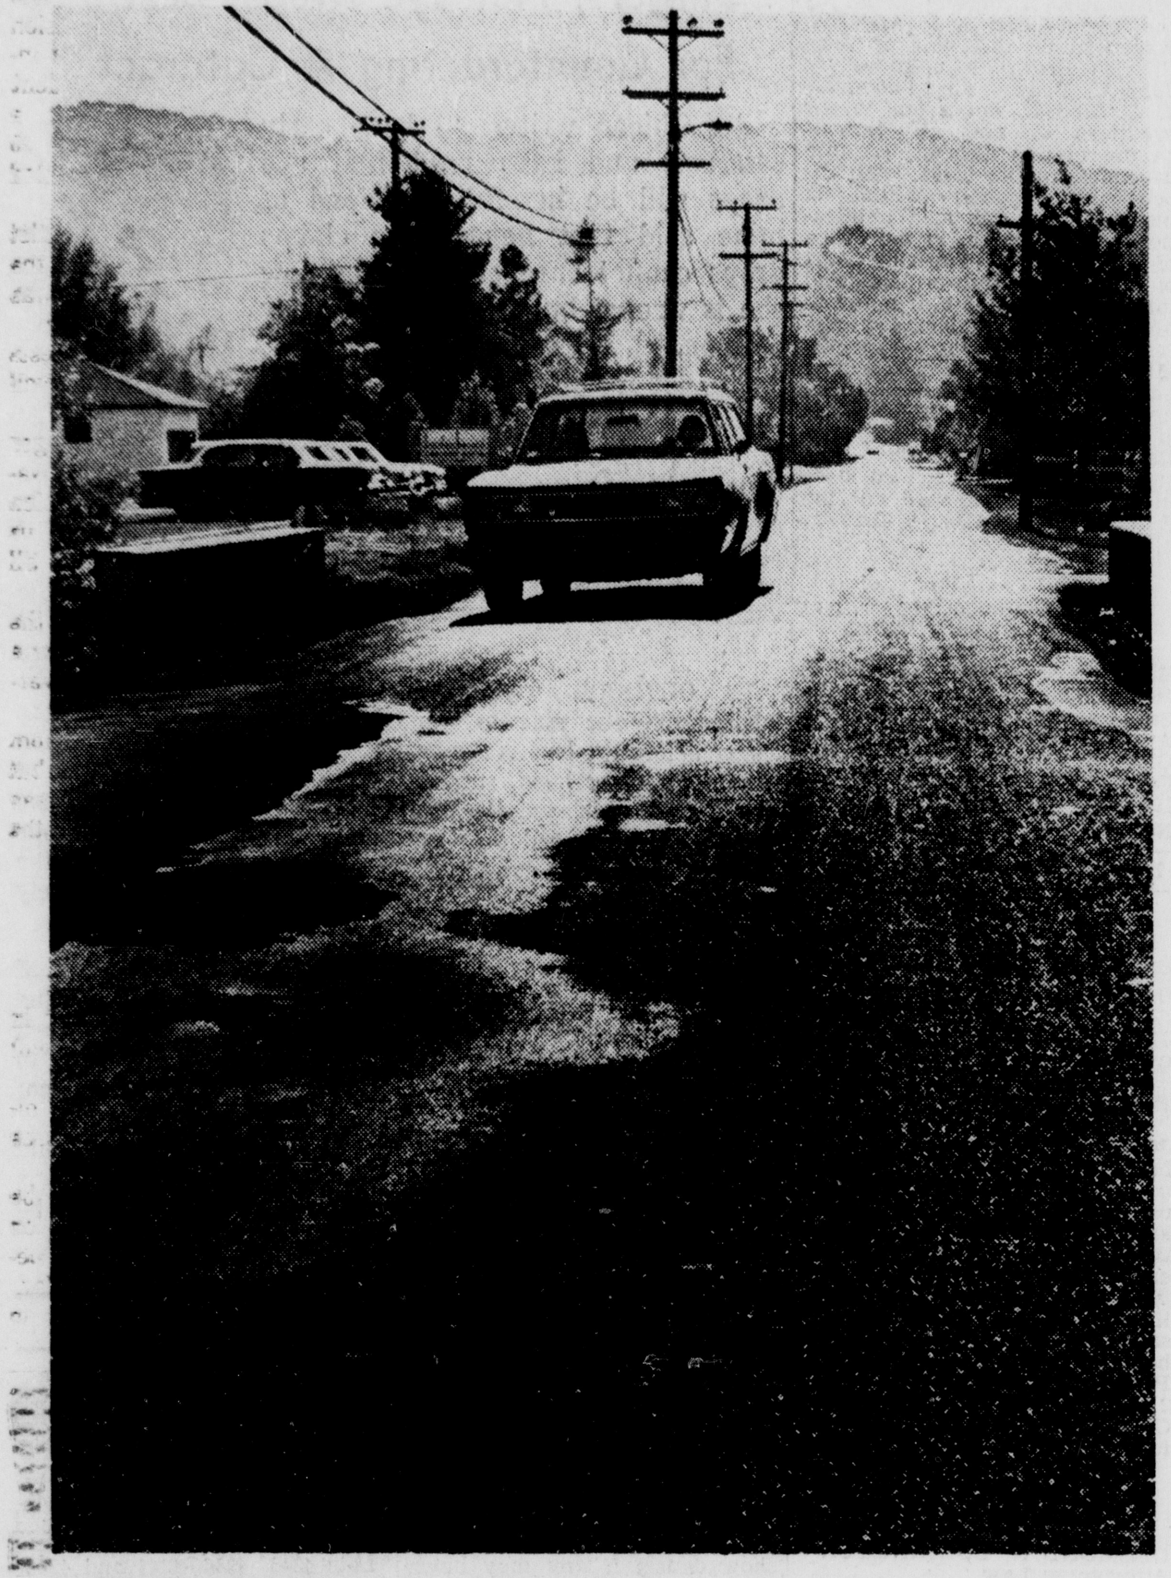
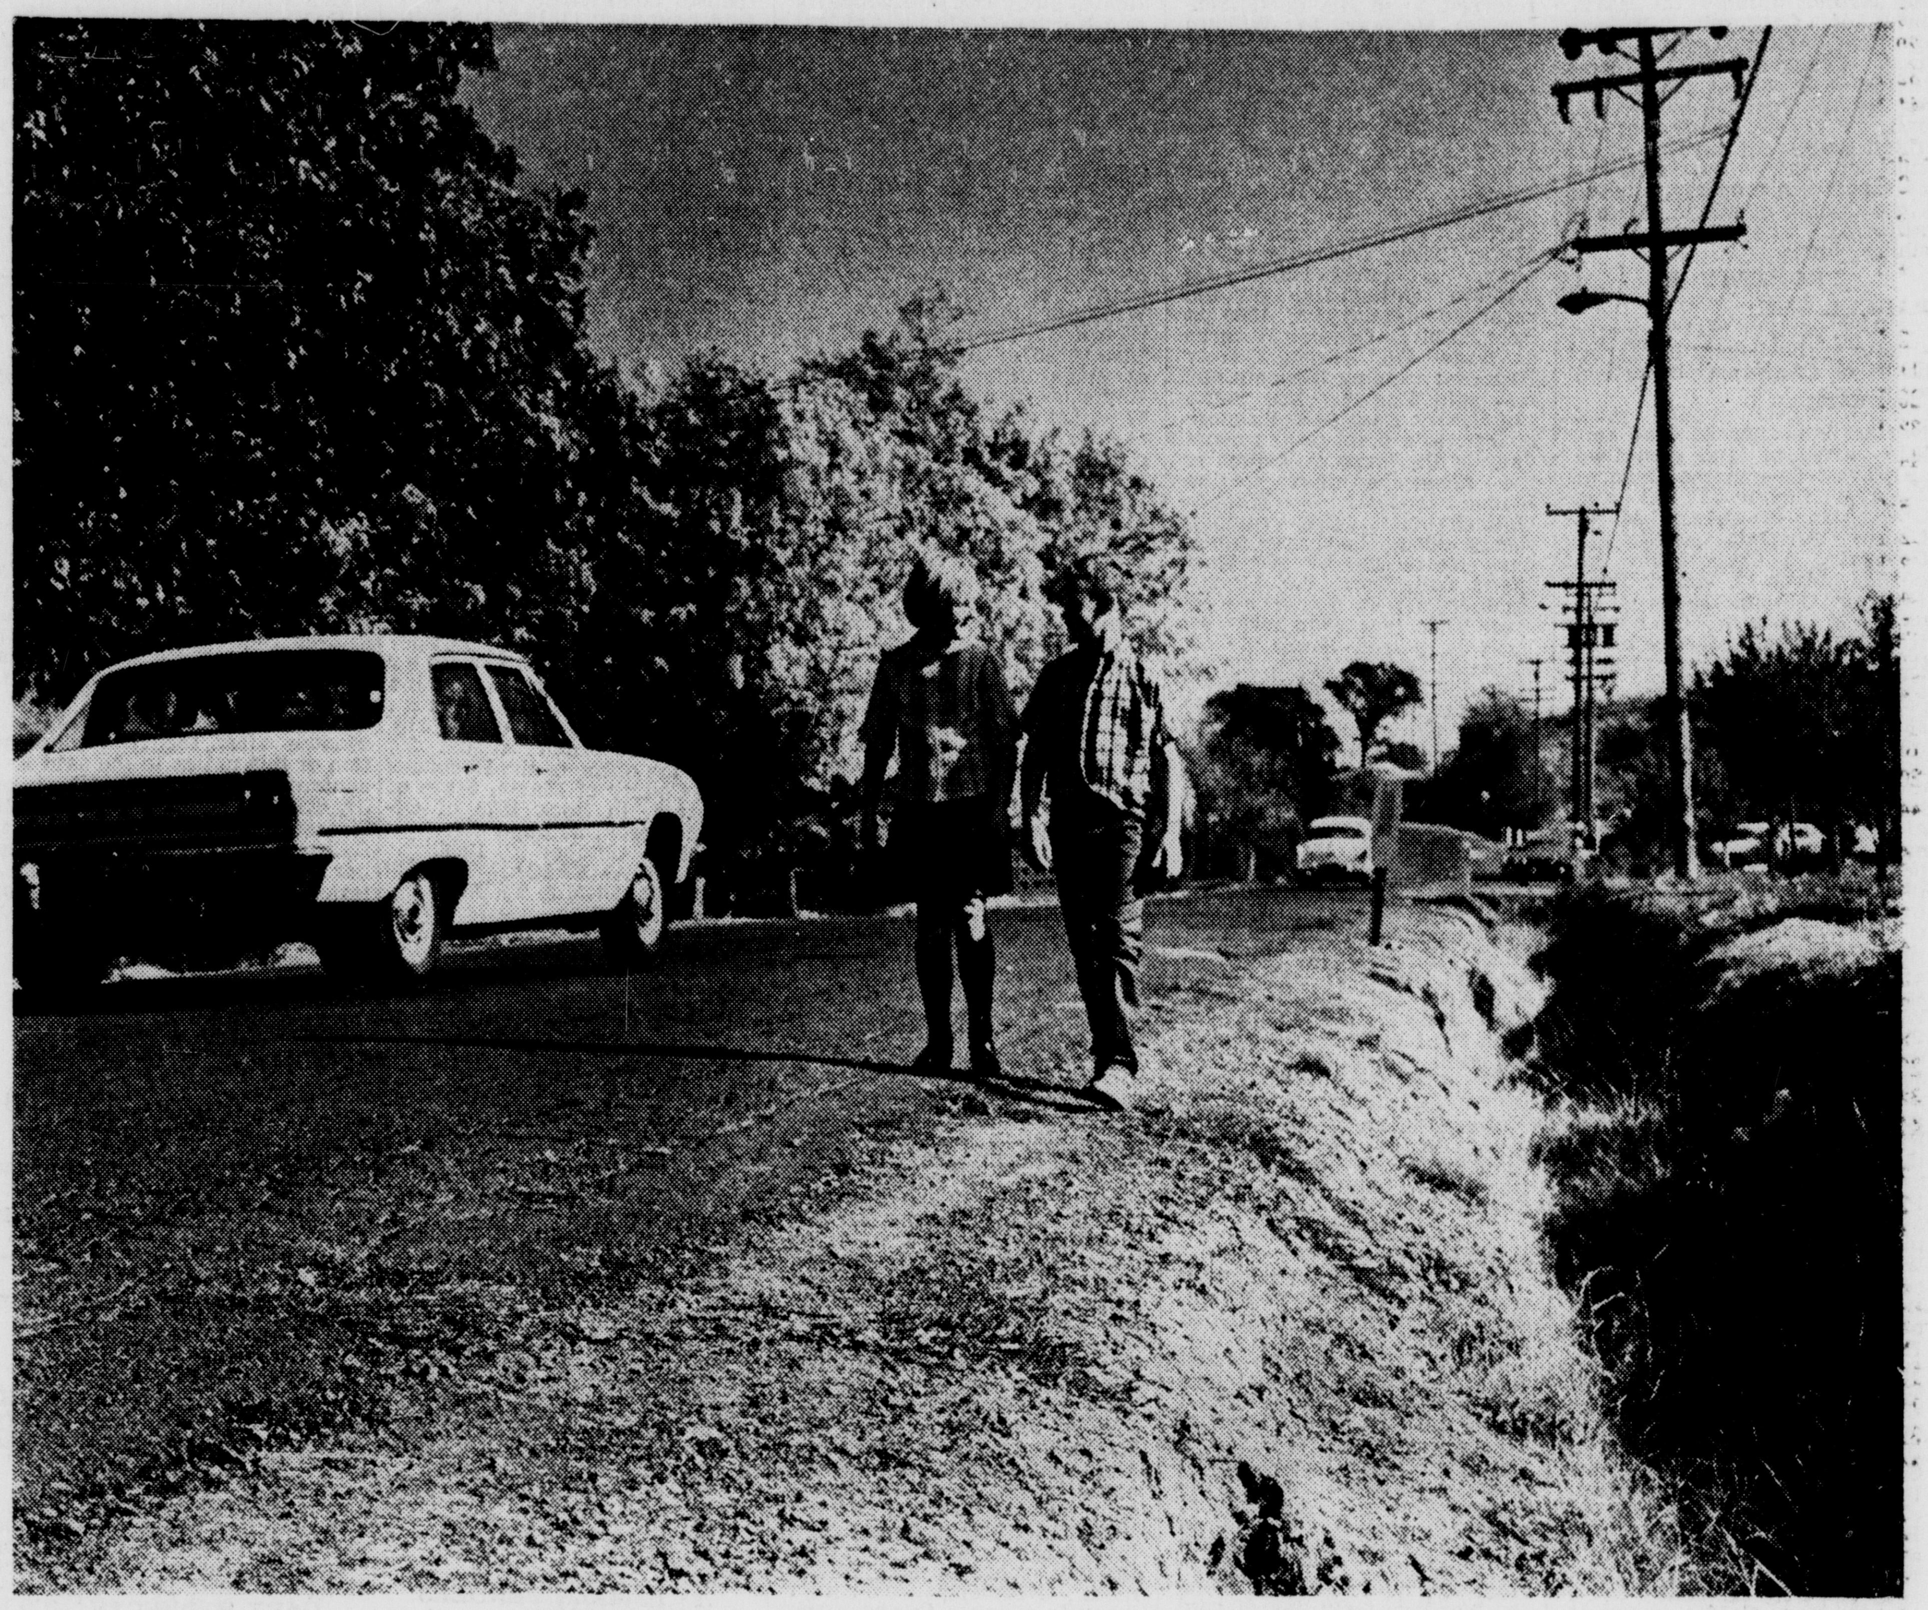
Novato Seeks $3 Million For Street Repair



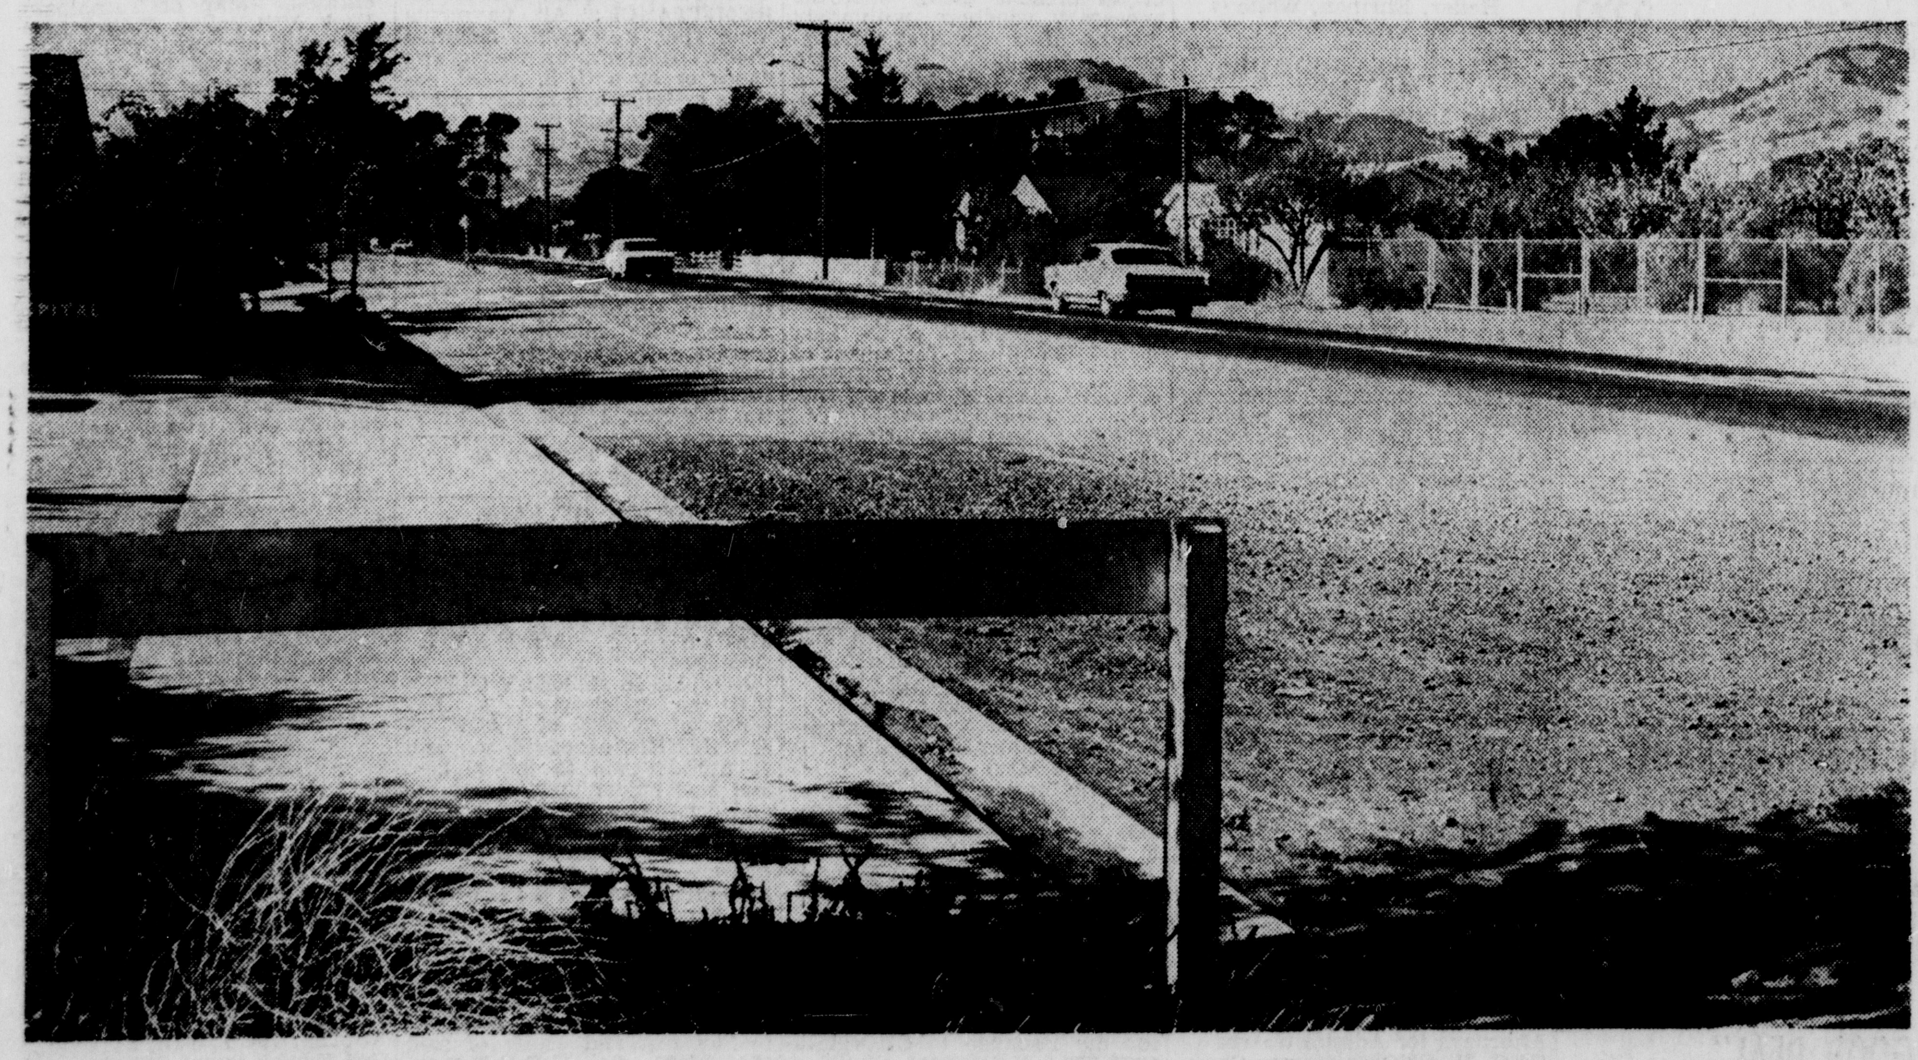
NARROW BRIDGE — The bridge over Warner Creek at Tamalpais Avenue is barely wide enough for two cars, causing a special hazard when school children are walking in the area. The city has a $3 million bond proposal for new streets, improvements and resurfacing, which will be before voters Tuesday.



DEEP DITCH — Hill Road in front of Novato General Hospital has a deep ditch along its south side with a very narrow shoulder for school children to walk on. Walking along the ditch, just a half block from Hill Junor High School are Debbie, 10, and Jim Kunce, 9, of 1630 Hill Road, both pupils at Lu Sutton School.

CHANGING WIDTH—Riding along Center Road, west of Lu Sutton School, where roadway narrows from 60 feet wide to a 15-foot strip with narrow shoulders for pedestrians, are, Robin Roberts, in front, and Richard Roberts and Steve Cramer, rear, all pupils at Lu Sutton School.

RAINY SEASON HAZARD—Ditches, such as the one shown along Fourth Street at Olive Avenue, have eroded, presenting a danger to children who could be swept into a culvert by storm waters. Illustrating the hazard and depth of the ditch are, from the left, Tony Baker in ditch, Mrs. Robert Skidmore of 1136 Fourth Street, Bobby Skidmore, 2, Lori Luddy, 1, David Pori and Kandi Skidmore, 4.



ROOM FOR IMPROVEMENT — If the city's $3 million bond issue passes portions of Novato's Boulevard such as the sector shown near McClay Road, now two lanes, would be widened to four lanes with parkng and sidewalks on each side.

POOR PAVEMENT — This section of Olive Street between Fourth and Fifth streets is one of the areas where pavement is wearing out. The bond proposal calls for providing an overlay for more than 25 miles of city streets. (Independent-Journal photos by Bob Hax)

TV REVIEW

Networks Reshuffle For LBJ

NEW YORK (AP) — Television's half-hour programs have been bearing the pre-emption burden of the presidential campaign. The hour-long and longer programs are great most of the time, but they are difficult to handle in an emergency.

President Johnson's announcement of the bombing halt came last night at the end of the first half of NBC's "Daniel Boone." The fans probably will not know, until next summer's re-runs, whether Jimmy Dean ever found the missing man he was hunting.

A ROUNDTABLE

CBS, with hour-long "Hawaii Five-O" scheduled at that time, just dropped the episode. After the President had finished, it filled the rest of the hour with an electronic roundtable discussion from New York and Washington, with newsmen chatting about what the President said and guesses about what it all meant.

ABC, best situated because it had two half-hour situation comedies scheduled at the time and pre-empted "The Flying Nun" on short notice, then skipped "Bewitched," also in favor of a discussion of the announcement.

During the discussions, both ABC and CBS staff men immediately raised—and by consensus rejected—any thought on the part of viewers that the President's action was politically motivated. The chief executive's own announcement carried the same strong—but less direct—implication.

GOOD TREATMENT

After the speech, NBC moved directly into "Ironside." The program was standard police melodrama about a man threatened with violent death, but it was a particularly interesting treatment for one reason. Milton Berle, co-author of the script, played the part of a rude, ruthless host on a television talk show. He played it to the hilt and, as on previous occasions when he is not making like a comedian, demonstrated an impressive acting ability.

The weekend schedules, which are already pretty well loaded with paid political programs will probably have some additions on short notice. CBS's "Hogan's Heroes" will have a Saturday night off and NBC will delay the start of its movie a half hour to accommodate a candidate.

On Sunday, CBS's "Gentle Ben" and NBC's "The Mothers-in Law" will be bumped for politicking. However, most of the hour-long movie blocks will remain as usual. And, of course, there are the usual football games—no candidates would dare tamper with those events for fear of losing the football fan vote.

BEST SHOWS FOR TONIGHT

Best bets on television tonight:

KGO (7), 7:30 p.m. — Bob Crane hosts "Operation: Entertainment" with guests Teddy Neeley, Pat Paulson and the Lennon Sisters, from Elgin Air Force Base, Fla.

KQED (9), 8:30 p.m. — "NET Playhouse" presents "Women Beware Women," a Jacobean revenge tragedy by the 17th Century dramatist Thomas Middleton.

KPIX (5), 9 p.m.—"The CBS Friday Night Movies" offers the comedy, "Quick, Before It Melts." George Maharis and Robert Morse star.

KGO (7), 9 p.m. — Don Rickles welcomes Lorne Greene and Pat McCormick to his show.

Student Vote Set On Office Holding Credit

A new election by College of Marin students on a proposed measure giving course credit for holding student body offices will be held Wednesday through Friday at the Student Center.

David Brown, Associated Students' parliamentarian, said yesterday that voting will be from 7:45 p.m. to 9 p.m. Wednesday; 10 a.m. to noon and 7:45 p.m. to 9 p.m. Thursday, and 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. next Friday.

The measure needs a two-thirds majority before the student body would recommend it to the college's instructional council. It also must be recommended by the council and the college cabinet before reaching the Marin Junior College District board, officials said.

The issue lost at an election last week, but balloting irregularities caused a student elections committee to decide on the re-election.

Early Break Of Viet Talk

NEW YORK (AP) — The Eastern Educational Television networks' Channel 13 says it inadvertently broadcast President Johnson's announcement of a bombing halt in Vietnam 20 minutes ahead of its scheduled release time.

Channel 13, the EET outlet here, received and sent out the speech at 7:40 p.m. It was scheduled for release at 8 p.m.

The break caused protests from the White House, as well as NBC and CBS.

Lee Hayes, station manager of Channel 13, part of the National Educational Television network, said, "No one told us that the film was embargoed till 8 o'clock."

The speech was filmed in the afternoon, then transmitted on a pool basis by NBC to the various networks.

EET covers 16 outlets from Maine to Washington, D.C., but station officials could not say how many others picked up the broadcast.

Government Course Slated At Hamilton

A college course for credit in state and local governments will be taught by the extension division of San Francisco State College at Hamilton Air Force Base.

The three-unit course will be taught from 6:30 to 9 p.m. on Mondays and Wednesdays beginning Nov. 18 and ending Jan. 23 at the education center in Building 630.

TV REVIEW

Networks Reshuffle For LBJ

NEW YORK (AP) — Television's half-hour programs have been bearing the pre-emption burden of the presidential campaign. The hour-long and longer programs are great most of the time, but they are difficult to handle in an emergency.

President Johnson's announcement of the bombing halt came last night at the end of the first half of NBC's "Daniel Boone." The fans probably will not know, until next summer's re-runs, whether Jimmy Dean ever found the missing man he was hunting.

A ROUNDTABLE

CBS, with hour-long "Hawaii Five-O" scheduled at that time, just dropped the episode. After the President had finished, it filled the rest of the hour with an electronic roundtable discussion from New York and Washington, with newsmen chatting about what the President said and guesses about what it all meant.

ABC, best situated because it had two half-hour situation comedies scheduled at the time and pre-empted "The Flying Nun" on short notice, then skipped "Bewitched," also in favor of a discussion of the announcement.

During the discussions, both ABC and CBS staff men immediately raised—and by consensus rejected—any thought on the part of viewers that the President's action was politically motivated. The chief executive's own announcement carried the same strong—but less direct—implication.

GOOD TREATMENT

After the speech, NBC moved directly into "Ironside." The program was standard police melodrama about a man threatened with violent death, but it was a particularly interesting treatment for one reason. Milton Berle, co-author of the script, played the part of a rude, ruthless host on a television talk show. He played it to the hilt and, as on previous occasions when he is not making like a comedian, demonstrated an impressive acting ability.

The weekend schedules, which are already pretty well loaded with paid political programs will probably have some additions on short notice. CBS's "Hogan's Heroes" will have a Saturday night off and NBC will delay the start of its movie a half hour to accommodate a candidate.

On Sunday, CBS's "Gentle Ben" and NBC's "The Mothers-in Law" will be bumped for politicking. However, most of the hour-long movie blocks will remain as usual. And, of course, there are the usual football games—no candidates would dare tamper with those events for fear of losing the football fan vote.

Student Vote Set On Office Holding Credit

A new election by College of Marin students on a proposed measure giving course credit for holding student body offices will be held Wednesday through Friday at the Student Center.

David Brown, Associated Students' parliamentarian, said yesterday that voting will be from 7:45 p.m. to 9 p.m. Wednesday; 10 a.m. to noon and 7:45 p.m. to 9 p.m. Thursday, and 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. next Friday.

The measure needs a two-thirds majority before the student body would recommend it to the college's instructional council. It also must be recommended by the council and the college cabinet before reaching the Marin Junior College District board, officials said.

The issue lost at an election last week, but balloting irregularities caused a student elections committee to decide on the re-election.

Early Break Of Viet Talk

NEW YORK (AP) — The Eastern Educational Television networks' Channel 13 says it inadvertently broadcast President Johnson's announcement of a bombing halt in Vietnam 20 minutes ahead of its scheduled release time.

Channel 13, the EET outlet here, received and sent out the speech at 7:40 p.m. It was scheduled for release at 8 p.m.

The break caused protests from the White House, as well as NBC and CBS.

Lee Hayes, station manager of Channel 13, part of the National Educational Television network, said, "No one told us that the film was embargoed till 8 o'clock."

The speech was filmed in the afternoon, then transmitted on a pool basis by NBC to the various networks.

EET covers 16 outlets from Maine to Washington, D.C., but station officials could not say how many others picked up the broadcast.

Critical Letter Irks Health Plan Advisers

Temporary directors of the Comprehensive Health Planning Council of Marin have called attacks on their method of operation "insulting" and "intemperate."

The directors, headed by chairman Arthur Ablin, met Wednesday night at the Civic Center and reacted strongly to a letter which Ann McCorry of Greenbrae read at Tuesday's meeting of the county board of supervisors. Miss McCorry charged that the temporary directors are acting arbitrarily and trying to push through a permanent board of directors that is not broadly representative. She asked that last night's scheduled election of the new board of directors be postponed.

The directors of the health planning council agreed to postpone the election for about a month, "although we feel the request was unjust and unwarranted," said Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen, a member of the temporary board.

"We asked Miss McCorry to read the letter again last night," said Kettenhofen. "I thought it was completely inappropriate."

William Schwarzer, member of the Babcock Foundation, called Miss McCorry's statements "intemperate," and Dr. Chad Calland called it "insulting."

"However, because the health planning council is such an important program, we decided to hold up the election to allay any criticism," said Kettenhofen.

Dr. Ablin will appear before the board of supervisors next Tuesday afternoon to reply to Miss McCorry's charges.

Cerrudo, A Calm, Cool Customer

By GARY TISCHLER

There were a lot of people milling and trampling over Harding Park's chilly mass of 6,677 golf yards yesterday as the $100,000 Lucky International Golf Tournament got under way in San Francisco.

There were old duffers, officials resplendent in badges. And hey, there was Billy Casper in blue on the short 17th hole, first mystified, then shrugging over a putt that came up short in front of a hushed and large gallery. There was former winner Chi Chi Rodriguez, windthin, all dapper in red.

COOL

And there was Ron Cerrudo, cool as in calm.

San Rafael boy Ron Cerrudo, freshly married, only 23, may or may not win this tournament. In fact, off his first-day score, a one-over par 72, he may not. But he won't shoot himself, or cry. He acts and looks like a man with some kind of secret pension.

Nearing the end of his professional golf initiation rite in his first year as a pro, Ron has achieved the goals he set out to achieve without losing his sanity, or changing his game.

44th ON LIST

He's already won $33,000, $30,000 of it official, placing him 44th on the winner's list, which puts him in the top 60 class of winners and allows him to compete in the tournaments next year without having to go through qualifying rounds, if he finishes in the top 60.

ij Sports

And he is quieter, less explosive, his temper bottled up more or less peacefully, the brooding over bad rounds, missed birdies and shots dissipated in married life, and the confidence is still there.

As he practiced putting just before teeoff time yesterday, he talked about Ron Cerrudo, professional golfer and married man, mini-celebrity and up-and-coming winner. And you begin to realize once again that it's more than a game, it's this business of getting and making checks, paying bills, buying groceries, living on pressure putts, a sort of world-wide office of greens and sandtraps and a golfbag full of tools.

"You know, I spent an awful lot of time concentrating on trying to make the cut when I started out," he said. "I finally said to myself that that wasn't going to do. You're supposed to be making money, not cuts."

Ron is married now, something he wasn't before he turned pro, hailed as one of the most promising amateurs ever to enter the game. It was a settling factor.

"I think I made 90 per cent of my winnings after I got married," he said. "It's helped a lot. You don't become one of these guys who hang around the clubhouse talking about nothing but golf and stand around at midnight practicing putting. I come home and I have someone to go to. Carol lets me talk about it for a while and that's it. There are other things besides just brooding about your game."

Like many rookies and first-

Barber, Archer Tie For Lucky Lead

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — In three days and 54 more holes of golf, Miller Barber may be glad he stayed with the pro golf tour this fall rather than passing it up to watch the University of Arkansas football team.

Right now he isn't so sure, despite shaving five strokes off par for a 66 yesterday in tying George Archer of Gilroy for the first-day lead in the $100,000 Lucky International Golf Tournament.

"I usually stay home for the football season," Barber said. "This year was supposed to be a rebuilding year, but they won their first four games."

The 36-year-old Sherman, Tex. pro, who played freshman football at Arkansas before concentrating on golf, was two under par on his first nine but he got hotter as the weather got colder, finishing with three birdies on his back nine.

Archer, the 6-foot-6 rancher who ranks No. 5 among PGA money winners this year with $132,726, slipped with bogeys on the 13th and 15th holes after putting together birdie strings of four and three.

Archer is recuperating from the flu but came up with two 30-foot putts and remarked later, "it sounds like a fish story."

Archer and Barber led 42 other players who also broke par 71 at the 6,677-yard Harding Park municipal course. The top 70 and ties will make today's cut. The winner gets $20,000.

Bunched a stroke back were Frank Boynton of Cleveland, Dave Stockton of San Bernardino, Jack Fleck of Mission Viejo, Calif., and Doug Sanders of Cedarton, Ga.

Billy Casper, who has won $183,389 this year and is bidding to join Jack Nicklaus as the only $200,000-a-year men in golf, was in a group of eight tied at 68.

"The greens are a little slow," said Casper. "Very seldom was there a putt a guy had to say 'whoa,' to." Asked about the low scoring, he said, "The course is in very good shape. I'm sure that's the reason the scoring is so low."

Bob Dickson, winner of last week's Haig Tourney at Costa mesa, came in at 72. Chi Chi Rodriquez, winner of the Sahara Invitational, fired a one-under-par 70, the same as Lee Trevino, the U.S. Open champ.

Ken Venturi, winner of the last Lucky in 1966, shot a par 71.

19-Year-Old Bowler Rolls Perfect 300

De Young Hits 12 In A Row At Nave Lanes

By RALPH CHATOIAN

TERRY DE YOUNG
Mr. Perfect

Terry De Young, 19-year-old lefthander, buried 12 balls right in the 1-2 pocket last night at Nave Lanes for a perfect 300.

The young Novatan, bowling as anchor-man on the Hagen and Smith team in the 840 Scratch League, admitted, "I had no feeling in my legs on that last ball."

It was his first American Bowling Congress-sanctioned 300 game. He rolled a 300 in a match game at Downtown Bowl in San Francisco two years ago.

A student at College of Marin and part-time desk man at Nave Lanes, De Young bowled his perfecto on the final game of a three-game series. His first games were 234 and 247, added to the 300 gave him a whopping series of 781.

"I had bowled 10 straight strikes and missed on the 11th twice," DeYoung said. "All I was thinking on the 11th ball was to make sure I was there."

By the time he threw the first strike of the 10th frame, a majority of the bowlers knew what was going on. Many crowded behind the lanes on which he was bowling.

The 10th strike was greeted with a loud cheer, and the 11th with a still louder one. Then with no hesitation, De Young picked his ball from the return, made his approach and let fly with another of his picture-book deliveries.

He raised his hands in anticipation as the ball smacked dead in the pocket and the pins flew. When he turned, obviously shaken by the feat, he was mobbed by friends trying to get in their congratulations.

"I've never been that scared," De Young admitted. "All through the game I was just trying to get as high over 700 (series score) as I could. Until the ninth. Then I started thinking about it (the possible 300 game)."

De Young, one of the top average bowlers in Marin County despite his youth, is carrying a 193 average. But it just went up a couple of pins last night.

McLain Wins A.L. Hurling Top Honors

NEW YORK (AP) — Denny McLain, Detroit's 31-game winner, was unanimously selected today the American League's Cy Young Award winner for 1968.

McLain, 24, is the second youngest winner of the award as the league's top pitcher and the first American Leaguer ever to win it unanimously. Only two other pitcher Bob Gibson of the St. Louis Cardinals, named National League Cy Young winner earlier this week, and Sandy Koufax, who won it in 1963, 1965 and 1966—were unanimous choices.

ALL 20

The Tiger ace was the choice on all 20 ballots—two from each league city—in the annual Baseball Writer's Association of America vote. Only Dean Chance, who was 23 when he won the Young Award in 1964, was a younger winner than McLain.

McLain, who succeeds Boston's Jim Lonborg as the A.L.'s Young winner, beat every team in the league at least twice and became the first 30-game winner in the major leagues in 34 years. Dizzy Dean, who won 30 for the St. Louis Cardinals in 1934, was the last man to reach that plateau.

McLain, an accomplished organ player who is making a series of night club and concert appearances during the off-season, is only the second Tiger pitcher ever to earn any votes in the Cy Young balloting. Frank Lary picked up two votes in 1961.

Prep Grid Giants To Clash Tonight

The giants of the Marin County Athletic League football race collide tonight.

Unbeaten Terra Linda High School and once-beaten Novato High knock heads in a MCAL clash at San Rafael High School field, 8 o'clock, in a fight for sole possession of first place.

Both teams bring 3-0 won-lost league records into the contest while Terra Linda has a 5-0-1 season mark to Novato's 5-1.

It's the Trojans' homecoming, adding interest to the already spicy contest.

Novato will be shooting for its first football title in three years while Terra Linda will be going for its third straight, having tied Drake High School of San Anselmo for the MCAL crown the past two years. The winner of tonight's contest will have a tie for the crown in the bag.

Novato coach Al Scott, despite a heavy injury list and the Hornets' rude 27-0 blasting at the hands of Bellamarine of Santa Clara last week, is cooly confident.

"We just stepped out of our league, way out, last week," Scott said. "Even on a good night, we'd have had trouble winning. But our kids are pointing for Terra Linda. We know what's at stake."

Terra Linda also had an unnerving experience last week in an excruciating 13-12 victory over Tamalpais High of Mill Valley.

"Everybody says we were down," said Terra Linda line coach Jess Payan, architect of the continued Trojan defensive success. "Heck, they (Tamalpais) were really up and they played a great game."

Neither team should be awed by the other's physical size. Both teams are compact, hard-hitting crews who have no trouble hitting emotional highs. It should be a head-knocking affair

Novato seems to have the more diversified offense with the running of Greg Davenport and the passing of Russ Dillon. But fullback Tom Zechlin and halfback Pat Greene still may not be able to play if old injuries don't heal quickly.

Terra Linda's offense has had fits now and then, unable to really unwind against either San Rafael (9-7) or Tamalpais. But the Trojans have the potential of a varied attack with the throwing arm of backup quarterback Tom Jackson to complement two great runners in Dan McInnis and Steve McClain.

Comparative scores won't say much either, although Novato disposed of Tamalpais (26-18) and San Rafael (20-7) with more ease than Terra Linda.

Terra Linda, however, really socked it to Drake, last year's co-champion, 20-0. And Novato has Drake still to go.

If you want to throw in more incentive, it's sort of the battle of North Marin, two high-spirited schools going for all the marbles.

MELBOURNE (AP) — A weary Arnold Palmer walked off the last green of the Metropolitan golf course today and announced: "I've had it. I need a break."

Palmer had just added 77 to his first-round 70 in the Australian professional Golfers Association championship, and he was trailing today's early leader Kel Nagle of Australia by 11 strokes.

As he sat down with a cold beer, Palmer, of Latrobe, Pa., said, "I am going to give the game away for two or three months. I am not enjoying it. When putts go close by but not in, it drags the rest of my game down.

"I might even stay out longer than a couple of months . . . I just don't know . . . I just need to start enjoying the game again."

MARIN VS. DE ANZA

It's Key Game For Tars

Tonight's 8 o'clock College of Marin-DeAnza College football game in Kentfield will determine the course of Marin's season.

If the Tars, now 4-2 on the year and 1-1 in the Camino Norte Conference, can beat DeAnza's Dons of Cupertino, the conference's only unbeaten team (2-0) they will have a shot at the title.

DeAnza, according to Marin coach Dick Read, is a tough, fundamental football team which plays good defense and controls the ball well on long drives.

SHORT SLOT

The Dons, who beat Santa Rosa 28-14 last week for their second straight conference win, run from a short slot formation, shifting into a power I. Their offensive catalyst is Larry Lorenz, an economy-sized (6 foot 4, 200 pound) quarterback who runs well and can throw deep. Lorenz will roll out a lot, seldom dropping back, and throw to either tight end Kerry Mitchell (6-2, 185) or Jim Schroder (164) a speedy split receiver.

In the backfield with Lorenz will be flanker Steve Gudelj (170) whose moves are almost as hard to cope with as his name; fullback Mike Utt, and either Ken Barger or Ron Salas at running back. Salas, a comparative pygmy at 5-6, 150, has been out with injuries, but is quick and tough, a key back in Read's estimation.

COUNTER

Marin hopes to counter with an improved passing attack and consistent running. Kevin Wilson has regained the starting role at quarterback after his come-through performance against Solano last week and will have two fast targets for his baseball-like passes in Len Pieri and Bob Bahlman. Tim Garvin and Keith Stirling will open at halfback and Jim Finnegan at full. Gervin and Finnegan have been Marin's most reliable runners all year, Garvin with picturebook moves and cuts, Finnegan on great balance and the tenacity of a Gila monster.

Steady Chris Klyse and Ron Heidinger will be at tackles, as they have been all season, and Charley Keppel will again open at guard, with Trevor Benedict the likely center. Larry Collins will start at the other guard, as Doug Guillon is out with a muscle spasm. Like Gary Dinkel at half, Guillon may play, but only as his injuries allow.

"This game will be the big one for us," Read said, "they're all big from now on, and we have to win to stay in the race. This is a good, tough bunch we're playing, and we'll have to play 60 minutes of good, consistent football to beat them."

Cerrudo, A Calm, Cool Customer

CERRUDO ROOTER—Young golf pro Ron Cerrudo takes time out at the driving range at Harding Park to sign an autograph for young fan Jeff Purdie of Folsom.

By GARY TISCHLER

There were a lot of people milling and trampling over Harding Park's chilly mass of 6,677 golf yards yesterday as the $100,000 Lucky International Golf Tournament got under way in San Francisco.

There were old duffers, officials resplendent in badges. And hey, there was Billy Casper in blue on the short 17th hole, first mystified, then shrugging over a putt that came up short in front of a hushed and large gallery. There was former winner Chi Chi Rodriguez, windthin, all dapper in red.

COOL

And there was Ron Cerrudo, cool as in calm.

San Rafael boy Ron Cerrudo, freshly married, only 23, may or may not win this tournament. In fact, off his first-day score, a one-over par 72, he may not. But he won't shoot himself, or cry. He acts and looks like a man with some kind of secret pension.

Nearing the end of his professional golf initiation rite in his first year as a pro, Ron has achieved the goals he set out to achieve without losing his sanity, or changing his game.

44th ON LIST

He's already won $33,000, $30,000 of it official, placing him 44th on the winner's list, which puts him in the top 60 class of winners and allows him to compete in the tournaments next year without having to go through qualifying rounds, if he finishes in the top 60.

And he is quieter, less explosive, his temper bottled up more or less peacefully, the brooding over bad rounds, missed birdies and shots dissipated in married life, and the confidence is still there.

As he practiced putting just before teeoff time yesterday, he talked about Ron Cerrudo, professional golfer and married man, mini-celebrity and up-and-coming winner. And you begin to realize once again that it's more than a game, it's this business of getting and making checks, paying bills, buying groceries, living on pressure putts, a sort of world-wide office of greens and sandtraps and a golfbag full of tools.

"You know, I spent an awful lot of time concentrating on trying to make the cut when I started out," he said. "I finally said to myself that that wasn't going to do. You're supposed to be making money, not cuts."

Ron is married now, something he wasn't before he turned pro, hailed as one of the most promising amateurs ever to enter the game. It was a settling factor.

"I think I made 90 per cent of my winnings after I got married," he said. "It's helped a lot. You don't become one of these guys who hang around the clubhouse talking about nothing but golf and stand around at midnight practicing putting. I come home and I have someone to go to. Carol lets me talk about it for a while and that's it. There are other things besides just brooding about your game."

Like many rookies and first-

Billy Casper, who has won $183,389 this year and is bidding to join Jack Nicklaus as the only $200,000-a-year men in golf, was in a group of eight tied at 68.

"The greens are a little slow," said Casper. "Very seldom was there a putt a guy had to say 'whoa,' to." Asked about the low scoring, he said, "The course is in very good shape. I'm sure that's the reason the scoring is so low."

MARIN VS. DE ANZA

It's Key Game For Tars

Tonight's 8 o'clock College of Marin-DeAnza College football game in Kentfield will determine the course of Marin's season.

If the Tars, now 4-2 on the year and 1-1 in the Camino Norte Conference, can beat DeAnza's Dons of Cupertino, the conference's only unbeaten team (2-0) they will have a shot at the title.

DeAnza, according to Marin coach Dick Read, is a tough, fundamental football team which plays good defense and controls the ball well on long drives.

SHORT SLOT

The Dons, who beat Santa Rosa 28-14 last week for their second straight conference win, run from a short slot formation, shifting into a power I. Their offensive catalyst is Larry Lorenz, an economy-sized (6 foot 4, 200 pound) quarterback who runs well and can throw deep. Lorenz will roll out a lot, seldom dropping back, and throw to either tight end Kerry Mitchell (6-2, 185) or Jim Schroder (164) a speedy split receiver.

In the backfield with Lorenz will be flanker Steve Gudelj (170) whose moves are almost as hard to cope with as his name; fullback Mike Utt, and either Ken Barger or Ron Salas at running back. Salas, a comparative pygmy at 5-6, 150, has been out with injuries, but is quick and tough, a key back in Read's estimation.

COUNTER

Steady Chris Klyse and Ron Heidinger will be at tackles, as they have been all season, and Charley Keppel will again open at guard, with Trevor Benedict the likely center. Larry Collins will start at the other guard, as Doug Guillon is out with a muscle spasm. Like Gary Dinkel at half, Guillon may play, but only as his injuries allow.

"This game will be the big one for us," Read said, "they're all big from now on, and we have to win to stay in the race. This is a good, tough bunch we're playing, and we'll have to play 60 minutes of good, consistent football to beat them."

Defense Is Thing For Kansas City

OAKLAND (AP) — Kansas City's Chief are making a strong bid to regain the American Football League championship and their coach says the key is defense.

Coach Hank Stram, here preparing his club for Sunday's game against the Oakland Raiders, said, "You can't be consistent without a good defense."

While running their record to 7-1, the Chiefs have given up just 86 points, the least in pro football.

"The key to our success has been the play of Jimmy Lynch at middle linebacker," Stram said.

"We were attacked there a lot last season and I knew we would be this year with a young man playing there. He has done a magnificent job."

Lynch, from Notre Dame, is in his second season with the Chiefs.

The first time the Raiders and Chiefs met this year, Kansas City won 24-10.

Mickey Lolich, who won three Series games, beat St. Louis as Detroit took the title in the seventh game.

McLain made 41 starts and pitched 28 complete games. He was 17-2 on the road and 14-4 at home and had winning streaks of five, four, nine, seven and six games during the season. He struck out 280 walked 63 and pitched six shutouts. He had a 1.96 earned run average, fourth best in the league.

The BBWAA started the Cy Young Awards to baseball's top pitcher in 1956 and last year began awarding two trophies, one to the top American League pitcher and one to the top National Leaguer. Lonborg and San Francisco's Mike McCormick were the 1967 winners.

Green Out Of Browns' Lineup

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland Browns' fullback Ernie Green, who missed the first five games because of a knee injury, is not expected to start against the San Francisco 49ers Sunday in Kezar Stadium.

Green's return to duty Oct. 20 was credited with sparking the Browns to an upset victory over the Baltimore Colts.

He hurt the knee again last Sunday in the victory over the Atlanta Falcons but was running again on Tuesday and appeared to be recovered.

Then on Wednesday he reinjured the knee when he fell while blocking during practice. Green missed yesterday's practice and is not expected to be ready Sunday.

If Green doesn't play, Charley Leigh probably will start at fullback. Leigh, a rookie, has been hampered by a sprained ankle and pulled tendon for several weeks but appeared to be running well this week.

Defensive end Bill Glass, who was taken out of the Atlanta game because of tender ribs, will be back.

Glass noted that the 49ers should have plenty of information on the Browns.

CONFERENCE WITH SCOTTY — San Rafael rookie pro Ron Cerrudo takes time out to ponder a shot with caddie Scotty Gilmore, a Scotsman touring the circuit. Gilmore has worked every major Golf spa in the British Isles and is "fascinated by America." (Independent-Journal Photo)

timers, Ron found the going rough at first.

"There was a stretch there of about 10 weeks when I couln't win a thing to speak of," he said. "But then I won $7,300 in Milwaukee and I knew I could make it."

The top 60 is a kind of haven where you can rest without worrying all that much.

"If you're in the top 60 you can rest a little, and that's important," he said. "You can become mentally exhausted after a while."

Cerrudo still has some ruffles to work out, but the money, the lessons of the first year have begun to make for a clear picture.

"I tend to play too fast," he said. "And I have tended to be tempermental in the past. I think I have a good driving, long game but my putting needs some work. But I'm working on those things. I'm calmer, more controlled."

And so, Ron Cerrudo, looking cool and calm in gray striped pants and black sweater, more San Franciscan than collegiate, stepped out to the first hole.

Several things happened. His second shot was a beauty coming out from behind one of those scenic Harding Park trees, hooking right, skimming a couple of feet over a sand trap and onto the green.

On the third hole, one of those things that brings on brooding and midnight putting happened. Putting down on the edge of the green, his shot skittered to the cup, rimmed twice and fell out.

Ron Cerrudo's arm jerked up and his eyes looked up pondering injustice.

But he will survive, a great rookie in a year of great rookies.

Mrs. Calla Wins At Las Gallinas

Mrs. Sam Calla downed Mrs. Vernon Ellingson, 7-5, to win the championship flight of the Las Gallinas Women's Golf Club's handicap tournament yesterday.

Mrs. George Yamamoto downed Mrs. Ted W. Steiger for first flight honors, 3-2. In the second flight, Mrs. Leonard Mathews defeated Mrs. Robert Ritter, 7-6, and Mrs. James Giese won out over Mrs. Earlund Ericson, on the 20th hole, in the third flight.

Consolation winner was Mrs. Lewis Garat, followed by Mrs. Fred Laubscher.

Hadnot Moves To Front Office

OAKLAND (AP) — Jim Hadnot, most valuable player for the Oakland Oaks last year but a substitute this year, announced his retirement yesterday and was named to a front office job.

The 6-foot-10 center from Providence College will be director of group ticket sales and will help in public relations and scouting for the American Basketball Association team.

Hadnot, an Oakland native who owns a liquor store here, led the Oaks in scoring in their first year with an average of 17.5 points to a game and was second in team rebounding with a 12.5 average.

SOX PRODUCT

The young right-hander is a product of the Chicago White Sox organization. He was drafted by the Tigers in 1963 for $8,000 on the first year waiver rule when the White Sox decided to protect another young pitcher, Burce Howard, instead.

The BBWAA started the Cy Young Awards to baseball's top pitcher in 1956 and last year began awarding two trophies, one to the top American League pitcher and one to the top National Leaguer. Lonborg and San Francisco's Mike McCormick were the 1967 winners.

Green Out Of Browns' Lineup

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland Browns' fullback Ernie Green, who missed the first five games because of a knee injury, is not expected to start against the San Francisco 49ers Sunday in Kezar Stadium.

Green's return to duty Oct. 20 was credited with sparking the Browns to an upset victory over the Baltimore Colts.

He hurt the knee again last Sunday in the victory over the Atlanta Falcons but was running again on Tuesday and appeared to be recovered.

Then on Wednesday he reinjured the knee when he fell while blocking during practice. Green missed yesterday's practice and is not expected to be ready Sunday.

If Green doesn't play, Charley Leigh probably will start at fullback. Leigh, a rookie, has been hampered by a sprained ankle and pulled tendon for several weeks but appeared to be running well this week.

Defensive end Bill Glass, who was taken out of the Atlanta game because of tender ribs, will be back.

Glass noted that the 49ers should have plenty of information on the Browns.

CONFERENCE WITH SCOTTY — San Rafael rookie pro Ron Cerrudo takes time out to ponder a shot with caddie Scotty Gilmore, a Scotsman touring the circuit. Gilmore has worked every major Golf spa in the British Isles and is "fascinated by America." (Independent-Journal Photo)

It's A Calm, Cool Cerrudo

timers, Ron found the going rough at first.

"There was a stretch there of about 10 weeks when I couln't win a thing to speak of," he said. "But then I won $7,300 in Milwaukee and I knew I could make it."

The top 60 is a kind of haven where you can rest without worrying all that much.

"If you're in the top 60 you can rest a little, and that's important," he said. "You can become mentally exhausted after a while."

Cerrudo still has some ruffles to work out, but the money, the lessons of the first year have begun to make for a clear picture.

"I tend to play too fast," he said. "And I have tended to be tempermental in the past. I think I have a good driving, long game but my putting needs some work. But I'm working on those things. I'm calmer, more controlled."

And so, Ron Cerrudo, looking cool and calm in gray striped pants and black sweater, more San Franciscan than collegiate, stepped out to the first hole.

Several things happened. His second shot was a beauty coming out from behind one of those scenic Harding Park trees, hooking right, skimming a couple of feet over a sand trap and onto the green.

On the third hole, one of those things that brings on brooding and midnight putting happened. Putting down on the edge of the green, his shot skittered to the cup, rimmed twice and fell out.

Ron Cerrudo's arm jerked up and his eyes looked up pondering injustice.

But he will survive, a great rookie in a year of great rookies.

Mrs. Calla Wins At Las Gallinas

Consolation winner was Mrs. Lewis Garat, followed by Mrs. Fred Laubscher.

Hadnot Moves To Front Office

OAKLAND (AP) — Jim Hadnot, most valuable player for the Oakland Oaks last year but a substitute this year, announced his retirement yesterday and was named to a front office job.

The 6-foot-10 center from Providence College will be director of group ticket sales and will help in public relations and scouting for the American Basketball Association team.

Hadnot, an Oakland native who owns a liquor store here, led the Oaks in scoring in their first year with an average of 17.5 points to a game and was second in team rebounding with a 12.5 average.

Seals In Trouble; Just Can't Draw

OAKLAND — People are so reluctant to come to hockey games here in the early season, it's a wonder even the players are bothering to show up. One actually didn't the other night—depositing a note on teacher's desk that he'd be happier elsewhere.

On one of the evenings that the Seals drew almost 3,000 into the Arena, I asked a team executive if he were concerned. That's always a cheerful way to begin a conversation, I've found.

"Not yet," he smiled bravely. "But if it's like this come November, we'll be in trouble."

The Seals were in attendance trouble even before the season began. Their financial woes would make a good case study for that new curriculum in sports adminstration that Ohio University has going. Any student figuring a way out of the National Hockey League dilemma in the Bay Area would automatically get an A, plus the bonus of a master's degree — if not the presidency of the Oakland Seals.

THE MORE you're involved on the "inside" of major league athletic doings, as I was for a year while passing through the comatose state of publicizing, the more you're stupefied by both the actions and inactions of sports titans.

And sports, I've discovered, is one of those rare business ventures in which a desultory administration in one year can practically destroy the deal for seasons to come. The Ford people can always get out of trouble with the development of a Mustang. Sporting sorts aren't that lucky — even with a winner.

THE ANSWER to the Seals' predicament of 1968-69 is the Seals of 1967-68. Plus the Oakland Raiders.

The Raiders finally reached the point of financial return last year. All local competion felt the bite. And with the Seals making their NHL debt and incurring a heftier player personnel budget, the bite was of a gluttonous size, lasting until mid-January.

THE HOCKEY folks did recover a bit in February and March, particularly in games against the six old teams in the league. By that time, though, a lot of bread had gone through the shredder.

There was good reason to believe the Seals were moving to Vancouver. The league's fathers were casting a wary eye on then owner Barry van Gerbig. Hockey fans in the Bay Area got the idea their last place favorites were as good as gone. Enthusiasm in an eloping lover of necessity subsided. When the lover changed his mind and canceled the Rent-A-City service in British Columbia, it was already early summer.

Those who once cared about big league hockey here seemed not to care much any more — not even when van Gerbig sold out to the Harlem Globetrotter fellows. The new conglommerate dumped aging favorite Charlie Burns in a trade and proceeded to bring in what amounts to a new team. Which made two new teams in two years.

THE TIPOFF of attendance trouble has come in the first two home games against old teams, Boston and Montreal. Those crowds averaged about 5,000. No home crowd so far has exceeded 6,000.

Until the ownership strives mightily to convince people the Seals will be here for a while and spends some effort in people-to-people communication, the hockey club will be greeted with a perceptible yawn. Scheduling five games in the Cow Palace will not help either — just serve to convince East Bay fans the Seals might eventually play all their games "over there."

However, we are holding off final rites until November.

Seals Take On Black Hawks

OAKLAND (AP) — The Chicago Black Hawks, out for revenge, invade the Arena tonight at 8 o'clock to meet the Oakland Seals in a National Hockey League game.

In the first meeting between the two clubs, the Seals won in Chicago. Oakland is now in second place tie with St. Louis in the NHL's West Division, while the Hawks are in a battle with Montreal and Boston for supremacy in the East Division.

The Seals are still looking for more scoring to go along with the domination of play they have been able to muster. Coach Fred Glover has been shaking up his front lines to find the best possible combination.

West Coast Teams Think Of Roses

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The run for the roses in the Rose Bowl gets down to serious business tomorrow when three Pacific-8 teams risk their unbeaten records in conference play.

Nationally top-ranked Southern California, undefeated in five games including two conference victories, journeys to Eugene to play Oregon, whose Ducks are 1-1 in the Pac-8. Oregon over-all is 3-3 but is riding a three-game winning streak.

Oregon State, 2-0 and 4-2, travels to test Stanford, 1-2-1 and 3-2-1, in an important contest while California's Golden Bears, 1-0 and 5-1, go to Seattle to meet a pack of Washington Huskies, 0-3 and 2-3-.

INTERSECTIONAL

UCLA, whose Bruins dealt Stanford's bowl hopes a devastating blow last week, is at Knoxville to play fifth-ranked Tennessee in an intersectional engagement, and Washington State has a nonconference date with Arizona at Tucson.

UCLA is 2-1 in the conference and 3-3 for the season, and Washington State is 0-2-1 and 1-4-1.

On the independent front, San Jose State renews its series with University of the Pacific at Stockton tomorrow night.

California's 43-0 romp over Syracuse — the worst licking for the Orangemen since 1953 — seemingly will give the Bears tremendous momentum against Washington. The encounter will be the first of four straight conference games for California, which is thinking Rose Bowl.

Halfback O. J. Simpson and the Southern Cal Trojans have had a week of rest. They'll be favored over Oregon, but history records that California teams invariably find the going tough against teams in the Northwest.

Attention should center on Simpson and Oregon's leading runner, Claxton Welch, and the strong Duck defense which contributed much to the team's last three triumphs.

It may be recalled, also, that a year ago this same defense held Simpson to less than 100 yards—63, in fact, in 23 carries.

MARIN BOWLING

Blistering Week Of Big Scores

By RALPH CHATOIAN

It was a blistering week of big scores in Marin County bowling, with two series reaching the 700 mark.

Best of the best was John Schmidt with a 702 series at Greenbrae Lanes, on games of 253, 256 and 193, barely edging Chuck Luby who rolled an even 700 at Country Club Bowl in San Rafael. His games were 202, 242 and 256.

Top scores from the women came from Ann Baccei, 618 (first time over 600) in the Reno League at Country Club Bowl and Penny Conti, 612, third straight week over the 600 mark, in the Ladies 615 Classic at Country Club. Her series included a 255 game and string of seven strikes.

THIS AND THAT — Pins were really falling at Country Club Bowl, 19 series scores 630 or better. . . . In the 910 Travel League Channing Co. shot team games of 1,058, 1,005 and 1,037 for series of 3,100. . . . In the Woodcutters League, Tom Arvold rolled his first 600, a 619, so wife Vickie rolled her first 500, a 532; also Kathy Campbell (114 average) with a 189 and Russ Douglas (142 avg.) a 224 . . . . top individual games fo the week at Nave Lanes came from Clint Brazael, 257, and Doris Malerbi, 234. . . . Marilyn Adams and Gwen Blackburn each picked up the 6-7-10 split in the Gutter Belles at Greenbrae. . . . Julia Robertson converted the 4-7-10 in Ladies 622 Classic at Greenbrae. . . . Jim Watson bowled a 174 triplicate in the Lutheran Early League at Country Club Bowl. . . . Toni Johnson (130 avg.) rolled her first 200, a nice 211 in the San Marin League at Nave Lanes.

STRIKES TO SPARE — Evelyn Norris picked up the 4-7-10 in the TGIF League at Country Club. . . . Linda Walters (120 avg.) rolled 529 in the Kegleret-tes. . . . Helen Godwin (133 avg.) had a 204 line in the Triple Threat League at the San Rafael lanes. . . . In the Bowerettes League at Country Club, Barbara Russell missed a 107 triplicate by two pins and Amy Lee missed by the same amount, although hers would have been for a 170. . . . Mary Lou Kemp bowled her first series over five, a 517 in the St. Isabella's Women's League at Nave's. . . . Yvonne Briggs almost had herself a 145 triplicate in the Classy Lassies but that final 140 game fell just a little short. . . . In the Monday Washday League at Naves Joan Hax missed her 123 triplicate by six pins but Carman Reilly missed her 109 trip by only two.

DOWN THE LANES — In the San Quentin Mixed Fours at Country Cub Bowl Floyd Hines led scores with a 223 but it was Carol Wells who was zeroing in on splits, the 3-7-10 twice and the 5-6-10 once. . . . Which reminds me, the Ball and Chain League at Nave Lanes is made up of employees at San Quentin Prison, natch. . . . That 144 average Bil Hudnell almost had that perfect (144) triplicate, but the final game 137 ended the hopes in the Weekenders League, but Chris Bethards won some league glory when he picked up the very difficult 4-6 split. . . . Scores in the Hi-Lo's League at Country Club Bowl were mostly hi, like John Joseph 608, Elmer Tynes 259--653 and Larry Shaffstall 254.

PICKIN' 'EM UP — Jean Twillman of the Friday Nite Leftovers at Nave Lanes has a 121 average, but had games of 203 and 209 last time out. . . . In the Marin County Mixed Travel League Delores Ray converted the 4-7-9-10 split and Bob and Lu Sharp showed real togetherness, each with a 534 series. . . . Sheila Grove missed her 115 triplicate by two pins in the Gutter Beles . . . Consistent improvement shows in Don Highland's score of 180-181-182 in the Nite Owls at Country Club . . . Cy Raymond takes over high scratch game leader in the Novato Unified Bowlers League, 220. . . . Bob Quezada and Marion Ray were big guns of the 670 Scratch League, Bob with a 657 series and Marion just one pin behind.

JUNIOR HAPPENINGS — In the Preps at Country Club, 12-year-old Jacqui Dorsey (96 avg.) bowled her highest game ever, 186. . . . Rich McPherson rolled 633 series to lead the juniors at Country Club, with young sister Nancy leading the bantams, 312 for two games. Mike Piver, 6, led the Pee Wees just one pin shy of a hundred.

BOWLING TIPS

By MARION LADEWIG

There is no point in crowding the foul line. If you find your self stopping only an inch or two short of the line very often, move your starting point back a few inches to give yourself a safety margin. A foul can be disastrous. One of my teammates used to foul occasionally and it was our suggestion that "he get smaller shoes."

Oregon St. To Invade Stanford

STANFORD (AP) — Oregon State's football team, desperately trying to cure an advanced case of fumbles long enough to keep its perfect Pacific-8 Conference record intact, faces pass-happy Stanford tomorrow at Stadium, 1:30.

The Beavers are tied with Southern California for the conference lead with a 2-0 record and boast the sixth leading rusher in the nation in Bill "Earthquake" Enyart, who has racked up 749 yards in 173 carries.

But Coach Dee Andros is less than enthusiastic over the seven fumbles his club made last week in beating Washington State 16-8. The Beavers have fumbled 28 times in six games.

Stanford is out of the race for the Rose Bowl with its 1-2-1 conference record, but Andros is expecting a tough game.

"We thought Washington State was a good passing team," Andros said. "But wait until you see Stanford. They can really throw the ball around."

Oregon State will be without the services of Donnie Summers, its third leading ground gainer, who suffered a sprained ankle last week and is out for at least 10 days.

Pride At Stake When Tam Meets San Rafael Eleven

There's no title at stake tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. at San Rafael High School, but pride will have someting to do with the outcome when San Rafael and Tamalpais High Schools meet in a Marin County Athletic League football game.

The San Rafael Bulldogs will be trying to savage something out of an injury-filled, disappointing season that has now reached the 1-5 won-lost stage.

The Indians of Tamalpais, Mill Valley, knocked out of the title race in a 13-12 heartbreaking loss to Terra Linda last week, will be trying to put together a good season that could go to 5-3 with victories the rest of the way.

San Rafael should be in better shape to put something together. Three injured veterans return — tackle Tom Barnes, backup quarterback Bruce Nave and guard Tim Ecke.

Nave's injury turned out to be some torn tendons and bruises around the neck instead of the broken collarbone it was thought to be initially.

The could give the Bulldogs a late-game ace-in-the hole for a touchdown bomb.

"We've been real high all week," San Rafael coach Bob Muster said. "The return of those boys has given us a lift. We may be ready to pull an upset."

If they do, they'll have to contend with what is potentially the most explosive offense in the league.

Tam quarterback Don Mackin should do better than he did last week under a fierce Terra Linda rush. And he may open things for the likes of speedster Luther Brown and workhorse fullback Dave Hector.

But the big thing for Tamalpais has been the resurgence of a defense. It finally clicked.

"We just changed things," Tamalpais coach Willie Hector said. "It all came together last week."

It almost clicked for an upset last week. And, going with that offense this week, it will make for a great combination.

Warriors Take On The Hawks

ATLANTA (AP) — The San Francisco Warriors, still wondering what happened to them in Baltimore, moved into Atlanta to play the Hawks tonight in a National Basketball Association game.

The Warriors, for the record, led Baltimore by 19 points in the final quarter Wednesday night but lost to the Bullets 112-110 in overtime.

"We blew it."

That was Warrior Coach George Lee's explanation after Earl Monroe's 28-foot shot with two seconds left in overtime ended the game.

Gus Johnson's basket had tied the game at 104-104 after regulation play. He led the Bullets with 31 points and Monroe

A public service for bachelors

A man chases a girl until she captures him. You're doing the chasing, but she's getting closer and looking better with every step. It's time for the great stallers.

First there is the "I AM LOVED" button for cases where you have just slightly stumbled in your chase. It says volumes and is free, of course.

The second choice speaks more eloquently. It is Wells "I AM LOVED" jewelry ...charms, pendants, necklaces and earrings in real silver and gold ($5 to $25). These say everything you want to say...everything but the date.

See them both here at your "I AM LOVED" headquarters.

MARIN BOWLING

Blistering Week Of Big Scores

By RALPH CHATOIAN

It was a blistering week of big scores in Marin County bowling, with two series reaching the 700 mark.

Best of the best was John Schmidt with a 702 series at Greenbrae Lanes, on games of 253, 256 and 193, barely edging Chuck Luby who rolled an even 700 at Country Club Bowl in San Rafael. His games were 202, 242 and 256.

Top scores from the women came from Ann Baccei, 618 (first time over 600) in the Reno League at Country Club Bowl and Penny Conti, 612, third straight week over the 600 mark, in the Ladies 615 Classic at Country Club. Her series included a 255 game and string of seven strikes.

THIS AND THAT — Pins were really falling at Country Club Bowl, 19 series scores 630 or better. . . . In the 910 Travel League Channing Co. shot team games of 1,058, 1,005 and 1,037 for series of 3,100. . . . In the Woodcutters League, Tom Arvold rolled his first 600, a 619, so wife Vickie rolled her first 500, a 532; also Kathy Campbell (114 average) with a 189 and Russ Douglas (142 avg.) a 224 . . . . top individual games fo the week at Nave Lanes came from Clint Brazael, 257, and Doris Malerbi, 234. . . . Marilyn Adams and Gwen Blackburn each picked up the 6-7-10 split in the Gutter Belles at Greenbrae. . . . Julia Robertson converted the 4-7-10 in Ladies 622 Classic at Greenbrae. . . . Jim Watson bowled a 174 triplicate in the Lutheran Early League at Country Club Bowl. . . . Toni Johnson (130 avg.) rolled her first 200, a nice 211 in the San Marin League at Nave Lanes.

STRIKES TO SPARE — Evelyn Norris picked up the 4-7-10 in the TGIF League at Country Club. . . . Linda Walters (120 avg.) rolled 529 in the Keglerettes. . . Helen Godwin (133 avg.) had a 204 line in the Triple Threat League at the San Rafael lanes. . . . In the Bowerettes League at Country Club, Barbara Russell missed a 107 triplicate by two pins and Amy Lee missed by the same amount, although hers would have been for a 170. . . . Mary Lou Kemp bowled her first series over five, a 517 in the St. Isabella's Women's League at Nave's. . . . Yvonne Briggs almost had herself a 145 triplicate in the Classy Lassies but that final 140 game fell just a little short. . . . In the Monday Washday League at Naves Joan Hax missed her 123 triplicate by six pins but Carman Reilly missed her 109 trip by only two.

DOWN THE LANES — In the San Quentin Mixed Fours at Country Cub Bowl Floyd Hines led scores with a 223 but it was Carol Wells who was zeroing in on splits, the 3-7-10 twice and the 5-6-10 once. . . . Which reminds me, the Ball and Chain League at Nave Lanes is made up of employees at San Quentin Prison, natch. . . . That 144 average Bil Hudnell almost had that perfect (144) triplicate, but the final game 137 ended the hopes in the Weekenders League, but Chris Bethards won some league glory when he picked up the very difficult 4-6 split. . . . Scores in the Hi-Lo's League at Country Club Bowl were mostly hi, like John Joseph 608, Elmer Tynes 259--653 and Larry Shaffstall 254.

PICKIN' 'EM UP — Jean Twillman of the Friday Nite Leftovers at Nave Lanes has a 121 average, but had games of 203 and 209 last time out. . . . In the Marin County Mixed Travel League Delores Ray converted the 4-7-9-10 split and Bob and Lu Sharp showed real togetherness, each with a 534 series. . . . Sheila Grove missed her 115 triplicate by two pins in the Gutter Beles . . . Consistent improvement shows in Don Highland's score of 180-181-182 in the Nite Owls at Country Club . . . Cy Raymond takes over high scratch game leader in the Novato Unified Bowlers League, 220. . . . Bob Quezada and Marion Ray were big guns of the 670 Scratch League, Bob with a 657 series and Marion just one pin behind.

JUNIOR HAPPENINGS — In the Preps at Country Club, 12-year-old Jacqui Dorsey (96 avg.) bowled her highest game ever, 186. . . . Rich McPherson rolled 633 series to lead the juniors at Country Club, with young sister Nancy leading the bantams, 312 for two games. Mike Piver, 6, led the Pee Wees just one pin shy of a hundred.

BOWLING TIPS

By MARION LADEWIG

There is no point in crowding the foul line. If you find your self stopping only an inch or two short of the line very often, move your starting point back a few inches to give yourself a safety margin. A foul can be disastrous. One of my teammates used to foul occasionally and it was our suggestion that "he get smaller shoes."

Oregon St. To Invade Stanford

STANFORD (AP) — Oregon State's football team, desperately trying to cure an advanced case of fumbles long enough to keep its perfect Pacific-8 Conference record intact, faces pass-happy Stanford tomorrow at Stadium, 1:30.

The Beavers are tied with Southern California for the conference lead with a 2-0 record and boast the sixth leading rusher in the nation in Bill "Earthquake" Enyart, who has racked up 749 yards in 173 carries.

But Coach Dee Andros is less than enthusiastic over the seven fumbles his club made last week in beating Washington State 16-8. The Beavers have fumbled 28 times in six games.

Stanford is out of the race for the Rose Bowl with its 1-2-1 conference record, but Andros is expecting a tough game.

"We thought Washington State was a good passing team," Andros said. "But wait until you see Stanford. They can really throw the ball around."

Oregon State will be without the services of Donnie Summers, its third leading ground gainer, who suffered a sprained ankle last week and is out for at least 10 days.

Nobody else builds a car under $2000. with all these features.

The Renault 10 has:
1. 35 m-p.g.
2. 4 doors.
3. 4-wheel disc brakes.
4. 4-speed synchromesh transmission.
5. Top speed 85 m.p.h.
6. 11 cubic feet of trunk capacity.
7. Reclining seats.
8. A sealed liquid cooling system.
9. A 5-main bearing engine.
10. Rack and pinion steering.
11. A separate compartment for spare tire.
12. Engine over the drive wheels.
13. 15 inch wheels.
14. A 2-speed hot water heater and double outlet defroster.
15. Draft free ventilation.
16. 4-wheel independent suspension.

Pride At Stake When Tam Meets San Rafael Eleven

There's no title at stake tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. at San Rafael High School, but pride will have someting to do with the outcome when San Rafael and Tamalpais High Schools meet in a Marin County Athletic League football game.

The San Rafael Bulldogs will be trying to savage something out of an injury-filled, disappointing season that has now reached the 1-5 won-lost stage.

The Indians of Tamalpais, Mill Valley, knocked out of the title race in a 13-12 heartbreaking loss to Terra Linda last week, will be trying to put together a good season that could go to 5-3 with victories the rest of the way.

San Rafael should be in better shape to put something together. Three injured veterans return — tackle Tom Barnes, backup quarterback Bruce Nave and guard Tim Ecke.

Nave's injury turned out to be some torn tendons and bruises around the neck instead of the broken collarbone it was thought to be initially.

The could give the Bulldogs a late-game ace-in-the hole for a touchdown bomb.

"We've been real high all week," San Rafael coach Bob Muster said. "The return of those boys has given us a lift. We may be ready to pull an upset."

If they do, they'll have to contend with what is potentially the most explosive offense in the league.

Tam quarterback Don Mackin should do better than he did last week under a fierce Terra Linda rush. And he may open things for the likes of speedster Luther Brown and workhorse fullback Dave Hector.

But the big thing for Tamalpais has been the resurgence of a defense. It finally clicked.

"We just changed things," Tamalpais coach Willie Hector said. "It all came together last week."

It almost clicked for an upset last week. And, going with that offense this week, it will make for a great combination.

Warriors Take On The Hawks

ATLANTA (AP) — The San Francisco Warriors, still wondering what happened to them in Baltimore, moved into Atlanta to play the Hawks tonight in a National Basketball Association game.

The Warriors, for the record, led Baltimore by 19 points in the final quarter Wednesday night but lost to the Bullets 112-110 in overtime.

"We blew it."

That was Warrior Coach George Lee's explanation after Earl Monroe's 28-foot shot with two seconds left in overtime ended the game.

Gus Johnson's basket had tied the game at 104-104 after regulation play. He led the Bullets with 31 points and Monroe

A man chases a girl until she captures him. You're doing the chasing, but she's getting closer and looking better with every step. It's time for the great stallers.

First there is the "I AM LOVED" button for cases where you have just slightly stumbled in your chase. It says volumes and is free, of course.

The second choice speaks more eloquently. It is Wells "I AM LOVED" jewelry . . . charms, pendants, necklaces and earrings in real silver and gold ($5 to $25). These say everything you want to say . . . everything but the date.

Market Takes Loss Despite Bomb Halt

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed with a loss today after erasing an early advance made on news of the Vietnam bombing halt.

Trading volume ran far behind Thursday's. In the first half hour the ticker tape ran late as prices surged to their best. After that it was downhill all the way until late afternoon when some losses were cut before the bell.

Prices near the close included:

Sinclair, up 3¼ at 102⅛; Southern Pacific, off 1 at 43; Youngstown Sheet, up 2⅞ at 46½; General Motors, off 1 at 86¾; du Pont, off ⅝ at 170½; IBM, up 2 at 309; White Consolidated Industries, off 1⅜ at 33½; Allis Chalmers, up ¾ at 31¾; and Atlantic Richfield, off ⅝ at 103⅜.

Losses outnumbered gains by more than 200 issues on the Big Board.

Analysts noted that a bombing halt had been anticipated in the recent past when the market rallied merely on rumors about it.

"Certainly, the surprise element has been lost and the market is invariably more responsive to the unexpected than to the expected," said Newton D. Zinder of E.F. Hutton & Co.

Prices declined on the American Stock Exchange after an early show of strength.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Fairfield-Noble Corp. Has Good Prospects

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I'm interested in Fairfield-Noble Corp. located near me. Could you inform me about the company as well as how to proceed to invest? — R. K.

A. A trusted banker could probably give you the name of a reliable investment firm in your area. Opening an account is similar to establishing credit for a charge account.

Fairfield-Noble, manufacturer of women's knitted blouses, appears to have investment merit. Its vertically integrated operation — from dyeing to packaging — allows for better cost and quality control.

A 39 per cent sales increase to $24.8 million for fiscal year ended June resulted in an earnings gain of 24 per cent. Records for the past two years include operations of newly acquired Bryant 9, producer of junior sportswear.

A recently completed plant allows Fairfield to do its own dyeing, previously a high-cost item. It also houses a distribution system programmed to handle double the current volume.

Fairfield has increased its highly successful TV advertising campaign on a nationwide scale. These factors help to justify its somewhat rich price earnings multiple.

Q. For the present, I work two days a week but will retire soon. Social Security and a pension will give me $166 a month toward the $400 I need to live on. How can I make up the difference with dividends from the enclosed list of my holdings? — L. M.

A. By selling eight low-yielding issues you will free $21,000 of your capital, leaving $20,000 still invested at $4.8 per cent.

Sales are American Airlines; Commonwealth Oil; Continental Telephone; Head Ski common; Pacific Southwest Airlines; Pike, pfd; U. S. Shoe and Western Microwave.

With $4,000 you can increase your Commonwealth Income Fund to the $10,000 minimum required for their withdrawal plan which will add about $50 to your monthly income. Purchase a $17,000 lifetime annuity. The payments from this plus the dividends from your remaining stock should give you the $400 a month.

Building Maintenance Firm Set To Sell 248,000 Stock Shares

A public offering of 248,000 shares of common stock of American Building Maintenance Industries, San Francisco, is being made by a nationwide investment banking group managed by Lehman Bros. and Sutro and Co.

The stock is priced at $21.50 per share. Of the shares offered, 50,000 shares are being sold by the company and 198,000 by certain shareholders. Plans are to apply for listings on the American and Pacific Coast Stock Exchanges of outstanding common stock upon completion of the offering.

American Building, headed by Theodore Rosenberg of San Rafael and incorporated in 1955 as the successor to a business founded by Rosenberg's father, is engaged in providing janitorial, window cleaning and maintenance services throughout the United States. Other operations include pest extermination and control, air conditioning, heating equipment repair and servicing, elevator installation, parking lots and janitorial supplies.

Part of the net proceeds received by the company from the proposed sale of the 50,000 shares will be used to repay current bank borrowings and the balance will be added to the company's general fund.

GEOTHERMAL RESOURCES INTERNATIONAL, INC., and Supreme Oil and Gas Co. of Mountain View have concluded preliminary negotiations for the acquisition of Supreme by Geothermal, subject to approval of Supreme stockholders and consent of the California Corporations Commissioner. The purchase broadens interests in the production of oil and gas by Geothermal which is a driller of steam wells to generate electricity.

PRENTICE-HALL, INC. has increased its regular cash dividend from 15 to 17 cents, commencing with the Nov. 19 payment. It also declared a 2 per cent stock dividend payable Jan. 6. Record date for both payments is Nov. 15.

OMARK INDUSTRIES, INC. of Portland, Ore., has completed the acquisition of Briles Manufacturing, an El Segundo manufacturer of aerospace fasteners. The transaction closed with the transfer to Briles shareholders of 615,287 shares of Omark common stock. Meanwhile Omark has announced an agreement to acquire Power Brake Equipment Co., headquartered in Portland. Power Brake's automotive line accounts for about 70 per cent of sales, the rest of dental equipment. Per share earnings of Omark for its first fiscal quarter ended Sept. 30 were 48 cents, compared with 20 cents a share in last year's first quarter.

UNITED STATES STEEL CORP. directors have declared a dividend of 60 cents per share on the common stock, payable Dec. 10 to stockholders of record at the close of business on Nov. 8. Third-quarter sales showed a marked decrease from the second quarter of 1968 when customers were making advance purchases in anticipation of an interruption in steel supply.

FAIRCHILD CAMERA AND INSTRUMENT CORP., parent company of Fairchild Semiconductor, reported a loss of $314,000 or 7 cents a share from operations in its third quarter. For the nine-month period, operating profit amounted to $2,373,000 or 55 cents per share. The company has stated that in recent years the semiconductor division "has not achieved its maximum profit potential."

Gold's Outlook On Forum Agenda

SAN FRANCISCO (BW) — The outlook for gold and the dollar and other international issues affecting business will be discussed at the University of California's 1968 executive session at the Fairmont Hotel Wednesday.

Sponsored jointly by the schools of business administration and the California Business Administration Alumni Association, the one day conference with the theme "Business Decisions and the New International Environment" will include talks on monetary fiscal policies, their influences on domestic and international markets, and the outlook for investment in less developed countries.

The speakers will be:

Dr. John B. Condliffe, professor emeritus, economics, U.C., Berkeley; William B. Dale, U.S. executive director, International Monetary Fund; Charles W. Robinson, president and general manager, Marcona Corp., San Francisco, and Rodman C. Rockefeller, president, International Basic Economy Corp.

Market Takes Loss Despite Bomb Halt

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed with a loss today after erasing an early advance made on news of the Vietnam bombing halt.

Trading volume ran far behind Thursday's. In the first half hour the ticker tape ran late as prices surged to their best. After that it was downhill all the way until late afternoon when some losses were cut before the bell.

Prices near the close included:

Sinclair, up 3¼ at 102⅛; Southern Pacific, off 1 at 43; Youngstown Sheet, up 2⅞ at 46½; General Motors, off 1 at 86¾; du Pont, off ⅝ at 170½; IBM, up 2 at 309; White Consolidated Industries, off 1⅜ at 33½; Allis Chalmers, up ¾ at 31¾; and Atlantic Richfield, off ⅝ at 103⅜.

Losses outnumbered gains by more than 200 issues on the Big Board.

Analysts noted that a bombing halt had been anticipated in the recent past when the market rallied merely on rumors about it.

"Certainly, the surprise element has been lost and the market is invariably more responsive to the unexpected than to the expected," said Newton D. Zinder of E.F. Hutton & Co.

Prices declined on the American Stock Exchange after an early show of strength.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Fairfield-Noble Corp. Has Good Prospects

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I'm interested in Fairfield-Noble Corp. located near me. Could you inform me about the company as well as how to proceed to invest? — R. K.

A. A trusted banker could probably give you the name of a reliable investment firm in your area Opening an account is similar to establishing credit for a charge account.

Fairfield-Noble, manufacturer of women's knitted blouses, appears to have investment merit. Its vertically integrated operation — from dyeing to packaging — allows for better cost and quality control.

A 39 per cent sales increase to $24.8 million for fiscal year ended June resulted in an earnings gain of 24 per cent. Records for the past two years include operations of newly acquired Bryant 9, producer of junior sportswear.

A recently completed plant allows Fairfield to do its own dyeing, previously a high-cost item. It also houses a distribution system programmed to handle double the current volume.

Fairfield has increased its highly successful TV advertising campaign on a nationwide scale.

These factors help to justify its somewhat rich price earnings multiple.

Q. For the present, I work two days a week but will retire soon. Social Security and a pension will give me $166 a month toward the $400 I need to live on. How can I make up the difference with dividends from the enclosed list of my holdings? — L. M.

A. By selling eight low-yielding issues you will free $21,000 of your capital, leaving $20,000 still invested at $4.8 per cent.

Sales are American Airlines; Commonwealth Oil; Continental Telephone; Head Ski common; Pacific Southwest Airlines; Pike, pfd; U. S. Shoe and Western Microwave.

With $4,000 you can increase your Commonwealth Income Fund to the $10,000 minimum required for their withdrawal plan which will add about $50 to your monthly income. Purchase a $17,000 lifetime annuity. The payments from this plus the dividends from your remaining stock should give you the $400 a month.

ALMANAC

Today is Friday, Nov. 1, the 306th day of 1968 with 60 to follow.

The moon is between its first quarter and full phase. The morning stars are Mercury, Mars and Jupiter. The evening stars are Saturn and Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1864 the Post Office Department introduced the money order system.

In 1918 the Hapsburg monarchy of Austria Hungary was dissolved. Budapest became the capital of the Hungarian Republic and Vienna the capital of Austria.

In 1961 Premier Castro ruled that international bodies could not check to see if Soviet missiles had been removed from Cuba.

In 1965, a bus plunged into the Nile and 62 persons were killed in Cairo, Egypt.

A thought for the day: Pope Pius XII said, "American people have a genius for splendor and unselfish action, and into the hands of America, GOD has placed the destinies of afflicted humanity."

Horrors Of Horrors: A Defeat At Slam Level With 29 Points

If you're working on a scientific method to bid 29-point hands don't wake me up when you've finished. You should get a hand of this strength about once every Friday the 13th, with results appropriate to that day.

NO SYSTEM

Today's South had no particular system for bidding his powerhouse. He just bulled his way to a slam, but it didn't bring him any lasting happiness.

South took the ace of diamonds , drew two rounds of trumps, overtook the queen of diamonds with dummy's king and tried a finesse with the queen of hearts.

SURRENDERS HEART

South then cashed the ace of hearts and gave up a heart. East unkindly returned a trump, and South eventually had to lose a second heart. Down one.

South's line of play was not absolutely guaranteed to fail: if the six missing hearts had broken 3-3 declarer would have landed on his feet. Leaving one trump in the dummy didn't help regardless of which opponent had the last trump. If West had the last trump, East would have led a fourth heart to let West overruff the dummy.

TOO MANY TRUMPS

There was a way to make the slam, but South drew too many trumps. Declarer should draw just one round of trumps and should then lead a low heart. The defenders should return a trump to South's hand. Now, with one heart given up and two trumps drawn, South overtakes the queen of diamonds with dummy's king in order to try a finesse with the queen of hearts.

When the finesse wins, South has something to hope for: that the opponent with the last trump also has length in hearts. South cashes the ace of hearts and ruffs his last heart in dummy. Then, thanks to a finesse and a lucky break in spades, South can brag about his magnificent bidding.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two no trump, the negative response.

You will have a chance to show your diamond support later. Your first duty is to state that you have a very weak hand. Otherwise, partner may get to an unmakeable slam.

Hope For Peace At Last With Real Negotiations

It is far too early to cry "hosanna!" for peace in Vietnam, but President Johnson's announcement last evening offers the first real hope since the United States became involved in that messy war.

It offers hope because it meets the condition that has been insisted upon by Ho Chi Minh consistently since January, 1966, as the irrevocable precondition to peace negotiations: cessation of United States bombing of North Vietnam.

It offers hope also because it contains evidence that Hanoi, too, has given a little from its previous stand. It has agreed to participation by the South Vietnamese government in the Paris talks.

IT OFFERS HOPE additionally because the President, in rather casually mentioning that "the NLF will be there, too," revealed that another pre-condition has been met in permitting participation by the National Liberation Front, which — whether we like it or not — probably speaks for more people in South Vietnam than does the Thieu government.

An it offers greater hope still in the President's assurance that our military command has agreed cessation of the bombing will not increase the threat to American lives in the embattled Southeast Asian country.

THE PRESIDENT would not say on what this confidence is based. The diminution of Vietnam casualties in recent weeks offers a clue. What lies behind this lull in fighting, we will learn in time; but for now, we must take it on trust.

Cynics may greet the President's announcement with the retort that we could have halted bombing any time, that we could have permitted NLF participation (whether as official members of the negotiating council may be academic) at any time.

We could. But Ho and Thieu have not been willing to have their representatives sit down together in Paris at any time, nor has Thieu been willing that the NLF be allowed there at all. And there has been no assurance that a bomb halt would not step up attacks on American troops. Now, according to the President, there is such assurance. Now Thieu is willing to participate, with the NLF represented. And now Ho is willing to talk with Thieu.

All this gives substance to the peace rumors that have been floating out of Paris — and out of such other places as Bangkok and Vientiane — in recent days.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON'S bomb halt announcement comes on the eve of a national election. It will probably help the chances of Hubert Humphrey. If it does not remove the heavy handicap under which he has labored as a part of the Johnson administration, at least it lightens it.

In this sense, Vietnam negotiations become a political aid to Humphrey — as the lack of them has been a political aid to Nixon.

We may be sure that President Johnson tried hard to get the negotiations going before election, to help his party. We may be surer still that he will try even harder to have them produce an agreement before he retires from office on Jan. 20.

We hope he makes it. Whoever is elected President next Tuesday — be it Humphrey or Nixon — will have tremendous problems to solve in the next four years without the Vietnam War.

Acorns Valuable

As everyone knows, acorns are fruit of the oak tree and there are plenty of both in Marin. Acorns are a rich source of carbohydrates and proteins for our wild animals.

It is estimated that the average yield per oak tree is 5,000 acorns per year, but this is probably a bit too high for Marin's indigenous live oak. However, each October and November finds the ground under the oaks liberally sprinkled with these soft-shelled nuts.

Many birds and animals depend on acorns as a seasonal food. It is guessed that mice and deer account for three fourths of the acorns. But squirrels and wood rats are heavy acorn feeders, too.

Among the birds, doves, quail, nuthatches, jays, starlings and crows are fond of acorns. All told, more than 200 species of birds and mammals are

Bonds Or Else —Here Are Choices

I have been following with great interest your articles on the Tamalpais High School District. It is time to reflect what is really at stake in this Tam District bond proposal. It is all too easy to become frustrated at high taxes, out of control young people and the new education philosophies. Many of us have been critical of the high school district. But what does the No vote gain besides possibly a moment's fleeting satisfaction? It wll not ease any of the frustrations and will only serve to block the building of desperately needed new classrooms.

When bonds fail, as they have twice already, there are alternatives to building needed classrooms. There can be double sessions where 14 to 18 year olds attend school for half of the day and are free from school responsibilities the remainder of the day. . . . There can be year-round use of the school with a revolving vacation plan. . . . More portables might be stacked double-decker at schools like Drake. . . .Perhaps a system could be devised where students attend classes only two and a half days a week, permitting a double enrollment. A vote against the Tam bonds is a vote for just such unsatisfactory alternatives as these.

Furthermore, a No vote certainly won't save money. For the same money it will cost to build a school for 800 in San Geronimo today, a school for 1,500 students was proposed 2 years ago. . . .Every year our money buys less school . . .

Let Only Americans Stand Guard Tonight

The smear campaign against Dr. Max Rafferty, candidate for the United States Senate, is reaching a crescendo of malice, absurdity, and irresponsibility.

It began six years ago, when he first ran for the office of state superintendent of public instruction. His vigorous opposition to "progressive" education had earned for him the enmity of certain extremely vocal elements. . . .

Perhaps these industrious smear artists fail to realize that they are actually telling more about themselves than about their intended victim. Max was guilty of patriotism, which they seem to regard as the seven deadly sins rolled into one. He was an "agitator" because he handed out American flags. Their proteges parade under the flag of the Viet Cong, the hammer and sickle, and the black flag of anarchy. . . .

Every thinking citizen is concerned about the weighty problem, both foreign and domestic, which hang over our heads. Let us remember the admonition of George Washington at a time of peril, "Let only Americans stand guard tonight."

Vote For Wallace: It Can't Be Worse

In 1787 Ben Franklin gave us a good republic in our Constitution of the United States of America. Then along came the "spoiler" Alger Hiss with his secret pact with Molotov in 1945 to the effect a Communist (Red) would always have USSR as United Nations undersecretary-general for political and security affairs. That's the reason we can't declare a war when we are at war nor win one.

Since beginning the trap was set in United Nations we have had both Democrat and Republican Presidents and neither of these parties gave us a leader that had the guts to break this "Down with American" Constitution pact. Seems breaking pacts is privilege reserved only for the Communists. . . .

Maybe Wallace will be our next president. With Wallace we'll have at least a change. It can't be worse . . .

Humphrey Record On Civil Rights

A young woman asked me recently what was Vice President Humphrey's stand on civil rights. I gasped and said, "Why, he practically invented civil rights! It was Humphrey who, in 1948, forced a civil rights plank in the Democratic platform — the first such plank in any party's platform."

My questioner shrugged as if to say, "But that was long ago." Then I remembered that Hubert Humphrey is of my generation and young people today care little about the battles we fought 20 years ago. Unlike me, however, Humphrey did not quit fighting. In 1964, he was in charge of the history-making civil rights bill that passed Congress that year, the law that put teeth into the idea of equal rights for all Americans.

For four months, Humphrey spent from 12 to 15 hours a day in the Senate fighting for that bill with skill and good humor. The last week of the Senate debate on the bill, Humphrey learned that his son had cancer of the lymphatic glands. Despite his private anguish, Humphrey made a decision vital to us all. His wife stayed with their boy; he stayed with his Senate responsibilities. Today, that son is well and the civil rights bill of 1964 is law. 1964 was not very long ago even if 1948 seems so.

Speculators Back Proposition 9

A recent ad in the I-J urging a yes vote on Proposition 9, sponsored by the Marin County Real Estate Board, was very impressive. Mainly it impressed me to be sure and vote NO. We all know that board is not philanthropic. It is comprised, in the main, by land speculators. Passage of the proposition will give such persons a huge tax break. The money they save will have to be made up by single family home owners and renters who will get no tax relief. A food tax will have to be installed, plus an increase in sales and income tax. . .

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Nixon Avoids Identification With Extreme Political Right

(Editor's note: Roscoe Drummond will speak in the Fine Arts Building theater at College of Marin at 8:15 p.m. today on "The State of the World.")

LOS ANGELES — Richard Nixon's campaign shows he wants to avoid becoming the prisoner of the political right.

If elected, Nixon would be a minority President only in the sense that, because of the three-way race, he would get less than 50 per cent of the popular vote.

But he would soon emerge as the President favored by a large conservative coalition made up of his own supporters, some disaffected Democrats and many Wallaceites which will almost certainly dominate the voting next Tuesday.

AT FIRST SIGHT this might look very inviting to a President who will need all the public backing he can muster from whatever source in order to govern effectively.

But from nearly everything he has been saying and doing since his nomination, it is apparent that Nixon is aiming to build by his actions, present and future, a different coalition — one moored firmly at the broad political center.

That's where Nixon sees himself standing and it is from this vantage point he expects to fashion a new governing majority.

This explains why Nixon is sharply separating himself from the hard-core Wallace supporters and why, at the same time, he is carefully avoiding personal attacks on President Johnson, though criticizing Johnson policies.

NIXON QUITE purposefully is not courting the extreme right in his own party or the extreme right in the Democratic Party. And he obviously wants no part of the disgruntled, pacifist, let-the-aggressors-have-their-way New Left, which can agree on nothing but to obstruct and tear down.

By spurning the New Left and rejecting the far right (Republican and Democratic) Nixon shows that he believes he can become the catalyst of a wide and durable coalition of moderate conservatives and moderate liberals who will be responsive to his type of non-doctrinaire, get - things - done pragmatism.

His objective is to find practical answers to the nation's racial and social problems and his search is for what is most workable regardless of whether his measures get labeled conservative or liberal.

THERE IS NO doubt that Nixon is conservative in that he wants to arrest the flow of power to Washington by sharing federal funds and returning political initiative to state and local government and in that he doesn't assume that appropriating a billion dollars is necessarily the best way of solving a problem. But he is not likely to be the type of conservative who tends to use conservative words as a device to justify doing nothing.

Nixon's campaign statements seem just as insistent as Hubert Humphrey's that law and order cannot be achieved in a vacuum of government indifference to the causes of lawlessness and disorder. Humphrey says that civil order and civil progress must come simultaneously and that one cannot be achieved without the other. Nixon says he stands for "law, order and justice" and that the nation cannot win respect for law unless it has laws which deserve respect.

This is the stand aimed to rally the political center.

NIXON WAS first to say that, if elected, he would appoint a bipartisan Cabinet which would include outstanding Democrats and Republicans.

This is a stand aimed to rally the political center.

It seems to me that the main thrust of his campaign indicates that Nixon is looking ahead and is aiming to avert becoming the prisoner of the conservative tide now visible in the nation and to build a coalition of middle-road supporters from both parties appealing to a wide cross section of Americans except the extremists of the left and the right.

He sees such a coalition as enabling him to govern with needed flexibility and it could be a coalition which might endure for a long time.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Humphrey Is Gaining, But Is It Too Late?

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

EN ROUTE WITH HUMPHREY — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey has come a long way from the "politics of joy," but his Democratic presidential campaign is beginning to move up at last.

The question is, of course: Has the movement come too late to overtake Republican candidate Richard M. Nixon?

The final answer to that question may lie in a variety of circumstances which are beyond Humphrey's control. He is campaigning, however, as if he could single-handedly even the odds, before election day, by an act of personal stamina and will.

IT WAS TO HAVE been a "unity" campaign which Humphrey announced last spring, a presidential campaign suffused with the "politics of joy." Democratic party unity was already frayed, however, and it was completely torn by the turbulent Democratic national convention.

Toil quickly replaced joy as Humphrey's campaign hallmark. Long ago the vice president began to go all-out. He is running for President just as hard as he can.

He is crisscrossing the country, making six to eight appearances in each 14 to 18-hour day. He is hoarse by noon. He is tired, of course, and almost always he talks too long. When he concludes, with an underdog's plaintive plea for support, his voice breaks like a bad baritone's.

If the simple joy has gone out of all this, a good deal of humor remains. Humphrey wryly explained his own plight to a group of Los Angeles clergymen last week.

"It's a little like trying to give eight good sermons a day," he said, "and, in the meantime, trying to take up the collection and keep the church open."

THERE REALLY is something of the evangelist's sermons in Humphrey's electioneering, as the campaign nears its end.

Basically, he is selling the record — his own record as a champion of liberal causes and the record of Democratic administrations since Franklin Roosevelt. A single speech may call all the turns from the first Social Security bill through Head Start and the nuclear non-proliferation treaty.

There is a fervor to the salesmanship, however, when Humphrey promises top priority to ending the war in Vietnam. He tells his audiences that they can trust him, and he looks hopefully to the day when the world will enjoy an atmosphere of "common trust."

There is a fervor, too, in the candidate's attacks on his two opponents. One of them, he says, is a "crude demagogue," while the other is "more subtle."

On occasion it can all be quite effective, but often it is not. What starts as fervor becomes, after a while, just a high noise level. As Humphrey wears on, some audiences wear out.

WHATEVER the short-range effects of Humphrey's campaigning, there seems to be no question but that his fortunes are now improving. Humphrey's aides say there is no doubt about it, and the polls seem to agree.

Again, however, is it all happening too late?

Humphrey's top strategists say privately that they aren't sure. They say they don't know how much of a lead must be erased by next Tuesday.

It is estimated that the average yield per oak tree is 5,000 acorns per year, but this is probably a bit too high for Marin's indigenous live oak. However, each October and November finds the ground under the oaks liberally sprinkled with these soft-shelled nuts.

Many birds and animals depend on acorns as a seasonal food. It is guessed that mice and deer account for three fourths of the acorns. But squirrels and wood rats are heavy acorn feeders, too.

Among the birds, doves, quail, nuthatches, jays, starlings and crows are fond of acorns. All told, more than 200 species of birds and mammals are

Bonds Or Else —Here Are Choices

I have been following with great interest your articles on the Tamalpais High School District. It is time to reflect what is really at stake in this Tam District bond proposal. It is all too easy to become frustrated at high taxes, out of control young people and the new education philosophies. Many of us have been critical of the high school district. But what does the No vote gain besides possibly a moment's fleeting satisfaction? It wll not ease any of the frustrations and will only serve to block the building of desperately needed new classrooms.

When bonds fail, as they have twice already, there are alternatives to building needed classrooms. There can be double sessions where 14 to 18 year olds attend school for half of the day and are free from school responsibilities the remainder of the day. . . . There can be year-round use of the school with a revolving vacation plan. . . . More portables might be stacked double-decker at schools like Drake. . . .Perhaps a system could be devised where students attend classes only two and a half days a week, permitting a double enrollment. A vote against the Tam bonds is a vote for just such unsatisfactory alternatives as these.

Furthermore, a No vote certainly won't save money. For the same money it will cost to build a school for 800 in San Geronimo today, a school for 1,500 students was proposed 2 years ago. . . .Every year our money buys less school . . .

Let Only Americans Stand Guard Tonight

The smear campaign against Dr. Max Rafferty, candidate for the United States Senate, is reaching a crescendo of malice, absurdity, and irresponsibility.

It began six years ago, when he first ran for the office of state superintendent of public instruction. His vigorous opposition to "progressive" education had earned for him the enmity of certain extremely vocal elements. . . .

Perhaps these industrious smear artists fail to realize that they are actually telling more about themselves than about their intended victim. Max was guilty of patriotism, which they seem to regard as the seven deadly sins rolled into one. He was an "agitator" because he handed out American flags. Their proteges parade under the flag of the Viet Cong, the hammer and sickle, and the black flag of anarchy. . . .

Every thinking citizen is concerned about the weighty problem, both foreign and domestic, which hang over our heads. Let us remember the admonition of George Washington at a time of peril, "Let only Americans stand guard tonight."

Vote For Wallace: It Can't Be Worse

In 1787 Ben Franklin gave us a good republic in our Constitution of the United States of America. Then along came the "spoiler" Alger Hiss with his secret pact with Molotov in 1945 to the effect a Communist (Red) would always have USSR as United Nations undersecretary-general for political and security affairs. That's the reason we can't declare a war when we are at war nor win one.

Since beginning the trap was set in United Nations we have had both Democrat and Republican Presidents and neither of these parties gave us a leader that had the guts to break this "Down with American" Constitution pact. Seems breaking pacts is privilege reserved only for the Communists. . . .

Maybe Wallace will be our next president. With Wallace we'll have at least a change. It can't be worse . . .

Humphrey Record On Civil Rights

A young woman asked me recently what was Vice President Humphrey's stand on civil rights. I gasped and said, "Why, he practically invented civil rights! It was Humphrey who, in 1948, forced a civil rights plank in the Democratic platform — the first such plank in any party's platform."

My questioner shrugged as if to say, "But that was long ago." Then I remembered that Hubert Humphrey is of my generation and young people today care little about the battles we fought 20 years ago. Unlike me, however, Humphrey did not quit fighting. In 1964, he was in charge of the history-making civil rights bill that passed Congress that year, the law that put teeth into the idea of equal rights for all Americans.

For four months, Humphrey spent from 12 to 15 hours a day in the Senate fighting for that bill with skill and good humor. The last week of the Senate debate on the bill, Humphrey learned that his son had cancer of the lymphatic glands. Despite his private anguish, Humphrey made a decision vital to us all. His wife stayed with their boy; he stayed with his Senate responsibilities. Today, that son is well and the civil rights bill of 1964 is law. 1964 was not very long ago even if 1948 seems so.

Speculators Back Proposition 9

A recent ad in the I-J urging a yes vote on Proposition 9, sponsored by the Marin County Real Estate Board, was very impressive. Mainly it impressed me to be sure and vote NO. We all know that board is not philanthropic. It is comprised, in the main, by land speculators. Passage of the proposition will give such persons a huge tax break. The money they save will have to be made up by single family home owners and renters who will get no tax relief. A food tax will have to be installed, plus an increase in sales and income tax. . .

Nixon Avoids Identification With Extreme Political Right

(Editor's note: Roscoe Drummond will speak in the Fine Arts Building theater at College of Marin at 8:15 p.m. today on "The State of the World.")

LOS ANGELES — Richard Nixon's campaign shows he wants to avoid becoming the prisoner of the political right.

If elected, Nixon would be a minority President only in the sense that, because of the three-way race, he would get less than 50 per cent of the popular vote.

But he would soon emerge as the President favored by a large conservative coalition made up of his own supporters, some disaffected Democrats and many Wallaceites which will almost certainly dominate the voting next Tuesday.

AT FIRST SIGHT this might look very inviting to a President who will need all the public backing he can muster from whatever source in order to govern effectively.

But from nearly everything he has been saying and doing since his nomination, it is apparent that Nixon is aiming to build by his actions, present and future, a different coalition — one moored firmly at the broad political center.

That's where Nixon sees himself standing and it is from this vantage point he expects to fashion a new governing majority.

This explains why Nixon is sharply separating himself from the hard-core Wallace supporters and why, at the same time, he is carefully avoiding personal attacks on President Johnson, though criticizing Johnson policies.

NIXON QUITE purposefully is not courting the extreme right in his own party or the extreme right in the Democratic Party. And he obviously wants no part of the disgruntled, pacifist, let-the-aggressors-have-their-way New Left, which can agree on nothing but to obstruct and tear down.

Humphrey Is Gaining, But Is It Too Late?

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

EN ROUTE WITH HUMPHREY — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey has come a long way from the "politics of joy," but his Democratic presidential campaign is beginning to move up at last.

The question is, of course: Has the movement come too late to overtake Republican candidate Richard M. Nixon?

The final answer to that question may lie in a variety of circumstances which are beyond Humphrey's control. He is campaigning, however, as if he could single-handedly even the odds, before election day, by an act of personal stamina and will.

IT WAS TO HAVE been a "unity" campaign which Humphrey announced last spring, a presidential campaign suffused with the "politics of joy." Democratic party unity was already frayed, however, and it was completely torn by the turbulent Democratic national convention.

Toil quickly replaced joy as Humphrey's campaign hallmark. Long ago the vice president began to go all-out. He is running for President just as hard as he can.

He is crisscrossing the country, making six to eight appearances in each 14 to 18-hour day. He is hoarse by noon. He is tired, of course, and almost always he talks too long. When he concludes, with an underdog's plaintive plea for support, his voice breaks like a bad baritone's.

If the simple joy has gone out of all this, a good deal of humor remains. Humphrey wryly explained his own plight to a group of Los Angeles clergymen last week.

"It's a little like trying to give eight good sermons a day," he said, "and, in the meantime, trying to ta the collection and kee church open."

Project Breakthrough Appears Right Approach At Right Time

Project Breakthrough, the latest effort to interest black students in their education, seems, as one black observer said earlier this week, at last to be the right program at the right time. Its chances for success, unlike those of many other War on Poverty and allied programs, seem very great.

Project Breakthrough is a multipronged approach to "turning on" black students to education. In the months ahead it will work with black students at Tamalpais High School, dealing with their school problems through counseling and tutoring; attempt to interest them in extracurricular school activities through the Ashanti Club, the high school's black student union; help them with job training through field trips and counseling and work with parents to develop community and family incentive for educational success.

THE KEY to black success is to make black students believe they can control their own destiny and that education is the major means to gaining that control, according to Lanny Berry, project director.

The project's headquarters, the Harriet Tubman House, the former Rosa Building in Marin City, was dedicated Monday in a brief but moving ceremony attended by more than 250 persons, 150 of whom were seventh and eighth grade students from Martin Luther King Jr. school in Sausalito. Unfortunately, few of the 165 black students at Tamalpais High School, the ones for whom the program is intended, were able to attend.

Sen Mervyn M. Dymally, D-Los Angeles, predicted the project would be a model for similar approaches to stimulating black education throughout the nation.

PERHAPS the most moving portion of the dedication came when 10-year-old John Times read the essay on Harriet Tubman which won the contest to rename the Rosa Building.

John wrote and read: "She was a black woman that ran away from slavery and saved more Negroes from the white man. The white man had our brothers and sisters on hands and knees. Harriet took our brothers and sisters from slavery.

"She came back for more and more, traveling at night and hiding in the day, following the north star.

"Some white but mostly black people helped her hide slaves in homes and fields. She had trouble with the white man, and one black man was scared to go so Harriet said you come or you die."

Harriet Tubman is probably one of the best known black heroines of slavery days for her work on the underground railroad.

In my grammar, high school and college education, information on black history was unavailable and I learned about Harriet Tubman as an adult by viewing a television series a few years ago about black figures in history.

AT THE END of Monday's dedication ceremony, a San Francisco reporter approached Doug Quiett, one of the speakers, and asked: "Who is Harriet Tubman, a civil rights leader?"

This incident, noted Doug later, was a microcosm of the problem of communication and understanding between blacks and whites. If white society doesn't know the history and source of black attitudes and problems, how can it possibly deal with them in the modern context?

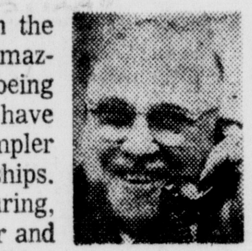
Passing Of Longtime Friend, And Election Year Happenings



Fusselman

Sure it's grand to be around more than the normal allotted years, to know of all the amazing achievements and to watch history being written page by page, day by day and to have your memories of days when life was simpler and there was time to enjoy deep friendships. But there are times of sadness, ever occuring, when you hear of a friend and then another and another whom you will not be seeing or talking to again.

The news that Jim Kehoe, my old sidekick on the board, had joined the ranks of those was pretty rough to take. He called me on my birthday just a few weeks ago and reminded me that he and Charlie Reilly and I had had a dinner date promised for about a year and a half that should be taken care of. When we were about to hang up, Jim said, "Hey, listen, you still like venison? I'll be sending you down some." Charlie Reilly was the Marin County Fire Department Chief for a number of years while Jim was on the board.

I had planned to pay tribute to my good bluff Irish friend, who stood so tall in the saddle, but Jack Craemer did it so well last Saturday that there is not much more can be said. Happy hunting, Jim.

SOME MONTHS back I wrote, "This is the year of the righteous — election year." And mister, was that calling the turn? Along about 40 years ago there was a supervisor out Novato way who was never able to get much road work done until election year — then was he righteous!

It's too bad each taxpaying homeowner wasn't furnished with page 15 of this year's county budget. It shows the comaprison, year by year, back to 1958-59. It shows in dollars and cents the assessed values, budget requirements, tax rate and taxes paid. This is shown in total and per capita. Would that punch a hole in somebody's toy balloon?

Here is one pip. In Alan Bruce's (county administrator) budget message, he says this: "Your instructions have been carried out. Not only has the tax rate been held (actually reduced) but the total budget increase in only 1.1 per cent." Then when you turn to page 15, you find the figures of Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell which shows 6.6 per cent.

The budget last year was $27,942,178 — this year $29,785,001. Assessed valuations are up 16.6 per cent. Property taxes are up 4.5 per cent. So, all the cheering about lowering the tax rate 3 cents amounts to just some more hoo-malli-malli — the Brasilia brand.

CONSIDER THIS: Even if those who are claiming great credit for lowering the tax rate this year were actually leveling with us, what were they doing the past three years? The increase of assessed valuations by 16.6 per cent; from $534,516,696 to $562,030,763 was taken full advantage of.

And you "aint heard nothin' yet." Wait until the maintenance cost of the expanded complex out there is heard from.

MORE OF WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Double Taxation Of Real Property

America's private wealth, in stocks, bonds, notes, bank accounts and real estate, is subject to income taxation. An investment in real estate, however, is subject to double taxation, it also pays a "possessory tax."

The "possessory tax" or property tax on real estate carries the same burden of "people related service expenses" today as it did before the institution of the income tax and the sales tax. . . .

Proposition 9, designed to correct this inequity, is opposed not on a basis of right or wrong but by the question, "If we let the homeowner off the hook who is going to pay for these services?"

Proposition 9 allows the Legislature five years to resolve this question completely and certainly a broader and more honest basis is available to correct this unjust situation.

Wisdom In Choice Of Vice President

The vice president carries on, despite a heavy albatross around his neck, the Texan and the hecklers, but in the business world we don't blame a corporation vice president for the mistakes of the head of the company, and Humphrey surely shoudn't be blamed for L.B.J.'s many fumbles, both here and abroad. . . .

And so I plead with my fellow voters to judge Mr. Humphrey solely on his own record, the judgment he has displayed in his long and distinguished service in the Senate, his life-long compassion for those who have gotten the short end of the stick, both black and white, his willingness to face and debate the vital issues confronting this troubled land of ours, and of paramount importance, the wisdom he displayed in choosing his running mate.

When he selected Senator Muskie, he named a man eminently qualified to fill the top post should fatal illness, or an assassin's bullet move still another vice president on to 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue. . . .

And what did Mr. Nixon do in choosing a running mate?

To cut Reagan and Rockefeller off at the pass and capture those much needed southern delegates he named Spiro Who? — probably the least qualified man ever to run for the vice presidency. . . .

And in making that self-serving but unfortunate public interest choice, the man we Californians had refused to elect governor proved again that expediency, not merit or fundamentals, so often determines Nixon's conduct and judgments. . . .

And doesn't it make you shudder, despair too, of America's future, that a man so limited in experience, so unwise in his utterances and so incompletely lacking in demonstrated ability, would be only a heart beat away from the most important office in the world should Nixon win Nov. 5?

Voters across the land also regret and deplore Nixon's refusal to debate the vital issues with Humphrey, especially so since he wrote in a widely read national magazine just four short years ago that televsied debates between presidential candidates "serve the public." And he also said such debates insure "better informed voters and in the end a better president." . . .

This plea is penned by a deeply disturbed citizen, normally a Democrat who never-the-less spent time and money helping get Eisenhower nominated, did not vote for Truman, did vote for Wilkie, tried hard to help get Rockefeller nominated in '64 and again this year, and before that shameful convention in Chicago gave financial support and his vote to Gene McCarthy much as he regrets McCarthy's unfortunate silence since the convention. In short, a voter who, like so many of you, attempts to judge the man and his actual record, not just read the label.

Many are tempted not to vote this year, saying all three candidates are unworthy of support . . . But we all should vote, especially this year when so much is at stake, so many serious problems to be intelligently dealt with both at home and abroad. . . .

Over Reaction To Proposition A

I am bewildered by the immoderate and ferocious response of the anti-gun control people in Marin County to such a mild piece of legislation as Proposition A. . . .

Certainly, none of us who want stricter gun controls have any desire to take guns away from hunters, and we commend the National Rifle Association for its efforts over many years to teach safety in the handling of firearms to our youth.

The sensible reaction would seem to be that of a person to whom I was talking recently. He said, "I'm a hunter, and I like to hunt, but I realize that something has to be done about guns."

It seems to me that some gun owners are inviting restrictive legislation on this matter by over-reacting to efforts of the majority of us who are attempting to find a sensible and unrepressive means of cutting down the excessive death rate from firearms. . . .

Price Goes Higher If Bonds Defeated

The Tam High School District is now educationg 600 more students than it can adequately accommodate and the situation becomes increasingly critical the longer we delay. As a business man, I am particularly concerned that the cost of building is increasing at such a rate that the present bond issue of $10.9 million will cost about $1 million more if delayed until next year. This is our third attempt in three years to provide an adequate building program for our district — let's all go to bat and not strike out. Vote "Yes" on Proposition B.

Women Voters Support Prop. 1

The Leagues of Women Voters of Southern and Central Marin were disappointed with your editorial of Oct. 9, opposing passage of Proposition 1 for revising the state constitution.

The editorial criticized the revision on two points — those of elected officials, and pay raises for elected officials. The League of Women Voters believes the constitution should provide local government with as much flexibility as possible for self-government. Given the variety of geography and population of California counties, it seems unreasonable to impose the same governmental structure on all of them. You did not draw attention to the fact that the existing constitution permits the Legislature to provide for the appointment, rather than election, of county Boards of Supervisors. The proposed revision requires election of at least the governing body, leaving the number of other officers and their method of selection flexible for the local boards and the Legislature (not just the Supervisors) to determine by statute on an individual county basis.

If the governing body of a county is to exercise home rule effectively, it must be given responsibility. A board of supervisors should not merely execute rules handed down from the state but must have its own powers so it may truly meet the needs of local constituents. A major tool and responsibility is the ability to adjust pay scales to the changing economy so that qualified persons will serve as county officers. The proposed revision would make this possible.

The League of Women Voters has studied constitution revision for many years and our members overwhelmingly agree on the need for modernization of California's outdated document. We believe this second set of revision proposals set out in Proposition 1 provides an orderly and simplified constitution enabling the state government to deal with problems efficiently, flexibly and with responsibility clearly fixed. We hope you will be able to support Proposition 1, as you supported revision in the past.

Vote For Children By Passing Bonds

The voters of Southern Marin are being asked to approve a high school bond issue of $10,900,000. The last two attempts to raise money for capital expenditures failed. How will it fare this time?

No matter how much I and my fellow citizens dislike the idea of higher taxes. No matter that we disagree with some of the actions of the Tamalpais Union High School District Board. One has to come to the realization that we cannot afford the privilege of again turning down the proposal to build and renovate needed high school facilities at San Geronomo, Tiburon, Drake, Redwood and Tamalpais. The need is now and obviously will become more pressing before the buildings are completed.

I encourage all to vote for our children and for children yet to come, and thus insure for us all a high school system of which we can be proud.

'Pox On Bagley' For U.C. Proposal

With all the freaks, beared grass-blowing red flag wavers tearing up the U. C. Berkeley Campus, Assemblyman Willy Bagley, U. C. alumnus and legislator extraordinaire, has the gall to come forth with an ipso-facto approval of such conduct by indirectly attacking the few members of the board of regents who have taken a hard-nosed stand against campus violence and disruption.

One doesn't have to look far for reasons why a long active Republican, such as myself, becomes disgusted with his own party. Bagley has continually attacked both Governor Reagan and Dr. Max Rafferty over their stands on the crisis in Berkeley, and now, he wants them removed from the board of regents. Bagley is essentially defending the "academic freedom" of the professional "acidheads" and revolutionaries in Berkeley, those whose academic valor consists of throwing bricks at police, using four letter nasties, and calling for anarchy and destruction. Elderly Appreciate Right To Vote

I recently volunteered to help aged patients in a local rest home apply for absentee ballots. Most of these people were so infirm or physically handicapped that it was a struggle for them to sign their names. Yet, every one bent to the task eagerly, clinging to their right to vote.

What a contrast to those who are so indifferent that they will not bother to vote at all, and so will have nobody but themselves to blame if the next President or local supervisor is not to their liking! In the same way, those who vote "No" on all three major presidential candidates, or write in the name of a non-candidate, are disenfranchising themselves.

Perhaps it is still possible to learn from those who are over 30 — or even over 70!

Student Speaks Up For School Bonds

As a senior at Sir Francis Drake High School I have watched, for three years, more and more students forced into the space of Drake's facilities. For three years I have watched the addition of temporary (portable) classrooms, giving me the feeling of a temporary education. I hope the voters realize that portables are only a stop-gap measure to avoid finally the inevitable step of split sessions. It is extremely ironic that it is because of money, that the bonds might not pass, and if the bonds don't pass and split sessions go into effect, the people of Marin will be giving their children a Mississippi level education at Marin County prices.

Realizing that relief can't come for at least two years, it becomes doubly important that the bonds be passed now for the conditions at all the schools can only get worse.

Twice, voters uninformed of the overcrowded conditions at all three Tam District high schools have voted the bonds down. It is this type of ignorance that shakes my faith in "American democracy."

I certainly hope, for the sake of elementary and junior high school children that this bond proposal be passed.

Long-Suffering Support Prop. 9

Your paper has printed many articles by groups who are against the initiative measure, Proposition 9. . . .

The citizens of California have secured thousands of signatures in order to place this Initiative measure on the ballot to correct an unjust situation. I am supportint this proposition because I belong to a long suffering minority group (home ownerss), hard working, non-rioting people, who see no end to the constantly rising property taxes. What is going to stop them from rising? Not Proposition 1-A, which was apparently put on the ballot to confuse and mislead voters, and which I consider an insult to the intelligence. . . .

The only savings that many people have during their lifetime is the equity they own in their home, and when they retire are often forced to sell because they are unable to pay the taxes.

If there are imperfections in Proposition 9, I am sure they can be ironed out during the 5 years provided in the measure, because perfection in this world is hard to find. . . .

More Guns Bought In Fear Of Guns

More and more people are buying more and more guns in fear of other people who are buying more and more guns. Is it so much to ask that the police at least keep track of these lethal weapons?

I pray that every responsible citizen will vote for gun registration on Nov. 5. Registration will not accomplish miracles, but it is the only gun control measure which is up for a vote. In view of the recent court decision on the San Francisco ordinance, there is some question whether any local firearms law can go into effect. However I cannot help but agree with the judge on that case, who said: "Clearly, the adequate regulation of dangerous weapons is of vital concern to the populace generally throughout the state." There is no doubt that such a measure should be statewide, but our legislators have failed to enact such needed laws.

It seems to me, therefore, that the most important thing about this Marin election is its symbolic significance. . . . If people show by their positive vote that they are concerned about the enormous stockpiling of guns that has been taking place lately, and about the annual deaths that occur in the thousands only in this country, then perhaps our legislators will finally listen and act. . . .

Editorial Cartoons Disturb Reader

One of the many niceties existing in Marin County which I found upon becoming a resident of this area almost 10 years ago, certainly had to be your fine newspaper. I was particularly impressed by your impartiality, and ability to cover both local and national news without resorting to sensational headlines. Even more important than these, was a general good taste throughout your entire paper.

I do not know whether or not the editorial cartoon efforts of illustrators such as Conrad and Hugh Haynie reflect the attitude of your paper. Of late, the ugliness shown in these cartoons makes me wonder if I am receiving the Berkeley Barb instead of the I-J. I thought the height of bad taste was reached when Conrad compared the Chicago police with the Russian police in Prague. The climax of your unflattering treatment of our political candidates certainly was reached tonight with that vicious and deplorable caricature of Richard Nixon in a TV set.

That are you trying to prove? Are there no local artists available to fill this space? . . . Reader Assesses Candidate's Claims

Today I received a copy of Bud Baar's election material in which he brings up his position vs. Tom Storer's. Taking them one by one, these are the facts, as I, an ordinary Marin County citizen, know them.

1. Tax Record. Mr. Baar states that while he was on the San Rafael City Council taxes decreased by 29 per cent. Sales taxes increased during that time by 25 per cent and the Northgate Shopping Center which brings in large amounts of Sales Tax to the city of San Rafael was completed. . . .

2. Transportation. "Complete widening of G. G. Bridge approach to four lanes," says Mr. Baar. When did Mr. Baar last drive over the Golden Gate Bridge —10 years ago? A great deal of Marin County's share of state highway funds were allocated for the widening of the 101 from San Rafael through Novato which was of a great deal more importance to the county as a whole than a couple of hours a day bottleneck at the bridge, even though this bottleneck inconvenienced Marin County commuters.

3. Drug Abuse Bureau. Tom Storer voted no on a $17,478 increase for the Marin County Drug Abuse Bureau. For one thing Tom Storer is an attorney, and well aware of the tremendous cost to the county of theses marijuana arrests. It does not make sense for Marin County to increase taxes to enforce the present marijuana law when most district attorneys in this state, the FBI, the state legislators are all giving serious thought to removing this law from the books.

4. County employees' vacation. I understand that this vacation plan was in line with the state vacation plans and that it allows three weeks vacation after several years of service. I am not in favor of three weeks vacation for county employees after one year. . . .

4. County Planning Department. There is not a county in California which has not finally recognized the fact that long range planning (which costs money initially) saves any county countless problems and money in the future.

5. Hippies. I am glad that Tom Storer recognizes the fact that hippies are human beings not animals. Most of them are willing to work but they cannot get jobs because of the bigotry of a great many Marin County people. . . .

Reason To Switch: Muskie Vs. Agnew

In your recent editorial stating the paper's support of Nixon for President of the United States, you said you couldn't see too much difference between the candidates and chose Mr. Nixon because you felt he could begin with a clean slate —no commitments to the past, etc. — whereas Vice President Humphrey would have to respect commitments made by President Johnson.

I can tell you one very major difference between the two major candidates, a difference many people are taking note of at this point in the campaign. That difference is between Spiro Agnew and Senator Muskie. If after the past five years Americans don't realize how close a vice president is to the presidency, then they had better awaken to the fact that there is only a breath's difference between being vice president and president.

Spiro Agnew President of the U. S? Absurd! I think even the conservative Independent-Journal will agree Senator Muskie is intellectually superior to Spiro Agnew. Imagine big-mouth Agnew dealing with the very complicated and delicate foreign situation. That's enough to convince this Republican to switch to the Humphrey-Muskie ticket.

Congratulations to Sen. John McCarthy for his stand against the long hair, beads, beards and sandals set and their demands that we, the taxpayers, support their communal living, acid dropping, general rebellion against society and then expect free medical care to rid them of V.D. and other communicable diseases which they gleefully pass back and forth among themselves.

In direct contrast to Senator McCarthy's positive proposed legislation, our assemlyman, William Bagley, feels that the four big office holders should be dropped from the U.C. Board of Regents. The regents are appointed for a term of 16 years, therefore if the present governor is not of the same poitical party as the preceeding governor, he is saddled with his predecessor's appointees and their philosophy of surrender to the creeps, trouble makers and leftist professors on our university campuses.

It strikes me as rather odd that Assemblyman Bagley, a Republican, is introducing this legislation now, when three of the four so-called "big office holders" are Republicans and taking a definite stand against the campus agitators. Mr. Bagley, just whose side are you on?

Project Breakthrough Appears Right Approach At Right Time

Project Breakthrough, the latest effort to interest black students in their education, seems, as one black observer said earlier this week, at last to be the right program at the right time. Its chances for success, unlike those of many other War on Poverty and allied programs, seem very great.

Project Breakthrough is a multipronged approach to "turning on" black students to education. In the months ahead it will work with black students at Tamalpais High School, dealing with their school problems through counseling and tutoring; attempt to interest them in extracurricular school activities through the Ashanti Club, the high school's black student union; help them with job training through field trips and counseling and work with parents to develop community and family incentive for educational success.

THE KEY to black success is to make black students believe they can control their own destiny and that education is the major means to gaining that control, according to Lanny Berry, project director.

The project's headquarters, the Harriet Tubman House, the former Rosa Building in Marin City, was dedicated Monday in a brief but moving ceremony attended by more than 250 persons, 150 of whom were seventh and eighth grade students from Martin Luther King Jr. school in Sausalito. Unfortunately, few of the 165 black students at Tamalpais High School, the ones for whom the program is intended, were able to attend.

Sen Mervyn M. Dymally, D-Los Angeles, predicted the project would be a model for similar approaches to stimulating black education throughout the nation.

PERHAPS the most moving portion of the dedication came when 10-year-old John Tirnes read the essay on Harriet Tubman which won the contest to rename the Rosa Building.

John wrote and read: "She was a black woman that ran away from slavery and saved more Negroes from the white man. The white man had our brothers and sisters on hands and knees. Harriet took our brothers and sisters from slavery.

"She came back for more and more, traveling at night and hiding in the day, following the north star.

"Some white but mostly black people helped her hide slaves in homes and fields. She had trouble with the white man, and one black man was scared to go so Harriet said you come or you die."

Harriet Tubman is probably one of the best known black heroines of slavery days for her work on the underground railroad.

In my grammar, high school and college education, information on black history was unavailable and I learned about Harriet Tubman as an adult by viewing a television series a few years ago about black figures in history.

AT THE END of Monday's dedication ceremony, a San Francisco reporter approached Doug Quiett, one of the speakers, and asked: "Who is Harriet Tubman, a civil rights leader?"

This incident, noted Doug later, was a microcosm of the problem of communication and understanding between blacks and whites. If white society doesn't know the history and source of black attitudes and problems, how can it possibly deal with them in the modern context?

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

Passing Of Longtime Friend, And Election Year Happenings

Fusselman

Sure it's grand to be around more than the normal allotted years, to know of all the amazing achievements and to watch history being written page by page, day by day and to have your memories of days when life was simpler and there was time to enjoy deep friendships. But there are times of sadness, ever occuring, when you hear of a friend and then another and another whom you will not be seeing or talking to again.

The news that Jim Kehoe, my old sidekick on the board, had joined the ranks of those was pretty rough to take. He called me on my birthday just a few weeks ago and reminded me that he and Charlie Reilly and I had had a dinner date promised for about a year and a half that should be taken care of. When we were about to hang up, Jim said, "Hey, listen, you still like venison? I'll be sending you down some." Charlie Reilly was the Marin County Fire Department Chief for a number of years while Jim was on the board.

I had planned to pay tribute to my good bluff Irish friend, who stood so tall in the saddle, but Jack Craemer did it so well last Saturday that there is not much more can be said. Happy hunting, Jim.

SOME MONTHS back I wrote, "This is the year of the righteous — election year." And mister, was that calling the turn? Along about 40 years ago there was a supervisor out Novato way who was never able to get much road work done until election year — then was he righteous!

It's too bad each taxpaying homeowner wasn't furnished with page 15 of this year's county budget. It shows the comaprison, year by year, back to 1958-59. It shows in dollars and cents the assessed values, budget requirements, tax rate and taxes paid. This is shown in total and per capita. Would that punch a hole in somebody's toy balloon?

Here is one pip. In Alan Bruce's (county administrator) budget message, he says this: "Your instructions have been carried out. Not only has the tax rate been held (actually reduced) but the total budget increase in only 1.1 per cent." Then when you turn to page 15, you find the figures of Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell which shows 6.6 per cent.

The budget last year was $27,942,178 — this year $29,785,001. Assessed valuations are up 16.6 per cent. Property taxes are up 4.5 per cent. So, all the cheering about lowering the tax rate 3 cents amounts to just some more hoo-malli-malli — the Brasilia brand.

CONSIDER THIS: Even if those who are claiming great credit for lowering the tax rate this year were actually leveling with us, what were they doing the past three years? The increase of assessed valuations by 16.6 per cent; from $534,516,696 to $562,030,763 was taken full advantage of.

And you "aint heard nothin' yet." Wait until the maintenance cost of the expanded complex out there is heard from.

MORE OF WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Double Taxation Of Real Property

America's private wealth, in stocks, bonds, notes, bank accounts and real estate, is subject to income taxation. An investment in real estate, however, is subject to double taxation, it also pays a "possessory tax."

The "possessory tax" or property tax on real estate carries the same burden of "people related service expenses" today as it did before the institution of the income tax and the sales tax. . . .

Proposition 9, designed to correct this inequity, is opposed not on a basis of right or wrong but by the question, "If we let the homeowner off the hook who is going to pay for these services?"

Proposition 9 allows the Legislature five years to resolve this question completely and certainly a broader and more honest basis is available to correct this unjust situation.

Wisdom In Choice Of Vice President

The vice president carries on, despite a heavy albatross around his neck, the Texan and the hecklers, but in the business world we don't blame a corporation vice president for the mistakes of the head of the company, and Humphrey surely shoudn't be blamed for L.B.J.'s many fumbles, both here and abroad. . . .

And so I plead with my fellow voters to judge Mr. Humphrey solely on his own record, the judgment he has displayed in his long and distinguished service in the Senate, his life-long compassion for those who have gotten the short end of the stick, both black and white, his willingness to face and debate the vital issues confronting this troubled land of ours, and of paramount importance, the wisdom he displayed in choosing his running mate.

When he selected Senator Muskie, he named a man eminently qualified to fill the top post should fatal illness, or an assassin's bullet move still another vice president on to 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue. . . .

And what did Mr. Nixon do in choosing a running mate?

To cut Reagan and Rockefeller off at the pass and capture those much needed southern delegates he named Spiro Who? — probably the least qualified man ever to run for the vice presidency. . . .

And in making that self-serving but unfortunate public interest choice, the man we Californians had refused to elect governor proved again that expediency, not merit or fundamentals, so often determines Nixon's conduct and judgments. . . .

And doesn't it make you shudder, despair too, of America's future, that a man so limited in experience, so unwise in his utterances and so incompletely lacking in demonstrated ability, would be only a heart beat away from the most important office in the world should Nixon win Nov. 5?

Voters across the land also regret and deplore Nixon's refusal to debate the vital issues with Humphrey, especially so since he wrote in a widely read national magazine just four short years ago that televsied debates between presidential candidates "serve the public." And he also said such debates insure "better informed voters and in the end a better president." . . .

This plea is penned by a deeply disturbed citizen, normally a Democrat who never-the-less spent time and money helping get Eisenhower nominated, did not vote for Truman, did vote for Wilkie, tried hard to help get Rockefeller nominated in '64 and again this year, and before that shameful convention in Chicago gave financial support and his vote to Gene McCarthy much as he regrets McCarthy's unfortunate silence since the convention. In short, a voter who, like so many of you, attempts to judge the man and his actual record, not just read the label.

Many are tempted not to vote this year, saying all three candidates are unworthy of support . . . But we all should vote, especially this year when so much is at stake, so many serious problems to be intelligently dealt with both at home and abroad. . . .

Over Reaction To Proposition A

I am bewildered by the immoderate and ferocious response of the anti-gun control people in Marin County to such a mild piece of legislation as Proposition A. . . .

Certainly, none of us who want stricter gun controls have any desire to take guns away from hunters, and we commend the National Rifle Association for its efforts over many years to teach safety in the handling of firearms to our youth.

The sensible reaction would seem to be that of a person to whom I was talking recently. He said, "I'm a hunter, and I like to hunt, but I realize that something has to be done about guns."

It seems to me that some gun owners are inviting restrictive legislation on this matter by over-reacting to efforts of the majority of us who are attempting to find a sensible and unrepressive means of cutting down the excessive death rate from firearms. . . .

Price Goes Higher If Bonds Defeated

The Tam High School District is now educationg 600 more students than it can adequately accommodate and the situation becomes increasingly critical the longer we delay. As a business man, I am particularly concerned that the cost of building is increasing at such a rate that the present bond issue of $10.9 million will cost about $1 million more if delayed until next year. This is our third attempt in three years to provide an adequate building program for our district — let's all go to bat and not strike out. Vote "Yes" on Proposition B.

Women Voters Support Prop. 1

The Leagues of Women Voters of Southern and Central Marin were disappointed with your editorial of Oct. 9, opposing passage of Proposition 1 for revising the state constitution.

The editorial criticized the revision on two points — those of elected officials, and pay raises for elected officials. The League of Women Voters believes the constitution should provide local government with as much flexibility as possible for self-government. Given the variety of geography and population of California counties, it seems unreasonable to impose the same governmental structure on all of them. You did not draw attention to the fact that the existing constitution permits the Legislature to provide for the appointment, rather than election, of county Boards of Supervisors. The proposed revision requires election of at least the governing body, leaving the number of other officers and their method of selection flexible for the local boards and the Legislature (not just the Supervisors) to determine by statute on an individual county basis.

If the governing body of a county is to exercise home rule effectively, it must be given responsibility. A board of supervisors should not merely execute rules handed down from the state but must have its own powers so it may truly meet the needs of local constituents. A major tool and responsibility is the ability to adjust pay scales to the changing economy so that qualified persons will serve as county officers. The proposed revision would make this possible.

The League of Women Voters has studied constitution revision for many years and our members overwhelmingly agree on the need for modernization of California's outdated document. We believe this second set of revision proposals set out in Proposition 1 provides an orderly and simplified constitution enabling the state government to deal with problems efficiently, flexibly and with responsibility clearly fixed. We hope you will be able to support Proposition 1, as you supported revision in the past.

Vote For Children By Passing Bonds

The voters of Southern Marin are being asked to approve a high school bond issue of $10,900,000. The last two attempts to raise money for capital expenditures failed. How will it fare this time?

No matter how much I and my fellow citizens dislike the idea of higher taxes. No matter that we disagree with some of the actions of the Tamalpais Union High School District Board. One has to come to the realization that we cannot afford the privilege of again turning down the proposal to build and renovate needed high school facilities at San Geronomo, Tiburon, Drake, Redwood and Tamalpais. The need is now and obviously will become more pressing before the buildings are completed.

I encourage all to vote for our children and for children yet to come, and thus insure for us all a high school system of which we can be proud.

'Pox On Bagley' For U.C. Proposal

With all the freaks, beared grass-blowing red flag wavers tearing up the U. C. Berkeley Campus, Assemblyman Willy Bagley, U. C. alumnus and legislator extraordinaire, has the gall to come forth with an ipso-facto approval of such conduct by indirectly attacking the few members of the board of regents who have taken a hard-nosed stand against campus violence and disruption.

One doesn't have to look far for reasons why a long active Republican, such as myself, becomes disgusted with his own party. Bagley has continually attacked both Governor Reagan and Dr. Max Rafferty over their stands on the crisis in Berkeley, and now, he wants them removed from the board of regents.Bagley is essentially defending the "academic freedom" of the professional "acidheads" and revolutionaries in Berkeley, those whose academic valor consists of throwing bricks at police, using four letter nasties, and calling for anarchy and destruction. A pox on Mr. Bagley with my compliemnts.

Elderly Appreciate Right To Vote

I recently volunteered to help aged patients in a local rest home apply for absentee ballots. Most of these people were so infirm or physically handicapped that it was a struggle for them to sign their names. Yet, every one bent to the task eagerly, clinging to their right to vote.

What a contrast to those who are so indifferent that they will not bother to vote at all, and so will have nobody but themselves to blame if the next President or local supervisor is not to their liking! In the same way, those who vote "No" on all three major presidential candidates, or write in the name of a non-candidate, are disenfranchising themselves.

Perhaps it is still possible to learn from those who are over 30 — or even over 70!

Student Speaks Up For School Bonds

As a senior at Sir Francis Drake High School I have watched, for three years, more and more students forced into the space of Drake's facilities. For three years I have watched the addition of temporary (portable) classrooms, giving me the feeling of a temporary education. I hope the voters realize that portables are only a stop-gap measure to avoid finally the inevitable step of split sessions. It is extremely ironic that it is because of money, that the bonds might not pass, and if the bonds don't pass and split sessions go into effect, the people of Marin will be giving their children a Mississippi level education at Marin County prices.

Realizing that relief can't come for at least two years, it becomes doubly important that the bonds be passed now for the conditions at all the schools can only get worse.

Twice, voters uninformed of the overcrowded conditions at all three Tam District high schools have voted the bonds down. It is this type of ignorance that shakes my faith in "American democracy."

I certainly hope, for the sake of elementary and junior high school children that this bond proposal be passed.

Long-Suffering Support Prop. 9

Your paper has printed many articles by groups who are against the initiative measure, Proposition 9. . . .

The citizens of California have secured thousands of signatures in order to place this Initiative measure on the ballot to correct an unjust situation. I am supportint this proposition because I belong to a long suffering minority group (home ownerss), hard working, non-rioting people, who see no end to the constantly rising property taxes. What is going to stop them from rising? Not Proposition 1-A, which was apparently put on the ballot to confuse and mislead voters, and which I consider an insult to the intelligence. . . .

The only savings that many people have during their lifetime is the equity they own in their home, and when they retire are often forced to sell because they are unable to pay the taxes.

If there are imperfections in Proposition 9, I am sure they can be ironed out during the 5 years provided in the measure, because perfection in this world is hard to find. . . .

More Guns Bought In Fear Of Guns

More and more people are buying more and more guns in fear of other people who are buying more and more guns. Is it so much to ask that the police at least keep track of these lethal weapons?

I pray that every responsible citizen will vote for gun registration on Nov. 5. Registration will not accomplish miracles, but it is the only gun control measure which is up for a vote. In view of the recent court decision on the San Francisco ordinance, there is some question whether any local firearms law can go into effect. However I cannot help but agree with the judge on that case, who said: "Clearly, the adequate regulation of dangerous weapons is of vital concern to the populace generally throughout the state." There is no doubt that such a measure should be statewide, but our legislators have failed to enact such needed laws.

It seems to me, therefore, that the most important thing about this Marin election is its symbolic significance. . . . If people show by their positive vote that they are concerned about the enormous stockpiling of guns that has been taking place lately, and about the annual deaths that occur in the thousands only in this country, then perhaps our legislators will finally listen and act. . . .

Editorial Cartoons Disturb Reader

One of the many niceties existing in Marin County which I found upon becoming a resident of this area almost 10 years ago, certainly had to be your fine newspaper. I was particularly impressed by your impartiality, and ability to cover both local and national news without resorting to sensational headlines. Even more important than these, was a general good taste throughout your entire paper.

I do not know whether or not the editorial cartoon efforts of illustrators such as Conrad and Hugh Haynie reflect the attitude of your paper. Of late, the ugliness shown in these cartoons makes me wonder if I am receiving the Berkeley Barb instead of the I-J. I thought the height of bad taste was reached when Conrad compared the Chicago police with the Russian police in Prague. The climax of your unflattering treatment of our political candidates certainly was reached tonight with that vicious and deplorable caricature of Richard Nixon in a TV set.

That are you trying to prove? Are there no local artists available to fill this space? . . . Your Interlandi, who delights in his diatribe against everything and everyone from the police department to the United Nations, and the establishment in general, conveys his distaste daily. Does he really need help?

Father Says Youngsters Taken Before By Estranged Wife

Two Tamalpais Valley boys, aged 7 and 8, disappeared while walking from home to school Wednesday and were still missing today, sheriff's officers reported.

Their father, Raymond Slattery of 546 Shoreline Highway, Tamalpais Valley, told investigators the boys were taken from him once before by their mother, his estranged wife, Ina Slattery, 26.

His housekeeper told officers that the boys, David and Allen, left for school at 8:10 a.m. Wednesday. When they failed to return in the afternoon, she called Marin Terrace School and learned they had never appeared and had been marked absent by their second and third grade teachers.

Slattery said an anonymous caller told school officials yesterday that she saw two dark haired women grab two blond, crying little boys and drive off with them in a green Ford Wednesday morning.

The woman refused to give her name, saying she did not want to get involved, he said.

Los Angeles police yesterday were told by Mrs. Slattery's parents that their daughter had not seen her children since Oct. 13, according to Lt. Harvey Teague of the sheriff's office.

Slattery, a 41-year-old bartender, said neighbors Wednesday saw his boys climbing a hill to a street behind his house on their way to school. They were not seen again, after

Nixon Attempts To Play Down Bombing Cessation

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard M. Nixon is trying to play down the significance of the North Vietnam bombing halt by likening it to earlier, and temporary, bombing pauses.

Addressing a nationally televised rally in Madison Square Garden last night, the Republican presidential candidate said "I trust that this action may bring some progress" in the Paris peace talks.

But this followed a Nixon statement that, "As you are probably aware tonight, the President announced another bombing halt over Vietnam."

The reference to "another" halt obviously was calculated to suggest that, as of now, Johnson's new move was not extraordinary.

Today, Nixon flew into Texas in search of the state's 25 Electoral College votes. His first scheduled stop was to be at Fort Worth.

Speaking at the $200,000 rally two hours after Johnson announced the move on nationwide television, the Republican nominee said: "As a presidential candidate—and my vice presidential running mate joins me in this—neither he nor I will say anything that might destroy the chance to have peace. We want peace."

Nixon and his aides have been concerned for days about the possible political impact of a bombing halt and had sought in advance to defuse it as an election issue.

Drugs Found In Car; Two Youths Held

Two youths, suspected as drug suppliers to high school students, were arrested today in Novato with $3,500 to $4,000 worth of LSD in their car, police said.

That discovery, along with $750 worth of a more high-powered hallucinogen, STP, were found on the floor of a car driven by James Joseph Roberts, 18, of 284 Blackstone Drive, Marinwood, police said.

Sgt. Ronald Schanaker stopped the car for a curfew check at 2 a.m. at Arthur Drive and South Novato Boulevard after following the vehicle on an aimless route through downtown Novato, police said.

Schanaker reported both Roberts and a 16-year-old companion from Los Ranchitos were under the influence of drugs. Searching the car, Schanaker found the LSD in a package on the floor. A small quantity of marijuana also was discovered.

Police said $76 was found in Roberts' wallet and $100 in a shoe under the front seat. Roberts told police he was unemployed, while the 16-year-old described himself as a high school dropout.

Sgt. William Cann said the youths apparently were selling drugs to high school students and that the narcotics confiscated represented two weeks in sales.

Roberts and the 16-year-old were booked on suspicion of being under the influence of drugs, possession of narcotics, possession of marijuana and possession for sale of dangerous drugs.

Roberts, booked at Marin County jail for court appearance today, also was being held on suspicion of contributing to the delinquency of a minor, while the Los Ranchitos youth, taken to Juvenile Hall, also was held for curfew violation.

Saigon, Viet Cong Invited

PARIS (UPI) — North Vietnam said today it has agreed to attend broadened peace talks next Wednesday which will include representatives of South Vietnam and the the Viet Cong.

A terse, three-paragraph statement by a North Vietnamese spokesman said his delegation headed by Minister Xuan Thuy had been informed of President Johnson's decision to halt the bombing and shelling and "all other acts of war" against North Vietnam.

HANOI STATEMENT

The statement said "in order to find a peaceful settlement of the Vietnam problem, a meeting including the representatives of the Democratic Republic of (North) Vietnam, the South Vietnam National Liberation Front (Viet Cong), the United States and the Republic of (South) Vietnam will be held in Paris not earlier than Nov. 6, 1968."

Johnson in announcing the total bombing halt last night—one day after Hanoi was informed—had already set the date of broadened talks as starting next Wednesday.

TELLS DELEGATE

A North Vietnamese spokesman said U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman officially informed North Vietnamese delegation chief Xuan Thuy on Wednesday that President Johnson was ordering a bombing halt over North Vietnam, one day before it was announced in Washington.

It said Thuy took note of this and Johnson's call for four-way negotiations in Paris and conveyed it to the government of the Democratic Republic of North Vietnam. The Johnson invitation called for participation of South Vietnam and the Viet Cong.

As the North Vietnam delegate was issuing his statement, Radio Hanoi, monitored in Hong Kong, declared that the "fight against the Americans will continue until the last one is driven from our land," but maintained silence on Johnson's bomb halt agreement.

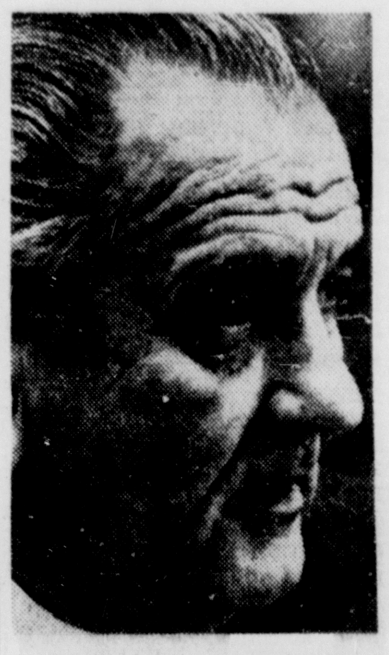
TEST OF FAITH

President's Decision



PRESIDENT JOHNSON
Preparing historic talk

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson stopped the bombing of North Vietnam today. He gave the Communists what they wanted in exchange for "prompt, productive, serious and intensive" peace talks with South Vietnam and the Viet Cong at the table and with the ground war scaled down in the south.

Johnson ordered the bombardment ended at 8 a.m. (EST) today and said that expanded peace talks in Paris would start next Wednesday.

RISKY MOVE

The President warned Americans in a nationwide broadcast last night, just five days before the presidential election, that the war would go on, and that the step he took was risky.

But he said the time had arrived to test North Vietnam's good faith with a total bombing halt and "to try to ascertain if an early peace is possible."

While American politicians tried to assess the impact of Johnson's move on the election, world reaction was hopeful and grateful. However, the South Vietnamese government of President Nguyen Van Thieu responded cooly, saying Johnson acted "unilaterally."

Girl In Coma After Gulping Drink Offer

A 15-year-old Petaluma girl was reported in a coma today at Hillcrest Hospital hours after drinking an unknown liquid offered by five unidentified teenage boys last night while trick-or-treating.

It appeared she would survive the mystery concoction, according to hospital spokesmen.

Petaluma Police Chief Larry D. Higgins said Annie Berklacich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Berklacich of 21 Eastside Circle, was Halloweening last night with two girl friends when at 9:30 p.m. on Ely Road near Gilrix Street, four or five boys in a dark, older model Chevrolet stopped them.

Asked by the boys if they wanted something to drink, the girls asked if they had any Coke. The boys produced a bottle from the floorboard and the three girls each drank. Two spit the bitter liquid out, but Miss Berklacich swallowed what was described as "a big gulp."

When they told the boys it didn't taste like Coke, the boys said "that's right" and sped off. She immediately became giggly and passed out, they said. Finding a friend with a car, the girls took her home where her parents put her to bed thinking she had taken some alcohol.

A 5 a.m. today when she was still unconscious, her parents rushed her to the hospital where tests have yet to determine what the liquid was. Hospital officials said her life signs are strong and her condition good, although she has not regained consciousness.

Chief Higgins requested anyone having knowledge of a dark Chevrolet, possibly a 1952 model, to call his department.

No Letup In South Fighting

SAIGON (AP) — American air, naval and artillery bombardment of all North Vietnam ended tonight on President Johnson's orders, the U. S. Command announced, but it said there would be no letup in operations in South Vietnam.

The Viet Cong also showed no sign of de-escalation in the South.

In the 12 hours before President Johnson's broadcast announcing the bombing halt, an enemy mine blew holes in a U.S. Navy LST and killed 16 American sailors and a South Vietnamese, rocket attacks killed 33 Vietnamese civilians in Saigon and Hue, and 69 North Vietnamese and 12 Americans were killed in fighting north of Saigon near the Cambodian border.

American warplanes contin*ued raids on North Vietnam's southern panhandle today* but were ordered to quit the skies north of the demilitarized zone before 9 p.m., or 5 a.m. (PST), the hour Johnson set for all attacks on North Vietnam to be halted.

Also ordered reassigned was the battleship New Jersey which has been shelling North Vietnamese installations for the past month.

The U.S. Command said operational reports on the final raids would not be available until Saturday, and it was not immediately known if any bombers

Humphrey Avoids All Direct Reference To Viet Question

DETROIT (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey avoided all direct reference today to the sensitive Vietnam bombing halt as he began an intensive day of campaigning in the Midwest.

"I tell you, folks—things look better this morning," the Democratic presidential candidate told several thousand persons who packed a United Steelworkers union hall in the Detroit suburb of Southgate. (See other political stories, page 7.)

Obviously encouraged by the presidential bombing halt and a new national poll that shows him drawing closer to Richard Nixon, Humphrey said, "we have a tight race on our hands, but it can burst right open now."

He warned the workers that "every vote for George Wallace is a vote for reaction, a vote for prejudice. A vote for Mr. Wallace is a vote for Mr. Nixon—and if the Republicans get in, you're in for trouble."

Almost as if President Johnson had never ordered a pause in the bombing of North Vietnam, Humphrey was trying to create the impression of campaign politics as usual.

Last night, he was asked if the president's decision would help his campaign.

"(It helps) the cause of peace," Humphrey replied. "This is going to help people. I don't think it has much to do with candidates as such."

Later, arriving in Battle Creek, Mich., for a rally, Humphrey said, "Tonight I feel more deeply serious about the nature of this campaign than ever be-

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

More Woes In Hired-Killer Plot

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Kenneth Reich, a wealthy real estate broker charged with soliciting the murder of his ex-wife, has been jailed for contempt of court for 40 days — until his hearing in the murder plan case.

Reich

Reich was sentenced yesterday to 40 days in jail and a $500 fine on his contempt conviction last June 21 of violating probation stemming from his divorce. It means he must remain in jail until Nov. 8, the day of his preliminary hearing on a charge of soliciting the murder of Suzonne Werner.

The man who advertised he would do anything for money has not been identified by police, because they say he never intended to go through with a slaying. Police said he panicked when he received a $1,000 down payment.

Mrs. Werner

Reich was arrested Tuesday after they got a call from Mrs. Werner. She has remarried since her divorce from Reich.

In court yesterday Mrs. Werner said Reich called her home on many occasions and harrased her. She said she sought to stop his visitation rights to their two children, Cynthia, 12, and Brian, 8.

Superior Court Commissioner Everette M. Porter continued the question of visitation rights until Jan. 9. Reich agreed to the sale of the family home.

Cross The Suez

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli commandos, retaliating against recenty Egyptian attacks, crossed the Suez Canal and penetrated 125 miles into Egypt last night to bomb two Nile bridges and a power station, the Israeli army announced.

The daring raid came five days after 15 Israeli troops were kiled and 34 wounded in a battle across the canal which U.N. observers reported was started by Egypt. Israel claimed that at one point Egyptian commandos crossed the canal and engaged the Israelis, and made vain attempts to cross at two other points.

The Egyptian army claimed that an Israeli plane had carried out the Nile raid and said one civilian was killed and two wounded. Israeli sources scoffed at the Egyptian explanation, saying President Gamal Abdel-Nasser could not admit to his people that Israaeli soldiers people make a raid so deep into Egypt.

Another Cosmos

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union today launched its third unmanned Cosmos spaceship since Cosmonaut Georgy Beregovoy brought back his Soyuz 3 on Wednesday.

Brief announcements on the three launchings have given no indication of whether they are a followup of Soyuz 3 or preparation for a new space spectacular.

Begins Tour

LONDON (AP) — Wearing a light blue summer suit and matching hat, Queen Elizabeth II left a dull, rainy London by plane today for a two-week state visit to South America, the first trip there by a reigning British monarch.

The queen and her party of 40 flew to Recife, Brazil,, to join her husband, Prince Philip, who had been attending the Olympic Games in Mexico.

LIMA (AP) — Two newspapers, two radio stations and one magazine that had become critical of Peru's 28-day-old military government were shut down yesterday.

A government communique said Gen. Juan Velasco's regime would not permit "tendentious reports" that interfere with the objectives of the revolution.

Tempers Flare

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Toastmaster George Jessel and actress Zsa Zsa Gabor aren't talking to each other today after an argument at the National Broadcasting Co., studios Wednesday.

Jessel said Miss Gabor's remarks to him were anti-Sematic and Miss Gabor countered that Jessel made some anti-Huugarian statements, but as it ended, things were pro-Irish.

Jessel said Miss Gabor was an hour and a half late for the scheduled taping of a television show "Here Comes the Stars," which led to the argument.

He said after the argument he ordered her off the set and she locked herself in her dressing room. Later she called police for an escort out of the building.

Dialogue On U.C. Ends In Stalemate

SACRAMENTO (AP) — For nearly an hour eight University of California law students and Gov. Ronald Reagan talked in private about academic freedom, and the students said they felt the governor's office "extremely frustrated."

But one of Reagan's aides, press secretary Paul Beck, said this may have been because the governor and the students were emphasizing different things in their talk yesterday.

The students, he said, were emphasizing a section of the state constitution which says the university shall be independent of political pressure. And the governor, Beck said, was emphasizing another section saying the university is a public trust.

TWO VIEWS

"They had a point of view. The governor had a point of view," Beck said.

The students, who originally had asked that about 200 be allowed to meet with Reagan, came here from Berkeley because — as they said in a statement — "we believe that Gov. Reagan may not fully understand how a university works in our country."

On their way to the meeting, some of the students emphasized different visit goals.

Guy T. Saperstein said, "We consider Social Analysis 139X to be the focal point of the discussion."

He was referring to an experimental course on the Berkeley campus featuring Black Panther leader Eldridge Cleaver as a guest lecturer.

U.C. regents—with Reagan an ex-officio member — voted to limit Cleaver to a single lecture instead of his scheduled 10 lectures. But academic credit was removed to get around the ruling.

CENTRAL ISSUE

Les Harrison, leader of the group, said the central issue of the talk with Reagan was the governor's proposal to regents this month that the regents take over control of courses and faculty selection, now handled mostly by the Academic Senate.

"The governor talked about protecting the university," Harrison said. "It seems the protection he offers would in essence destroy academic freedom at the university."

Harrison added, "I think we're all rather depressed right now."

Accompanying the eight were more than 100 other Berkeley law students, all of them well-dressed, who broke up into smaller groups to call on other state officials.

GEORGE PAPANDREOU
To have state funeral

Ex-Premier Papandreou Dies At 80

ATHENS (AP) — George Papandreou, a storm center in Greek politics for more than half a century and a leading foe of the present dictatorship, died early yesterday at the age of 80. Despite his opposition to the military regime, it will give him a state funeral Sunday.

He had undergone emergency surgery yesterday morning for a perforated ulcer and came through satisfactorily. But later he developed a brain clot and died.

His son Andreas, the chief target of the military coup 18 months ago, is in exile in Stockholm. He is scheduled to be tried in absentia Monday on charges of plotting an unsuccessful attempt to assassinate Premier George Papadapolous.

Andreas' American wife, the former Margaret Chant of Chicago, came to Athens Wednesday with two of her children after being assured she would not be harmed. But there was no indication the junta would grant Andreas temporary amnesty to attend his father's funeral.

A lone line of persons waited outside the hospital chapel where the body will lie in state until the burial Sunday in Athens' main cemetery.

Papandreou's political battles began in 1916 when he joined the uprising that forced King Constantine I out and brought Greece into World War I on the side of the Allies.

In 1923, he became minister of the interior, first of many cabinet posts he held. He formed the Democratic Socialist party in 1936 but was exiled a year later by dictator John Metaxas. After the general's death, he returned to Greece, only to be imprisoned by the invading Nazis.

MAO WINS MAJOR VICTORY IN FEUD

President Liu Shao-Cri Stripped Of All Posts, Membership In Communist Party

TOKYO (AP) — The Chinese Communist Central Committee announced today it has kicked President Liu Shao-chi out of all his posts after finding him guilty of crimes that generally spell imprisonment and possibly death.

Hsinhua (New China) News Agency said Liu's final fall—after months of criticism and struggle—was voted by the 11th enlarged plenary session of the committee, meeting in Peking Oct. 13-31.

The conference—first since party chairman Mao Tse-tung moved against Liu in August, 1966 with his cultural revolution—gave Mao a renewed vote of confidence and promised to "continue to settle accounts" with Liu and his accomplices.

Attended by members and alternate members of the committee, leaders of the cultural purge group, delegates from revolutionary committees and chiefs of the army, the conference apparently was able to muster the required two-thirds vote needed to oust Liu from the party.

The report on the committee's action was strangely silent, however, on the fate of party general secretary Teng Hsiao-ping—often described as Liu's chief aide. Teng was mentioned neither by name nor by inference.

Officially singling out Liu by name for the first time since the intensified campaign against him began in 1966, a communique failed, however, to indicate whether the 70-year-old chief of state is free at the present time or under arrest.

Liu replaced Mao as president in 1959 and, the Maoists charged, embarked on a campaign of liberalization that threatened the existence of Chinese Communisum.

Mao presided over the session and made "a most important speech," followed by one by his heir apparent, Defense Minister Lin Piao, the agency added.

A conference communique, distributed by Hsinhua, denounced Liu as a "renegade, traitor and scab."

"The plenary session expressed its deepest revolutionary indignation at Liu Shao-chi's counterrevolutionary crimes and unanimously adopted a resolution to expel Liu Shao-chi from the party once and for all, to dismiss him from all posts both inside and outside the party and to continue to settle accounts with him and his accomplices for their crimes in betraying the party and the country."

It called for a "deep-going revolutionary mass criticism and repudiation" to eradicate Liu's ideas and "The handful of other party persons in authority taking the capitalist road."

The nature of the charges against Liu could lead to his imprisonment and possibly a death sentence.

In the various feuds that have flared up in the party since its armies seized the mainland from the Chinese Nationalists in 1949, no loser has been executd as far as is known.

LBJ Offered $1 Million?

NEW YORK (AP) — At least one publishing firm has offered President Johnson an advance in excess of $1 million for his memoirs, the New York Times reported today.

The offer was understood to be based on the condition that the first volume of the work deal with the major decisions in his administration, especially those concerning the Vietnam war, the Times said.

The Times also said:

The President, although he has not made a final decision, has tentatively agreed to write a volume on the highlights of his administration before working on a multivolume series of memoirs.

The profits of the project have been assigned to the Lyndon B. Johnson Public Affairs Foundation for the LBJ School of Public Affairs and the presidential library under construction at the University of Texas in Austin.

A Times survey among publishers showed they were divided over the commercial value of the President's memoirs with some believing they may not sell well.

Subway Station Funds Held Legal

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Paying for a proposed rapid transit subway station with taxes obtained by an increased valuation on land is legal, the State Court of Appeal ruled yesterday.

Involved is a Bay Area Rapid Transit District station at Davis and Market streets in San Francisco.

Money is to come from taxes assessed against the Golden Gateway redevelopment area.

The extra money obtained because land values rose when construction started there is to be set aside to pay off the bonds issued to construct the station.

The justices ordered Redevelopment Agency chairman Walter F. Kaplan to sign the bonds that have been issued and City Controller Nathan B. Cooper to set up a tax fund to pay them off.

California supplies half the nation's canned tuna.

JIMMY'S SONG

Son Will Not Return From War

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A hit song told of Jimmy Howard's young life and prayed for his return from Vietnam.

Yesterday the Defense Department reported that Army Pfc. James Van (Jimmy) Howard, 21, had been killed in action.

The song, "My Son," was written and recorded by Jimmy's mother, country music star Jan Howard. Jimmy's father is Harlan Howard, also an author of hit songs.

"My son, my son, I pray that you'll come home to me; my son, son, my son," was the closing verse of the song first written as a letter from Mrs. Howard to Jimmy.

"It seems only yesterday that the most important thing on your mind was whether you would make the baseball team, or get the new school jacket, like all the other kids had," the mother wrote and sang.

". . .And those days it seemed the house was always filled with laughter and joy. . ." recalls the song

Onassis Sets $400 Million Athens Deal

ATHENS (AP) — Aristotle Onassis got Greek government approval today for an industrial investment totaling $400 million, the biggest single industrial deal in Greek history.

Details of the agreement initialled by the two parties were disclosed at a news conference attended by Onassis, who said the deal was "final and binding." He added that signing of the agreement will follow in a few weeks, after minor details have been worked out.

The project involves an oil refinery with an annual capacity of 7 million tons, an alumina plant with an annual output of 500,000 tons and an aluminum factory with a yearly output of 120,000 tons, producing its own power. Both the alumina and aluminum plant are in conjunction with Reynolds Aluminum Co., of the United States.

The scheme also includes smaller industrial and tourist development projects in the Athens area, including an air terminal.

A government announcement described the agreement as "unprecedented and the biggest in Greece's history."

The 62-year-old shipping magnate who controls Greece's national airline, Olympic Airways, also was given exploitation rights of the only state refinery near Athens because, the announcement said, "his terms were the best offered."

Reagan Postpones Appointing Judge

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Gov. Ronald Reagan's appointment of a fifth Marin County superior court judge, expected by today, has been put off until later this month.

A spokesman for the governor's appointments secretary, Paul R. Haerle, said "there has been a delay," but did not elaborate.

Haerle told the Independent-Journal Oct. 1 that the governor probably would make his decision by today on who is to get the $30,572-a-year judgeship.

Candidates have been screened under tight security, and even the names of the screening committee members have been kept secert by the governor's office. The committee's meeting dates and places and recommendations are also under wraps.

The committee, comprised of Marinites, was to review a list of candidates given to it by the governor, Haerle said last month.

Richmond Bridge Tickets Lower

Commuter tolls on the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge dropped 7.5 cents today, the first toll reduction since the bridge opened in 1956.

The commuter charge per crossing was cut from 37.5 cents to 30 cents by the California Toll Bridge Authority.

Commute books, with 50 tickets, dropped from $17.50 to $15.00 per book.

The regular 75-cent toll was not changed, but revenue soon may be adequate to allow some cut in the regular toll, too, according to Gordon C. Luce, secretary of the Business and Transportation Agency.

LBJ Orders Bombing Halt As Peace Try

17 after the Chief Executive sharply curbed the bombing of North Vietnam to draw the Communists into negotiations—will come Wednesday.

Then, the National Liberation Front, the political arm of the Viet Cong guerrilla army, will join Hanoi's negotiators in Paris with Saigon's representatives "free to participate," as Johnson put it. He emphasized that NLF participation did not constitute recognition—long opposed by Saigon.

Johnson said he had the full assurance of Gen. Creighton W. Abrams Jr., the American commander in Vietnam, that his act did not endanger the lives of American fighting men below the Demilitarized Zone.

He said he would have given anything—"all I possess"—to have been able to stop the bombing "months ago" but the break came only during the weekend with an indication from the Communists that they would acknowledge American conditions.

Johnson shunned the word "conditions," however, recognizing that Hanoi had long insisted upon an "unconditional" bombing cessation.

"Last Sunday evening, and throughout Monday, we began to get confirmation of the essential understanding that we had been seeking with the North Vietnamese on the critical issues between us for some time," the president said.

"I cannot tell you tonight specifically in all detail why there has been progress in Paris," he said.

Nor did he spell out Hanoi's half of the bargain, except to say:

"We have reached the stage where productive talks can begin. We have made clear to the other side that such talks cannot continue if they take military advantage of them. We cannot have productive talks in an atmosphere where the cities are being shelled and where the Demilitarized Zone is being abused."

Privately, other American officials said the United States had made it clear—before the signals of assent arrived from Hanoi—that the peace talks and the bombing halt would be in jeopardy if the Communists fired over the DMZ or sent men through it, or if they shelled South Vietnamese cities.

"We could be misled," Johnson said, "and we are prepared for such a contingency. We pray God it does not occur."

Military officials said Gen. Abrams, flown here in utmost secrecy Tuesday to meet with Johnson and ranking officials before the bombing halt was agreed upon, was given authority to strike back on his own and resume the bombing raids if North Vietnam sought to take advantage of the cessation, the 11th since the bombing of North Vietnam began on a regular basis on Feb. 7, 1965.

Johnson set no deadline for results from Paris. But recalling the prolonged Korean peace talks of 1951 through 1953, he said: "Our people will just not accept deliberate delay and prolonged procrastination again."

NOT AT SESSION

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey stayed away from the special session of the National Security Council which Johnson summoned just 90 minutes before his address—taped in advance during the afternoon—went out over the three primary television networks and many independent stations.

Humphrey said he chose to stay away because of his candidacy to succeed Johnson.

Johnson's statement came seven months to the day after his March 31 speech in which he renounced political ambition and initiated the limited bombing halt which put 80 per cent of North Vietnam off limits to American warplane raids.

Exposure Suspect, 17, Told To Appear

A 17-year-old Terra Linda boy, who rapped on a girl's window while dressed only in his socks Oct. 19, has been cited to appear before juvenile probation authorities, according to Inspector Charles Prandi of the sheriff's juvenile office.

Prandi said the girl, whose father and brother chased the youth through several back yards before losing him after she screamed, identified the boy by a photograph.

Peace Move Sways Holdout Democrat

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Gerald Hill, president of the California Democratic Council and one of the last holdouts among the state's major Democrats, today announced his support of Vice President Hubert Humphrey.

Hill, who on Tuesday said he still intended to write in Eugene McCarthy despite the Minnesota senator's endorsement of Humphrey, said President Johnson's peace moves changed his mind.

Thieu Goes Along With Bomb Policy

SAIGON (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu withdrew his formal opposition to a bombing halt of North Vietnam tonight.

Thieu, who had formally opposed the bombing halt and declined to join President Johnson in a joint announcement, issued a communique saying South Vietnam "does not oppose the cessation of bombing and will keep watching to see if North Vietnam has in reality responded to the de-escalation of the war or continues to be stubborn."

The communique did not mention anything about South Vietnamese joining in the Paris peace talks with the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front, the United States and North Vietnam.

But informants said Thieu, who has been opposed to sitting down with the liberation front, will eventually agree to do so.

The key to his thinking was reported to be contained in the statement that he would closely watch North Vietnamese actions to see if they really intended a de-escalation.

The recurrence of rocket attacks on Saigon or other major South Vietnamese cities, informants said, would make it more difficult for Thieu to accept the Johnson formula.

At the same time, Thieu elaborated on his earlier terse comment that the U.S. decision to halt the bombing as a step toward peace was "unilateral" on the part of the United States.

"The republic of Vietnam did not see any solid reasons to join the decision of the United States on this matter," the communique said.

"The Republic of Vietnam has reminded its allies of the harmful acts by which North Vietnam can profit through the cessation of the bombing, so precautionary measures have been taken and have been applied by the Republic of Vietnam and its allies."

He did not spell out what the "precautionary measures" were but presumably it meant that increased surveillance and other military steps are being taken to prevent North Vietnam from using the bombing halt to gain military advantage.

Pharmacy Picket Details Declared

Harold Barling, an organizer for Retail Clerks Union 1119 in San Rafael, said today union pickets were never barred entirely from the Mil Vallley Pharmacy at 402 Miller Avenue.

He disputed an Independent-Journal story yesterday which said a temporary restraining order in September had halted picketing entirely. Barling said pickets were forbidden only from one sidewalk at the pharmacy.

Barling said the picketing, which continues, is not to obtain union representation within the store, but against "threats and coercion" against union members presently employed there.

WAR

were lost during the final day.

The orders to halt the bombing by 9 p.m. were sent down the military chain of command an hour after Johnson broadcast his decision.

BOAT IS HIT

Four hours before the President's broadcast, explosions tore open the side of the 384-foot LST Westchester County as she swung at anchor in the My Tho River 34 miles southwest of Saigon. The blasts ripped into the landing craft's sleeping compartment, killing or wounding most of the men as they slept. Other sailors were killed at their watch stations.

In addition to the 17 known dead, 22 Americans were wounded, and seven Americans and one Vietnamese army interpreter were missing. Some of the latter were believed trapped in two compartments that were flooded.

Little more than two hours before President Johnson's broadcast, Viet Cong gunners slammed a 100-pound rocket into a small Roman Catholic Church in the Saigon dock area, killed 19 worshipers and wounded 64. The big Russian missile sent large chunks of the walls and roof into the congregation as early Mass was nearing its end.

Visiting Woman Found Dead In Sister's Home

Edna Lee Neitzel of Silverado, Orange County, was found dead last night at the home of her sister, Dorothy I. Nordbusch of 229 Marguerite Avenue, Mill Valley.

Police said Mrs. Nordbusch's two children returned home at 10:15 p.m. from trick-or-treating to find their aunt dead on the floor of the dining area.

Asst. Coroner Eugene R. Fontaine said Mrs. Neitzel had a history of heart trouble. Numerous bottles of pills, including mild tranquilizers, were found near her body, Fontaine said. An autopsy report is pending.

Mrs. Neitzel arrived in Mill Valley Saturday to visit her sister.

She is survived by her husband, Louis Neitzel of Silverado; two sons, Christopher and William Neitzel also of Silverado; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James O. Broshears of Peoria, Ill.; and a sister, Mrs. Nordbusch.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Russell and Gooch in Mill Valley.

Screening Slated For Schools Post

Five Mill Valley School District employees have been named to the committee to screen applicants for the position of director of business services.

Committee members are Barbara Foutch, senior account clerk; Gena St. Augestine, teacher; Dr. Glenn Skelton, middle school director; Colin Menzies, building and grounds superintendent; Joseph Anguilo, district music teacher, and Supt. James A. Collins.

The committee will meet at 9 a.m. tomorrow to screen 12 applicants for the vacancy created by the resignation last month of Asst. Supt. Leo B. Edson.

LeMay Hopeful For Bomb Halt

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, third party vice presidential candidate, said today the nation has no choice but to support President Johnson's bombing halt decision. But he said he is "pessimistic about the possibility of serious negotiations."

"The odds are that we will resume bombing," LeMay told a news conference. "I've seen no indication they're (North Vietnamese) ready to really talk peace. However, they've been badley mauled in the South and they may need more breathing space. I hope I'm wrong."

Ex-Sausalito Yacht Seized; LSD Charge

The psychedelic yacht of former Sausalito psychiatrist James Sutherland Watt, whose wildly-decorated masts drew fascinated tourists and yachtsmen at the Sausalito Yacht Harbor last summer, has been impounded by Canadian police after 300 ampules of LSD were seized aboard her, authorities reported yesterday.

The Royal Canadian Mounted Police seized the LSD, they said, in Victoria, British Columbia, about 10 days ago when Watt's white-hulled ketch Navita put in after being disabled in a storm.

Watt's 65-foot ketch with flower-decorated masts was a magnet for rumor and boaters' attention during its stay in Sausalito. The vessel left for Canada two months ago, according to Herbert Madden Jr. of the yacht harbor.

Police confiscated the alleged drugs, impounded the yacht and charged Watt with unlawfully importing goods into Canada. They placed no value on the drugs seized.

The Navita, now registered in Seattle, was reportedly sailing from Sidney, B. C., to Mexico when caught in the storm and blown off course.

Police did not disclose how they discovered the contraband.

question whether South Vietnam would join the talks Wednesday although Saigon was expected to send representatives later. Once the talks develop into full-fledged peace negotiations other U.S. allies with troops in Vietnam would be expected to sit in—Australia, the Philippines, South Korea, Thailand and New Zealand.

Harriman fired the opening shot of the forthcoming diplomatic war with Hanoi by saying he will demand a political solution to the Vietnam War that will let the South Vietnamese people determine their own future—presumably a plebiscite which the Communists have opposed.

In a statement to the French and foreign television networks Harriman warned that the second phase of the U.S.-North Vietnamese talks will be tough going.

"A cease-fire is a final step," he said. "As the President indicated, he expects the other side to join in a de-escalation of the war and eventually stop the fighting."

$2 Million Haul Of Marijuana

MOORESTOWN, N.J. (AP— State police reported they stopped a car hauling a small trailer on the New Jersey Turnpike today and confiscated between 800 and 900 pounds of marijuana valued at about $2 million.

Two women and a man were taken into custody.

Police said the marijuana was stored in the trailer, on the roof of the car and in the truck which had California license plates.

fore, because of developments that have taken place that your President announced."

Humphrey told newsmen he had decided himself not to take his place at the National Security Council meeting that preceded Johnson's announcement.

"I am a candidate," he said. "I didn't feel that it was appropriate for me when other candidates cannot be there . . . I want no political implications whatsoever."

Thus, Humphrey was informed of the decision in a conference telephone call from Johnson to an Elizabeth, N.J., hotel. Republican Richard M. Nixon and third-party candidate George C. Wallace listened from their stops along the campaign trail.

they reached the street, he said.

Slattery, whose divorce suit against his wife is scheduled to come to trial later this month, was awarded legal custody of his children on the recommendation of the juvenile probation department.

He said his wife took the boys in July 1967 and traveled through Nevada, Oregon, Montana and Canada with them, before his private detective located them in Tacoma, Wash.

He told sheriff's deputies he fears she will take them to Canada or Mexico.

He described his wife as five feet, six inches tall and weighing 185 pounds. She has short blonde hair, but sometimes wears a black wig, he said.

Both boys have blond hair. David, who weighs 50 pounds, left the house wearing a yellow shirt with a blue turtleneck shirt under it. Allen wore a blue and white shirt and may have worn a blue turtleneck underneath. Allen wore moccasins, he said.

Banker Severely Injured In Fall

With two vertebra and his right heel broken in an 80-foot fall, Henry J. Weisser, Tiburon banker, was reported in serious condition but no longer in intensive care today at Children's Hospital in San Francisco.

Weisser, a vice president for business development of Crocker-Citizens Bank in San Francisco, fell while working on a fourth-story window of is home at 2090 Paradise Drive, Tiburon, last Sunday.

His secretary reported that the scaffolding on which he was standing broke, plummeting him from his perch. He grabbed a rope to attempt to stop the fall, resulting in severe rope burns to his left hand. He will be allowed no visitors at the hospital for at least a week, the bank reported.

Teen-Ager Complains Of BB Shot Episode

John Benge, 15, of 7 Haverhill Court, Novato, complained to sheriff's deputies Wednesday that a younger boy shot him on the face with a BB as he rode home from school on his bicycle that day.

Benge said he saw the boy and his gun in the bushes on Oak Knoll Drive, then felt a sting on the side of his face. He said he stopped and knocked the boy to the ground, then drove on, according to deputies.

U.C. Moderates Rally On Campus; Turnout Is Small

BERKELEY (UPI) — Another student rally was held yesterday at the University of California.

The tone of the rally was that moderate, nonviolent, legal means should be used to settle the dispute over Black Panther Eldridge Cleaver's lectures on the campus.

The gathering had a small attendance.

One of the speakers, graduate student Ed Winn, said he and other students in his group, Campus Democracy Now, "don't intend to see our university torn down by self-appointed saviors."

Another speaker, astronomy Prof. Carl Heiles told the audience, "It is very important to defend the right of the faculty to teach what it wants."

Instead of physical confrontations, he said, backers of the Cleaver course should take legal action against the board of regents, or urge the American Association of University Professors to censure the university for taking away traditional faculty rights.

Baar In Sharp Denial To Storer On Sign Charges

Louis H. (Bud) Baar, candidate for supervisor of the Fourth District, today denied charges by his opponent Thomas T. Storer that Baar supporters had torn down Storer's signs.

"That's ridiculous," said Baar. "In the past three weeks, we have had almost all of our signs destroyed or taken down. We have had some pretty strong suspicions as to who was taking them down, but we made no public accusations. We felt the campaign should be directed to issues, not to unfounded accusations.

"As an example," said Baar, "our supporters put up a number of signs last Saturday. A lot of hard work went into putting them up, and within 24 hours, 90 per cent of them were either torn up, or completely missing. We have photographs of our signs that were mutilated, sprayed, torn, and left in pieces in the street. We have even had the mutilated signs left in piles in the doorway of our headquarters.

"I invite my opponent to come over to our headquarters, and take a good look at the damage that has been done to our signs," concluded Baar.

Marin Planning Due Federal Aid

Marin's countywide planning program will get a federal grant of $63,618, the county's chief of advance planning announced today.

Albert Solnit said the state Planning Advisory Committee approved the grant, which will come from the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development.

The county-wide planning program, approved by the City-County Planning Council, would include continuing studies on population projection, housing analysis, land use forecasting and transportation demand prediction, said Solnit.

Petaluma Ranch Land Goes For $2 Million

The sale of three ranches totaling 2,400 acres in the Lakeville area southeast of Petaluma was announced yesterday by Land Investors Research, 484 Magnolia Avenue, Larkspur, at a Petaluma press conference.

Purchased for $2 million, the buyer is the Lake Ranch Co., made up of 20 investors from Los Angeles and Pasadena. The agricultural property was sold by Mr. and Mrs. John Cardoza and Mr. and Mrs. George Cardoza with 1,800 acres; Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Azevedo, 397 acres, and Mrs. Marie Cannon with 203 acres.

Currently agricultural land, the property will continue to be used for stock grazing on a lease arrangement with the former owners. Long range plans call for the development of housing.

Located in the flat valley of Tolay Creek, the area is two miles east of Highway 101 and two miles north of the Marin County line. Originally known as Lake Tolay, the water was drained in 1870 for cultivation.

"The topography of the ranches is ideally suited for future housing development," said Webster Otis of Ross, a partner in Land Investors Research. "The buyers are very strong believers in the future of Southern Sonoma County and the greater Petaluma area."

A Civil Rights Round Tomorrow

A "civil rights" workshop will be held from 9 a.m. to noon tomorrow in the faculty lounge at Redwood High School in Larkspur.

Sponsored by the Marin County Council for Social Studies, in cooperation with the county schools office, it will include a talk by Austin J. Thompson, executive director of the Marin County Human Rights Department.

The topics, "What should be taught about racism in secondary schools?" and "What are student and teacher rights in schools?" will be explored, officials said. The workshop is open to the public.

Transit Directors Meeting Postponed

Marin County Transit District directors will not meet Nov. 6 because of schedule conflicts, Gen. Mgr. Seymour Kashin announced today.

The meeting has been rescheduled for 9 a.m. Nov. 19 at the start of the county supervisors' meeting. The transit board consists of county supervisors and two city representatives.

Convalescent Hospital Due Study

An Orinda development company will ask permission Monday to build a 180-bed convalescent hospital in Santa Venetia at a hearing before the Marin County Zoning Administrator Thomas E. Cordill.

L B M Investment Co., headed by A. Bernard Muth of Orinda, will apply for a use permit to build the convalescent home on three acres of land on North San Pedro Road, East of Rafael Convalescent Hospital.

Orginally, the company sought both a hospital and a convalescent home on 17 acres of land in the same location, but abandoned the hospital plan because of opposition from Marin County Health Facilities Planning Committee.

The hearing is set for 11 a.m. in the planning commission chambers at the Civic Center.

In the afternoon, Cordill will hear two requests for keeping horses on residential land.

Welton C. Rotz wants to keep two horses at 469 Corona Avenue, Lagunitas and Roy Yates wants to keep a maximum of 30 horses at 420 Bayview Drive, Homestead Valley.

New Intelligence Chief Appointed

Army Lt. Col. Wallace E. Jenkins has been assigned director of Intelligence for the Western Region of the North American Air Defense Command at Hamilton Air Force Base.

He succeeds Army Lt. Col. George P. Pineau who retired.

Colonel Jenkins was assigned to the military assistance command in Vietnam prior to coming to Hamilton. He received the Bronze Star while in Vietnam.

He has also served in Europe and Korea. He attended the command and general staff school.

He and his wife, Sherry, with their two daughters, Pola, 12, and Jenine, 9, live at 120 Westover Circle on the base.

Antiwar Officer Seeks To Resign

High F. Smith, Hamilton Air Force Base's peace-marching second lieutenant, has requested to be allowed to resign from the service, it was announced today by Capt. Larry Hannon of the information office for the wing.

Lieutenant Smith organized a peace march for the military in San Francisco on Oct. 12 and has organized a union among servicemen.

His resignation request must be reviewed by Col. Jesse A. Irwin and Irwin's recommendation sent on to the Military Airlift Command headquarters at Scott Air Force Base, Ill. From there is will go to the Air Force Personnel Center at Randolph Air Force Base, Tex., for final decision in about three weeks, according to Hannon.

BRIAN W. MATTSON
Planner wants downtown core

Planner Sets Future Goal In Novato

An in-depth study of the city's planning problems and a long range plan are the goals of Novato's new planning director, Brian W. Mattson.

He said he wants to study all current programs of the city. Then he would prepare a definite long range plan for Novato.

However, he said his planning staff is occupied mostly with the day-to-day work load. It does not have time to make the necessary long range plans, he said.

Top priority in the future planning program is the downtown study for which the city has applied for a federal grant, Mattson said.

He said he would hate to see ''strip commercial development'' along South Novato Boulevard because "it defeats the purpose of these streets becoming major collector streets."

Mattson said he hopes the business district will devlop into a central area and not a series of shopping centers.

"The downtown area should be the central core of the city — the cultural, business and governmental center of the city, the thing that gives life to the city," he said.

This can be accomplished by the appearance of the downtown area, by the circulation of traffic through it, adequate parking and "something to draw people to it," Mattson said.

He said the future of the present Highway 101 as a business street when the freeway bypass is completed, should be an important part of the proposed downtown study.

Other tasks Mattson sees ahead include reworking the zoning ordinance and making some changes in the sign ordinance.

He said he will have to study the problem of hillside developments, something he has not encountered in other cities where he has worked. He came to Novato from Klamath Falls, Ore., where his wife and five children remain until joining him in about two weeks.

Mattson said he has not formed any definite ideas on parks yet. He said he would wait to see what the parks and recreation commission's study of its master plan for parks produces.

Earthquake Safety Report Due Bay Unit

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — A report on engineering standards to help ensure the earthquake safety of buildings on bay fill will be considered by the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission 2 p.m. Thursday in the State Building, 455 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco.

The report, by a panel of engineers, recommends appointment of a permanent panel of experts to screen bay fill proposals against possible earthquake menace. The report also outlines engineering standards that should be used to screen fill proposals, but does not relate them to specific locations around the bay.

Detailed information about soil conditions under the bay is not available, according to the report.

The master plan for the bay, already adopted by the commission and to be submitted to the 1969 Legislature, provides for setting up such a review board. The latest report provides additional standards under which a board could operate.

Proper engineering can reduce risks of construction in fill to acceptable limits, according to the report.

He will stand for the programs that will bring peace abroad . . . re-establish peace at home . . . and put this nation on a new road to progress.
I urge you to vote for Max Rafferty for United States Senator on November 5th."

Lt. Gov. ROBERT FINCH says: "Californians look forward to new leadership for America with Dick Nixon.
We must also elect Max Rafferty to the U.S. Senate to support Dick Nixon in restoring respect for law at home and respect for America abroad.
Please vote for Max Rafferty, the responsible candidate for United States Senator."

Hon. HUGH BURNS
President Pro-Tempore of the California State Senate

CAMPAIGN 1968

Wallace Puts Peace Above Presidency

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — George C. Wallace, says, "I'm more interested in the war being concluded now than being president." (See other political stories, page 1.)

The third-party candidates declined to speculate on what effect President Johnson's order halting the bombing of North Vietnam would have on his candidacy, saying: "I do not care how any action that would bring peace, if it does, affects my campaign."

At a news conference last night in Norfolk, after he and the other two presidential candidates were briefed by the President on the decision, Wallace said:

"I hope and pray that whatever the President, or whatever those in Paris, do is successful.

"I am more interested in the conclusion of this war honorably and the bringing of the American servicemen home than I am anything else I can think of."

Campaigning in Hagerstown, Md., earlier in the day, he had said, "It's unfortunate, probably, that it (discussion of a bombing halt) comes right on the eve of the election. I wish it could have come months ago."

But he said later that when he made that statement, "I was not briefed and had no idea I would be briefed."

A group of hecklers in the front ranks berated him with jeers and, at one point, a miniature whisky bottle sailed from the crowd toward the candidate and hit a young woman.

A number of scuffles broke out and police hauled off a paddy wagon full of hecklers. They also took into custody two Wallace supporters, but turned them loose on the fringes of the crowd.

AGNEW

NEW YORK (AP) — Republican vice presidential nominee Sprio T. Agnew, fighting a respiratory infection and a slight fever, left today on the first leg of his final campaign swing.

Agnew was to appear at a rally in St. Joseph, Mo., this afternoon.

Agnew will travel to New Mexico and Texas tomorrow and then on to Ohio and Michigan on Sunday.

KUCHEL

SACRAMENTO (AP) — An aide to Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel maintains Kuchel has not endorsed either candidate for his Senate seat.

Peter Gall denied a statement in a memorandum credited to the campaign offices of Republican Senate candidate Max Rafferty that Kuchel "supports the entire Republican ticket . . . all the candidates."

The memorandum, distributed to newsmen yesterday by aides of Alan Cranston, the Democratic Senate nominee, adds: "That must be taken to include our candidate. Max Rafferty has the united Republican support — Reagan, (Sen. George) Murphy Nixon, (Lt. Gov. Robert) Finch and Kuchel."

Gall, however, said Kuchel "has not done a thing directly or indirectly to support either candidate" in the Senate race.

"Any representation to the contrary is false," Gall added.

McCARTHY

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, stumping for antiwar senatorial candidates, says the bombing halt in North Vietnam "is what some of us have been urging since 1966."

The Minnesota senator said he regarded President Johnson's action yesterday "an opener" that he hoped would move the Paris peace talks "on to the next stage."

"If you open with the stopping of the bombing we might then proceed to raise some of the other things that are at issue in the war," he said in an interview.

"I wish this step had been taken two years ago, but I am happy that the President has taken this time to make the move."

MUSKIE

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. Edmund S. Muskie today scoffed at a suggestion that the way to the bombing halt might have been paved by North Vietnamese leader Ho Chi Minh to aid the Democratic presidential ticket.

The Democratic vice-presidential candidate said he didn't know what affect the President's order would have on the campaign and added: "I don't care."

But he said in reply to a question about Ho Chi Minh's motives: "If Ho Chi Minh were doing this for political reasons he could have arranged a cease-fire. No, he's doing this for his own reasons and to aid his own national interests."

Appearing on NBC's "Today" show, Muskie warned against overoptimism, saying the bombing halt will permit "substantive" talks to begin but noting that talks to end the Korean War had been "long and frustrating."

"Each side now has the responsibility to exercise restraint," Muskie added.

Yippie Leader Turns College Lecture Into Jesting Funfest

By ROSS DAVIS

Black Panther Eldridge Cleaver failed to make the scene for his scheduled talk yesterday at a weekly College of Marin Controversy '68 Program.

If any of the nearly 2,000 persons attending were disappointed, it wasn't apparent. The crowd seemed well-entertained, instead, by a scheduled co-speaker, Jerry Rubin.

Rubin, organizer of the Youth International Party (Yippies), turned the college gymnasium gathering into a jesting, shouting, funfest, replete with occasional four-letter words.

Rubin's performance was characteristic of his calculated anti-Establishment zaniness that created a furor at the recent House Un-American Activities Committee investigation of Rubin and the Yippies part in disturbances at the Democratic National Convention in Chicago.

JERRY RUBIN
Entertains collegians

The House committee has since recommended that unconventional dress and behavior before a congressional committee be punishable as contempt, and yesterday Rubin, a 30-year-old New Yorker, was indicted in absentia in Chicago on charges of solicitation to commit mob action at the convention.

Advocating the burning of money, destruction of schools, and sexual activity in the streets, Rubin alternated from a loud defense of his tear-down-the-Establishment philosophy to good-natured repartee with the students.

He took the rostrum at noon. When Cleaver failed to appear, he continued talking until 1:20 p.m. Dean of Students Irwin P. Diamond and Richard Beban series chairman, then ended the session so students could go to 2 p.m. classes.

Beban said the reason for Cleaver's non-appearance unknown. Cleaver, minister of information for the Black Panthers and controversial figure in a lecture dispute at the University of California at Berkeley, had accepted the speech invitation through his appointments secretary, said Beban.

It was not determined whether a speech by Cleaver will be scheduled later.

Rubin, garbed in beaded headband, a flower shirt, and what he called a Viet Cong flag for a cape, kept the audience laughing and often clapping with his digs at politics, the American educational system and money.

"All the political parties nominated pigs" for president, said he. "It's an old people's election." He said students should go to the Nov. 5 polls with a pencil in one hand and a match in the other.

"Which way do you want to change the country?" he said, implying a choice of vote-marking or burning the polling places.

"America is a sick country; not a wrong country, a sick country," said he, adding, "I see America like the Roman society; it's just falling apart."

Switching his topic to schools, he said grades are likee money,- and the administration buildings like banks. The students try to please the professors and no one truly learns anything.

"When it comes down to it, a professor is a cop," said Rubin. ". . . I'd rather have the Hells Angels on my side than all the professors. . . . The first thing we've got to do as outlaws . . . is bring the university system down."

Rubin, who first told newsmen his residence is "everywhere" but later gave his mailing address as Berkeley, was asked by students how he would rebuild the society after he tore it down.

"A lot of it doesn't have to be replaced," he said, adding that this includes the Pentagon and military bases. He said sex and narcotics would be an important part of everyone's education. "Everyone would teach everyone else something," he concluded.

A question-answer session also had four-letter words frequently used by students in their questions.

Rubin defined the Yippy philosophy as non-polictical. "It's emotional," he said. "Political is too narrow."

College officials said about five telephone calls from persons protesting the scheduled appearance of Cleaver were received prior to the program.

Candidate Endorses Humphrey, For Pause

NEW YORK (AP) — Paul O'Dwyer, Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate, reversed his long opposition to Hubert H. Humphrey today and endorsed him for the presidency.

O'Dwyer said he was taking the action on the basis of President Johnson's decision to halt the bombing of North Vietnam.

Mailliard Flays Johnson's Veto Of His Maritime Bill

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Rep. William S. Mailliard, R-Sixth District, today accused the Johnson administration of "colossal disinterest in maritime affairs."

The object of Mailliard's ire was announcement yesterday that President Johnson will kill legislation to establish an independent federal Maritime Administration with a pocket veto. Mailliard has fought for years to separate the Maritime Administration from the Department of Commerce.

"It is simply one more example of the dead hand of the Johnson administration in the field of national maritime affairs," said Mailliard in a press statement.

Mailliard, an author of the bill, termed it "an excellent vehicle for breathing some life into an otherwise moribund Maritime Administration."

Citing "our nation's precipitous decline as a maritime power," Mailliard said the new administration taking office in January will face a "ship gap of critical proportions — highly damaging to our international trade and national defense."

Cotati Officials Eye Teen-Age Position

The Cotati Parks and Recreation Commission will again consider the appointment of a teenager to the board at its regular meeting today at 7:30 p.m. in the Cotati fire hall.

Several youngsters have been recommended for the position by the faculty of Rancho Cotate High School. If approved, the appointment will be presented at the Nov. 7 Cotati City Council meeting.

I'M FOR MAX!

California's "teacher of the year"

San Jose City College instructor Albert E. DiPippo, "California Teacher of the Year 1967-68," shown here with his family and Max Rafferty, speaks out on his choice for U.S. Senator...

"With a lifetime spent in education at all levels, Max Rafferty has played a vital role in developing one of the most dynamic state school systems in the nation.

"For the last six years as the California State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Dr. Rafferty has handled the largest state educational budget in the nation with greatest efficiency and effect.

"With an annual federal budget of $11 billion, the U.S. Senate needs a man with Max Rafferty's vast knowledge of the entire field of education to benefit all our children.

"Because I know the man—his background and his proven record—I fully support the candidacy of Dr. Max Rafferty for the U.S. Senate."

ON NOVEMBER 5, ELECT THE MAN WHOSE "VAST KNOWLEDGE OF THE ENTIRE FIELD OF EDUCATION" WILL BENEFIT YOUR CHILDREN!

■ ■ ■ Nobody is better qualified than Dr. Max Rafferty to stop the waste and inefficiency in the field of federal aid-to-education which is pouring a billion-dollar flood into the 50 states!

■ ■ ■ Nobody is better qualified than Dr. Max Rafferty to prevent the elimination of our neighborhood schools and keep them under local control.

■ ■ ■ Nobody is better qualified than Dr. Max Rafferty to fight for local school systems with enough educational muscle to equip all of its students with a quality education!

To fellow supporters of

SEN. EUGENE McCARTHY
SEN. ROBERT F. KENNEDY

This is an urgent appeal —

WE CANNOT AFFORD TO "SIT ON OUR HANDS"

We cannot afford Richard Nixon, or, of all people, Spiro T. Agnew, who reflects Nixon's judgment as to intelligent appointments in government.

MODERATE INTELLIGENT LIBERALISM is at stake, attacked with anger and repression from the RIGHT and destructivism without solutions from the LEFT.

The vast majority of enlightened Democrats and Republicans who voted for McCARTHY & KENNEDY to support rational answers to today's problems, cannot now risk abandoning America to impatient, emotional and reactionary forces. If we in California "sit this one out" we will have eight years of Nixon in which to rue our inaction and capitulation.

HUBERT HUMPHREY is a man of known integrity. It is now clear that a reappraisal of our foreign policy in line with our objectives is far more likely with a Humphrey administration than with Nixon's, in the light of recent statements by both. He will enlist intelligent and searching minds for answers to

the ills of poverty, insecurity and student unrest

SEN. EDMUND MUSKIE is focusing attention on the issues, not slogans.

Consider his judgment, and concern for disarmament, open discussion, fairness to minorities and to the young, as opposed to those of Agnew (or Heaven forbid, LeMay).

"Politics as usual is not enough for America today."

"We need new leadership. We need new ideas."

Here are the choices facing you on November 5th...

1. A candidate who would continue the policies of the Johnson-Humphrey administration—policies repudiated by a large segment of the candidate's own party.

2. A candidate who is completely untested in the international and national areas of such critical importance today.

3. Or Richard Nixon, who offers a fresh and imaginative approach to bringing unity to a divided nation. As Vice President under Dwight Eisenhower, Nixon acted decisively in times of crisis while in command of the many important jobs of government.

NIXON SPEAKS OUT ON THE MAJOR ISSUES

VIETNAM:	"Vietnam must be the last agony of the old order, because there is a question whether the old order could sustain another."
CRIME AND VIOLENCE:	"In a free and open society, where there are legal and peaceful means for change and progress, there is no cause that justifies going outside the law and no cause that justifies the resort to violence."
URBAN CRISIS:	"What we do need is imaginative enlistment of private funds, private energies, and private talents in order to develop the opportunities that lie untapped in our own underdeveloped urban heartland."
THE DRAFT:	"One of the dividends of peace after the war in Vietnam must be to abolish the draft...Then let's raise the pay of our armed forces so that we can have a highly skilled professional force."
YOUTH TODAY:	"It's true that you are inheriting a world you never made. But this was true of every generation. The great, exciting difference is that you live in a world you can change."

A NATIVE CALIFORNIAN WITH STRONG FAMILY TIES AND TRADITIONS

Nixon was raised in the Golden State and worked his way through Whittier College. In 1940, he married Patricia Ryan, a Whittier school teacher. During World War II Nixon served as a naval officer in the South Pacific. He served as a Congressman and a Senator from California before becoming Vice President in 1953. The Nixons' two daughters, Julie (second from left), and Tricia, complete a close-knit family group; Julie is engaged to 20-year-old David Eisenhower (also shown).

FIREMEN SEES, FIGHTS BLAZE WHILE OFF-DUTY

An off-duty fireman who spotted a fire in a neighbor's house in San Rafael yesterday afternoon was able to control it with a garden hose until firemen arrived, according to the fire department.

Larry E. Wall of 159 Alpine Street broke a window at the home of Alfred P. Perfetti at 169 Alpine Street when he saw smoke pouring from the house, firemen said.

Although Wall had the fire contained when the fire department arrived, about $5,000 damage had been done by the fire and smoke. Firemen thought the blaze had started in a upholstered chair, possibly from a dropped cigarette.

The fire spread through the living and dining rooms and smoke damaged other rooms.

The Perfettis were not home at the time of the fire, firemen said.

Ferocious Death Struggle In Ramon Novarro's Home

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Ramon Novarro, Latin lover of the silent screen and early talkies, fought whoever killed him with a ferocity that belied his 69 years.

A trail of blood led through overturned furniture in the actor's living room, into the den and past a huge bronze bust of his greatest role, "Ben Hur," and to the bedroom where his nude body was found early yesterday by his secretary.

The body was sprawled face up on a king-size bed. Nearby were his broken glasses. Police said his head was crushed by a heavy instrument during the prolonged struggle that raged through the actor's $150,000 home in the Hollywood Hills.

There was no sign of forced entry—the front door was locked when the body was first found—and detectives said they had no motive for the slaying. The murder weapon was not found.

The only significant clue today was a bundle of discarded clothing found on the outside chain link fence surrounding the one-story, Spanish-style house.

The clothes — blue denim trousers, a jacket, T-shirt and bloodstained shorts—did not belong to Novarro. If they belonged to the murderer, police were puzzled as to why he threw them away so close to the scene and what he wore afterwards.

The star of the original versions of "Ben Hur" and "Prisoner of Zenda" lived alone in the rambling, white-brick home. Detectives indicated Novarro may have let his killer into the home voluntarily.

Petaluma Teen Dance To Hear 'Bronze Hog'

A teen-age dance featuring "The Bronze Hog," a rock band made up of Sonoma State College students, will be held tomorrow from 8 p.m. to midnight at the Petaluma War Memorial Building.

Sponsored by the St. Vincent's Fathers Club, the proceeds will benefit the St. Vincent High School athletic program. Other bands playing will be "The Cultural Complex" and "The Golden Calf." A psychedelic light show will be presented by the "Napalm Light Company," made up of Petaluma teen-agers.

Patrolman Flushes Out Bigger Game

A patrolman checking for Halloween contraband flushed bigger game last night, San Rafael police reported today.

Patrolman Walter P. Kosta reported he was checking cars at 6:45 p.m. at Fourth and Court streets for eggs and similar Halloween items when he peered into one car and found Kenneth Joseph Levy of San Francisco with a plastic bag of marijuana in his hands.

Kosta arrested Levy, 19, and the driver, Val Harland Hampton, 19, of 27 Bridge Road, Larkspur, on suspicion of possessing marijuana. Levy then turned over 10 varicolored pills which he said were LSD, Kosta reported.

Both were booked at Marin County Jail on suspicion of possessing marijuana and a dangerous drug, and were released on their own recognizance to appear this afternoon in Marin Municipal Court.

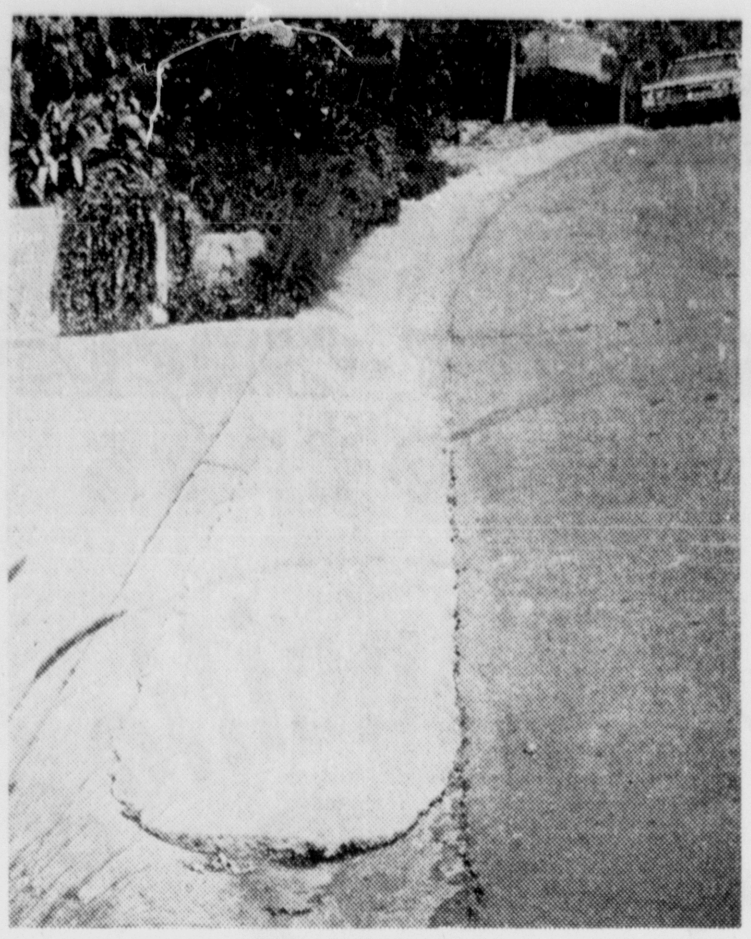
THAT'S LEGAL — Allan Kane, 5, of 357 Via La Paz, Greenbrae, rides over a gutter fill which the City of Larkspur considers legal because it will allow water drainage.
(Independent-Journal photos)



THAT'S ILLEGAL — This fill of a driveway dip in the Greenbrae section of Larkspur is considered illegal by Larkspur officials because it impedes drainage. The curb-crossers have not been a source of controversy in Larkspur.

NO DRIVEWAY WAR

Larkspur Smoothly Solves Gutter Woes

The City of Larkspur has been quietly and deliberately eliminating illegal driveway gutter fills which have raised so much controversy in other parts of Marin County.

Warren Mistron, Larkspur public works director, has estimated that the number of illegal "curb crossers" has been reduced from 500 to 200 in the past 18 months. He hoped the remainder would be eliminated in the next six months.

Mistron said a campaign was completed last week to correct 70 to 80 improper gutter crossings in the Hillview Garden subdivision alone.

Of this number, he added, only three had to be removed through abatement proceedings, meaning the city took out the fills and billed the property owner.

Mistron and City Mgr. Kent B. Bathurst said a survey of Larkspur 18 months ago disclosed that 500 driveways had been impeded eight by concrete, blacktop or wood, thus preventing adequate water drainage to catch basins. Flooding of streets resulted, they said.

To change this, the public works department sent notices last February to violators that application must be made for encroachment permits for the curb crossings. This enabled the city to inspect gutters, said Mistron, and residents were advised of what corrections were necessary to obtain a permit.

Mistron said there also was a heavy concentration of illegal curb crossers in Heather Gardens. But of about 100 crossing there, he said, only one remains defective.

He said the city council has had only nine appeals of rulings against crossers. These appeals are pending, he added.

Mistron said new letters are being sent to the remaining 200 violators, urging them again to apply for permits. He described almost all of the property owners as cooperative.

"We're trying to work with them because it is an expense to them to reconstruct, and we don't want to just go jerk them (driveway fills) out," he said.

The County of Marin attempted last month to remove gutter fills from driveways in the Oak Manor subdivision near Fairfax with jackhammers, but was blocked when housewives placed their cars on the curb crossers.

The cases wound up before the board of supervisors, which upheld the county public works department's objections to the gutter fills.

Air Pollution Exemptions Vetoed For Special Vehicles

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The state Air Resources Board has received three straight "no" answers to questions submitted to Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch on smog control and testing of exhaust emissions.

John A. Maga, executive office of the Air Resources Board had sought the attorney general's opinion on whether the board: Could make a special allowance for evaporative loss control for testing exhaust emissions; apply a factor of 0.85 in its test procedures to reflect the difference between off-road utility vehicles and passenger cars; and exclude off-road utility vehicles weighing less than 6,001 pounds from the evaporative loss standards?

The attorney general's opinion, written by Deputy Atty. Gen. Jan Stevens, states the board does "not" have the authority to make a special allowance for evaporative loss control; may "not" apply a factor to reflect differences in operation between off-road utility vehicles and passenger cars; and has "no" authority to exclude light, off-road utility vehicles from the statutory requirements of the Health and Safety Code.

A spokesman for the attorney general stated the "evaporative loss control" is gasoline fumes emitting from vehicles while not in use; the off-road utility vehicles include such things as tractors, fork lifts and tugs.

Portugal Sells Neighbor's Fish

LISTON (AP) — Portugal exported to European Free Trade Association (EFTA) countries 16,697 tons of canned fish worth $10.7 million in 1967.

Great Britain was the greatest buyer with 10,122 tons worth $6 million.

Although Portugal belongs to EFTA, the Common Market countries take 49 per cent of all exports of Portuguese canned fish and the partners in EFTA only 24 per cent.

West Germany is the country that buys the most canned fish from Portugal. Last year Germany bought 10,615 tons worth $7.3 million.

TOM STORER
TAX-FREEZE SPONSOR TALKS ABOUT ECONOMY
(Reprinted from the Independent-Journal, Feb. 29, 1968)

"Marin County ought to lead the way and freeze the tax rate and hold down spending. We should show them we mean business, and we would hope the state and federal governments will take cognizance of our action and follow suit," Storer declared.

"Instead of spending and then tailoring the tax rate to fit the need, we should freeze the tax rate and tailor our spending to fit the pocketbook," he added ...

This is not the first time Storer has asked for reduction or freezing of the tax rate. In connection with the Hall of Justice bond issue in 1965, Storer proposed that the county promise a one-cent to five-cent reduction in the tax rate if the bond issue was passed.

The bond issue did pass and the tax rate for the 1965-66 fiscal year was $2.185, as compared with the previous year's $2.30.

'War Of The Worlds' Still Sparks Calls

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — An updated version of the 1938 "War of the Worlds" broadcast, played by a Buffalo radio station late Halloween night, brought a flood of telephone calls through switchboards late yesterday and early today.

The broadcast over Station WKBW was billed as part of a Halloween night special.

Program director Jeff Kaye was quoted by a local television and radio columnist yesterday as saying, "we use Orson Welles' script for a background and then treat it as a developing news story. It plays out very real."

Welles' Mercury Theater group's show pretened to report an invasion from Mars.

News offices throughout the Northeast were called for information concerning the "attack reported" by the station. Callers asked about meteors crashing on "an island in New York" and on Grand Island.

Students at Alfred University, whose homes are in the Buffalo area, tried desperately to reach relatives to find out the "extent of damage."

Police in Buffalo said they received a few calls but did not know of any incidents of panic.

A telephone operator estimated that several thousand calls went through the Buffalo switchboards during the broadcast. Operators in the surrounding area said they had several hundred calls for the station's number or for information concerning the "attack."

The 1938 broadcast, widely believed the report of an actual invasion, caused widespread panic.

Linda And Infant Out Of Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lynda Johnson Robb says she calls her 7-day-old daughter Cinda or Cindy.

Mrs. Robb and Lucinda Desha Robb returned to the White House yesterday from Bethesda Naval Hospital and were greeted by the grandparents, President and Mrs. Johnson.

The baby's aunt, Luci Johnson Nugent, drove them from the hospital where Cindy was born Oct. 25. Her father, Marine Capt. Charles S. Robb, is serving in Vietnam.

vote for the man

Voters in the First Congressional District have a long history of voting . . . for the man, not a party label. Since the turn of the century, only five men have represented the Redwood Empire in Congress. Each has been an outstanding representative . . . a credit to our District and to our Country. This tradition does more than just keep good men working for us in Washington, D.C. It has enabled our Congressmen to acquire the seniority that puts them in key positions and greatly increases their ability to produce for all of us. Democrats, Republicans and Independents agree that we need Don Clausen's kind of ability and experience . . . and seniority. Only this combination can truly serve our interests in the Congress. Only Don Clausen can provide us with this effective combination.

Werber, Friends Indicted By Jury

The Marin County Grand Jury yesterday voted indictments against Marin entertainment tycoon Frank N. Werber and three others arrested for alleged marijuana violations with him Oct. 14 in his plush Richardson Bay home.

Werver, former manager of the Kingston trio, and Judith Anne Sloper, 30, who lives with him at 4 DeSilva Island, were indicted for allegedly growing and possessing marijuana.

Bryce Staples Wilson, a Kentfield writer, and Frank J. Mathieson, a San Anselmo drummer, were indicted for alleged possession of marijuana for sale.

Local authorities, led to the Werber home by customs agents, found a marijuana garden, various caches of marijuana and six duffle bags of marijuana in the bayside home, Oct. 14.

They allegedly watched Wilson and Mathieson arrive at the house in a car which contained another 34 pounds of marijuana.

Authorities were led to the house by Stanley Mulligan and Charles Peter Barrett, owners of Latitude 38 in Sausalito, who — according to a federal court affidavit — told customs agents Werber contracted with them for delivery of 258 pounds of marijuana.

Werber, Miss Sloper, Wilson and Mathieson are to appear for arraignment on the local charges Monday in Marin Superior Court. Werber is to appear Thursday in U.S. District Court in San Francisco on charges of conspiracy to transport marijuana and transporting marijuana.

Barrett and Mulligan, arrested with the pot in Laredo, Tex., share the conspiracy charge with Werber.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales had originally charged Werber locally with transporting marijuana and conspiracy to transport the weed.

He said he did not ask the grand jury yesterday for such an indictment because it might have placed the promoter in double jeopardy. He faces the same charges in federal court.

The grand jury yesterday also returned a sealed indictment charging welfare fraud. Identity of the accused will be released upon arrest.

Halloween Mischief Not Serious In Marin

Marin's Halloween pranksters for the most part confined themselves last night to minor mischief such as egg throwing and setting off firecrackers as police described the holiday problems as "very light."

In Novato, however, trick-or-treaters were badly tricked themselves on Sixth Street, where candies which had been soaked in either oil or gasoline were handed out to youngsters, according to police.

Although police have had no reports of children getting sick from eating the candy, they warned parents of youngsters who visited that area last night to caramels wrapped in black and orange papers which had been opened prior to being given out.

Sgt. William Cann said that police have not yet determined at which house on Sixth Street the unadulterated candy was handed out.

The Marin County sheriff's department, which had 48 calls about Halloween mischief, made one arrest. Deputies investigating reports of egg throwing at the College of Marin said when they arrived at the college gym they found two youths throwing eggs who then began to pelt the deputies' car with rocks.

After a chase into Corte Madera Creek, the deputies arrested Patrick L. Dupree, 21, of 115 La Goma Street, Mill Valley on suspicion of being drunk and contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

The 17-year-old accompanying him was taken to Marin County Juvenile Hall on suspicion of being drunk, beyond parental control and having a switchblade knife.

Dupree was released from jail on $660 bail and will appear in Marin Municipal Court Monday. Deputies said they will consult the district attorney's office as to whether to charge him also with the felony crime of throwing rocks as a moving vehicle.

In San Rafael, police reported there were about 20 incidents of egg throwing, firecrackers and one car sprayed with paint. Firemen in San Rafael were harrassed by several false alarms shortly after midnight.

In Southern Marin youngsters added shaving cream to eggs and firecrackers as weapons, according to Mill Valley police.

Southern Sonoma pranksters also utilized the area's main product, tossing eggs at stores, houses, and cars in Petaluma, Cotati and Rohnert Park.

Petaluma police said that a large egg throwing fight took place in Walnut Park, and although police compiled a list of 21 youngsters, no arrests were made.

Bird Refuge Proposed As Landmark

Audubon Canyon Ranch on Bolinas Lagoon, nesting reserve for wildfowl including egrets and blue herons, was proposed yesterday for inclusion in the National Registry of Natural Landmarks.

The Advisory Board on National Parks, Historic Sites, Buildings and Monuments made the recommendation to Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall.

The board also proposed that Lake Tahoe's Emerald Bay be included in the registry. They were the only two sites in the 48 contiguous states recommended for inclusion this year, according to Clerin W. Zumwalt, chief naturalist at the ranch.

Inclusion in the national registry, Zumwalt said, would be recognition that the ranch is of national significance. Management of the ranch will not be affected.

The ranch would receive a marker plaque, and will be listed on road maps and on National Park Serive lists as a landmark, which Zumwalt said would increase the number of visitors.

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Motorcycle patrolmen were temporarily transferred to squad cars last night after a fellow patrolman was spilled from his two-wheeler by a rock.

The patrolman, Donald Sweeney, 35, was hit in the eye in the Ingleside district and veered into an approaching car. He was operated on at Mission Emergency Hospital and doctors said they thought they could save his sight.

Police said they transferred the other motorcycle patrols to squad cars as a precautionary measure for the one night only.

The rock thrower was not apprehended.

College Trustees Worried By Building Cost Publicity

The College of Marin's second workshop on issues last night turned out to be a sparsely attended session despite recent campus controversy over building plans.

With fewer than 20 persons on hand, including six staff members, three trustees and two reporters, attention was focused on publicity and communication.

The publicity issue was sparked by a story in the Independent-Journal Wednesday concerning students' contention that the college could cut building costs substantially by using redwood.

Trustees Donald K. Felt said he was interested in hearing students views but felt it was detrimental to "air issues in this way."

An airing in the I-J with a banner headline might give the public the wrong idea and "people might get the notion we're building an extravagant college." Felt said.

Trustee Charles W. Gray said "it should be out in the open. It's got to be public and when it's public in Marin County, it's in the I-J."

Felt emphasized that he was for "free, open communication but was concerned when it was "blown out of perspective."

Gray pointed out that the "play" given the story was a decision of the newspaper and beyond the purview of the board.

Dale A. Fleming, planning director, said student interest in building plans "is welcome, encouraged and appropriate." but the students should be accurate when quoting costs.

"All the information was not there and it was a misleading kind of comment," he said. "We cannot build for half the cost by using redwood."

All the district's information on building plans has been discussed at board meetings and is available for review by residents, Fleming said.

Trustee Harry J. Moore, who has opposed construction of a new football field, an opposition shared by the Students for Academic Freedom, called for further discussion of building priorities.

If the district is going to come up with a bond proposal, there should be a building program that will be palatable to the public, Moore said.

Moore contended "something as important" as building priorities should have a full airing for public, students and faculty.

College President Louis H. Herkenhoff said, "There has never been an attempt to not keep the people informed."

A student contended the students know how to use the news media better than the district and practiced one-upmanship by getting a headline in Wednesday's I-J.

$2,038 Photographic Theft In San Anselmo

Theft of photography equipment valued at $2,038 from the garage of Ernest B. Braun of 479 Upper Scenic Avenue was reported today by San Anselmo police.

Braun, a professional photographer, told officers the items taken included camera lights, film holders, lighting stands, lenses, filters and light meters.

Hub Chamber Takes No Stand On Proposition

The San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce board yesterday discussed but decided to take no stand on Proposition 9 on Tuesday's ballot.

The proposition, the Watson initiative, would limit property tax levies to 1 per cent of market value and use of property tax revenues to support schools and welfare would be phased out.

The board also discussed plans for Christmas decorations in San Anselmo, and studied a map of the city-owned creekside parking near the Hub. The lot will be used by the city for two-hour free parking and monthly full-time daylight parking on a rental basis.

Next board meeting will be at 12:15 p.m. Thursday at the Pepperwood restaurant, Red Hill shopping center.

Building Code Revisions Eyed

Rohnert Park City Council will consider an ordinance to update the city's 1964 building code at its regular meeting Monday at 7 p.m. in city hall.

The additions will cover the building, plumbing, electrical, heating and comfort cooling codes. City Mgr. Peter M. Callinan said the proposed additions do not make further restrictions, but recognize new materials and advanced building procedure.

If approved by council, a public hearing will be scheduled.

A BIG DEAL for the FAT CATS

but it's BAD NEWS for homeowners and DISASTER for renters!

VOTE NO ON PROPOSITION 9

IF PROPOSITION NO. 9 WERE ADOPTED:

● Enormous property tax savings to large landowners and speculators would have to be made up by drastically increased income and sales tax on homeowners and renters.

● California's school system would be thrown into chaos.

● Bonds for construction projects totalling more than $5 billion dollars — authorized by the voters but unissued — could not be sold. This represents a loss of more than half a million jobs for California workers.

HOW are the great majority of Californians
HURT
by The Tax Trap Initiative?

A practical method of replacing property tax revenues lost under Proposition 9 would be a combination of these State tax increases, as calculated by State fiscal experts:

(1) Doubling existing State Income Tax
(2) Doubling existing State Sales Tax
(3) Imposition of 5% Sales Tax on Food

This shifting of tax burdens would have the following effect on a family of four:

WAR ON LUNCH PAILS

Toys Of Violence Outlawing Urged

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Assemblyman John L. Burton, D-San Francisco, has promised he would once again offer legislation to discourage the depicting of violence on lunch pails for children and renewed his campaign against "war toys."

Burton, meeting with newsmen in the state Capitol, told how his 4-year-old daughter had broken her lunch pail and it took him a "full week" to find one which did not depict violence.

He said that "parents buying simple lunch pails for their school children are now hard-pressed to find one that does not graphically depict scenes of violence or is not profusely illustrated with guns and other weapons." He displayed three pails, each of which had such scenes painted on them.

Burton said he would again introduce legislation that would require toy manufacturers to "Clearly label toys of violence as being potentially dangerous to children," much as the cigarette packages are labeled as being dangerous to health.

He admitted that little else could be done without getting into the problem of censoring.

Burton applauded the move away from war toys, particularly noting the decision by Sears, Roebuck and Co., which decided against handling war toys. He said he had notified that firm of his endorsement of their move.

Burton said, "It has never been more clear that our society is steeped in violence. With the growth of violence on our high school, junior high school, and even grade school campuses, it becomes more compelling to end the indoctrination of our children with such violence-depicting toys. We must stop the 'acceptability of violence' among our children."

Petaluma 4-H Horse Show Set

Eleven junior point classes and seven open classes are planned. Project leaders are Mrs. Hugh Stroupe and Mrs. Richard Clary while junior leaders are Marsha Stroupe and Donald Smith. Community leaders for the group are Mrs. William Owen and Mrs. John Millerick.

Entry forms can be obtained from Miss Stroupe, 185 Queens Lane, Petaluma.

Nicotine Need

GESHER, Israel (AP) — Tense members of this border settlement south of the Sea of Galilee, an almost daily target for Jordanian machine-gun and artillery fire, are smoking 80 per cent more cigarettes than before last year's war, kibbutz officials said.

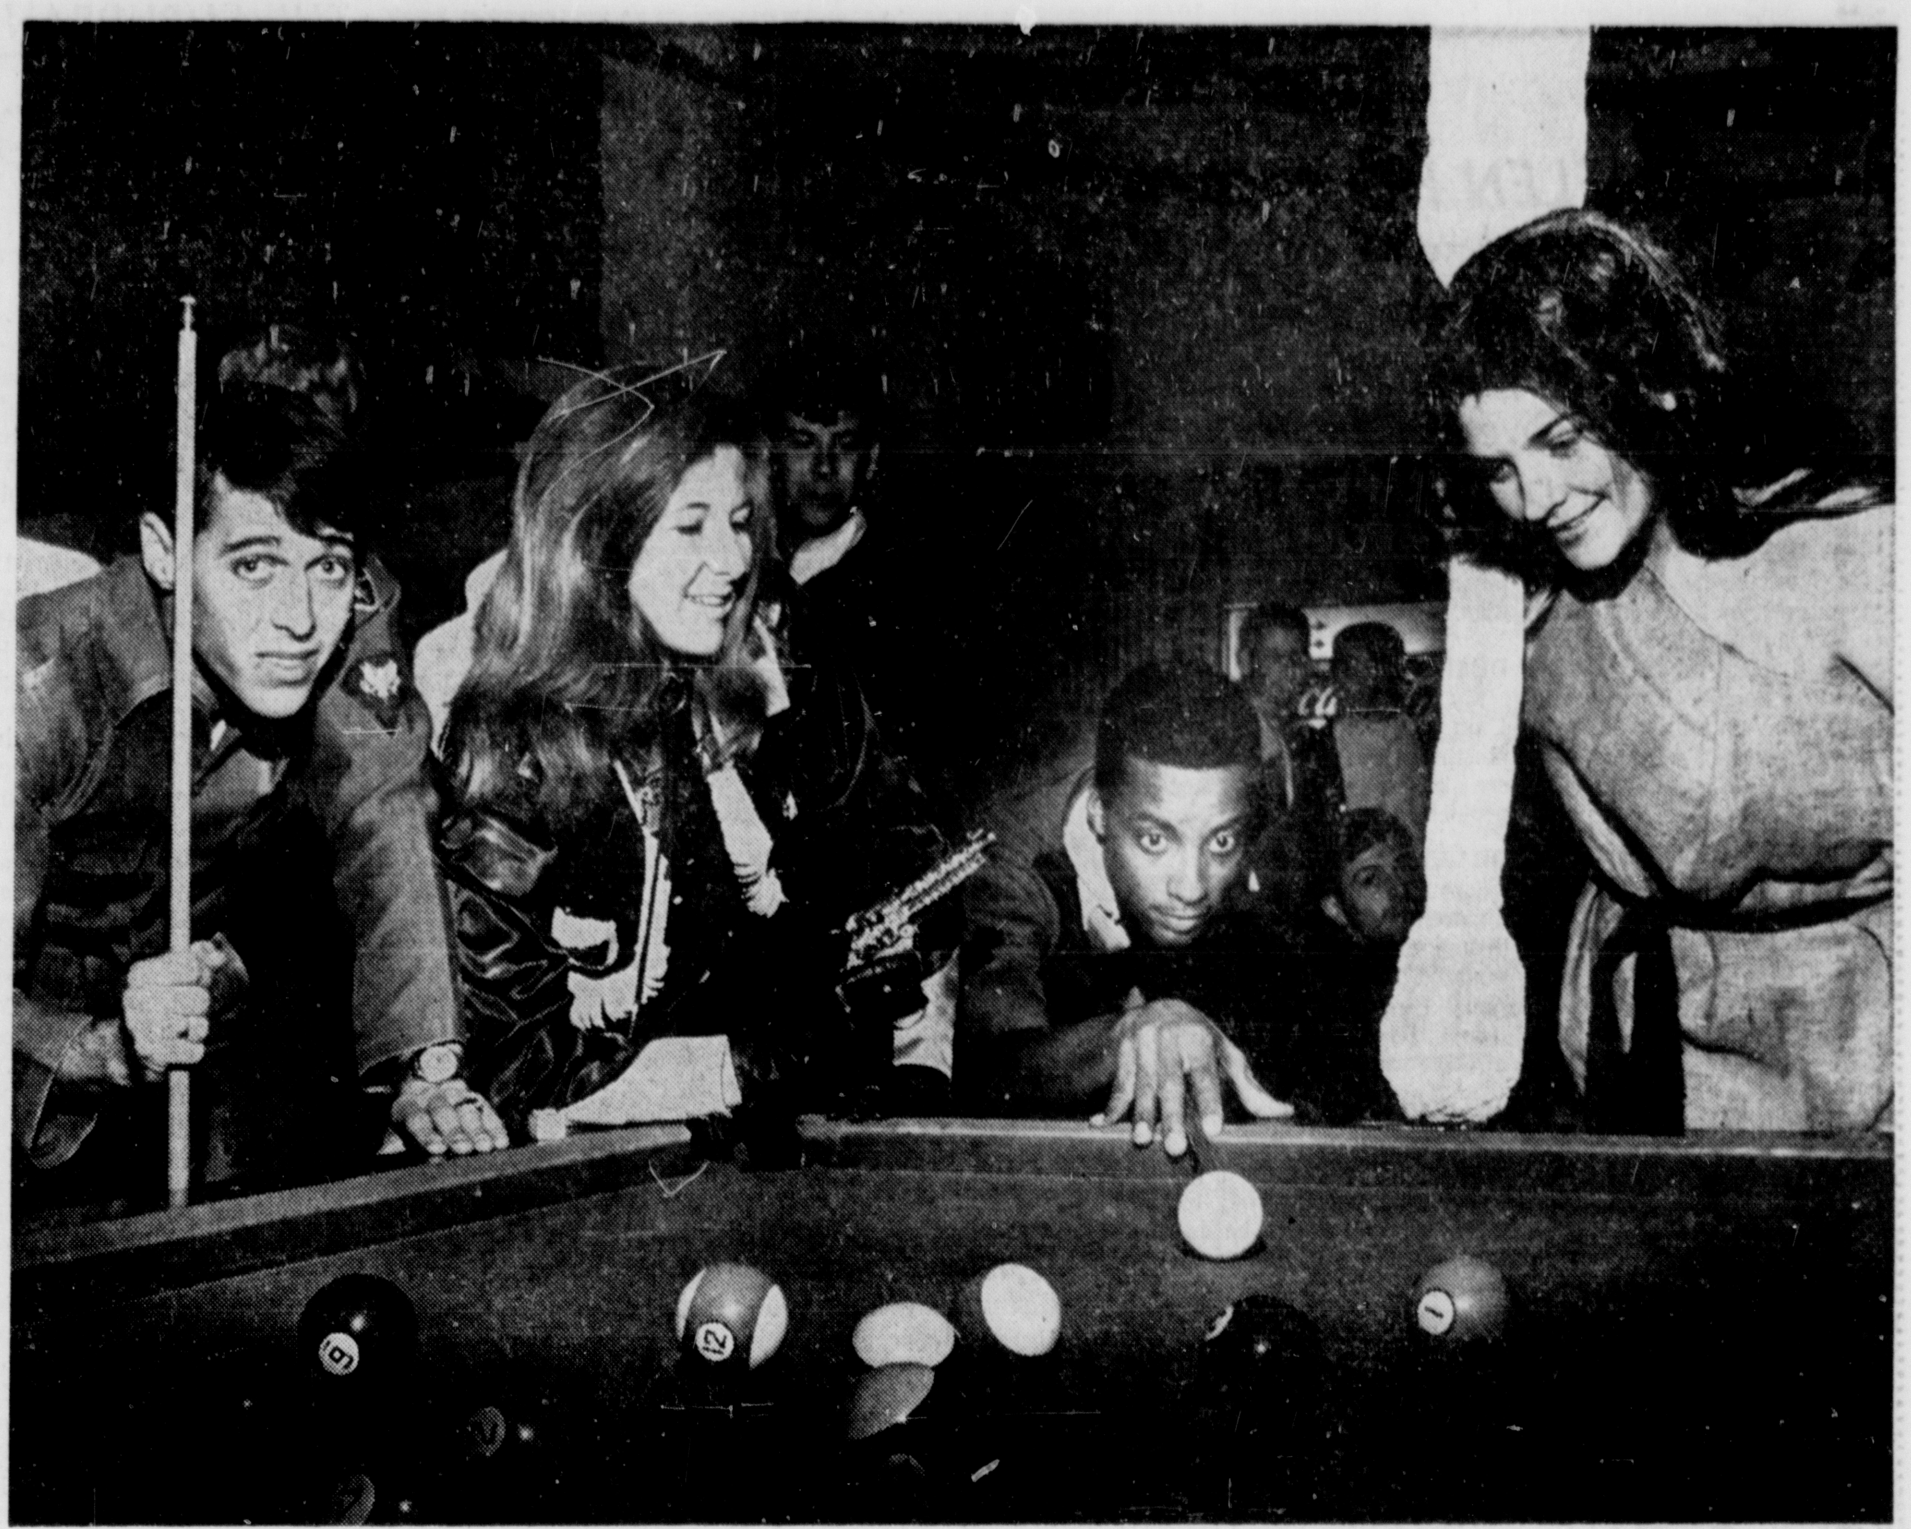
THE DAY MY DAUGHTER socked it to Ft. Baker could be the title of the above photo but really is Marlene Keelen of Fairfax dancing with a willing partner at a USO Halloween dance. USO girls travel to all military bases in the Bay Area where they serve as hostesses for social events. They are not a part of the military service but are civilian volunteers. Marlene is chairman of the Marin USO Mobile Unit, a member of the Bay Area United Crusade. (Independent-Journal photos by Bob Hax).



ON THE GO WTH USO and everyone is welcome. A lively game of pool takes place at Ft. Baker Servicemen's Club Tuesday evening with the men perplexed by their partners at first but soon adjusting to "Cowgirl" Linda Young of Forest Knolls, left, and "Cavewoman" Patty Hyde of San Rafael. Waiting his turn is Spec. 4 Bill Sullivan of Goshen, Ind. and shooting is PFC Douglas Durley of Detroit, Mich. The Halloween costume dance at Ft. Baker included servicemen from the Presido, Letterman General Hospital and Ft. Cronkite along with the hosts. Patty won first prize for her costume at the Hamilton Air Force Base Halloween dance last Friday.

WITH USO

Marin Girls Volunteer For 'Active' Duty

By GRACE HENDERSON

"I could write a book about these USO girls. It's really something when they come way out here just to help us guys." The speaker was an enlisted man serving in the U.S. Army stationed in a remote section of the Bay Area. He was expressing his gratitude for participation in the Bay Area USO (United Service Organization) by more than 20 Marin girls, all volunteer members of the Marin USO Mobile Unit and a part of the Bay Area USO Mobile Unit headquartered in San Francisco. They were taking part in an on-base dance, one event in a continuous chain of socials supported by the USO Mobile Unit since its Bay Area inception in 1965.

A representation of the group goes somewhere seven nights a week, with few exceptions, entertaining servicemen of the Bay Area. There are parties, dances, social evenings, gourmet tours, hospital ward parties, square dances, bridge classes, dance classes, softball games, barbecues and special happenings.

There are costume events, party themes, formal and informal activities; and there are girls and military personnel. All events are under the auspices of the USO, with military hospital activity scheduled through cooperation of the American Red Cross. These include Oaknoll Hospital and Travis Air Force Base Hospital where ward parties and dances are the chief source of entertainment. The Marin Unit was organized last July with 24 girls and two senior volunteers.

IT'S A FAST MOVING WORLD, a fact that was emphasized by the appearance of Air-Vacs at a recent Travis AFB Hospital dance. The men had arrived from Vietnam that morning and attended the Red Cross USO dance in the theater of the hospital that evening. As one of the junior hostesses expressed her feelings "It was one of the best dances we have ever had at Travis."

As with young people everywhere humor prevails, as was graphically expressed by a volunteer after a dance at the Oakland Army Base.

There are restrictions which are followed carefully but somehow an inebriated soldier made his way to the bus as the USO girls were boarding for the homeward trip. He approached the steps and requested a goodnight kiss from one to which she promptly replied, "That's a No-No in the USO — and besides, I have trench mouth!"

JUNIOR VOLUNTEERS all between the ages of 18 and 25, are either college students or working so attendance depends on midterms, working hours and other duties. Just now an outside activity is the preparation of Christmas gifts for the 44th Signal Battalion serving somewhere in Vietnam.

The battalion, traditionally sponsored by Bay Area USO units, includes approximately one thousand men. To make their Christmas brighter, the girls are constructing miniature stockings to stuff with razor blades, combs, plastic cigarette containers, sewing kits, deodorant, key chains, other small items, small toys to be given Vietnam children and a few tokens such as lipstick for the girls. All items are being donated.

FOR MOST FUNCTIONS the junior and senior volunteers (mother hens) ride military busses. Anticipation runs high enroute and coming home the enthusiasm for the vent just ended and the next one coming up brings comments and evaluation. There was plenty of time for this Wednesday evening as the group and their driver waited patiently for someone to come with a key to let them pass following a Halloween dance at a Travis Nike Site. The gate is locked at 1930 hours and opened again at 0700.

One girl described her experience at another event. She hadn't had time to set her hair prior to a long trip on a bus. So on arrival at the dance she dashed to the restroom where she teased her locks into an acceptable hairdo. But soon the active dances had her tresses drooping. She tried to smooth them down without calling attention to herself but her partner noticed and inquired "Would you like me to help? "and added" I'm a professional hairdresser, you know," to the surprised girl.

To become junior volunteers Marin girls follow rules set up for all USO volunteers. They are interviewed and required to furnish three references. They attend a monthly unit meeting held at the Marin Civic Center and must also go to at least two on-base activities each month. And when it comes to entertaining servicemen the by-word is "circulate," meaning they converse with as many male guests as possible during the evening.

BAY AREA USO Mobile Units are located in Marin, San Francisco, San Mateo, Alameda and Contra Costa counties and are served by more than 100 junior volunteers giving a total of 1300 hours every month. In 1967 4,478 junior and senior volunteers donated 132,087 hours to entertaining servicemen in the area. Their main purpose is to help make the USO truly a "home away from home."

Girls in Marin County who meet the basic requirements and who would like to join are welcome. Contacts may be made through the Bay Area USO headquarters in San Francisco, the Volunteer Bureau in San Rafael or by contacting any junior or senior volunteer. Mesdames Lillian Nolan of Kentfield and Grace Henderson and Chapin Day, both of San Rafael, are local senior volunteers.

As Rudyard Kipling once wrote, "Gardens are not made by singing, 'Oh, how beautiful' and sitting in the shade." Gardens are made by digging in and working vigorously

A DECK OF CARDS, some players and plenty of kibitzers complete one corner of activity at Ft. Baker Service Club. Beverly Fox, field director of the Bay Area USO Mobile Units, helps PFC Gale Ledbetter of the Presidio, as Kathy Reho, USO Service Club director at Ft. Baker attacks the problem humorously. Spec. 4 Charles Pine of Letterman General Hospital enjoys the game as Spc. 5 Alex Wachtel of Rochester, N.Y. studies his hand. Back row and "assisting" the players are, left to right, Sharon Halestrap of Fairfax, Rosanne Davis of San Rafael and Shirley Shenone of Corte Madera.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Should Mom Give Up Smoking In Return For Diaper Service?

DEAR HELEN:

We have twins three years old, and a baby five months old. My husband says I can continue having diaper service only if I give up smoking. I won't give up smoking unless he quits his Friday night poker game.

I say if I have to give up the service, he must buy me six dozen diapers but he only wants to buy two dozen. If he only gets me two dozen, I'll need a clothes dryer to keep up, and that's more expensive than a diaper service.

I don't think he's fair, do you?
— MARSHA

DEAR MARSHA:

Fair on not, you'll work less and enjoy it more if you give up smoking. And when you make the Big Sacrifice, especially for your husband, you'll find he'll do more nice things for you — even perhaps to taking you out on Friday nights or buying you a dryer for Christmas. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

My husband is 75 years old. I am 36. We have a 12-year-old daughter. Do they allow children in senior citizen housing projects? — D. L.

DEAR D.:

Two out of three in your family aren't senior citizens. Even though you were "allowed," you wouldn't be happy in a golden years complex. Your husband should bow to the majority.
— H.

DEAR HELEN:

My 16-year-old daughter is pregnant. She has been going steady with an older boy for a year, and we think he is no good, but she says he has never touched her. I've had several fights with her about him.

She accuses my husband, her stepfather. She said he came home drunk one night while I was away. He swears this isn't true; and my daughter first said it happened on one date, and then another, when I proved I was home that night.

My husband does drink a lot. I can't believe this, but I can't quite disbelieve it entirely.

The misery is unbearable, as if I side with my husband, I've lost a daughter, and if I side with my daughter, I'll have to leave him. Helen, I love them both, though I see their faults. Now, all I want to do is run away and hide.

Last night she asked me to apply for an abortion because her stepfather is the father. Do you suppose she is pinning it on him so she can get out of this? — NO WAY TO TURN

DEAR NWTT:

It won't take long for an expert counsellor to catch your daughter up, if she's lying. Insist that she consult one. Should she refuse, you can be pretty sure your husband is innocent.
— H.

DEAR HELEN:

About those restaurants where the waiters and waitresses snub mannerly teens: If we parents got into the act and boycotted them, they might get the message faster.

Our son, after being ignored, served sloppily, and so slowly he and his date were an hour late to their prom, left the exact change on the plate. The waiter held up the bill, counted the money and made snide remarks, thinking to embarrass him before his girl. But she had already been clued in. On the way out, he handed the waiter a healthy tip. I hope the darn guy felt ashamed, but I doubt it. The food's good but we are — BOYCOTTING.

The preview is scheduled for the Coral Room of the hospital from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The gift shop is operated by a branch of the Marin General Hospital Volunteers, and all proceeds are used to purchase equipment needed for the hospital.

WHEN THE Episcopal Women of the Church of the Nativity gathered for a salad bowl luncheon contest in Marinwood, they chose the vicar, the Rev. David Barnette, as the judge for the salad entries. After tasting them all, and agreeing that each was delicious, the vicar fell to the delicate task of selecting a winner. Father Barnette judiciously chose an outstanding one in a beautiful green bowl.

It took the ladies a few minutes to realize that the vicar had tactfully chosen the one he had prepared himself!

But actually everybody won, as each received a prize of some kind, depending on the order in which the names were drawn from a bowl. And luncheon proceeds were turned over to the church for Sunday school supplies.

THE PETALUMA Parent Nursery School under adult education is planning its annual fashion show for Feb. 20 at the Veteran Memorial building in Petaluma.

The four-year-olds in attendance have taken several field trips this semester including a visit to the Boyd Natural Science Museum in San Rafael.

On The Go With USO At Bay Area Bases

toward a goal. This is what Marin USO Mobile Unit members do, they "dig in" and their enthusiasm brightens the lives of American military men at Hamilton AFB, the Presidio; Ft. Baker, Ft. Cronkite and Ft. Barry; Oakland Army Base; Oaknoll Hospital; various Nike sites; and beginning tomorrow evening, also Mare Island Naval Base at Vallejo.

Members of the Marin Unit not mentioned in pictures are Lynell Banner, Sue Howland, Tobie Nabors and Danny Rylko, all of San Rafael; Denise Overhouse, Gloria Hassler, Gaye Rhoads and Jan Wahlberg, of San Anselmo; and Marianne Boyer of Fairfax.

Like the television advertisement that says "Our stewardesses know their way around the world like most girls know their way around the block," the Marin USO Mobile Unit girls know their way to and from military bases like their counterparts know their way to the local theater.

But to the girls themselves, it is seeing hospital patients given the incentive to dance when just that day they refused to walk across the floor for therapy or the opportunity to listen to a homesick man tell of his family in another state and to be with those who do not know anyone in California and appreciate having a chance to dance again.

The name cards read "On the Go With USO" and Marin County girls go with USO — wherever and whenever needed.

Christmas Shopping Begins Early

LONDON (UPI)—The Christmas gift list of Britain's Queen Elizabeth has 700 names on it. So she has already started shopping for presents.

During her fall vacation at Balmoral Castle in the Scottish Highlands, she looked through catalogues from several London stores and marked her selections for her lady-in-waiting to place orders.

The queen gets gifts for 28 godchildren, friends in scores of countries she has visited during her world tours, and members of all the other European royal families. Most of them are relatives. She shops personally for family presents in December.

Extra early Christmas preparation is so that many of the packages and cards can be posted in November, the month the queen will be away on a state visit to South America.

With her characteristic thoroughness, the queen means to make sure everything is in order before she leaves.

FEATURED THIS SATURDAY
Marinites will join their fellow Americans across the country on Tuesday in going to the polls to cast ballots in a most important general election. To assist them, tomorrow's Independent-Journal Marin Magazine will devote most of its pages to that election. Voters will find stories by I-J political writer Paul Peterzell that illuminate the stands on the candidates and the special issues upon which they will be balloting Tuesday.
Before a general election can be held, the county's election department personnel must put in long months of preparations. Tuesday's voting is no exception. I-J reporter Alan Jones takes you behind the scenes in a special illustrated feature in tomorrow's Marin Magazine, telling you with the help of Jim Kean photographs the story of those preparations. It's a prime example of local government in action.

Pupils' Africa Trip Gets Board Blessing

The Sausalito School District board gave its blessing yesterday to a proposed project to have five Negro pupils take a trip to Senegal during the Christmas vacation period.

The project was conceived by James T. Toliver Jr., special assistant to the principal and staff at Martin Luther King School, who spent two years (1965-67) in Senegal as a Peace Corps volunteer.

Trustee David E. Freedheim stressed that the project would be funded by contributions from individuals or foundations and there wouldn't be any cost to the district.

Funding is still being sought, reported Trustee Martha Freebairn-Smith. "It's now a question if it will get off the ground."

Toliver said the trip is designed "to help repair the educational and cultural gap existing between the youth of America and the youth of Africa."

"The aim is to develop a social studies unit on Africa for grades five through eight including a documentary film on the experience of five pupils from Marin City in Africa."

The film could serve not only the Sausalito district, but school districts throughout the U.S., Toliver said.

As proposed, five pupils, seventh and eighth graders from Martin Luther King School, would leave Dec. 16 and return Jan. 6, 1969. They would be accompanied by Toliver, two cameramen, David Schickele and Kirk Smallman, a soundman, and someone with nursing skill.

Toliver estimated the budget for the project at $34,985, with a large portion, $15,670 allocated for making a 45-minute color film.

Trustees lauded the educational value of such a trip and expressed hope it would lead to other travel projects.

They voted to serve as "financial agent," for the project, meaning they would handle the funds, receive and disburse them.

Mrs. Freebairn - Smith said for tax - deduction purposes foundations require fund handling through a non-profit group.

Trustee James E. Muldoon was absent. The board adjourned until Nov. 11 at 8 p.m. at the district office.

Novato Youth Charged Over Police Scuffle

A Novato youth, suspected of being under the influence of drugs and striking a policeman, is scheduled to appear Thursday in Marin Municipal Court.

The youth, Jack Andrew Eastman, 18, of 707 Diablo Avenue, was arrested shortly after midnight yesterday after police were sent to his home by the parents of a Sacramento girl staying there.

The girl, Darlene E. Monaco, 18, told her father she was quarreling with Eastman, according to police.

Officer Mervin C. Lesky and Sgt. Ronald C. Shanaker attempted to take Miss Monaco from the home, police said, but Eastman struck Shanaker on the arm. After a struggle, police said, Eastman was handcuffed and taken to Marin County Jail.

He was released in his own custody yesterday afternoon.

The girl was picked up by her parents.

Early American Music Talk Set

Professor Daniel Kingman of Sacramento State College will present a free public program on early American music Wednesday at 8 p.m. in Montgomery Chapel at San Francisco Theological Seminary, San Anselmo.

The program will consist of American folk hymns sung by a small vocal ensemble and soloists with background commentary.

Included will be religious ballads from the 19th Century "shape note" tradition.

Reception For Debo

Marin artist Debo will be present at a reception from 8 to 10 p.m. today and tomorrow at the Kaleidoscope Gallery, Sausalito, where an exhibition of his sketches is on display. The exhibit will continue from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. each day through Nov. 16.

MOTION PICTURE GUIDE

The Marin Motion Picture and Television Council provides these ratings of movies currently being shown in Marin County. The Council's findings are from California and national P-TA magazines and the Film Report of the Film Estimate Board. More complete reviews be obtained by calling the San Rafael or Mill Valley libraries.

FAMILY

Inspector Clouseau — Internationally renowned detective of French Surete is assigned to Scotland Yard to trap a gang of bank robbers. Bumbling Frenchman becomes victim of every trap set for him . . . amusing.

Paper Lion" — Sports writer joins football team as a rookie so he can write an authentic story. Exceptional for football fans.

Pink Jungle — Sophisticated adventure comedy about a photographer and his model who go to South American country to film a cosmetics campaign in tropical setting. Local police suspect them as spies.

Thoroughly Modern Millie — Styles fads, foibles and naivetes of 1920 take a ribbing in this happy burlesque.

Two of Us — A tender French film gently mocks prejudice. The film is beautiful and funny, but above all else a moving experience.

With Six You Get Eggroll — Fresh, amusing comedy. Marriage of widow mother to widower combined family numbers to six . . . all the children resent the marriage.

ADULTS AND TEENS

Heart Is A Lonely Hunter — A rather sad story about a deaf-mute who in his loneliness touches the lives of many. Compassionate tale is tenderly told and played with rare perception.

How to Save a Marriage and Ruin Your Life — Sophisticated comedy. Bachelor learns that marriage of best friend is on the rocks, he tries to rescue him from his mistress . . . rest of plot is predictable.

The Party — Tasteless, inane slapstick comedy about a bumbling actor who crashes a lavish Hollywood party.

Salt and Pepper — Played as comedy spoof with emphasis on so much violence, ingenious methods of killing people and constant shooting, the plot gets completely lost.

"Shalako" — An original exciting adventure set in 1880's, developed around the practices of European aristocracy arranging hunting safari in American wild west.

BORDERLINE
(Some say Adults Only)

Cool Hand Luke — Brutal downbeat story about a non-conformist prisoner in a southern road construction prison camp. Tough unsparing drama.

Rachel, Rachel — Study of a repressed spinster trying to break out of her barren frustrating existence.

Sweet November — Young woman doomed to die soon takes a different man each month to share her apartment and bed — corny soap opera.

ADULTS ONLY

The Fox — Based on novel by D. H. Lawrence. Lesbian theme handled tastefully but scenes of passion are explicit.

Georgy Girl — British film pictures unconventional styles, manners and social values of the young mod world. Absorbing, realistic very frank film.

I Love You, Alice B. Toklus — This satire makes free love and drugs seem the life of happiness.

Twilight Concert, Art Show Sunday

Trivett Requests Snorkel Engine

The San Rafael City Council will consider Monday Fire Chief Vance Trivett's request to purchase a fire engine equipped with an 85-foot snorkel.

Trivett estimated the cost of the vehicle at $75,000. He asked appropriation of $35,000 this fiscal year and the remainder next year. Delivery would take two years, he said.

The council, which meets at 8 p.m. in city hall, also is scheduled to adopt an ordinance revising the city building code and approved an extension of the contract to relocate sewers in connection with the Highway 101 widening project.

Latitude 38 Bouncing Back After Some Management Woes

A petite, quiet and attractive brunette is facing up to the problem of making a new life for herself and five youngsters by taking over the management of Latitude 38 in Sausalito.

As might be expected, this restaurant has been in a sort of state of shock since the reported arrests of its former operators Stan Mulligan and Charlie Barrett.

But the show must go on and both former customers and new guests can be assured athat Latitude 38 is still functioning. New manager Doris Mulligan is endeavoring to restore its former popularity and has set up a new menu. Entrees range from broiled chicken, broiled swordfish and beef kabob through teriyaki, top sirloin and New York steaks at prices from $2.25 to $3. There is prime rib on Saturday nights at $3 and a $1 spaghetti feed on Monday night. All entrees come with vegetables and garlic bread.

House wine is good, also reasonable, and there is a first rate selection of well known labels. Between 5 and 7 p.m. 25-cent cocktails are served. Dinners are from 6 to 10 p.m. Tuesdays through Sundays and from 6 to 11 p.m. on Mondays.

A couple could make a reasonable evening of it (under $10) for food, drink and dancing, for there is live music seven days a week. Guitarist Cy Cimmons is featured Monday nights, the Vaughn Aubrey Trio Tuesdays through Saturdays, and from 4:30 on Sundays is Abe Battat.

This is a very interesting place, and I hope Doris makes a go of it.

TABERNA in San Rafael celebrated its first anniversary last week with gusto — but lacking one partner. Robert Czyz was languishing or chafing in Marin General Hospital as the result of an automobile accident, so he missed out on the festivities. We wish him a speedy recovery.

The anniversary party was far short of the early evening crowds that attended the Taberna grand opening a year ago, but later on any difference in tempo was academic. The dance floor can hold only so many.

Actually because it's a nice place to dance, Taberna is a somewhat late starter — on weekends anyway, when George Campanelli's Trio is playing. Many of the dancers here take their talents seriously and you'll find many skilled performers among them.

Penny Decota's dinner menu is simple but hearty, involving only about a half-dozen entrees. Prices are moderate.

As East San Rafael grows, Taberna should keep up its pace in increased popularity. I must say that Bob Czyz and his partners, Jeanne Neill and Roland Ledtke have done exceptionally well for their first year.

NEW BANQUET ROOM at the Pepperwood in San Anselmo's Red Hill Shopping Center has been completed. Manager George Loizos has already received a number of bookings and the room should be kept busy this season. It is next to the Pepperwood's cocktail lounge. One front door and two side doors give entry into two sections of the room, which can be separated for double duty by a divider. Total seating capacity is about 100, or perhaps a few more. It is all carpeted with the exception of a small section for dancing.

PIECE DE LITTLE RESISTANCE and a meal in itself is the Reuben sandwich at Gregory's in Corte Madera — corned beef and Swiss cheese on Russian bread, with sauerkraut.

DID YOU KNOW there are two Halloweens? Last night was one and today is All Souls Day, the Mexican Halloween. El Borro in Tiburon made up enough skull-type cookies to last through both occasions.

El Borro's troubador Pedro Salas still entertains with his singing and guitar playing on Saturday nights.

THERE'S ANOTHER anniversary on the calendar. Ray and Dee Brunal are celebrating their third at Oak Tree Inn, San Geronimo. Congratulations. This time of year marks the start of the winter season scheduled at the Oak Tree — which means serving dinners Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights only. Service is from 5 p.m.

There's accordion music on Friday nights with dancing and group singing.

AND DOWN in Sausalito at the Ark it's the "Weekend of the Witch," judging from some of the names for tonight's and tomorrow night's shows, from 9 p.m. to 6 a.m.: Initial Shock, Boogie, Ball, White Lightning and Devil's Kitchen. A sixth, Multiple Delights appears to be out of place in this comapny.

LARRY VANNUCCI, console entertainer at San Rafael Joe's, is featured in the November Organist, monthly publication of the Professional Organists Breakfast Club of the Bay Area.

Larry is credited with being a professional musician at the age of 16. In late 1939 and early 1940 he was performing on both piano and accordion with widely known dance bands in the Bay Area. At one time he was pianist aboard the President Cleveland. He switched to the organ a number of years ago and has earned a reputation as a fine teacher and a master of the pipe organ.

AND SPEAKING of organists who are known in Marin, Doris Gurley, a Kentfield resident, is now playing at Baron's lounge on downtown Powell Street, San Francisco. I thought I had missed seeing her around the county recently.

FRED CHERRY'S new 10-course menu for the month of November goes into effect Monday at Cafe Bon Vin in San Anselmo. This one is known as "Action de Grace" and you pronounce that as if it were French, for it stems from a sort of French Thanksgiving theme, picked up in a little Paris restaurant.

Also, the "Petite Dinner" is being restored. Starting at $4 you can choose one of the courses of the three-hour dinner as an entree and have it properly embellished as a complete dinner. A la carte service is still available and there is also a banquet menu.

The "Wine Discovery shop" is now open for business and offers some very interesting and delightful vintages for home consumption.

IF YOU ARE HEADED north on Highway 101 at Santa Rosa and are looking for savory but inexpensive place to eat, turn off at Mendocino Avenue and follow it east for a few blocks.

The place is Mills Patio. The steaks are good — something like $1.85, as I remember. Number is 2755 Mendocino Avenue and it's quite a gathering place for the local residents.

Tiburon To Receive Two Master Plans

Two master plans — one for a motel, restaurant and offices at 1651 Tiburon Boulevard, and the second for restaurants, docks and shops at 1-11 Main Street — will be reviewed by the Tiburon Planning Commission at 8 p.m. Monday in city hall.

Also scheduled are discussins of the Mar East waterfront setback policy, a comprehensive sign ordinance and the Tiburon trails plan.

San Rafael Bike Auction Slated

Thirty-six bicycles will be offered at an auction at 10 a.m. Nov. 9 at the San Rafael corporation yard, 407 Francisco Boulevard.

The annual auction of found and unclaimed bikes is being held earlier than usual so there will be time to repair them for Christmas, Virginia Congdon, city administrative assistant, said.

She said some of the bikes are in good shape, while others need parts and paint.

WINE DISCOVERIES at CAFE BON VIN

To appreciate wine, you need proper food. (It works the other way, too!) Café Bon Vin was created to let you explore the good wines of the world in an environment of fine food, proper service, and gentle surroundings. Here you dine in the grand manner of the French court. Every repast is a "gala"—the French term reserved for only the highest of haute cuising.

"GREATEST FOOD I've ever eaten," is how 72 people (names on request) described the food at Café Bon Vin.

"TOO MUCH to eat" is how 112 people (names on request) described the ten-course, nine-wine repast.

SO . . . we're staying with the former; improving the latter. You may, but you no longer need to order a dinner of

Hors d'oeuvres	with	Bartishe Cocktail
Consommé au chablis	"	Calif. Semillon
Vol-au-vent et quenelles	"	French Graves
Paté en vin de Porto	"	Calif. Grenache
Suprême de volaille	"	Portuguese Rosé
Croquettes de pommes	"	Calif. Cabernet
Filet de boeuf à la Bon Vin	"	French Bordeaux
Salade Cynthia	"	Mineral water
Fromage Oriental	"	Calif. Sauvignon
Café, Coupe de Vendange	"	French Sauternes

Now you may order

LE PETIT DINNER . . . from $4 with your choice of entree, salad, vegetables, freshly baked bread and sweet butter, coffee and dessert. Or a larger dinner portion of any gala course . . . from $2.50. And, of course, wine! . . . any wine discovery from $2.75 (House wines cost even less.)

HOLIDAY PARTIES

THE GREAT WINES OF GERMANY

LAMPLIGHTER — Public works supervisor Louis F. Brunini yesterday put up the last of 11 gas lamps being installed on buildings on Tiburon's main street, replacing conventional incandescent curbside lights removed this fall when utility lines were placed underground. Installation of gas lines to provide fuel for the lamps will take another two weeks and a special lamplighting ceremony is scheduled for Nov. 12.

Few Write-Ins To Be Counted In Marin Vote

No write-in votes for candidates other than president and vice president will be counted in Tuesday's general election because none met the requirement that they file a request to have write-in votes for them counted, the county elections office said today.

The deadline to file the request was 5 p.m. yesterday.

Under a 1967 state law, write-ins now are counted only if such a request is filed in each county where a write-in candidate wants his votes counted. He also has to pay the regular filing fee.

The requirement for presidential and vice presidential write-ins, however, requires that slates of their electors be filed in Sacramento 60 days before the election if they want their votes counted.

Six such slates filed in California. No other write-in votes will be counted.

The six slates are: Berkeley Defense Group, Kent M. Soeters for president and James P. Powers for vice president; Californians for an Alternative in November, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthey for president, and no vice presidential candidate; Committee for Write-In Vote For, Dick Gregory for president and Mark Lane for vice president;

Communist Party of Northern California, Charlene Mitchell for president and Michael Zagarell for vice president; Prohibition National Committee, E. Harold Munn Sr. for president and Rolland E. Blomen for vice president, and the Socialist Labor Party, Henning A. Blomen for president and George S. Taylor for vice president.

Uranium Tycoon Wins Round On Bankruptcy

RENO, Nev. (AP) — An order declaring uranium millionaire Charles A. Steen bankrupt was vacated today by Bert Goldwater, federal bankruptcy referee.

Goldwater ordered reinstatement of proceedings aimed at reaching a repayment plan for Steen's $5.5 million in debts.

The order changes Steen's status from that of a bankrupt to a debtor.

Goldwater granted Steen's contention that the bankruptcy judgment was made at an Oct. 10 meeting called for another purpose.

The refereee acknowledged that he had said another session would be held for a hearing on allowance of claims against Steen and on acceptance of his proposed repayment plan.

Goldwater also ordered Steen to file a new statement of assets within 20 days. Steen listed his assets in a court document Oct. 12 as in excess of $12 million.

No date was set for a meeting to continue the property arrangement meetings.

Dow Plans Major Bay Solvent Plant

PITTSBURG (UPI) — Dow Chemical Co. today announced plans to build a $5 million solvents plant at its Pittsburg complex.

L.A. Doan, general manager of the firm's western division, said the new facility will begin operation in late 1969. It will be large enough to fill West Coast requirements for chlorinated solvents for the next several years, he said.

BE A LEADER . . . NOT A FOLLOWER!

Vote Yes on Prop. #9

(VOTE NO ON PROP. 1-A)

Taxpayers . . . Wake Up!

THOSE MOST ABLE pay the least or no tax. The oil and gas under the surface of this earth is owned by the people as a natural heritage. Oil companies in other oil rich states, such as Louisiana, pay the state of Louisiana money equal to 30.84% of the state's annual budget, for the taking of gas or oil, this means that the Louisiana residents have but 69.16% of the annual state budget to pay.

IN TEXAS gas and oil companies pay 16.91% of the state budget for the taking of oil and gas. In California, the third largest oil producer in the nation, the oil companies pay nothing toward the California state budget for the taking of California oil and gas. The oil companies pay only ⅓ of 1% toward the budget of the oil and gas division of California, who in turn conduct research that benefits the oil companies whose trucks use our highways, resulting in more damage and tax burdens.

THE OIL COMPANIES also enjoy the benefits of police protection and education facilities of the State of California. The oil and gas companies have very generous state and federal tax exemptions and consequently pay a minimum of federal income tax.

WHY should the oil companies of California take oil and gas without paying for it? This oil belongs to the California people and should be paid by an oil severance tax.

THE ANNUAL BUDGET of California is equal to the budget of the Nation of England. The State of California has been operating at a loss or in the red. This is contrary to good business ethics and the private business man would soon be out of business.

IN A SLAUGHTERHOUSE they have a JUDAS GOAT, this goat leads the little lambs to slaughter. Our fat politicians are the Goat and we taxpayers are the little lambs.

THE PRESENT PROPERTY TAX is an unjust antiquated tax structure. Property tax was adopted by our government in 1849 as an equitable way of collecting money from the citizens for the support of the governmental budget. In those days the citizens with higher income and wealth were the main property owners. Today, the property tax reaches only 15% of the California wealth, yet this 15% must pay 80% of all taxes collected in California. Real property taxes in Marin County have tripled in the last five years. The homeowner who pays $650.00 per year in 1968 can under the present 1849 property tax setup expect to pay $2600.00 in 1978.

THE REAL ESTATE TAX is the only tax not based on the ability to pay or the actual equity in a home.

COMMON SENSE tells us that people retiring now have not made provisions for $400 to $500 property tax rise within the next ten years. This ever-increasing tax on retired couples' homes will eat away a lifetime of savings, eventually it will cost them their homes due to the confiscatory nature of the tax. The state will then be in another business: The RENTAL BUSINESS!

WHY? ARE PROPERTY TAXES INCREASING BY LEAPS AND BOUNDS?

Property taxes have multiplied as a result of increasing tax exemptions in favor of large corporations and utilities and the continued imposition by the state legislature of state mandated programs which are thrust on local governments and the ever increasing cost of education and welfare. Our county supervisors have failed to properly screen our welfare recipients such as the twenty-one-year-old hippie type recently described in the Independent-Journal. This young man in applying to the supervisors for welfare, was described by a county work training counselor in the social service department as having an aversion to working every day to support himself, but he does believe that he can support himself by part-time work. The young man was granted thirty-eight dollars a week welfare. However, his identity was withheld in accordance with common practice to avoid embarrassment to welfare recipients.

We who have businesses and work at it, if we knew who they were, we might find them a job.

WELFARE IS FOR THE ELDERLY . . . and people in distress! There are many women who work and who must pay a baby sitter a good proportion of their wages (NOT tax deductible) in order that they may work and keep their dignity . . . but the oil companies get 27% right off the top!

THE ENTHUSIASTIC HANDING OUT of welfare funds by our state and local authorities add to the heavy tax burden carried by the little guys, who work.

REMEMBER this little guy carries 80% of the ten-billion, nine-hundred-twenty-six-million annual state and local budget, yet he represents only 15% of California wealth. This same little guy goes to work every day believing his state and county representatives are safeguarding his welfare. Only 39% of these little guys own their own homes, their average equity in their homes is 18%, yet their tax structure assumes that they have a 100% equity.

Can the little guy do anything about his property tax? YES! By voting Yes on Proposition Nine!

PROPOSITION NINE represents the first real opportunity the voter has had in changing the 1849 tax scheme whereby our overwhelming state budget for education and welfare would be shared by the other 85% of California wealth. That is, by the gas and oil companies, by severance tax, the wealthy utility companies and by amendment of state income tax laws whereby those agencies that make the most pay the most tax.

INCREASED TAXES are sometimes used as a punitive measure to discourage complainants.

I PAID THE RENTAL FEE on a building in Sausalito that served as a headquarters for those that registered a protest over 1964 and 1965 taxes.

THIS ACTION RESULTED in a savings to property owners in assessed valuation of two million four-hundred-seventy-five thousand, etc. An actual tax savings of near six hundred thousand.

THREE PEOPLE CAN KEEP A SECRET IF TWO DIE YOUNG

FOR THAT ACT OF BENEVOLENCE for paying the rent on the tax headquarters I was rewarded with an additional ten thousand dollar tax increase. In 1968 I protested the taxes on a building at 3rd and Main in Sausalito and won a reduction of three thousand two hundred fifty dollars in appraised market value; that was March of 1968. On May 31st of 1968 I was notified by county assessor Broemmel of sixty-five thousand seven hundred and fifty dollars tax hike for 1968 taxes. After Mr. Broemmel reads this I will expect another tax raise—if so, I will run for Mr. Broemmel's office as county assessor (I might do better on elections county-wise, at least I know where the money is.) He has been there long enough to have an idea where it is.

IN REFERENCE TO OUR EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM the eight million spent in San Francisco for the bussing of students and teachers that don't want to be bussed, would be better spent building trade schools. These schools would teach our young a trade and therein a means to earn a living and the capacity to contribute to our country.

SOME PEOPLE are not high school material and not college material. This is a worker's world and they must be prepared for it. What is wrong with being a plumber or cabinet maker or electrician?

WE HAVE THE GREATEST EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITIES IN THE WORLD in California. If one chooses to go on to higher education, one can. However, it is always well to know how to make a bed, to get the male and female plug plugged in correctly and fix a leaking sink, saw off the door when you get a new carpet, if you still have enough money left to buy it.

OUR GOVERNMENT did not believe county assessor Watson in Los Angeles could get enough signatures to put proposition nine on the ballot and when he was able to get enough signatures to put it on the ballot the Legislature hurriedly passed a proposition called 1-A. Whenever your government tells you that they have something that is good for you, you better leave it and run like hell. Remember, proposition nine limits property tax rates to 1% of assessed valuation.

IF PROPOSITION NINE HAD BEEN PASSED ONE YEAR AGO, 1967, the property owners would have saved sixty per cent or more on 1968 property taxes.

OUR STATE GOVERNMENT would have to look to someone other than the property owner to fulfill state budget requirements, the only ones left to provide such revenue would be the large corporations, oil and gas companies, and utilities.

THE OTHER 82 PER CENT is owned by large corporations. The home owner picks up 100 per cent of the property tax while the Great Corporations enjoy a FREE RIDE. They are the Sacred Cow mooching on your Greenbacks, not Alfalfa.

It might destroy their campaign fund sources but would sure as hell help the property taxpayers. Remember a year ago, when you had to vote "yes" to get a "no" answer. You better view all your propositions carefully, and vote YES on proposition nine.

RELIC OF THE ARMADA

Treasure Seekers Finally Find 380-Year-Old Spanish Wreck

DUBLIN (AP) — The remains of the Santa Maria de la Rosa, a ship of the Spanish Armada sunk in 1588, have been found, but hopes of recovering her reputed treasure must wait until next summer.

When Lt. Cmdr. John Grattan, 33, of Britain's Royal Navy, surfaced in the middle of Blasket Sound with the cry, "We've found her!" it ended a four-month search in which 15 divers covered 3,000 acres.

TWO DOZEN SANK

The Santa Maria de la Rosa was one of 24 ships of the Armada which sank off the Irish coast in September 1588 after Philip of Spain's abortive attempt to invade Elizabethan England.

Sydney Wignall, 45-year-old Welsh businessman and chief sponsor of the search, said: "You'll get some idea of the difficulty if I say that we were like 15 Batmen flying over a town of 40,000 population peering into everybody's backyard to find a toy boat."

Blasket Sound, at the tip of the Dingle Peninsula, is pounded by Atlantic combers. Powerful currents stream between three barren, uninhabited islands. It's no place for amateur skin-drivers.

Everybody knew the Santa Maria lay in the sound. Fishermen who speak only the ancient Gaelic language knew it because their fathers told them—a legend handed down through the generations. In Spain there are documents describing exactly how the ship sank. In London are accounts of how she sank with only a single survivor of the 233 soldiers and 64 sailors on board.

SITE A MYSTERY

The exact location was a mystery until last July. The wreck lies in the form of a long heap of ballast stones pointing approximately northwest. Cannon shot of three sizes and terra cotta pottery have been hauled to the surface.

The divers are silent about any discovery of treasure. Documents in London, dated 1588, say the galleon carried 50,000 gold ducats and 50,000 silver coins. Today that would be worth around $2 million.

John P. King, Dublin lawyer who acts for the diving team says: "We have been granted a license by the Spanish government to salvage Armada wrecks. We deposited a bond of $3,000 in return for which we may retain all objects of historical interest and 80 per cent of all coin or other treasure, the Spanish government retaining the remaining 20 per cent."

The treasure hunt starts again next summer, with underwater metal detectors, diver-to-diver and diver-to-ship telephones, water jets and suction pumps. It is estimated that survey and salvage will last up to five seasons.

But dreams of treasure are not shared by everybody.

Tom P. Kilfeather, author of the book "Spanish Graveyard," says: "They are wasting their time. The Santa Maria de la Rosa was not even a galleon. She was a converted merchantman or freighter, armed with a few cannon and sent off with the Armada."

Kilfeather thinks the sole survivor of the wreck invented the treasure in an attempt to save his life. He was executed, however.

State Youth Authority Notes Shifts

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — More Negro boys and girls are being committed to the California Youth Authority today as compared with the ratio for 1959, while less Caucasian boys and girls are being committed, and youngsters from Mexican-American backgrounds are being committeed at about the same pace as 10 years ago.

This was revealed in a survey completed by the California Youth Authority for the period from June, 1959 through June 1968. The survey also shows that youngsters sent to the CYA for narcotics offenses has doubled.

During that 10 year period, the percentage of Negro boys sent to CYA institutions has increased from 21 per cent in 1959 to 29 per cent in 1968. Among the Negro girls, the increase was from 26.7 to 30.6 per cent.

Allen F. Breed, director of the CYA, said that the ethnic breakdown shows that crime and delinquency are becoming increasingly associated with the ghetto and its problems of joblessness, discrimination, despair and destructive family situations.

Comparative figures for the two periods indicate that the number of girls sent to the institutions was 387 in 1959 as compared with 562 in 1968. The male population increased during the same period from 3,140 to 4,922.

Youngsters institutionalized from Southern California increased from 55.9 per cent to 70.3 per cent in 1968. The San Francisco Bay area count decreased as did the Sacramento and San Joaquin Valley areas.

In 1959, boys committed for drug offenses made up only 6 per cent of the institution population. In 1968, it had increased to 12 per cent. The girls also doubled in that period, from 3 per cent to 6 per cent.

In 1959 some 66 per cent of the boys were in institutions on a first commitment. In 1968, only 54 per cent were in on first commitment.

Husband Status Cut

THE HAGUE (UPI)—By a vote of 92 to 22, the Dutch lower house of parliament has decided the husband will no longer be regarded as legal head of the house. From now on, husband and wife have equal legal rights in family matters.

Registration is now open for Chinese exercise, ballet, slimnastics, yoga, judo, preschool tumbling, tiny tots, Polynesian dance, folk guitar and family folk dancing classes to be conducted by the Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Department in November and December.

Signups will be taken between 2 and 4 p.m., Monday to Thursday and Nov. 8, and between 9 a.m. and noon tomorrow and Nov. 9 at the community recreation center, 415 Sycamore Avenue. For further information, call the reacreation department.

IT'S NO 'SNAKE PIT'

Mental Hospital Hurdles Resolved

By MARY LEYDECKER

It took more than 10 years of controversy, confusion and even chaos at times, but Marin County finally has its own menta hospital.

The new Community Mental Health Center, a more than $1.5 million structure adjacent to Marin General Hospital, will be dedicated this weekend and go into operation within a few days.

The opening ceremonies are slated for 1:30 p.m. Sunday in front of the center, with county and hospital officials scheduled to attend. Louis W. Niggeman of Kentfield, president of the board of trustees of the William Babcok Memorial Endowment will be the featured speaker.

A joint effort of the Marin Hospital District which runs Marin General, and the County of Marin, the plush building was also financed by state and federal funds, as well as money contributed by individuals and local groups.

About 10 years ago the voters turned down a bond issue to finance a mental facility, but the idea of a hospital to treat mentally ill within the community was not abandoned by many people.

Since Marin is now sending about 75 mentally ill people a month to state hospitals and since only a limited number of patients is cared for at Ross General Hospital's psychiatric unit and the small interim unit at Marin General, there seemed no question of need.

About 1965, plans really got under way for such a hospital, but each time one controversy was settled, another appeared on the horizon.

When the finances were finally more or less in hand, the bids came in much higher than available funds, and a special tax had to be levied in the county. There followed squabbles among psychiatrists about the plans, fights over who was to administer the center, hassling over the furniture and finally, fear of a hill slide behind the center.

With the possible exception of the hill question, these problems have all been solved or compromised, and the county and hospital are ready to begin a joint battle against mental illness.

Although there are only 28 beds in the hospital for full-time patients, and only 14 of these will be used at first, all of the other county mental health services will be provided in the building.

Downstairs, day patients will enter a center where they will confer with psychiatrists as well as participate in occupational therapy such as crafts. A beehive of offices and small meeting rooms are on this floor.

Upstairs, where the building is connected to the emergency room of Marin General by a corridor, more disturbed patients will receive full-time care in two separate units.

Each unit centers about a tients will not be encouraged to view them as people who are going to take complete spacious "living room," a kitchenette, and a dining room which more resembles one in a fraternity house than in the average hospital.

Single and private rooms for patients are furnished cheerfully with beds that look like couches — of the kind often found in motels. A few rooms are more hospital-like, with standard hospital type beds and locks on the doors for "intensive care" patients.

However, the center is a far cry from the "snakepit" of yesteryear, and nurses will not wear white uniforms, as pacare of them.

Within a short time, Dr. Donald P. Wilson, the center's director, expects that many of the county's involuntary commitments to mental institutions will take place at the center, rather than at Napa State Hospital.

Other patients will be sent to the hospital by private psychiatrists and still others by other agencies in the county. The staggering cost of $70 per day for each full-time patient will be born by the individual to the extent he can pay it, supplemented by state and county funds or by insurance.

In addition to the full-time patients, it is expected that many persons will either visit the center in the daytime, returning home at night, or spend their nights there after working at regular jobs during the day.

Dr. Wilson explained that the daytime care is particularly suited to housewives, who can then be with their families in the evening, and the night care for men, who can continue to earn a living.

The staff at the hospital includes psychiatrists, nurses specially trained for this type of work as well as nursing assistants, some of whom are energetic young men from College of Marin.

Dr. Wilson hopes that in time volunteers will provide a day nursery for children of daytime women patients.

As soon as state and federal inspections are completed, the hospital expects to get in operation, with the first patients probably to be those transferred from the small interim unit at Marin General.

To Elect Officers

The Peacock Gap Homeowners Association will elect new officers for 1969 at its annual meeting at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the Peacock Gap Country Club clubhouse, 333 Biscayne Drive.

'Impatient' Official In Charge Of Center

"I'm an impatient psychiatrist," is the way Dr. Donald P. Wilson, director of the new Community Mental Health Center describes himself.

Expressing contempt for some psychological theories, Dr. Wilson said that "I expect people who come to my hospital to start getting better."

The ways Dr. Wilson plans to help his patients get well are many, but they do not include some cherished theories held by many psychiatrists. "I don't encourage people to tell me about their childhood for two years," he laughed.

Among the methods he will use are "a lot of group therapy," occupational therapy and treatment tailored to individuals.

In explanation of what he means, Dr. Wilson told about a former patient. "A very depressed and withdrawn little lady who wouldn't stand up for herself" was the psychiatrist's description.

In order to get this patient out of her doldrums, Dr. Wilson put her at a card table with literally millions of dried beans and told her to count them. The woman faithfully began to count.

She counted beans for three days, taking time out only for meals. On the fourth day, she stood up, threw the beans on the floor, knocked over the table and announced, "I'm not counting any more beans."

This was the first time the woman had ever been able to express anger and defend herself, he said, and later, the patient even learned to laugh at this "trick" that had been played on her.

A staff of "highly trained" nurses and additional psychiatrists has been hired by Dr. Wilson to run the new center. "Our nurses will be more than babysitters," he said. They will work directly with patients and report to the doctors, he explained.

Although Dr. Wilson said that tranquilizers often bring about "dramatic changes," in disturbed patients, he feels that sometimes a patient needs to be allowed to get up at night and join a bull session rather than be given a sleeping pill.

In answer to a question about whether the center will treat children, Dr. Wilson said "we will take any acute emergency."

Children very seldom become "acute emergencies," he explained, until they reach adolescence. Younger children who have psychological problems present more of a continuing pattern and are better treated as out-patients or in a facility geared toward children.

Acute emergencies also include patients whose problems stem from drugs or alcohol, Dr. Wilson said, and the center will provide treatment for these persons, too.

Last weekend Dr. Wilson said there were five emergency commitments from Marin County made to Napa State Hospital. Soon he foresees that many of these people can remain in the community and be treated at the center.

Ex-Councilman's Wife Improves

Lorraine Brocco, wife of former Larkspur councilman Henry Brocco, was reported improving and in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital but still unable to talk with police.

Mrs. Brocco was moved from the hospital's intensive care unit yesterday, according to hospital officials, but her physician, Dr. Walter G. Strauss, has not yet given permission for police to question her.

Mrs. Brocco was taken to the hospital in critical condition from an overdose of pills Sunday morning after Brocco was hospitalized with head wounds he said his wife inflicted with a hatchet.

Brocco, wo suffered a left ear injury, is now home.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Surgery, Not Eye Drops, Best For Counteracting A Cataract

VAN DELLEN

An Ohioan writes: "I have early cataracts and have read that eye drops will be helpful. A friend of mine said that her doctor claims drops cannot cure cataract. I know she is wrong, but I would like your opinion."

No, she is right, in that no medication will clear solidification of the lens (cataract). Removal is the accepted treatment and it is recommended whenever practical vision is lost. The operation is needed sooner when the individual does close work or reads a lot.

AN OUTDOOR worker or laborer may be able to wait longer before the lens is removed. On the other hand, surgery should not be delayed too long after it is recommended by the ophthalmologist. An "overripe" cataract is difficult to remove.

One-fourth of all blindness is the result of cataract. Think of the normal lens as raw egg white, so clear that you can see through it. In cataract, the lens is too cloudy to see through, like cooked egg white. Early symptoms depend upon the location of the cloudiness. If the center is cloudy, the individual may be able to see through the clearer outer rim.

It is here that drops enter the picture. If the pupil is widened (dilated) with drops, more vision is possible through the transparent outer rim of the lens. Our reader may have known someone with this type of cataract who got temporary relief. On the other hand, drops are not curative despite the claims of many quacks who rely on this outside possibility.

THERE ALSO are drops that loosen the attachment of the lens, making removal much easier. These are used prior to surgery and are not to be confused with a cure.

At any rate, our reader should get reliable advice. Vision is priceless and cataracts can be removed safely.

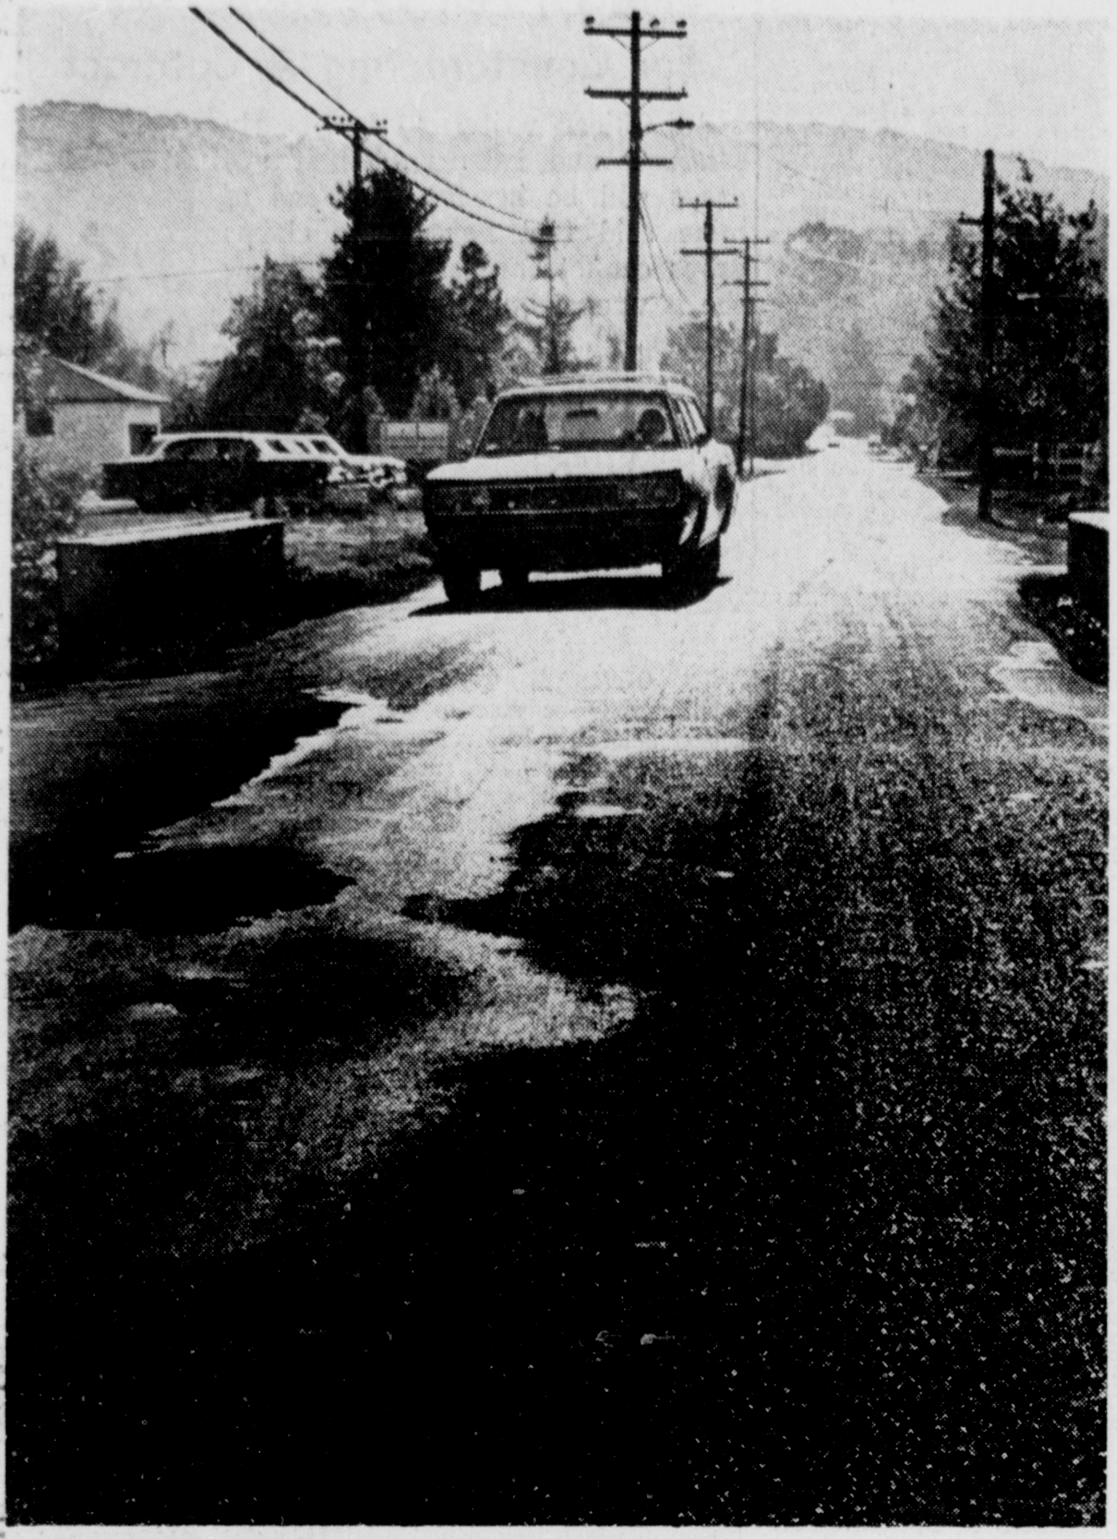
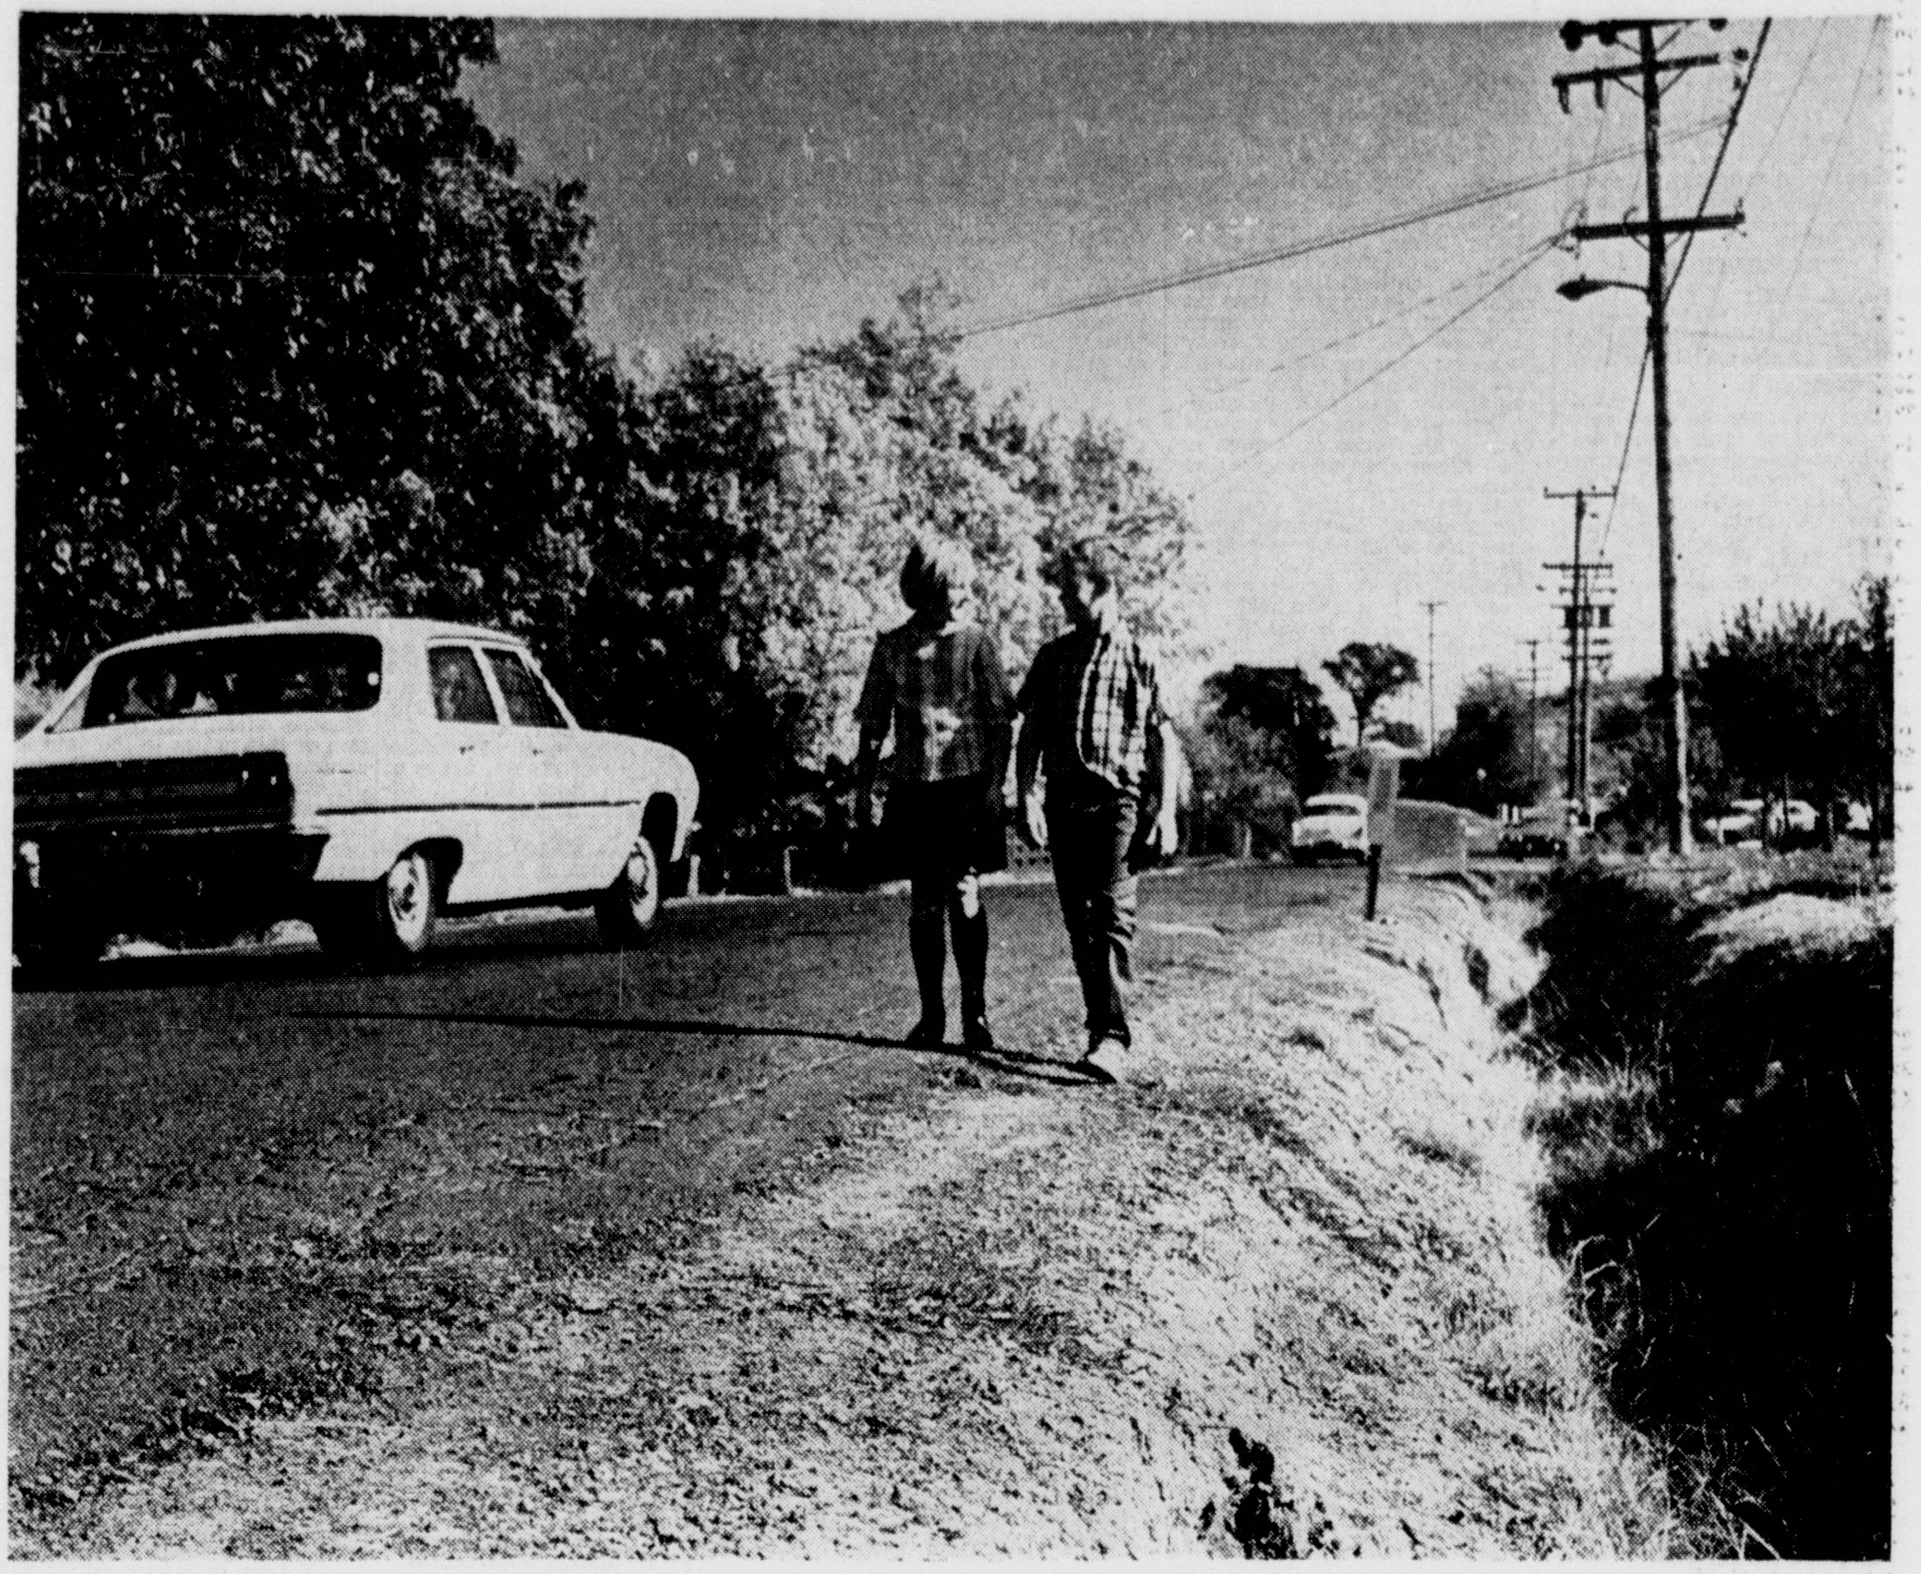
Novato Seeks $3 Million For Street Repair



NARROW BRIDGE — The bridge over Warner Creek at Tamalpais Avenue is barely wide enough for two cars, causing a special hazard when school children are walking in the area. The city has a $3 million bond proposal for new streets, improvements and resurfacing, which will be before voters Tuesday.



DEEP DITCH — Hill Road in front of Novato General Hospital has a deep ditch along its south side with a very narrow shoulder for school children to walk on. Walking along the ditch, just a half block from Hill Junor High School are Debbie, 10, and Jim Kunce, 9, of 1630 Hill Road, both pupils at Lu Sutton School.

CHANGING WIDTH—Riding along Center Road, west of Lu Sutton School, where roadway narrows from 60 feet wide to a 15-foot strip with narrow shoulders for pedestrians, are, Robin Roberts, in front, and Richard Roberts and Steve Cramer, rear, all pupils at Lu Sutton School.

RAINY SEASON HAZARD—Ditches, such as the one shown along Fourth Street at Olive Avenue, have eroded, presenting a danger to children who could be swept into a culvert by storm waters. Illustrating the hazard and depth of the ditch are, from the left, Tony Baker in ditch, Mrs. Robert Skidmore of 1136 Fourth Street, Bobby Skidmore, 2, Lori Luddy, 1, David Pori and Kandi Skidmore, 4.

ROOM FOR IMPROVEMENT — If the city's $3 million bond issue passes portions of Novato's Boulevard such as the sector shown near McClay Road, now two lanes, would be widened to four lanes with parkng and sidewalks on each side.

POOR PAVEMENT — This section of Olive Street between Fourth and Fifth streets is one of the areas where pavement is wearing out. The bond proposal calls for providing an overlay for more than 25 miles of city streets. (Independent-Journal photos by Bob Hax)

TV REVIEW

Networks Reshuffle For LBJ

NEW YORK (AP) — Television's half-hour programs have been bearing the pre-emption burden of the presidential campaign. The hour-long and longer programs are great most of the time, but they are difficult to handle in an emergency.

President Johnson's announcement of the bombing halt came last night at the end of the first half of NBC's "Daniel Boone." The fans probably will not know, until next summer's re-runs, whether Jimmy Dean ever found the missing man he was hunting.

A ROUNDTABLE

CBS, with hour-long "Hawaii Five-O" scheduled at that time, just dropped the episode. After the President had finished, it filled the rest of the hour with an electronic roundtable discussion from New York and Washington, with newsmen chatting about what the President said and guesses about what it all meant.

ABC, best situated because it had two half-hour situation comedies scheduled at the time and pre-empted "The Flying Nun" on short notice, then skipped "Bewitched," also in favor of a discussion of the announcement.

During the discussions, both ABC and CBS staff men immediately raised—and by consensus rejected—any thought on the part of viewers that the President's action was politically motivated. The chief executive's own announcement carried the same strong—but less direct—implication.

GOOD TREATMENT

After the speech, NBC moved directly into "Ironside." The program was standard police melodrama about a man threatened with violent death, but it was a particularly interesting treatment for one reason. Milton Berle, co-author of the script, played the part of a rude, ruthless host on a television talk show. He played it to the hilt and, as on previous occasions when he is not making like a comedian, demonstrated an impressive acting ability.

The weekend schedules, which are already pretty well loaded with paid political programs will probably have some additions on short notice. CBS's "Hogan's Heroes" will have a Saturday night off and NBC will delay the start of its movie a half hour to accommodate a candidate.

On Sunday, CBS's "Gentle Ben" and NBC's "The Mothers-in Law" will be bumped for politicking. However, most of the hour-long movie blocks will remain as usual. And, of course, there are the usual football games—no candidates would dare tamper with those events for fear of losing the football fan vote.

LOUISVILLE (AP) — Approximately one million Kentuckians work in the cultivation, production, processing, manufacturing and merchandising of tobacco, the state's chief crop.

Student Vote Set On Office Holding Credit

A new election by College of Marin students on a proposed measure giving course credit for holding student body offices will be held Wednesday through Friday at the Student Center.

David Brown, Associated Students' parliamentarian, said yesterday that voting will be from 7:45 p.m. to 9 p.m. Wednesday; 10 a.m. to noon and 7:45 p.m. to 9 p.m. Thursday, and 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. next Friday.

The measure needs a two-thirds majority before the student body would recommend it to the college's instructional council. It also must be recommended by the council and the college cabinet before reaching the Marin Junior College District board, officials said.

The issue lost at an election last week, but balloting irregularities caused a student elections committee to decide on the re-election.

Early Break Of Viet Talk

NEW YORK (AP) — The Eastern Educational Television networks' Channel 13 says it inadvertently broadcast President Johnson's announcement of a bombing halt in Vietnam 20 minutes ahead of its scheduled release time.

Channel 13, the EET outlet here, received and sent out the speech at 7:40 p.m. It was scheduled for release at 8 p.m.

The break caused protests from the White House, as well as NBC and CBS.

Lee Hayes, station manager of Channel 13, part of the National Educational Television network, said, "No one told us that the film was embargoed till 8 o'clock."

The speech was filmed in the afternoon, then transmitted on a pool basis by NBC to the various networks.

EET covers 16 outlets from Maine to Washington, D.C., but station officials could not say how many others picked up the broadcast.

Government Course Slated At Hamilton

A college course for credit in state and local governments will be taught by the extension division of San Francisco State College at Hamilton Air Force Base.

The three-unit course will be taught from 6:30 to 9 p.m. on Mondays and Wednesdays beginning Nov. 18 and ending Jan. 23 at the education center in Building 630.

Critical Letter Irks Health Plan Advisers

Temporary directors of the Comprehensive Health Planning Council of Marin have called attacks on their method of operation "insulting" and "intemperate."

The directors, headed by chairman Arthur Ablin, met Wednesday night at the Civic Center and reacted strongly to a letter which Ann McCorry of Greenbrae read at Tuesday's meeting of the county board of supervisors. Miss McCorry charged that the temporary directors are acting arbitrarily and trying to push through a permanent board of directors that is not broadly representative. She asked that last night's scheduled election of the new board of directors be postponed.

The directors of the health planning council agreed to postpone the election for about a month, "although we feel the request was unjust and unwarranted," said Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen, a member of the temporary board.

"We asked Miss McCorry to read the letter again last night," said Kettenhofen. "I thought it was completely inappropriate."

William Schwarzer, member of the Babcock Foundation, called Miss McCorry's statements "intemperate," and Dr. Chad Calland called it "insulting."

"However, because the health planning council is such an important program, we decided to hold up the election to allay any criticism," said Kettenhofen.

Dr. Ablin will appear before the board of supervisors next Tuesday afternoon to reply to Miss McCorry's charges.

Color TV Set And A Radio Are Taken

A color television set valued at $475 and a radio valued at $100 were stolen from the apartment of Weston H. Monoogan, 926 Irwin Street, San Rafael police reported today.

Monoogan reported the theft yesterday and told police it had occurred within the past two to three weeks.

Two San Quentin Employees Retire

Two veteran San Quentin employees retired this week, according to Associate Warden James W. L. Park.

Ethel Dalpino, 70, of 19 Ross Street, San Rafael, a clerk in the mail room, had worked at San Quentin 21 years, Park said.

Also retiring was William B. Bevans, 55, of San Quentin, a correctional officer who had worked at the prison 23 years.

Cerrudo, A Calm, Cool Customer

By GARY TISCHLER

There were a lot of people milling and trampling over Harding Park's chilly mass of 6,677 golf yards yesterday as the $100,000 Lucky International Golf Tournament got under way in San Francisco.

There were old duffers, officials resplendent in badges. And hey, there was Billy Casper in blue on the short 17th hole, first mystified, then shrugging over a putt that came up short in front of a hushed and large gallery. There was former winner Chi Chi Rodriguez, windthin, all dapper in red.

COOL

And there was Ron Cerrudo, cool as in calm.

San Rafael boy Ron Cerrudo, freshly married, only 23, may or may not win this tournament. In fact, off his first-day score, a one-over par 72, he may not. But he won't shoot himself, or cry. He acts and looks like a man with some kind of secret pension.

Nearing the end of his professional golf initiation rite in his first year as a pro, Ron has achieved the goals he set out to achieve without losing his sanity, or changing his game.

44th ON LIST

He's already won $33,000, $30,000 of it official, placing him 44th on the winner's list, which puts him in the top 60 class of winners and allows him to compete in the tournaments next year without having to go through qualifying rounds, if he finishes in the top 60.

And he is quieter, less explosive, his temper bottled up more or less peacefully, the brooding over bad rounds, missed birdies and shots dissipated in married life, and the confidence is still there.

As he practiced putting just before teeoff time yesterday, he talked about Ron Cerrudo, professional golfer and married man, mini-celebrity and up-and-coming winner. And you begin to realize once again that it's more than a game, it's this business of getting and making checks, paying bills, buying groceries, living on pressure putts, a sort of world-wide office of greens and sandtraps and a golfbag full of tools.

"You know, I spent an awful lot of time concentrating on trying to make the cut when I started out," he said. "I finally said to myself that that wasn't going to do. You're supposed to be making money, not cuts."

Ron is married now, something he wasn't before he turned pro, hailed as one of the most promising amateurs ever to enter the game. It was a settling factor.

"I think I made 90 per cent of my winnings after I got married," he said. "It's helped a lot. You don't become one of these guys who hang around the clubhouse talking about nothing but golf and stand around at midnight practicing putting. I come home and I have someone to go to. Carol lets me talk about it for a while and that's it. There are other things besides just brooding about your game."

Like many rookies and first-

Barber, Archer Tie For Lucky Lead

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — In three days and 54 more holes of golf, Miller Barber may be glad he stayed with the pro golf tour this fall rather than passing it up to watch the University of Arkansas football team.

Right now he isn't so sure, despite shaving five strokes off par for a 66 yesterday in tying George Archer of Gilroy for the first-day lead in the $100,000 Lucky International Golf Tournament.

"I usually stay home for the football season," Barber said. "This year was supposed to be a rebuilding year, but they won their first four games."

The 36-year-old Sherman, Tex. pro, who played freshman football at Arkansas before concentrating on golf, was two under par on his first nine but he got hotter as the weather got colder, finishing with three birdies on his back nine.

Archer, the 6-foot-6 rancher who ranks No. 5 among PGA money winners this year with $132,726, slipped with bogeys on the 13th and 15th holes after putting together birdie strings of four and three.

Archer is recuperating from the flu but came up with two 30-foot putts and remarked later, "it sounds like a fish story."

Archer and Barber led 42 other players who also broke par 71 at the 6,677-yard Harding Park municipal course. The top 70 and ties will make today's cut. The winner gets $20,000.

Bunched a stroke back were Frank Boynton of Cleveland, Dave Stockton of San Bernardino, Jack Fleck of Mission Viejo, Calif., and Doug Sanders of Cedarton, Ga.

Billy Casper, who has won $183,389 this year and is bidding to join Jack Nicklaus as the only $200,000-a-year men in golf, was in a group of eight tied at 68.

"The greens are a little slow," said Casper. "Very seldom was there a putt a guy had to say 'whoa,' to." Asked about the low scoring, he said, "The course is in very good shape. I'm sure that's the reason the scoring is so low."

Bob Dickson, winner of last week's Haig Tourney at Costa mesa, came in at 72. Chi Chi Rodriquez, winner of the Sahara Invitational, fired a one-under-par 70, the same as Lee Trevino, the U.S. Open champ.

Ken Venturi, winner of the last Lucky in 1966, shot a par 71.

19-Year-Old Bowler Rolls Perfect 300

De Young Hits 12 In A Row At Nave Lanes

By RALPH CHATOIAN

TERRY DE YOUNG
Mr. Perfect

Terry De Young, 19-year-old lefthander, buried 12 balls right in the 1-2 pocket last night at Nave Lanes for a perfect 300.

The young Novatan, bowling as anchor-man on the Hagen and Smith team in the 840 Scratch League, admitted, "I had no feeling in my legs on that last ball."

It was his first American Bowling Congress-sanctioned 300 game. He rolled a 300 in a match game at Downtown Bowl in San Francisco two years ago.

A student at College of Marin and part-time desk man at Nave Lanes, De Young bowled his perfecto on the final game of a three-game series. His first games were 234 and 247, added to the 300 gave him a whopping series of 781.

"I had bowled 10 straight strikes and missed on the 11th twice," DeYoung said. "All I was thinking on the 11th ball was to make sure I was there."

By the time he threw the first strike of the 10th frame, a majority of the bowlers knew what was going on. Many crowded behind the lanes on which he was bowling.

The 10th strike was greeted with a loud cheer, and the 11th with a still louder one. Then with no hesitation, De Young picked his ball from the return, made his approach and let fly with another of his picture-book deliveries.

He raised his hands in anticipation as the ball smacked dead in the pocket and the pins flew. When he turned, obviously shaken by the feat, he was mobbed by friends trying to get in their congratulations.

"I've never been that scared," De Young admitted. "All through the game I was just trying to get as high over 700 (series score) as I could. Until the ninth. Then I started thinking about it (the possible 300 game) ."

De Young, one of the top average bowlers in Marin County despite his youth, is carrying a 193 average. But it just went up a couple of pins last night.

McLain Wins A.L. Hurling Top Honors

NEW YORK (AP) — Denny McLain, Detroit's 31-game winner, was unanimously selected today the American League's Cy Young Award winner for 1968.

McLain, 24, is the second youngest winner of the award as the league's top pitcher and the first American Leaguer ever to win it unanimously. Only two other pitcher Bob Gibson of the St. Louis Cardinals, named National League Cy Young winner earlier this week, and Sandy Koufax, who won it in 1963, 1965 and 1966—were unanimous choices.

ALL 20

The Tiger ace was the choice on all 20 ballots—two from each league city—in the annual Baseball Writer's Association of America vote. Only Dean Chance, who was 23 when he won the Young Award in 1964, was a younger winner than McLain.

McLain, who succeeds Boston's Jim Lonborg as the A.L.'s Young winner, beat every team in the league at least twice and became the first 30-game winner in the major leagues in 34 years. Dizzy Dean, who won 30 for the St. Louis Cardinals in 1934, was the last man to reach that plateau.

McLain, an accomplished organ player who is making a series of night club and concert appearances during the off-season, is only the second Tiger pitcher ever to earn any votes in the Cy Young balloting. Frank Lary picked up two votes in 1961.

The ballots were sent in be-

TERRA LINDA-NOVATO

Prep Grid Giants To Clash Tonight

The giants of the Marin County Athletic League football race collide tonight.

Unbeaten Terra Linda High School and once-beaten Novato High knock heads in a MCAL clash at San Rafael High School field, 8 o'clock, in a fight for sole possession of first place.

Both teams bring 3-0 won-lost league records into the contest while Terra Linda has a 5-0-1 season mark to Novato's 5-1.

It's the Trojans' homecoming, adding interest to the already spicy contest.

Novato will be shooting for its first football title in three years while Terra Linda will be going for its third straight, having tied Drake High School of San Anselmo for the MCAL crown the past two years. The winner of tonight's contest will have a tie for the crown in the bag.

Novato coach Al Scott, despite a heavy injury list and the Hornets' rude 27-0 blasting at the hands of Bellamarine of Santa Clara last week, is cooly confident.

"We just stepped out of our league, way out, last week," Scott said. "Even on a good night, we'd have had trouble winning. But our kids are pointing for Terra Linda. We know what's at stake."

Terra Linda also had an unnerving experience last week in an excruciating 13-12 victory over Tamalpais High of Mill Valley.

"Everybody says we were down," said Terra Linda line coach Jess Payan, architect of the continued Trojan defensive success. "Heck, they (Tamalpais) were really up and they played a great game."

Neither team should be awed by the other's physical size. Both teams are compact, hard-hitting crews who have no trouble hitting emotional highs. It should be a head-knocking affair.

Novato seems to have the more diversified offense with the running of Greg Davenport and the passing of Russ Dillon. But fullback Tom Zechlin and halfback Pat Greene still may not be able to play if old injuries don't heal quickly.

Terra Linda's offense has had fits now and then, unable to really unwind against either San Rafael (9-7) or Tamalpais. But the Trojans have the potential of a varied attack with the throwing arm of backup quarterback Tom Jackson to complement two great runners in Dan McInnis and Steve McClain.

Comparative scores won't say much either, although Novato disposed of Tamalpais (26-18) and San Rafael (20-7) with more ease than Terra Linda.

Terra Linda, however, really socked it to Drake, last year's co-champion, 20-0. And Novato has Drake still to go.

If you want to throw in more incentive, it's sort of the battle of North Marin, two high-spirited schools going for all the marbles.

Cardinals Rip Japanese Team

OSAKA, Japan (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals walloped 11 hits, including a two-run homer by Joe Hague, and defeated the combined Yomiuri Giants-Nankai Hawks team 7-1 today.

Palmer To Take A Break

MELBOURNE (AP) — A weary Arnold Palmer walked off the last green of the Metropolitan golf course today and announced: "I've had it. I need a break."

Palmer had just added 77 to his first-round 70 in the Australian professional Golfers Association championship, and he was trailing today's early leader Kel Nagle of Australia by 11 strokes.

As he sat down with a cold beer, Palmer, of Latrobe, Pa., said, "I am going to give the game away for two or three months. I am not enjoying it. When putts go close by but not in, it drags the rest of my game down.

"I might even stay out longer than a couple of months . . . I just don't know . . . I just need to start enjoying the game again."

MARIN VS. DE ANZA

It's Key Game For Tars

Tonight's 8 o'clock College of Marin-DeAnza College football game in Kentfield will determine the course of Marin's season.

If the Tars, now 4-2 on the year and 1-1 in the Camino Norte Conference, can beat DeAnza's Dons of Cupertino, the conference's only unbeaten team (2-0) they will have a shot at the title.

DeAnza, according to Marin coach Dick Read, is a tough, fundamental football team which plays good defense and controls the ball well on long drives.

SHORT SLOT

The Dons, who beat Santa Rosa 28-14 last week for their second straight conference win, run from a short slot formation, shifting into a power I. Their offensive catalyst is Larry Lorenz, an economy-sized (6 foot 4, 200 pound) quarterback who runs well and can throw deep. Lorenz will roll out a lot, seldom dropping back, and throw to either tight end Kerry Mitchell (6-2, 185) or Jim Schroder (164) a speedy split receiver.

In the backfield with Lorenz will be flanker Steve Gudelj (170) whose moves are almost as hard to cope with as his name; fullback Mike Utt, and either Ken Barger or Ron Salas at running back. Salas, a comparative pygmy at 5-6, 150, has been out with injuries, but is quick and tough, a key back in Read's estimation.

COUNTER

Marin hopes to counter with an improved passing attack and consistent running. Kevin Wilson has regained the starting role at quarterback after his come-through performance against Solano last week and will have two fast targets for his baseball-like passes in Len Pieri and Bob Bahlman. Tim Garvin and Keith Stirling will open at halfback and Jim Finnegan at full. Gervin and Finnegan have been Marin's most reliable runners all year, Garvin with picturebook moves and cuts, Finnegan on great balance and the tenacity of a Gila monster.

Steady Chris Klyse and Ron Heidinger will be at tackles, as they have been all season, and Charley Keppel will again open at guard, with Trevor Benedict the likely center. Larry Collins will start at the other guard, as Doug Guillon is out with a muscle spasm. Like Gary Dinkel at half, Guillon may play, but only as his injuries allow.

"This game will be the big one for us," Read said, "they're all big from now on, and we have to win to stay in the race. This is a good, tough bunch we're playing, and we'll have to play 60 minutes of good, consistent football to beat them."

Defense Is Thing For Kansas City

OAKLAND (AP) — Kansas City's Chief are making a strong bid to regain the American Football League championship and their coach says the key is defense.

Coach Hank Stram, here preparing his club for Sunday's game against the Oakland Raiders, said, "You can't be consistent without a good defense."

While running their record to 7-1, the Chiefs have given up just 86 points, the least in pro football.

"The key to our success has been the play of Jimmy Lynch at middle linebacker," Stram said.

"We were attacked there a lot last season and I knew we would be this year with a young man playing there. He has done a magnificent job."

Lynch, from Notre Dame, is in his second season with the Chiefs.

The first time the Raiders and Chiefs met this year, Kansas City won 24-10.

Oaks Win Their First Home Game

OAKLAND (AP) — The Oakland Oaks won their first American Basketball Association game at home last night, whipping the Los Angeles Stars 143-127.

Rick Barry of the Oaks was below his season average with 29 points.

The first quarter was enlivened by a wrestling match between Oakland's Ira Harge and Los Angeles' Dennis Grey. The fracas was broken up by teammates and officials.

With the score 56-all in the second quarter, Oakland broke the game wide open with a fast-break offense.

High scorer was Steve Chubin of Los Angeles with 40 points.

fore the World Series and did not consider Series performances. McLain lost his first two Series starts but won the vital sixth game, tying the classic against the Cardinals at three games apiece. Mickey Lolich, who won three Series games, beat St. Louis as Detroit took the title in the seventh game.

McLain made 41 starts and pitched 28 complete games. He was 17-2 on the road and 14-4 at home and had winning streaks of five, four, nine, seven and six games during the season. He struck out 280 walked 63 and pitched six shutouts. He had a 1.96 earned run average, fourth best in the league.

SOX PRODUCT

The young right-hander is a product of the Chicago White Sox organization. He was drafted by the Tigers in 1963 for $8,000 on the first year waiver rule when the White Sox decided to protect another young pitcher, Burce Howard, instead.

The BBWAA started the Cy Young Awards to baseball's top pitcher in 1956 and last year began awarding two trophies, one to the top American League pitcher and one to the top National Leaguer. Lonborg and San Francisco's Mike McCormick were the 1967 winners.

Green Out Of Browns' Lineup

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland Browns' fullback Ernie Green, who missed the first five games because of a knee injury, is not expected to start against the San Francisco 49ers Sunday in Kezar Stadium.

Green's return to duty Oct. 20 was credited with sparking the Browns to an upset victory over the Baltimore Colts.

He hurt the knee again last Sunday in the victory over the Atlanta Falcons but was running again on Tuesday and appeared to be recovered.

Then on Wednesday he reinjured the knee when he fell while blocking during practice. Green missed yesterday's practice and is not expected to be ready Sunday.

If Green doesn't play, Charley Leigh probably will start at fullback. Leigh, a rookie, has been hampered by a sprained ankle and pulled tendon for several weeks but appeared to be running well this week.

Defensive end Bill Glass, who was taken out of the Atlanta game because of tender ribs, will be back.

Glass noted that the 49ers should have plenty of information on the Browns.

CONFERENCE WITH SCOTTY — San Rafael rookie pro Ron Cerrudo takes time out to ponder a shot with caddie Scotty Gilmore, a Scotsman touring the circuit. Gilmore has worked every major Golf spa in the British Isles and is "fascinated by America." (Independent-Journal Photo)

timers, Ron found the going rough at first.

"There was a stretch there of about 10 weeks when I couln't win a thing to speak of," he said. "But then I won $7,300 in Milwaukee and I knew I could make it."

The top 60 is a kind of haven where you can rest without worrying all that much.

"If you're in the top 60 you can rest a little, and that's important," he said. "You can become mentally exhausted after a while."

Cerrudo still has some ruffles to work out, but the money, the lessons of the first year have begun to make for a clear picture.

"I tend to play too fast," he said. "And I have tended to be tempermental in the past. I think I have a good driving, long game but my putting needs some work. But I'm working on those things. I'm calmer, more controlled."

And so, Ron Cerrudo, looking cool and calm in gray striped pants and black sweater, more San Franciscan than collegiate, stepped out to the first hole.

Several things happened. His second shot was a beauty coming out from behind one of those scenic Harding Park trees, hooking right, skimming a couple of feet over a sand trap and onto the green.

On the third hole, one of those things that brings on brooding and midnight putting happened. Putting down on the edge of the green, his shot skittered to the cup, rimmed twice and fell out.

Ron Cerrudo's arm jerked up and his eyes looked up pondering injustice.

But he will survive, a great rookie in a year of great rookies.

Mrs. Calla Wins At Las Gallinas

Mrs. Sam Calla downed Mrs. Vernon Ellingson, 7-5, to win the championship flight of the Las Gallinas Women's Golf Club's handicap tournament yesterday.

Mrs. George Yamamoto downed Mrs. Ted W. Steiger for first flight honors, 3-2. In the second flight, Mrs. Leonard Mathews defeated Mrs. Robert Ritter, 7-6, and Mrs. James Giese won out over Mrs. Earlund Ericson, on the 20th hole, in the third flight.

Consolation winner was Mrs. Lewis Garat, followed by Mrs. Fred Laubscher.

Hadnot Moves To Front Office

OAKLAND (AP) — Jim Hadnot, most valuable player for the Oakland Oaks last year but a substitute this year, announced his retirement yesterday and was named to a front office job.

The 6-foot-10 center from Providence College will be director of group ticket sales and will help in public relations and scouting for the American Basketball Association team.

Hadnot, an Oakland native who owns a liquor store here, led the Oaks in scoring in their first year with an average of 17.5 points to a game and was second in team rebounding with a 12.5 average.

Seals In Trouble; Just Can't Draw

OAKLAND — People are so reluctant to come to hockey games here in the early season, it's a wonder even the players are bothering to show up. One actually didn't the other night—depositing a note on teacher's desk that he'd be happier elsewhere.

On one of the evenings that the Seals drew almost 3,000 into the Arena, I asked a team executive if he were concerned. That's always a cheerful way to begin a conversation, I've found.

"Not yet," he smiled bravely. "But if it's like this come November, we'll be in trouble."

The Seals were in attendance trouble even before the season began. Their financial woes would make a good case study for that new curriculum in sports adminstration that Ohio University has going. Any student figuring a way out of the National Hockey League dilemma in the Bay Area would automatically get an A, plus the bonus of a master's degree — if not the presidency of the Oakland Seals.

THE MORE you're involved on the "inside" of major league athletic doings, as I was for a year while passing through the comatose state of publicizing, the more you're stupefied by both the actions and inactions of sports titans.

And sports, I've discovered, is one of those rare business ventures in which a desultory administration in one year can practically destroy the deal for seasons to come. The Ford people can always get out of trouble with the development of a Mustang. Sporting sorts aren't that lucky — even with a winner.

THE ANSWER to the Seals' predicament of 1968-69 is the Seals of 1967-68. Plus the Oakland Raiders.

The Raiders finally reached the point of financial return last year. All local competion felt the bite. And with the Seals making their NHL debt and incurring a heftier player personnel budget, the bite was of a gluttonous size, lasting until mid-January.

THE HOCKEY folks did recover a bit in February and March, particularly in games against the six old teams in the league. By that time, though, a lot of bread had gone through the shredder.

There was good reason to believe the Seals were moving to Vancouver. The league's fathers were casting a wary eye on then owner Barry van Gerbig. Hockey fans in the Bay Area got the idea their last place favorites were as good as gone. Enthusiasm in an eloping lover of necessity subsided. When the lover changed his mind and canceled the Rent-A-City service in British Columbia, it was already early summer.

Those who once cared about big league hockey here seemed not to care much any more — not even when van Gerbig sold out to the Harlem Globetrotter fellows. The new conglommerate dumped aging favorite Charlie Burns in a trade and proceeded to bring in what amounts to a new team. Which made two new teams in two years.

THE TIPOFF of attendance trouble has come in the first two home games against old teams, Boston and Montreal. Those crowds averaged about 5,000. No home crowd so far has exceeded 6,000.

Until the ownership strives mightily to convince people the Seals will be here for a while and spends some effort in people-to-people communication, the hockey club will be greeted with a perceptible yawn. Scheduling five games in the Cow Palace will not help either — just serve to convince East Bay fans the Seals might eventually play all their games "over there."

However, we are holding off final rites until November.

Seals Take On Black Hawks

OAKLAND (AP) — The Chicago Black Hawks, out for revenge, invade the Arena tonight at 8 o'clock to meet the Oakland Seals in a National Hockey League game.

In the first meeting between the two clubs, the Seals won in Chicago. Oakland is now in second place tie with St. Louis in the NHL's West Division, while the Hawks are in a battle with Montreal and Boston for supremacy in the East Division.

The Seals are still looking for more scoring to go along with the domination of play they have been able to muster. Coach Fred Glover has been shaking up his front lines to find the best possible combination.

West Coast Teams Think Of Roses

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The run for the roses in the Rose Bowl gets down to serious business tomorrow when three Pacific-8 teams risk their unbeaten records in conference play.

Nationally top-ranked Southern California, undefeated in five games including two conference victories, journeys to Eugene to play Oregon, whose Ducks are 1-1 in the Pac-8. Oregon over-all is 3-3 but is riding a three-game winning streak.

Oregon State, 2-0 and 4-2, travels to test Stanford, 1-2-1 and 3-2-1, in an important contest while California's Golden Bears, 1-0 and 5-1, go to Seattle to meet a pack of Washington Huskies, 0-3 and 2-3-.

INTERSECTIONAL

UCLA, whose Bruins dealt Stanford's bowl hopes a devastating blow last week, is at Knoxville to play fifth-ranked Tennessee in an intersectional engagement, and Washington State has a nonconference date with Arizona at Tucson.

UCLA is 2-1 in the conference and 3-3 for the season, and Washington State is 0-2-1 and 1-4-1.

On the independent front, San Jose State renews its series with University of the Pacific at Stockton tomorrow night.

California's 43-0 romp over Syracuse — the worst licking for the Orangemen since 1953 — seemingly will give the Bears tremendous momentum against Washington. The encounter will be the first of four straight conference games for California, which is thinking Rose Bowl.

Halfback O. J. Simpson and the Southern Cal Trojans have had a week of rest. They'll be favored over Oregon, but history records that California teams invariably find the going tough against teams in the Northwest.

Attention should center on Simpson and Oregon's leading runner, Claxton Welch, and the strong Duck defense which contributed much to the team's last three triumphs.

It may be recalled, also, that a year ago this same defense held Simpson to less than 100 yards—63, in fact, in 23 carries.

MARIN BOWLING

Blistering Week Of Big Scores

By RALPH CHATOIAN

It was a blistering week of big scores in Marin County bowling, with two series reaching the 700 mark.

Best of the best was John Schmidt with a 702 series at Greenbrae Lanes, on games of 253, 256 and 193, barely edging Chuck Luby who rolled an even 700 at Country Club Bowl in San Rafael. His games were 202, 242 and 256.

Top scores from the women came from Ann Baccei, 618 (first time over 600) in the Reno League at Country Club Bowl and Penny Conti, 612, third straight week over the 600 mark, in the Ladies 615 Classic at Country Club. Her series included a 255 game and string of seven strikes.

THIS AND THAT — Pins were really falling at Country Club Bowl, 19 series scores 630 or better. . . . In the 910 Travel League Channing Co. shot team games of 1,058, 1,005 and 1,037 for series of 3,100. . . . In the Woodcutters League, Tom Arvold rolled his first 600, a 619, so wife Vickie rolled her first 500, a 532; also Kathy Campbell (114 average) with a 189 and Russ Douglas (142 avg.) a 224 . . . top individual games fo the week at Nave Lanes came from Clint Brazael, 257, and Doris Malerbi, 234. . . . Marilyn Adams and Gwen Blackburn each picked up the 6-7-10 split in the Gutter Belles at Greenbrae. . . . Julia Robertson converted the 4-7-10 in Ladies 622 Classic at Greenbrae. . . . Jim Watson bowled a 174 triplicate in the Lutheran Early League at Country Club Bowl. . . . Toni Johnson (130 avg.) rolled her first 200, a nice 211 in the San Marin League at Nave Lanes.

STRIKES TO SPARE — Evelyn Norris picked up the 4-7-10 in the TGIF League at Country Club. . . . Linda Walters (120 avg.) rolled 529 in the Kegleret-tes. . . Helen Godwin (133 avg.) had a 204 line in the Triple Threat League at the San Rafael lanes. . . . In the Bowerettes League at Country Club, Barbara Russell missed a 107 triplicate by two pins and Amy Lee missed by the same amount, although hers would have been for a 170. . . . Mary Lou Kemp bowled her first series over five, a 517 in the St. Isabella's Women's League at Nave's. . . . Yvonne Briggs almost had herself a 145 triplicate in the Classy Lassies but that final 140 game fell just a little short. . . . In the Monday Washday League at Naves Joan Hax missed her 123 triplicate by six pins but Carman Reilly missed her 109 trip by only two.

DOWN THE LANES — In the San Quentin Mixed Fours at Country Cub Bowl Floyd Hines led scores with a 223 but it was Carol Wells who was zeroing in on splits, the 3-7-10 twice and the 5-6-10 once. . . . Which reminds me, the Ball and Chain League at Nave Lanes is made up of employees at San Quentin Prison, natch. . . . That 144 average Bil Hudnell almost had that perfect (144) triplicate, but the final game 137 ended the hopes in the Weekenders League, but Chris Bethards won some league glory when he picked up the very difficult 4-6 split. . . . Scores in the Hi-Lo's League at Country Club Bowl were mostly hi, like John Joseph 608, Elmer Tynes 259--653 and Larry Shaffstall 254.

PICKIN' 'EM UP — Jean Twillman of the Friday Nite Leftovers at Nave Lanes has a 121 average, but had games of 203 and 209 last time out. . . . In the Marin County Mixed Travel League Delores Ray converted the 4-7-9-10 split and Bob and Lu Sharp showed real togetherness, each with a 534 series. . . . Sheila Grove missed her 115 triplicate by two pins in the Gutter Beles . . . Consistent improvement shows in Don Highland's score of 180-181-182 in the Nite Owls at Country Club . . . Cy Raymond takes over high scratch game leader in the Novato Unified Bowlers League, 220. . . . Bob Quezada and Marion Ray were big guns of the 670 Scratch League, Bob with a 657 series and Marion just one pin behind.

JUNIOR HAPPENINGS — In the Preps at Country Club, 12-year-old Jacqui Dorsey (96 avg.) bowled her highest game ever, 186. . . . Rich McPherson rolled 633 series to lead the juniors at Country Club, with young sister Nancy leading the bantams, 312 for two games. Mike Piver, 6, led the Pee Wees just one pin shy of a hundred.

BOWLING TIPS

By MARION LADEWIG

There is no point in crowding the foul line. If you find your self stopping only an inch or two short of the line very often, move your starting point back a few inches to give yourself a safety margin. A foul can be disastrous. One of my teammates used to foul occasionally and it was our suggestion that "he get smaller shoes."

Oregon St. To Invade Stanford

STANFORD (AP) — Oregon State's football team, desperately trying to cure an advanced case of fumbles long enough to keep its perfect Pacific-8 Conference record intact, faces pass-happy Stanford tomorrow at Stadium, 1:30.

The Beavers are tied with Southern California for the conference lead with a 2-0 record and boast the sixth leading rusher in the nation in Bill "Earthquake" Enyart, who has racked up 749 yards in 173 carries.

But Coach Dee Andros is less than enthusiastic over the seven fumbles his club made last week in beating Washington State 16-8. The Beavers have fumbled 28 times in six games.

Stanford is out of the race for the Rose Bowl with its 1-2-1 conference record, but Andros is expecting a tough game.

"We thought Washington State was a good passing team," Andros said. "But wait until you see Stanford. They can really throw the ball around."

Oregon State will be without the services of Donnie Summers, its third leading ground gainer, who suffered a sprained ankle last week and is out for at least 10 days.

Pride At Stake When Tam Meets San Rafael Eleven

There's no title at stake tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. at San Rafael High School, but pride will have someting to do with the outcome when San Rafael and Tamalpais High Schools meet in a Marin County Athletic League football game.

The San Rafael Bulldogs will be trying to savage something out of an injury-filled, disappointing season that has now reached the 1-5 won-lost stage.

The Indians of Tamalpais, Mill Valley, knocked out of the title race in a 13-12 heartbreaking loss to Terra Linda last week, will be trying to put together a good season that could go to 5-3 with victories the rest of the way.

San Rafael should be in better shape to put something together. Three injured veterans return — tackle Tom Barnes, backup quarterback Bruce Nave and guard Tim Ecke.

Nave's injury turned out to be some torn tendons and bruises around the neck instead of the broken collarbone it was thought to be initially.

The could give the Bulldogs a late-game ace-in-the hole for a touchdown bomb.

"We've been real high all week," San Rafael coach Bob Muster said. "The return of those boys has given us a lift. We may be ready to pull an upset."

If they do, they'll have to contend with what is potentially the most explosive offense in the league.

Tam quarterback Don Mackin should do better than he did last week under a fierce Terra Linda rush. And he may open things for the likes of speedster Luther Brown and workhorse fullback Dave Hector.

But the big thing for Tamalpais has been the resurgence of a defense. It finally clicked.

"We just changed things," Tamalpais coach Willie Hector said. "It all came together last week."

It almost clicked for an upset last week. And, going with that offense this week, it will make for a great combination.

Warriors Take On The Hawks

ATLANTA (AP) — The San Francisco Warriors, still wondering what happened to them in Baltimore, moved into Atlanta to play the Hawks tonight in a National Basketball Association game.

The Warriors, for the record, led Baltimore by 19 points in the final quarter Wednesday night but lost to the Bullets 112-110 in overtime.

"We blew it."

That was Warrior Coach George Lee's explanation after Earl Monroe's 28-foot shot with two seconds left in overtime ended the game.

Gus Johnson's basket had tied the game at 104-104 after regulation play. He led the Bullets with 31 points and Monroe

I AM LOVED

A man chases a girl until she captures him. You're doing the chasing, but she's getting closer and looking better with every step. It's time for the great stallers.

First there is the "I AM LOVED" button for cases where you have just slightly stumbled in your chase. It says volumes and is free, of course.

The second choice speaks more eloquently. It is Wells "I AM LOVED" jewelry ...charms, pendants, necklaces and earrings in real silver and gold ($5 to $25). These say everything you want to say...everything but the date.

See them both here at your "I AM LOVED" headquarters.

A public offering of 248,000 shares of common stock of American Building Maintenance Industries, San Francisco, is being made by a nationwide investment banking group managed by Lehman Bros. and Sutro and Co.

The stock is priced at $21.50 per share. Of the shares offered, 50,000 shares are being sold by the company and 198,000 by certain shareholders. Plans are to apply for listings on the American and Pacific Coast Stock Exchanges of outstanding common stock upon completion of the offering.

American Building, headed by Theodore Rosenberg of San Rafael and incorporated in 1955 as the successor to a business founded by Rosenberg's father, is engaged in providing janitorial, window cleaning and maintenance services throughout the United States. Other operations include pest extermination and control, air conditioning, heating equipment repair and servicing, elevator installation, parking lots and janitorial supplies.

Part of the net proceeds received by the company from the proposed sale of the 50,000 shares will be used to repay current bank borrowings and the balance will be added to the company's general fund.

GEOTHERMAL RESOURCES INTERNATIONAL, INC., and Supreme Oil and Gas Co. of Mountain View have concluded preliminary negotiations for the acquisition of Supreme by Geothermal, subject to approval of Supreme stockholders and consent of the California Corporations Commissioner. Market Takes Loss Despite Bomb Halt

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed with a loss today after erasing an early advance made on news of the Vietnam bombing halt.

Trading volume ran far behind Thursday's. In the first half hour the ticker tape ran late as prices surged to their best. After that it was downhill all the way until late afternoon when some losses were cut before the bell.

Prices near the close included:

Sinclair, up 3¼ at 102⅛; Southern Pacific, off 1 at 43; Youngstown Sheet, up 2⅞ at 46½; General Motors, off 1 at 86¾; du Pont, off ⅝ at 170½; IBM, up 2 at 309; White Consolidated Industries, off 1⅜ at 33½; Allis Chalmers, up ¾ at 31¾; and Atlantic Richfield, off ⅝ at 103⅜.

Losses outnumbered gains by more than 200 issues on the Big Board.

Analysts noted that a bombing halt had been anticipated in the recent past when the market rallied merely on rumors about it.

"Certainly, the surprise element has been lost and the market is invariably more responsive to the unexpected than to the expected," said Newton D. Zinder of E.F. Hutton & Co.

Prices declined on the American Stock Exchange after an early show of strength.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Fairfield-Noble Corp. Has Good Prospects

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I'm interested in Fairfield-Noble Corp. located near me. Could you inform me about the company as well as how to proceed to invest? — R. K.

A. A trusted banker could probably give you the name of a reliable investment firm in your area. Opening an account is similar to establishing credit for a charge account.

Fairfield-Noble, manufacturer of women's knitted blouses, appears to have investment merit. Its vertically integrated operation — from dyeing to packaging — allows for better cost and quality control.

A 39 per cent sales increase to $24.8 million for fiscal year ended June resulted in an earnings gain of 24 per cent. Records for the past two years include operations of newly acquired Bryant 9, producer of junior sportswear.

A recently completed plant allows Fairfield to do its own dyeing, previously a high-cost item. It also houses a distribution system programmed to handle double the current volume.

Fairfield has increased its highly successful TV advertising campaign on a nationwide scale. These factors help to justify its somewhat rich price earnings multiple.

Q. For the present, I work two days a week but will retire soon. Social Security and a pension will give me $166 a month toward the $400 I need to live on. How can I make up the difference with dividends from the enclosed list of my holdings? — L. M.

A. By selling eight low-yielding issues you will free $21,000 of your capital, leaving $20,000 still invested at $4.8 per cent.

Sales are American Airlines; Commonwealth Oil; Continental Telephone; Head Ski common; Pacific Southwest Airlines; Pike, pfd; U. S. Shoe and Western Microwave.

With $4,000 you can increase your Commonwealth Income Fund to the $10,000 minimum required for their withdrawal plan which will add about $50 to your monthly income. Purchase a $17,000 lifetime annuity. The payments from this plus the dividends from your remaining stock should give you the $400 a month.

"My lump of stuff is bigger than your lump of stuff."

ALMANAC

Today is Friday, Nov. 1, the 306th day of 1968 with 60 to follow.

The moon is between its first quarter and full phase. The morning stars are Mercury, Mars and Jupiter. The evening stars are Saturn and Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1864 the Post Office Department introduced the money order system.

In 1918 the Hapsburg monarchy of Austria Hungary was dissolved. Budapest became the capital of the Hungarian Republic and Vienna the capital of Austria.

In 1961 Premier Castro ruled that international bodies could not check to see if Soviet missiles had been removed from Cuba.

In 1965, a bus plunged into the Nile and 62 persons were killed in Cairo, Egypt.

A thought for the day: Pope Pius XII said, "American people have a genius for splendor and unselfish action, and into the hands of America, GOD has placed the destinies of afflicted humanity."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. Light-face type indicates a.m. times; bold-face type indicates p.m. times.

Horrors Of Horrors: A Defeat At Slam Level With 29 Points

If you're working on a scientific method to bid 29-point hands don't wake me up when you've finished. You should get a hand of this strength about once every Friday the 13th, with results appropriate to that day.

NO SYSTEM

Today's South had no particular system for bidding his powerhouse. He just bulled his way to a slam, but it didn't bring him any lasting happiness.

South took the ace of diamonds , drew two rounds of trumps, overtook the queen of diamonds with dummy's king and tried a finesse with the queen of hearts.

SURRENDERS HEART

South then cashed the ace of hearts and gave up a heart. East unkindly returned a trump, and South eventually had to lose a second heart. Down one.

South's line of play was not absolutely guaranteed to fail: if the six missing hearts had broken 3-3 declarer would have landed on his feet. Leaving one trump in the dummy didn't help regardless of which opponent had the last trump. If West had the last trump, East would have led a fourth heart to let West overruff the dummy.

TOO MANY TRUMPS

There was a way to make the slam, but South drew too many trumps. Declarer should draw just one round of trumps and should then lead a low heart. The defenders should return a trump to South's hand. Now, with one heart given up and two trumps drawn, South overtakes the queen of diamonds with dummy's king in order to try a finesse with the queen of hearts.

When the finesse wins, South has something to hope for: that the opponent with the last trump also has length in hearts. South cashes the ace of hearts and ruffs his last heart in dummy. Then, thanks to a finesse and a lucky break in spades, South can brag about his magnificent bidding.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with two diamonds (forcing to game), and the next player passes.

You hold:
♥ 9 7
♦ J 10 9 8 4
♣ Q 10 6 3.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two no trump, the negative response.

You will have a chance to show your diamond support later. Your first duty is to state that you have a very weak hand. Otherwise, partner may get to an unmakeable slam.

Hope For Peace At Last With Real Negotiations

It is far too early to cry "hosanna!" for peace in Vietnam, but President Johnson's announcement last evening offers the first real hope since the United States became involved in that messy war.

It offers hope because it meets the condition that has been insisted upon by Ho Chi Minh consistently since January, 1966, as the irrevocable precondition to peace negotiations: cessation of United States bombing of North Vietnam.

It offers hope also because it contains evidence that Hanoi, too, has given a little from its previous stand. It has agreed to participation by the South Vietnamese government in the Paris talks.

IT OFFERS HOPE additionally because the President, in rather casually mentioning that "the NLF will be there, too," revealed that another pre-condition has been met in permitting participation by the National Liberation Front, which — whether we like it or not — probably speaks for more people in South Vietnam than does the Thieu government.

An it offers greater hope still in the President's assurance that our military command has agreed cessation of the bombing will not increase the threat to American lives in the embattled Southeast Asian country.

THE PRESIDENT would not say on what this confidence is based. The diminution of Vietnam casualties in recent weeks offers a clue. What lies behind this lull in fighting, we will learn in time; but for now, we must take it on trust.

Cynics may greet the President's announcement with the retort that we could have halted bombing any time, that we could have permitted NLF participation (whether as official members of the negotiating council may be academic) at any time.

We could. But Ho and Thieu have not been willing to have their representatives sit down together in Paris at any time, nor has Thieu been willing that the NLF be allowed there at all. And there has been no assurance that a bomb halt would not step up attacks on American troops. Now, according to the President, there is such assurance. Now Thieu is willing to participate, with the NLF represented. And now Ho is willing to talk with Thieu.

All this gives substance to the peace rumors that have been floating out of Paris — and out of such other places as Bangkok and Vientiane — in recent days.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON'S bomb halt announcement comes on the eve of a national election. It will probably help the chances of Hubert Humphrey. If it does not remove the heavy handicap under which he has labored as a part of the Johnson administration, at least it lightens it.

In this sense, Vietnam negotiations become a political aid to Humphrey — as the lack of them has been a political aid to Nixon.

We may be sure that President Johnson tried hard to get the negotiations going before election, to help his party. We may be surer still that he will try even harder to have them produce an agreement before he retires from office on Jan. 20.

We hope he makes it. Whoever is elected President next Tuesday — be it Humphrey or Nixon — will have tremendous problems to solve in the next four years without the Vietnam War.

Acorns Valuable

As everyone knows, acorns are fruit of the oak tree and there are plenty of both in Marin. Acorns are a rich source of carbohydrates and proteins for our wild animals.

It is estimated that the average yield per oak tree is 5,000 acorns per year, but this is probably a bit too high for Marin's indigenous live oak. However, each October and November finds the ground under the oaks liberally sprinkled with these soft-shelled nuts.

Many birds and animals depend on acorns as a seasonal food. It is guessed that mice and deer account for three fourths of the acorns. But squirrels and wood rats are heavy acorn feeders, too.

Among the birds, doves, quail, nuthatches, jays, starlings and crows are fond of acorns. All told, more than 200 species of birds and mammals are

Bonds Or Else —Here Are Choices

I have been following with great interest your articles on the Tamalpais High School District. It is time to reflect what is really at stake in this Tam District bond proposal. It is all too easy to become frustrated at high taxes, out of control young people and the new education philosophies. Many of us have been critical of the high school district. But what does the No vote gain besides possibly a moment's fleeting satisfaction? It wll not ease any of the frustrations and will only serve to block the building of desperately needed new classrooms.

When bonds fail, as they have twice already, there are alternatives to building needed classrooms. There can be double sessions where 14 to 18 year olds attend school for half of the day and are free from school responsibilities the remainder of the day. . . . There can be year-round use of the school with a revolving vacation plan. . . . More portables might be stacked double-decker at schools like Drake. . . .Perhaps a system could be devised where students attend classes only two and a half days a week, permitting a double enrollment. A vote against the Tam bonds is a vote for just such unsatisfactory alternatives as these.

Furthermore, a No vote certainly won't save money. For the same money it will cost to build a school for 800 in San Geronimo today, a school for 1,500 students was proposed 2 years ago. . . .Every year our money buys less school . . .

Let Only Americans Stand Guard Tonight

The smear campaign against Dr. Max Rafferty, candidate for the United States Senate, is reaching a crescendo of malice, absurdity, and irresponsibility.

It began six years ago, when he first ran for the office of state superintendent of public instruction. His vigorous opposition to "progressive" education had earned for him the enmity of certain extremely vocal elements. . . .

Perhaps these industrious smear artists fail to realize that they are actually telling more about themselves than about their intended victim. Max was guilty of patriotism, which they seem to regard as the seven deadly sins rolled into one. He was an "agitator" because he handed out American flags. Their proteges parade under the flag of the Viet Cong, the hammer and sickle, and the black flag of anarchy. . . .

Every thinking citizen is concerned about the weighty problem, both foreign and domestic, which hang over our heads. Let us remember the admonition of George Washington at a time of peril, "Let only Americans stand guard tonight."

Vote For Wallace: It Can't Be Worse

In 1787 Ben Franklin gave us a good republic in our Constitution of the United States of America. Then along came the "spoiler" Alger Hiss with his secret pact with Molotov in 1945 to the effect a Communist (Red) would always have USSR as United Nations undersecretary-general for political and security affairs. That's the reason we can't declare a war when we are at war nor win one.

Since beginning the trap was set in United Nations we have had both Democrat and Republican Presidents and neither of these parties gave us a leader that had the guts to break this "Down with American" Constitution pact. Seems breaking pacts is privilege reserved only for the Communists. . . .

Maybe Wallace will be our next president. With Wallace we'll have at least a change. It can't be worse . . .

Humphrey Record On Civil Rights

A young woman asked me recently what was Vice President Humphrey's stand on civil rights. I gasped and said, "Why, he practically invented civil rights! It was Humphrey who, in 1948, forced a civil rights plank in the Democratic platform — the first such plank in any party's platform."

My questioner shrugged as if to say, "But that was long ago." Then I remembered that Hubert Humphrey is of my generation and young people today care little about the battles we fought 20 years ago. Unlike me, however, Humphrey did not quit fighting. In 1964, he was in charge of the history-making civil rights bill that passed Congress that year, the law that put teeth into the idea of equal rights for all Americans.

For four months, Humphrey spent from 12 to 15 hours a day in the Senate fighting for that bill with skill and good humor. The last week of the Senate debate on the bill, Humphrey learned that his son had cancer of the lymphatic glands. Despite his private anguish, Humphrey made a decision vital to us all. His wife stayed with their boy; he stayed with his Senate responsibilities. Today, that son is well and the civil rights bill of 1964 is law. 1964 was not very long ago even if 1948 seems so.

Speculators Back Proposition 9

A recent ad in the I-J urging a yes vote on Proposition 9, sponsored by the Marin County Real Estate Board, was very impressive. Mainly it impressed me to be sure and vote NO. We all know that board is not philanthropic. It is comprised, in the main, by land speculators. Passage of the proposition will give such persons a huge tax break. The money they save will have to be made up by single family home owners and renters who will get no tax relief. A food tax will have to be installed, plus an increase in sales and income tax. . .

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Nixon Avoids Identification With Extreme Political Right

(Editor's note: Roscoe Drummond will speak in the Fine Arts Building theater at College of Marin at 8:15 p.m. today on "The State of the World.")

LOS ANGELES — Richard Nixon's campaign shows he wants to avoid becoming the prisoner of the political right.

If elected, Nixon would be a minority President only in the sense that, because of the three-way race, he would get less than 50 per cent of the popular vote.

But he would soon emerge as the President favored by a large conservative coalition made up of his own supporters, some disaffected Democrats and many Wallaceites which will almost certainly dominate the voting next Tuesday.

AT FIRST SIGHT this might look very inviting to a President who will need all the public backing he can muster from whatever source in order to govern effectively.

But from nearly everything he has been saying and doing since his nomination, it is apparent that Nixon is aiming to build by his actions, present and future, a different coalition — one moored firmly at the broad political center.

That's where Nixon sees himself standing and it is from this vantage point he expects to fashion a new governing majority.

This explains why Nixon is sharply separating himself from the hard-core Wallace supporters and why, at the same time, he is carefully avoiding personal attacks on President Johnson, though criticizing Johnson policies.

NIXON QUITE purposefully is not courting the extreme right in his own party or the extreme right in the Democratic Party. And he obviously wants no part of the disgruntled, pacifist, let-the-aggressors-have-their-way New Left, which can agree on nothing but to obstruct and tear down.

By spurning the New Left and rejecting the far right (Republican and Democratic) Nixon shows that he believes he can become the catalyst of a wide and durable coalition of moderate conservatives and moderate liberals who will be responsive to his type of non-doctrinaire, get - things - done pragmatism.

His objective is to find practical answers to the nation's racial and social problems and his search is for what is most workable regardless of whether his measures get labeled conservative or liberal.

THERE IS NO doubt that Nixon is conservative in that he wants to arrest the flow of power to Washington by sharing federal funds and returning political initiative to state and local government and in that he doesn't assume that appropriating a billion dollars is necessarily the best way of solving a problem. But he is not likely to be the type of conservative who tends to use conservative words as a device to justify doing nothing.

Nixon's campaign statements seem just as insistent as Hubert Humphrey's that law and order cannot be achieved in a vacuum of government indifference to the causes of lawlessness and disorder. Humphrey says that civil order and civil progress must come simultaneously and that one cannot be achieved without the other. Nixon says he stands for "law, order and justice" and that the nation cannot win respect for law unless it has laws which deserve respect.

This is the stand aimed to rally the political center.

NIXON WAS first to say that, if elected, he would appoint a bipartisan Cabinet which would include outstanding Democrats and Republicans.

This is a stand aimed to rally the political center.

It seems to me that the main thrust of his campaign indicates that Nixon is looking ahead and is aiming to avert becoming the prisoner of the conservative tide now visible in the nation and to build a coalition of middle-road supporters from both parties appealing to a wide cross section of Americans except the extremists of the left and the right.

He sees such a coalition as enabling him to govern with needed flexibility and it could be a coalition which might endure for a long time.

Humphrey Is Gaining, But Is It Too Late?

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

EN ROUTE WITH HUMPHREY — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey has come a long way from the "politics of joy," but his Democratic presidential campaign is beginning to move up at last.

The question is, of course: Has the movement come too late to overtake Republican candidate Richard M. Nixon?

The final answer to that question may lie in a variety of circumstances which are beyond Humphrey's control. He is campaigning, however, as if he could single-handedly even the odds, before election day, by an act of personal stamina and will.

IT WAS TO HAVE been a "unity" campaign which Humphrey announced last spring, a presidential campaign suffused with the "politics of joy." Democratic party unity was already frayed, however, and it was completely torn by the turbulent Democratic national convention.

Toil quickly replaced joy as Humphrey's campaign hallmark. Long ago the vice president began to go all-out. He is running for President just as hard as he can.

He is crisscrossing the country, making six to eight appearances in each 14 to 18-hour day. He is hoarse by noon. He is tired, of course, and almost always he talks too long. When he concludes, with an underdog's plaintive plea for support, his voice breaks like a bad baritone's.

If the simple joy has gone out of all this, a good deal of humor remains. Humphrey wryly explained his own plight to a group of Los Angeles clergymen last week.

"It's a little like trying to give eight good sermons a day," he said, "and, in the meantime, trying to take up the collection and keep the church open."

THERE REALLY is something of the evangelist's sermons in Humphrey's electioneering, as the campaign nears its end.

Basically, he is selling the record — his own record as a champion of liberal causes and the record of Democratic administrations since Franklin Roosevelt. A single speech may call all the turns from the first Social Security bill through Head Start and the nuclear non-proliferation treaty.

There is a fervor to the salesmanship, however, when Humphrey promises top priority to ending the war in Vietnam. He tells his audiences that they can trust him, and he looks hopefully to the day when the world will enjoy an atmosphere of "common trust."

There is a fervor, too, in the candidate's attacks on his two opponents. One of them, he says, is a "crude demagogue," while the other is "more subtle."

On occasion it can all be quite effective, but often it is not. What starts as fervor becomes, after a while, just a high noise level. As Humphrey wears on, some audiences wear out.

WHATEVER the short-range effects of Humphrey's campaigning, there seems to be no question but that his fortunes are now improving. Humphrey's aides say there is no doubt about it, and the polls seem to agree.

Again, however, is it all happening too late?

Humphrey's top strategists say privately that they aren't sure. They say they don't know how much of a lead must be erased by next Tuesday.

Project Breakthrough Appears Right Approach At Right Time

Project Breakthrough, the latest effort to interest black students in their education, seems, as one black observer said earlier this week, at last to be the right program at the right time. Its chances for success, unlike those of many other War on Poverty and allied programs, seem very great.

Project Breakthrough is a multipronged approach to "turning on" black students to education. In the months ahead it will work with black students at Tamalpais High School, dealing with their school problems through counseling and tutoring; attempt to interest them in extracurricular school activities through the Ashanti Club, the high school's black student union; help them with job training through field trips and counseling and work with parents to develop community and family incentive for educational success.

THE KEY to black success is to make black students believe they can control their own destiny and that education is the major means to gaining that control, according to Lanny Berry, project director.

The project's headquarters, the Harriet Tubman House, the former Rosa Building in Marin City, was dedicated Monday in a brief but moving ceremony attended by more than 250 persons, 150 of whom were seventh and eighth grade students from Martin Luther King Jr. school in Sausalito. Unfortunately, few of the 165 black students at Tamalpais High School, the ones for whom the program is intended, were able to attend.

Sen Mervyn M. Dymally, D-Los Angeles, predicted the project would be a model for similar approaches to stimulating black education throughout the nation.

PERHAPS the most moving portion of the dedication came when 10-year-old John Times read the essay on Harriet Tubman which won the contest to rename the Rosa Building.

John wrote and read: "She was a black woman that ran away from slavery and saved more Negroes from the white man. The white man had our brothers and sisters on hands and knees. Harriet took our brothers and sisters from slavery.

"She came back for more and more, traveling at night and hiding in the day, following the north star.

"Some white but mostly black people helped her hide slaves in homes and fields. She had trouble with the white man, and one black man was scared to go so Harriet said you come or you die."

Harriet Tubman is probably one of the best known black heroines of slavery days for her work on the underground railroad.

In my grammar, high school and college education, information on black history was unavailable and I learned about Harriet Tubman as an adult by viewing a television series a few years ago about black figures in history.

AT THE END of Monday's dedication ceremony, a San Francisco reporter approached Doug Quiett, one of the speakers, and asked: "Who is Harriet Tubman, a civil rights leader?"

This incident, noted Doug later, was a microcosm of the problem of communication and understanding between blacks and whites. If white society doesn't know the history and source of black attitudes and problems, how can it possibly deal with them in the modern context?

Passing Of Longtime Friend, And Election Year Happenings

Fusselman

Sure it's grand to be around more than the normal allotted years, to know of all the amazing achievements and to watch history being written page by page, day by day and to have your memories of days when life was simpler and there was time to enjoy deep friendships. But there are times of sadness, ever occuring, when you hear of a friend and then another and another whom you will not be seeing or talking to again.

The news that Jim Kehoe, my old sidekick on the board, had joined the ranks of those was pretty rough to take. He called me on my birthday just a few weeks ago and reminded me that he and Charlie Reilly and I had had a dinner date promised for about a year and a half that should be taken care of. When we were about to hang up, Jim said, "Hey, listen, you still like venison? I'll be sending you down some." Charlie Reilly was the Marin County Fire Department Chief for a number of years while Jim was on the board.

I had planned to pay tribute to my good bluff Irish friend, who stood so tall in the saddle, but Jack Craemer did it so well last Saturday that there is not much more can be said. Happy hunting, Jim.

SOME MONTHS back I wrote, "This is the year of the righteous — election year." And mister, was that calling the turn? Along about 40 years ago there was a supervisor out Novato way who was never able to get much road work done until election year — then was he righteous!

It's too bad each taxpaying homeowner wasn't furnished with page 15 of this year's county budget. It shows the comaprison, year by year, back to 1958-59. It shows in dollars and cents the assessed values, budget requirements, tax rate and taxes paid. This is shown in total and per capita. Would that punch a hole in somebody's toy balloon?

Here is one pip. In Alan Bruce's (county administrator) budget message, he says this: "Your instructions have been carried out. Not only has the tax rate been held (actually reduced) but the total budget increase in only 1.1 per cent." Then when you turn to page 15, you find the figures of Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell which shows 6.6 per cent.

The budget last year was $27,942,178 — this year $29,785,001. Assessed valuations are up 16.6 per cent. Property taxes are up 4.5 per cent. So, all the cheering about lowering the tax rate 3 cents amounts to just some more hoo-malli-malli — the Brasilia brand.

CONSIDER THIS: Even if those who are claiming great credit for lowering the tax rate this year were actually leveling with us, what were they doing the past three years? The increase of assessed valuations by 16.6 per cent; from $534,516,696 to $562,030,763 was taken full advantage of.

And you "aint heard nothin' yet." Wait until the maintenance cost of the expanded complex out there is heard from.

MORE OF WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Double Taxation Of Real Property

America's private wealth, in stocks, bonds, notes, bank accounts and real estate, is subject to income taxation. An investment in real estate, however, is subject to double taxation, it also pays a "possessory tax."

The "possessory tax" or property tax on real estate carries the same burden of "people related service expenses" today as it did before the institution of the income tax and the sales tax. . . .

Proposition 9, designed to correct this inequity, is opposed not on a basis of right or wrong but by the question, "If we let the homeowner off the hook who is going to pay for these services?"

Proposition 9 allows the Legislature five years to resolve this question completely and certainly a broader and more honest basis is available to correct this unjust situation.

Wisdom In Choice Of Vice President

The vice president carries on, despite a heavy albatross around his neck, the Texan and the hecklers, but in the business world we don't blame a corporation vice president for the mistakes of the head of the company, and Humphrey surely shoudn't be blamed for L.B.J.'s many fumbles, both here and abroad. . . .

And so I plead with my fellow voters to judge Mr. Humphrey solely on his own record, the judgment he has displayed in his long and distinguished service in the Senate, his life-long compassion for those who have gotten the short end of the stick, both black and white, his willingness to face and debate the vital issues confronting this troubled land of ours, and of paramount importance, the wisdom he displayed in choosing his running mate.

When he selected Senator Muskie, he named a man eminently qualified to fill the top post should fatal illness, or an assassin's bullet move still another vice president on to 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue. . . .

And what did Mr. Nixon do in choosing a running mate?

To cut Reagan and Rockefeller off at the pass and capture those much needed southern delegates he named Spiro Who? — probably the least qualified man ever to run for the vice presidency. . . .

And in making that self-serving but unfortunate public interest choice, the man we Californians had refused to elect governor proved again that expediency, not merit or fundamentals, so often determines Nixon's conduct and judgments. . . .

And doesn't it make you shudder, despair too, of America's future, that a man so limited in experience, so unwise in his utterances and so incompletely lacking in demonstrated ability, would be only a heart beat away from the most important office in the world should Nixon win Nov. 5?

Voters across the land also regret and deplore Nixon's refusal to debate the vital issues with Humphrey, especially so since he wrote in a widely read national magazine just four short years ago that televsied debates between presidential candidates "serve the public." And he also said such debates insure "better informed voters and in the end a better president." . . .

This plea is penned by a deeply disturbed citizen, normally a Democrat who never-the-less spent time and money helping get Eisenhower nominated, did not vote for Truman, did vote for Wilkie, tried hard to help get Rockefeller nominated in '64 and again this year, and before that shameful convention in Chicago gave financial support and his vote to Gene McCarthy much as he regrets McCarthy's unfortunate silence since the convention. In short, a voter who, like so many of you, attempts to judge the man and his actual record, not just read the label.

Many are tempted not to vote this year, saying all three candidates are unworthy of support . . . . But we all should vote, especially this year when so much is at stake, so many serious problems to be intelligently dealt with both at home and abroad. . . .

Over Reaction To Proposition A

I am bewildered by the immoderate and ferocious response of the anti-gun control people in Marin County to such a mild piece of legislation as Proposition A. . . .

Certainly, none of us who want stricter gun controls have any desire to take guns away from hunters, and we commend the National Rifle Association for its efforts over many years to teach safety in the handling of firearms to our youth.

The sensible reaction would seem to be that of a person to whom I was talking recently. He said, "I'm a hunter, and I like to hunt, but I realize that something has to be done about guns."

It seems to me that some gun owners are inviting restrictive legislation on this matter by over-reacting to efforts of the majority of us who are attempting to find a sensible and unrepressive means of cutting down the excessive death rate from firearms. . . .

Price Goes Higher If Bonds Defeated

The Tam High School District is now educationg 600 more students than it can adequately accommodate and the situation becomes increasingly critical the longer we delay. As a business man, I am particularly concerned that the cost of building is increasing at such a rate that the present bond issue of $10.9 million will cost about $1 million more if delayed until next year. This is our third attempt in three years to provide an adequate building program for our district — let's all go to bat and not strike out. Vote "Yes" on Proposition B.

Women Voters Support Prop. 1

The Leagues of Women Voters of Southern and Central Marin were disappointed with your editorial of Oct. 9, opposing passage of Proposition 1 for revising the state constitution.

The editorial criticized the revision on two points — those of elected officials, and pay raises for elected officials. The League of Women Voters believes the constitution should provide local government with as much flexibility as possible for self-government. Given the variety of geography and population of California counties, it seems unreasonable to impose the same governmental structure on all of them. You did not draw attention to the fact that the existing constitution permits the Legislature to provide for the appointment, rather than election, of county Boards of Supervisors. The proposed revision requires election of at least the governing body, leaving the number of other officers and their method of selection flexible for the local boards and the Legislature (not just the Supervisors) to determine by statute on an individual county basis.

If the governing body of a county is to exercise home rule effectively, it must be given responsibility. A board of supervisors should not merely execute rules handed down from the state but must have its own powers so it may truly meet the needs of local constituents. A major tool and responsibility is the ability to adjust pay scales to the changing economy so that qualified persons will serve as county officers. The proposed revision would make this possible.

The League of Women Voters has studied constitution revision for many years and our members overwhelmingly agree on the need for modernization of California's outdated document. We believe this second set of revision proposals set out in Proposition 1 provides an orderly and simplified constitution enabling the state government to deal with problems efficiently, flexibly and with responsibility clearly fixed. We hope you will be able to support Proposition 1, as you supported revision in the past.

Vote For Children By Passing Bonds

The voters of Southern Marin are being asked to approve a high school bond issue of $10,900,000. The last two attempts to raise money for capital expenditures failed. How will it fare this time?

No matter how much I and my fellow citizens dislike the idea of higher taxes. No matter that we disagree with some of the actions of the Tamalpais Union High School District Board. One has to come to the realization that we cannot afford the privilege of again turning down the proposal to build and renovate needed high school facilities at San Geronomo, Tiburon, Drake, Redwood and Tamalpais. The need is now and obviously will become more pressing before the buildings are completed.

I encourage all to vote for our children and for children yet to come, and thus insure for us all a high school system of which we can be proud.

'Pox On Bagley' For U.C. Proposal

With all the freaks, beared grass-blowing red flag wavers tearing up the U. C. Berkeley Campus, Assemblyman Willy Bagley, U. C. alumnus and legislator extraordinaire, has the gall to come forth with an ipso-facto approval of such conduct by indirectly attacking the few members of the board of regents who have taken a hard-nosed stand against campus violence and disruption.

One doesn't have to look far for reasons why a long active Republican, such as myself, becomes disgusted with his own party. Bagley has continually attacked both Governor Reagan and Dr. Max Rafferty over their stands on the crisis in Berkeley, and now, he wants them removed from the board of regents.Bagley is essentially defending the "academic freedom" of the professional "acidheads" and revolutionaries in Berkeley, those whose academic valor consists of throwing bricks at police, using four letter nasties, and calling for anarchy and destruction. A pox on Mr. Bagley with my compliemnts.

Elderly Appreciate Right To Vote

I recently volunteered to help aged patients in a local rest home apply for absentee ballots. Most of these people were so infirm or physically handicapped that it was a struggle for them to sign their names. Yet, every one bent to the task eagerly, clinging to their right to vote.

What a contrast to those who are so indifferent that they will not bother to vote at all, and so will have nobody but themselves to blame if the next President or local supervisor is not to their liking! In the same way, those who vote "No" on all three major presidential candidates, or write in the name of a non-candidate, are disenfranchising themselves.

Perhaps it is still possible to learn from those who are over 30 — or even over 70!

Student Speaks Up For School Bonds

As a senior at Sir Francis Drake High School I have watched, for three years, more and more students forced into the space of Drake's facilities. For three years I have watched the addition of temporary (portable) classrooms, giving me the feeling of a temporary education. I hope the voters realize that portables are only a stop-gap measure to avoid finally the inevitable step of split sessions. It is extremely ironic that it is because of money, that the bonds might not pass, and if the bonds don't pass and split sessions go into effect, the people of Marin will be giving their children a Mississippi level education at Marin County prices.

Realizing that relief can't come for at least two years, it becomes doubly important that the bonds be passed now for the conditions at all the schools can only get worse.

Twice, voters uninformed of the overcrowded conditions at all three Tam District high schools have voted the bonds down. It is this type of ignorance that shakes my faith in "American democracy."

I certainly hope, for the sake of elementary and junior high school children that this bond proposal be passed.

Long-Suffering Support Prop. 9

Your paper has printed many articles by groups who are against the initiative measure, Proposition 9. . . .

The citizens of California have secured thousands of signatures in order to place this Initiative measure on the ballot to correct an unjust situation. I am supportint this proposition because I belong to a long suffering minority group (home ownerss), hard working, non-rioting people, who see no end to the constantly rising property taxes. What is going to stop them from rising? Not Proposition 1-A, which was apparently put on the ballot to confuse and mislead voters, and which I consider an insult to the intelligence. . . .

The only savings that many people have during their lifetime is the equity they own in their home, and when they retire are often forced to sell because they are unable to pay the taxes.

If there are imperfections in Proposition 9, I am sure they can be ironed out during the 5 years provided in the measure, because perfection in this world is hard to find. . . .

More Guns Bought In Fear Of Guns

More and more people are buying more and more guns in fear of other people who are buying more and more guns. Is it so much to ask that the police at least keep track of these lethal weapons?

I pray that every responsible citizen will vote for gun registration on Nov. 5. Registration will not accomplish miracles, but it is the only gun control measure which is up for a vote. In view of the recent court decision on the San Francisco ordinance, there is some question whether any local firearms law can go into effect. However I cannot help but agree with the judge on that case, who said: "Clearly, the adequate regulation of dangerous weapons is of vital concern to the populace generally throughout the state." There is no doubt that such a measure should be statewide, but our legislators have failed to enact such needed laws.

It seems to me, therefore, that the most important thing about this Marin election is its symbolic significance. . . . If people show by their positive vote that they are concerned about the enormous stockpiling of guns that has been taking place lately, and about the annual deaths that occur in the thousands only in this country, then perhaps our legislators will finally listen and act. . . .

Editorial Cartoons Disturb Reader

One of the many niceties existing in Marin County which I found upon becoming a resident of this area almost 10 years ago, certainly had to be your fine newspaper. I was particularly impressed by your impartiality, and ability to cover both local and national news without resorting to sensational headlines. Even more important than these, was a general good taste throughout your entire paper.

I do not know whether or not the editorial cartoon efforts of illustrators such as Conrad and Hugh Haynie reflect the attitude of your paper. Of late, the ugliness shown in these cartoons makes me wonder if I am receiving the Berkeley Barb instead of the I-J. I thought the height of bad taste was reached when Conrad compared the Chicago police with the Russian police in Prague. The climax of your unflattering treatment of our political candidates certainly was reached tonight with that vicious and deplorable caricature of Richard Nixon in a TV set.

That are you trying to prove? Are there no local artists available to fill this space? . . . Your Interlandi, who delights in his diatribe against everything and everyone from the police department to the United Nations, and the establishment in general, conveys his distaste daily. Does he really need help?

Reader Assesses Candidate's Claims

Today I received a copy of Bud Baar's election material in which he brings up his position vs. Tom Storer's. Taking them one by one, these are the facts, as I, an ordinary Marin County citizen, know them.

1. Tax Record. Mr. Baar states that while he was on the San Rafael City Council taxes decreased by 29 per cent. Sales taxes increased during that time by 25 per cent and the Northgate Shopping Center which brings in large amounts of Sales Tax to the city of San Rafael was completed. . . .

2. Transportation. "Complete widening of G. G. Bridge approach to four lanes," says Mr. Baar. When did Mr. Baar last drive over the Golden Gate Bridge —10 years ago? A great deal of Marin County's share of state highway funds were allocated for the widening of the 101 from San Rafael through Novato which was of a great deal more importance to the county as a whole than a couple of hours a day bottleneck at the bridge, even though this bottleneck inconvenienced Marin County commuters.

3. Drug Abuse Bureau. Tom Storer voted no on a $17,478 increase for the Marin County Drug Abuse Bureau. For one thing Tom Storer is an attorney, and well aware of the tremendous cost to the county of theses marijuana arrests. It does not make sense for Marin County to increase taxes to enforce the present marijuana law when most district attorneys in this state, the FBI, the state legislators are all giving serious thought to removing this law from the books.

4. County employees' vacation. I understand that this vacation plan was in line with the state vacation plans and that it allows three weeks vacation after several years of service. I am not in favor of three weeks vacation for county employees after one year. . .

4. County Planning Department. There is not a county in California which has not finally recognized the fact that long range planning (which costs money initially) saves any county countless problems and money in the future.

5. Hippies. I am glad that Tom Storer recognizes the fact that hippies are human beings not animals. Most of them are willing to work but they cannot get jobs because of the bigotry of a great many Marin County people. . . .

Reason To Switch: Muskie Vs. Agnew

In your recent editorial stating the paper's support of Nixon for President of the United States, you said you couldn't see too much difference between the candidates and chose Mr. Nixon because you felt he could begin with a clean slate —no commitments to the past, etc. — whereas Vice President Humphrey would have to respect commitments made by President Johnson.

I can tell you one very major difference between the two major candidates, a difference many people are taking note of at this point in the campaign. That difference is between Spiro Agnew and Senator Muskie. If after the past five years Americans don't realize how close a vice president is to the presidency, then they had better awaken to the fact that there is only a breath's difference between being vice president and president.

Spiro Agnew President of the U. S? Absurd! I think even the conservative Independent-Journal will agree Senator Muskie is intellectually superior to Spiro Agnew. Imagine big-mouth Agnew dealing with the very complicated and delicate foreign situation. That's enough to convince this Republican to switch to the Humphrey-Muskie ticket.

Hippies, U.C., And Partisan Politics

Congratulations to Sen. John McCarthy for his stand against the long hair, beads, beards and sandals set and their demands that we, the taxpayers, support their communal living, acid dropping, general rebellion against society and then expect free medical care to rid them of V.D. and other communicable diseases which they gleefully pass back and forth among themselves.

In direct contrast to Senator McCarthy's positive proposed legislation, our assemblyman, William Bagley, feels that the four big office holders should be dropped from the U.C. Board of Regents. The regents are appointed for a term of 16 years, therefore if the present governor is not of the same poitical party as the preceeding governor, he is saddled with his predecessor's appointees and their philosophy of surrender to the creeps, trouble makers and leftist professors on our university campuses.

It strikes me as rather odd that Assemblyman Bagley, a Republican, is introducing this legislation now, when three of the four so-called "big office holders" are Republicans and taking a definite stand against the campus agitators. Mr. Bagley, just whose side are you on?
